Chapter 3311 Levi Arrives At North Pavilion

“Oh? Is that so? You don’t believe me, do you?” Gloria asked as she stabbed Ralph with her sword.

Spurt!

“Stop it! Don’t hurt my friends! I’m willing to die in their stead, so please don’t kill them! I believe you, okay? I believe that you’ll be able to do it!” Sonja yelled in desperation.

She knew full well that Gloria would never let them go as doing so would give them a chance to warn Levi about her plans.

Having witnessed just how cruel and ruthless Gloria was, she feared that Kato and Ralph would end up dying at her hands too.

“Heh... I was planning on killing you all right away, but your defiance in the face of death intrigues me. As such, I’ve decided to let you guys live for the time being! I want you all to watch as I obtain Forlevia’s spiritual bone and Levi’s Ancient Divine Sword! In fact, I’ll even show you all how I put Levi under my control!”

Sonja and the others breathed a sigh of relief upon hearing that.

What? She’s actually letting us live? Wait... She only sees us as a tool to satisfy her own twisted desires, so we might end up with a fate worse than death!

“Lock them up! I’m going to North Pavilion to split the treasure!” Gloria ordered with a chuckle.

Naturally, Levi didn't like that one bit.

He had come to North Pavilion in hopes of having them help him with something, only to walk in on an assault like this.

Urgh... You guys can fight all you want, but could you not do so when I'm here on official business? Well, whatever... Just stay the heck out of my way!

Levi thought to himself with a frown as he continued walking.

He soon arrived outside the main hall where a huge amount of elites were hiding.

They were all there to split the treasures like everyone else, but they chose to wait till North Pavilion was overrun before charging in.

It was their way of obtaining the most valuable item at the lowest possible cost.

As their hiding spot was incredibly well-concealed, they were shocked when Levi showed up like that.

The fact that he was there meant their hiding spot may have been compromised, and that could be extremely detrimental to them.

Although Levi had already spotted them from afar, he chose to ignore them and walked right past the area.

He would not attack them unless they attacked him first.

"Kill him!" the men shouted with a murderous glint in their eyes.

Meanwhile, Gloria was making her way toward North Pavilion after getting the information she wanted.

They soon arrived at the area that Levi had passed by earlier, only to see corpses scattered everywhere.

"Huh? These are our men from the West Pavilion! What happened here? How come they are all dead?"

Gloria was so shocked that she nearly had a heart attack on the spot.

She had come here to meet up with those elites and launch an attack on North Pavilion, but what awaited her was hundreds and thousands of corpses instead.

"It looks like a one-sided massacre!"

"Who could've done this? Did North Pavilion call for backup or something? I don't think anyone would help them out, though! Given the situation here, it'd be wiser to betray them instead!"

Gloria frowned when she heard what her men said.

According to Sonja and her friends, Levi is their only hope at the moment. However, Levi has no idea about the battle that's taking place here! On top of that, conflicts between factions within the Ecclesiastic Order have nothing to do with him, so he would never get himself involved! D*mn, I can't think of anyone else that would help North Pavilion out... Even if they did manage to find backup somehow, it's most likely their own members that have been training outside. I know exactly what they're capable of, and massacring this many elites is simply not possible for them! I mean, these elites were all handpicked by West Pavilion!

Chapter 3314 Let Me Through First

A crowd gathered at the bottom of the steps.

North Pavilion had been enduring the fight for almost an hour, and they had lost around two-thirds of their people.

The remaining men were all suffering from injuries.

Most of them were with grave injuries too.

"Master, there are only around ten thousand of us now. However, the enemy has around five to six thousand men. Their numbers are also increasing by the minute. Besides, countless elites are hiding nearby. They are only waiting to attack when the barrier of North Pavilion's main hall has crumbled. The estimated number of enemies is seven to eight thousand. Most of us are suffering from grave injuries. If they attack together, there's no way we can block them off. North Pavilion is falling, and we're all going to die! Our faction is getting destroyed!"

Those from North Pavilion seemed to have their souls sucked out of their bodies upon hearing that.

Hopelessness filled their hearts, and a number of them started sobbing.

Is North Pavilion going to get destroyed just like that?

However, the master of North Pavilion was calm as he said, "How are the three elders doing?"

"They can't hold on much longer. Hundreds of elites have surrounded them, and the elders are severely injured. But they really are powerful. Even with their bodies in such a state, they managed to persevere till now. However, it seems like the situation is extremely dire right now. There's nothing we could possibly do when the gods want the North Pavillion wiped out."

Upon hearing that, men from both sides froze in an instant.

Confusion and disbelief were written on each one of their faces.

Someone is passing by at a time like this?

And he's asking us to not fight first?

It was their first time encountering something like this.

Who would have expected someone to ask them to stop fighting for a moment?

At that very moment, everyone present was stunned.

It was unbelievable.

Who would have known that something like this would happen?

Is this person sick in his head?

Is he really asking us to continue fighting later?

Does he not see that there's a war going on right now?

Why do you have to pass by here if you have no business here?

Are there no other paths you can take?

Why on earth do you have to pass by here?

That was not possible.

Even if he was strong enough to instill fear in others, or if he was comparable to one of the Three Sages of North Pavilion, it was still useless.

It was useless in a situation like this.

After all, a single stone could never fill up an ocean.

As for their ploys?

Nothing would work anymore, so why would they need a plan now?

Besides, how much time would he even be able to buy by doing this?

Even if he did manage to drag it out, it would still be useless.

Without anyone powerful to back them up, North Pavilion would eventually fall.

In fact, their enemies would only increase in number the longer they try to drag it out.

Hence, it was pointless for them to do so.

The longer they try to prolong this, the worse their deaths would be.

Nonetheless, the master of North Pavilion shook his head and said, "It's no use. We're surrounded by enemies. There's no way we can protect this place, and there's no doubt that the elders will die. North Pavilion is bound to fall. Let's not waste any more time."

“That’s true. Since they’re dead set on annihilating North Pavilion, they must have already made enough preparations. None of us will be able to make it out alive. Besides, their own elders from each faction are observing how things are going while hiding nearby. It’s just that they aren’t attacking yet.”

“However, if our elders managed to escape, they will never let this go.”

Their fate was sealed.

Everyone in North Pavilion knew it.

Death was the only thing waiting for them.

No miracle was in sight at all.

In fact, miracle didn’t even exist in such a situation.

There wasn’t any hope any more.

This was how cruel the people of the Ecclesiastic Order were.

Those who fall behind would get beaten up.

This was how North Pavilion’s fate of having to die was decided.

They could only battle till their deaths now.

However, once those words had been said, the remaining soldiers of North Pavilion felt the fire in their hearts starting to burn out as coldness seeped in.

Even though those who surrendered would be publicly humiliated, at least their lives would be spared.

Meanwhile, those who persisted would most definitely meet their ends.

As of then, the remaining soldiers could not even convince themselves to continue defending to the death.

The four men led about a thousand people with them as they stood to the side in unison.

While it was true that surrendering had made them betrayers, all of them would at least live.

At that point in time, it was not surprising that the only wish everyone had was to survive.

The four men turned to the remaining soldiers in the camp and shouted, "Anyone else? Is it bad to want everyone to continue living?"

The army began to falter.

Doran was on the verge of exploding in anger. He thundered at the four men, "If our master finds out what the four of you did, he would be furious! Are you not ashamed?"

To his dismay, the four men laughed in response. "Who would be thinking so much in the jaws of death? Come on, comrades! Come and join us!"

"I want to stay alive!"

Someone from the camp caved under pressure and immediately ran out.

In a matter of seconds, hundreds of them chose to become betrayers again.

Doran was so furious that he almost fainted.

Chapter 3319 With My Fist

Rage was pulsing through Levi's veins.

He could not believe that the people there turned a blind eye to him.

Not only that, they dared to make such a commotion by wasting time advising people to surrender.

They had not taken Levi into consideration at all!

I don't care who's fighting and what's happening. Just let me through!

"Let me through, and you guys can proceed with whatever you were doing and fight till your hearts' content!" Levi ordered.

"You're wasting my time!"

Letting his wrath take control of his actions, Levi roared as the last bit of his patience slipped away.

Levi's voice snapped everyone's attention toward himself.

In an instant, everyone turned their eyes to Levi.

There's someone else here.

"Buzz off! Didn't I ask you to go to the far back and leave us alone?" the leader of Divine Tiger Palace snapped angrily.

"Yeah! Buzz off! Give up all the benefits of North Pavilion! If not, we'll kill you!"

The crowd began to chant.

Meanwhile, the remaining of North Pavilion's army was already in a bad mood. The commotion caused by Levi ticked them off even further.

"Go back to where you came from! Who would make way for you?" they shouted.

Even the master of North Pavilion was irritated. "Get lost! If you dare, come for me, and I'll send you flying to the heavens in no time!"

With that, Levi became the enemy to both sides.

His penetrating gaze stirred up a sense of fear within their souls, causing a chill to run down their spine.

At the same time, those who chose to surrender along with them were sent flying by the invisible force as well.

Every single one of them was severely injured. They curled themselves up in a ball as a response to the excruciating pain.

“Bold words for a bunch of backstabbers!” Levi commented coolly.

He absolutely despised betrayers.

Yet, they were daring enough to keep chatting.
