Chapter 3351 The Furies

There were more and more people who wanted to fight against Levi.

Almost everyone in the Ecclesiastic Order had joined the alliance.

After all, Levi had humiliated them.

How could they let a monkey ride on their heads and tell them what to do?

The main combat force consisted of the top fighters from the Five Pavilions. They even brought their divine tools with them.

That was the only reason so many people joined them.

Otherwise, the chances of victory would be so low that no one would have the guts to join the alliance.

They all saw just how powerful Levi was.

Even Invincible Clan wasn't his opponent.

They had never heard of him losing a fight before.

If Gloria was smart with the cards she was playing, she would be able to make all the assassin

"I heard someone managed to poison Levi's daughter before. Actually, poison isn't that bad of an idea. I want to see if Levi can be hurt by poison. If it works, then it'll be great!" Since she was going against Levi, she had to spare no expense to take him down.

The more methods she employed, the greater the chance Levi would be hurt.

There were still a few rogue cultivators in the Ecclesiastic Order. They were people who weren't in any of the factions and only depended on themselves.

Quite a lot of rogue cultivators were powerful because they wouldn't have survived in the Ecclesiastic Order otherwise.

After all, it was an environment where the strong prey on the weak.

Weak members would be bullied, or even worse, killed.

Therefore, the rogue cultivators were really strong, as they only had themselves to rely on.

Currently, Gloria was gathering as many elite rogue cultivators as she could to defeat Levi.

Rogue cultivators were also the type of people who wouldn't do anything unless they could get something beneficial out of a deal.

Of course, she was prepared to give them enough benefits to lure them in.

Even though she had many elite rogue cultivators joining her ranks already, it still wasn't enough for her.

Gloria promptly went to set up her arrangements.

She was very confident in the forces she had gathered.

I think this will be enough to defeat Levi. Even if we can't last all the way until the end, I bet the elders from the prominent factions will attack.

There's no way they don't want to get rid of Levi unless they want to let that monkey make a home on their heads.

They just don't know how to take him down. However, when the opportunity arises, they'll definitely make a move.

Then, there's Yartran, who's backing up Zarain. Right now, they aren't going to pull out their trump card.

Like the elders, if and when they see an opportunity to kill Levi, they'll not hesitate to make sure he's dead.

Our victory lies in their willingness to strike when it matters. I'm pretty sure they will. If that is still somehow not enough to kill Levi...

I can't even imagine. The situation will undoubtedly go to sh*t. There's no way anyone in this world can defeat him in that case. I can only hope that my plan will work.

Chapter 3354 A Genius In People Studies

Her success, however, would not be predicated upon these people nor the four cornerstone divine tools, for those were designated to be little more than mere red herrings.

Her true weapon was those killers from the Ecclesiastic Order, the fighters from Yartran, and also, the varied expressions of her own deviousness in the art of poisoning, or the likes.

Although none of these would likely prove useful in a frontal assault, it was nonetheless subject to the terms of engagement.

Whatever she had told Floyd would serve as a sleight of hand to keep Levi off balance and cause him to lower his guard in the belief that he had full knowledge beforehand with regards to the degree of adversity he would be up against.

In truth, these were smoke and mirrors, for that woman's schemes were as elaborately layered as a Matryoshka doll with the aim of keeping the real threat hidden from view.

Though she might have told Floyd about the cornerstone divine tools, he remained none the wiser about everything else that she withheld from him.

In actuality, she had a very specific objective in mind when she chose to divulge that secret to him ahead of time, and that was Forlevia.

Should the factional elites lay siege to Levi and somehow manage to harm or kill Levi, Forlevia would surely become the object of a tug-of-war.

How could I possibly serve Forlevia up on a platter for them?

She had to be doubly prepared.

Chapter 3355 The Invincible Clan Got In On The Act

Such was his eagerness for the Ecclesiastic Order to surprise him that it got even North Pavilion concerned.

His anticipation in that regard had indeed, at the same time, contributed to an overall increased sense of complacency.

Having ascertained the identity of the enemy and the timing of their impending incursion, coupled with the belief in his own capability, naturally made him flippant about it.

To some extent, he even contemplated lazing around until the enemy eventually showed up at his doors.

Having seen the situation play out exactly the way she expected, Gloria's brilliance had to be acknowledged.

With the sole exception of her inability to get a handle on the extent of Levi's prowess, her predictions in all other aspects had been largely spot-on.

"Master! Should we have Zoey and Evie go into hiding when the time comes? I don't doubt your capability, but my primary concern is whether they could potentially become a distraction if you kept them close. What if the four factions' cornerstone divine tools are as formidable as they are reputed to be..." Floyd reiterated his thoughts on the issue.

Reflecting upon that, Levi concurred with a nod. "Yes. You have a point there. I'm not actually that worried about Evie who is more than capable of holding her own, but the others might end up causing Evie and myself to lose our focus!"

“Yes! That way, we’d basically have everything to gain and nothing to lose!”

“Let’s not send too many people there! That way, Master would not become too upset with us if he were to find out!”

The Cetus’ involvement could be considered firm as they would be sending out ten of their finest elites to watch from the shadows and intervene at the most opportune moment.

Those ten elites in question were head and shoulders above those they had sent out against Levi earlier, with each of them also wielding divine tools of the Cetus.

They had neither the courage nor the desire to face Levi head-on but were absolutely competent as assassins to launch sneak attacks at Levi or toss in a stab or two from the dark.

Gloria, too, had gotten wind of the news that the Cetus would be partaking in her plans.

The one thing that did bug her about it was that she had no clue whatsoever as to when they might opt to strike.

In spite of having ways and means of infiltrating the major factions of the Ecclesiastic Order, she had no similar access to the Cetus. Hence, their thought strains remained completely outside of her estimations.

Chapter 3357 Top Ten

Even the four cornerstone divine tools had all been brought to the fore.

The Five Pavilions boasted of five cornerstone divine tools, namely; Demonsbane, the sword of East Pavilion; the Ethereal Spear of West Pavilion; Tear of Grace, the saber of South Pavilion; the Dragon Trapper Formation of North Pavilion; and last but not least, the Nine Celestials Bow of Central Pavilion.

With the exception of the Dragon Trapper Formation of North Pavilion sited in front of North Pavilion's great halls which was practically immovable, the other four divine tools could be transported elsewhere and wielded with ease.

This time, the four sets of divine tools from the relevant factions had been taken out on loan with the blessings of their elders to be employed in their unified effort against Levi.

Not only that, but the representatives collectively sent out from the four factions were also their best and brightest.

The Top Ten from the Five Pavilions were generational talents, heralded as the future of the Ecclesiastic Order.

Certainly, only North Pavilion was to be deprived of such gifted personnel, having had the two of them that they had identified previously snagged away by the most influential East Pavilion.

Currently, East Pavilion sat atop of the heap with four members of the Top Ten to their name, with the remaining pairs split equally between the other three factions.

Very quickly, those of the Top Ten had all arrived.

The contingent from East Pavilion was the largest, and from there, hailed four members of the Top Ten; Lonedra Thork, Ryvonne Bhayer, and the two members previously poached from North Pavilion, namely Flavius Whitestar and Rylai Frostbringer.

Chapter 3358 The Great War

What a pleasant surprise!

She had managed to achieve what was out of reach.

Next, she wanted to become the unreachable dream of the group of Top Ten of the Ecclesiastic Order.

Would she achieve that some day?

She would achieve that not by trickery or conspiracy but by pure hard work and power to be on par with the Top Ten.

Naturally, the Top Ten were super powerful and that was beyond her expectations.

She had thought that she could surpass them after her period of growth, but that was not so.

If they had resorted to the cornerstone divine tool, they would certainly stand a chance in fighting against Levi.

That was another fact that pleasantly surprised her.

Then, the main force against Levi was strong enough which was beyond her expectations.

Flavius and the other Top Ten stood there, each one proud and arrogant as if they were the best on earth.

Levi had shown that he was powerful.

After destroying the thirteen clans of Wolf God Palace, he also defeated the Cetus.

However, the Top Ten were unimpressed because they were convinced that they themselves were able to do that too!

They felt that they could have done even better than Levi.

Chapter 3359 The Rush To Kill Levi

Soon, Levi's base camp was completely surrounded by the Top Ten and Gloria's elite forces.
They arrived with a vain display of importance, each of them believing that they had concealed themselves well.

However, Levi who was sleeping at the base camp was well aware of them.

"Finally, they're here. I hope they will not disappoint me!"

Levi could not help sitting upright and stretching his body.

Forlevia and the rest were all hiding in the underground facility of the base.

No one would know where they had gone.

Outside, the troops of the Ecclesiastic Order had completely encircled Levi's base camp.

As they looked at the base camp looming not far away, everyone in the Ecclesiastic Order was excited.

Nevertheless, everyone was puzzled by the fact that the Top Ten did not spread themselves out among the others over the whole area, but stayed together in one group.

The others were of the opinion that to attack Levi's base effectively, the Top Ten should be spread out equally over the area. Moreover, the four cornerstone divine tools should be distributed in four corners, so as to maximize their power.

That would also prevent Levi or his men from fleeing.

The ladies in the Top Ten were no exceptions and their eyes were aflame with the desire for killing Levi.

Even the leading lady of the Top Ten, Rylai, nodded. "Let's compete, then. I will not give anyone a chance!"

She was full of pride and self-confidence!

That was the attitude of the Top Ten.

To them, Levi was nothing but the game in a big hunt.

They did not think that they were arrogant. In their opinion, Levi was nothing much, that was all.

Whatever Levi could do, they, too could achieve with ease.

How could they think highly of Levi?

They did not know about Levi's defeat of the Three Sages of North Pavilion and the forced retreat of tens of thousands of the elites there.

At that moment, Gloria was the only person who knew.

If they had known earlier, they would not have been so confident or arrogant.

Hence, according to their understanding, Levi was powerful but just on par with them.

They could only see him as an equal and nothing more.

There was no need to mention the cornerstone divine tool which they believed would not be put to use.

"Okay, let's get ready to attack!"

"Just remember, you're only to kill the people who are with Levi, not him. He is ours!"
