Chapter 4001 Introduction Of The Sects

Cheriette and Larissa were surprised that Levi would call upon them in a situation like this. Despite being from a powerful sect like Eclipse, Larissa was still nervous about going against six powerful sects at once.

After all, any of the six could easily wipe out Eclipse if they wanted to. We're up against the elite fighters from six powerful sects. Do I really have what it takes to fight them?

While Larissa questioned her fighting ability, Cheriette got so anxious that her legs were trembling. "Have you two forgotten that we have ultimate weapons?" Levi reminded them with a smile.

Larissa and Cheriette felt a lot better after hearing that. The ultimate weapons that Levi had armed them with at Dragon's Grave Valley could finally serve their purpose.

Roar! Thunder Qilin's roar echoed throughout the area all of a sudden. It was clearly unhappy with Levi not thinking to summon it for such a grand battle.

"I would never forget you, Thunder. Come on, the show is about to start!" Levi said reassuringly. Thunder Qilin broke into a smile when it heard that. Because of its terrifying appearance, it looked like a crying monster even when it was smiling.

"Remember to unleash your full potential, Thunder. Do not let anyone escape alive," Levi added.

Similar to how a person would pat their chest as a reassuring gesture, Thunder Qilin lifted its front legs and patted the scales on its chest.

“We are the eight Titanium Warriors of Drakotigris Order!” Eight men then landed on the ground in front of everyone, each of them exuding a golden glow.

They were all dressed in robes and had their palms pressed against each other. Those around them had to shield their eyes a little as their bald heads reflected the sunlight really well.

“We, the elders of Holy Spirit Academy, shall participate in this fight as well.” A group of men with strange and inhuman appearances stepped forward. They exuded a strange aura and looked somewhat terrifying with their crimson eyes.

“Master, these Titanium Warriors from Drakotigris Order are trained in Titanium Art, a pure physique training technique. They say those who have reached the highest level in the art are able to achieve absolute invulnerability! As for Inkflame Court, they are trained in fire techniques and can manipulate any and all flames in the world. The leader over there is able to generate flames with different colors. The more colors in the flame, the more powerful it gets. Titanus Order is a creepy one. From what I’ve heard, they can harness the power of the universe to catch their opponents off guard. I don’t know much about the Holy Spirit Academy, but Battle Tiger Tribe members have spirit beast blood in them. The spirit beast blood will awaken when they reach a certain age, granting them a huge boost in combat ability. All I know about Divine Blade Sect is that they focus their training on swordsmanship. Apparently, their master has perfected his craft. We’re lucky he isn’t here today, or we could be in for a really bad time,” Larissa explained to Levi as they continued making their way forward.

Cheriette couldn’t help but feel a little envious of Larissa. As she didn’t know much about these things, she wasn’t able to provide any useful information in such situations.

“No worries. I’ll soon make them regret being born into this world,” Levi replied with a nonchalant chuckle.

He then charged forward with his left arm raised high into the air. The next thing they knew, Thunder Slaughterer had appeared in his hand.

The next thing they knew, the beam of fire had engulfed the wheels of fire as it continued heading toward the chief elder of Inkflame Court. "Oh no!"

The look on the chief elder's face changed as he instinctively tried to dodge the incoming attack. Nonetheless, Thunder Qilin's beam of fire was so fast that it still hit him on his right arm.

"Argh!" The chief elder screamed at the top of his lungs as an intense pain surged through his body.

The heat from the beam of fire was so intense that his right arm instantly turned to ash, and the blood flowing out of the wound evaporated on the spot.

Thunder Qilin let out a roar and glanced at Levi as though it was proud of its performance. It then shifted its gaze back toward the chief elder, who happened to be staring at it.

As their gazes met, the chief elder could clearly see a look of disdain in Thunder Qilin's eyes. "You b*stard!" he yelled angrily.

"This is dangerous! Retreat!" The damage that Levi did to the Titanium Warrior had plunged him into utter despair, and escaping with his life was all he could think of at that point.

"It's too late to run away now!" Levi shouted coldly as he threw another punch at the Titanium Warrior, turning him into a bloody mist in front of everyone.

"The amount of destructive power in his fists is terrifying!" "I can't believe that robber is a physical cultivator too! It seems he's a lot more powerful than us!" "We need to avenge our fallen chief! Everyone, attack together!"

The remaining Titanium Warriors charged at Levi at the same time, only to die one after another. The fact that Levi killed them without the use of his ultimate weapon made it all the more shocking for those who saw it.

As the fighters from the other sects started backing away, Levi and the other three pressed forward and slaughtered those in their path.

Sylvan and the members of Astre Lune Sect were all staring wide-eyed at the sight before them.

Once again, they found themselves stunned by Levi's display of overwhelming strength. Cheriette and Larissa, too, managed to surprise them with their excellent performance.

Inkflame Court's cloudship slowly landed in front of them, and a trio and a spirit beast emerged from it. "Those people aren't from Inkflame Court! Who are they?"

"They have ultimate weapons in their hands! Is he the robber everyone has been talking about?" "What happened to the fighters from Inkflame Court?"

After a few more seconds of deathly silence, they glanced in the direction the cloudship came from. However, they did not see any sign of the other forces that went after Astre Lune Sect.

That was when it dawned upon them who the guy standing before them was. "M-Mr. Garrison?"

The highest-ranking member of Prime Association was the first to recognize him. Sylvan rushed over the moment he heard that, and he was just as shocked when he saw Levi.

No, this is not the time to ask him what happened! Sea of Stars Guild and Tenebrous Sky Division have been glaring daggers at Prime Association's fighters throughout the past few days. They might strike at any given moment, so we need to stay focused!

Right as the two sect leaders were planning on retreating, an ethereal voice caught everyone's attention. A white-haired old man then stepped forward and glared furiously at Levi.

"I am the chief elder of Cordierite Association. Today, I shall make you pay for what you've done!" the old man continued with a sharp look in his eyes.

The elders of Cordierite Association's branch in Willowbank, whom Levi killed in Dragon's Grave Valley, were his juniors.

As the chief elder was really close to them, he got furious when he found out about their deaths and requested permission to come to kill Levi himself.

Levi knew about Sylvan's worries. Dragon's Grave and Thunder Slaughterer were powerful. If they were to start fighting, Lightspring was bound to be decimated.

Furthermore, Lightspring was the base of Prime Association and Sylvan's everything. Naturally, the man did not wish to see it destroyed. "All right, in that case, I won't insist on this fight, Mr. Webber," Levi said after a moment of silence.

Even though Prime Association had not helped much in the battle, he still owed them a favor for being on his side from the beginning.

Moreover, Prime Association would be a good choice for a partnership after Levi stabilized his position in Kenfort. Hence, Levi chose to agree with Sylvan's request.

After receiving the answer he hoped for, Sylvan sighed in relief. "What do the rest of you think?" Sylvan turned to look at the people of Cordierite Association.

The expression of Cordierite Association's chief elder was shifting from gloomy to ruminative. It was clear that he was still conflicted about what choice he should make.

He wanted to fight, but he had received no response from the people in charge of Inkflame Court, Drakotigris Order, and the other sects.

words came like a bolt from the blue, and the people present gasped audibly. In fact, for a moment, they wondered if they were hearing things.

Naturally, there were many in the hall who thought that Levi had lost his mind. "What gutsy words from this guy! Did he just say that he's going to Willowbank by himself?"

"That's Cordierite Association's second largest chapter's base! How can one man be able to do anything to a place that has been around for over a hundred years?"

“I’d say the ignorant is fearless. The alliance, in comparison to Willowbank, is nothing! Going there to create a ruckus is no different from having a death wish.”

Most of those words were spoken by fighters of Prime Company. Even Sylvan and some others who had witnessed prowess firsthand were frightened out of their wits by his declaration.

Furthermore, the robber had also butchered almost everyone in the alliance. The string of bad news only served to make Gloria even more frustrated. “What a bunch of useless fools! Is this all Cordierite Association is capable of?” Gloria cursed out loud.

She thought that she would be able to use Cordierite Association to get rid of the robber, but as it turned out, the robber could still wipe out that powerful alliance.

“The robber won’t come to settle the score with me, right?” Every time Gloria thought about that, she became frustrated. She thought about going into hiding, but it seemed like it would not be a wise choice to hide within Eclipse.

The arrow the robber had fired from afar back then severely wounded many members of Eclipse. If they were targeted by someone with an ultimate weapon again, it was likely that she might die in the assault.

Therefore, Gloria decided that staying in Cordierite Association’s temporary base was safer, especially since there were three elders from Cordierite Association’s headquarters at the base.

Even the robber would have to give them some respect, right? Gloria mused. After all, Cordierite Association was a superpower in Kenfort. The people they had sent out were not even one-tenth of its overall power.

They're mighty here. I'm sure the robber wouldn't dare to cross them, either.

Before one of Cordierite Association's fighters could finish his sentence, a flash appeared before his eyes. Then, a wave of sword energy rushed over to the fighter, who could not dodge it by the time he realized it.

Whoosh! Blood spurted, and the fighter from Cordierite Association's headquarters fell to the ground, dead. "What a chatterbox," Levi uttered in annoyance.

"If you can't control your mouths, I'll send you to your deaths right away," were icy words that boomed in everyone's ears and sent chills down their spines.

Nister and the rest were startled. They never thought that Levi would dare to kill someone on their territory.

This is outrageous! But the robber does have the right to be this arrogant. I might not have been able to avoid the earlier attack perfectly, either.

That was a thought shared by the fighters in the area, and they were starting to realize the danger they were in.

Furthermore, they had just heard about the might of premium ultimate weapons recently, and none were too interested in becoming the lab rats for his weapons.
