The news outlet came for interviews after knowing Mr. Garrison was the host of the event. It didn't take long for Levi to make up his mind on which interviewer he chose, "Well, we're short on time, so I can only take one interview. Hmm, let's go with Margaret from North Hampton Television Network."

"What? Mr. Garrison only accepts my interview?" Margaret was delighted after knowing that. I'm so lucky! There are a lot of reporters here, and I am the lucky one who gets chosen?

"Alright. Please tell Mr. Garrison that I won't let him down," she guaranteed.

The event would start soon and representatives from corporations elsewhere arrived earlier to survey the market.

Powerful corporation like the Morris Group and the Rogers family had a lot of people asking for collaboration, and many were looking for potential ones like Oriental Star Group that was helmed by Zoey.

More than thirty corporations talked about collaboration with her, and after some careful review, Zoey chose four from South City to work with. There were four representatives to talk with, so they agreed to talk about this over dinner one night.

If she knew that they had popped the pills before the dinner, Zoey would have been horrified at Levi's announcement. Levi must be mad!

Zoey's subordinates were flabbergasted. Hey, they said we can call anyone we want! At least call two dozen here before going ahead with it. Two against twelve? Is he stupid?

"Very well then! If that is what you say, then we'll start right now!" Draco mocked Levi silently and made the decision for them, worrying that Zoey would go back on her word.

"No. I—"

Zoey was about to say something, but Draco smiled. "Ms. Lopez, you can't go back on your word, can you? That would be an insult to us. If that's the case then there's no point in continuing the negotiation."

"No! Let's do it!" Zoey had no choice but to accept it.

The competition ensued, and cartons after cartons of wine were served. At this point, Draco and his gang started worrying about the bill. How much can one guy drink? Is he Dionysus or something?

"Mr. Johannes, let's put in another rule: no toilet breaks!" Levi suggested.

Draco couldn't hold it in anymore, but he could only agree at this point. Another bout started, and the more Levi drank, the clearer his head became. Wine usually makes people drunk, but Levi was an anomaly.

Apparently, Levi was the only anomaly here. Draco and his gang felt like their stomachs were going to explode, as well as their bladder.

The competition had dragged on for too long, so the sobering pill's effects had expired. Now they felt the alcohol kicking in, and the group couldn't hold on any longer.

They couldn't understand how Levi managed to take so many shots. He must have drunk more than a thousand shots now, but surprisingly, he looked fine. This guy must be Dionysus himself!

"Carry on!" Levi shouted.

"What's wrong, darling? Are you alright!?" Zoey held him tightly, feeling frightened. It took her a moment, but now she realized Levi took a few thousand shots, and it could kill him.

She started sweating in fear, but then she felt electrified. Realizing Levi was feeling her up, Zoey blushed and let him go. "Did you just scare me for nothing?!" She looked away.

"Hey, I just got us the contract, and now I don't even get a thank you?" Levi asked.

Zoey glared at him. "Stop messing around. How do you feel? Do you need to go to the hospital? You drank a lot."

Levi smiled. "Do I look hurt to you? No? There's that then. But..."

In North Hampton Television Network’s office, Margaret and her colleagues were going through the scripts for the next day’s interview. This was a great chance for her, so she wouldn’t let it go. She wasn’t Elsa.

“You’re awesome, Margaret! There are 38 outlets that want to interview Mr. Garrison, but he only gives that chance to us!”

“Yeah, and he specifically asked for Margaret! He obviously thinks highly of her!”

“He must have only chosen us because of Margaret! Treat us to something good after this, Margaret!”

Margaret felt smug listening to all the praises, but she pretended to be calm. She was a famous person in the channel as well as the industry. Now, with the mysterious Mr. Garrison giving her the chance to interview him, it would consolidate her place in this world.

Now, everyone in the channel listened to her, including her boss.

"Is there anything I can help you with, Mr. Shorts?" Margaret asked with a flirtatious wink.

"Are you after Levi and Zoey recently?" Zachary asked.

"Yes, yes, yes. That's right! Are you related to Levi?" Margaret looked at Zachary cautiously.

Zachary shook his head, "No, he is my enemy. My brother had all his limbs amputated by him! If it weren't for fear of the Morris Group that was behind his back, I would've killed him ages ago!

You are doing a good job for now. To think that you can subdue Levi's family to this point! I'm able to kill him right away as soon as he is forced to leave North Hampton! There's nothing Morris Group can do about it!"

Margaret was smart and immediately replied, "Mr. Shorts, should I step up the game a little?"

"Yeah, you're perceptive and a fast-learner!" Zachary beckoned to his assistant, and he brought a suitcase. After opening it, a big load of cash could be seen contained in it.

"Here's an advanced five million! I'll pay you another five million after the job is completed!" Zachary said.

Margaret's eyeballs were about to pop out from their sockets when she saw the money.

"Levi, don't you understand the current situation? You're at my mercy now. Why does it sound like the opposite? Are you stupid? Hahaha..."

"Okay. I've given you a chance, but it seems like you don't appreciate it," Levi replied coldly.

Margaret became angry and said in a cold tone, "Then let me tell you something as well. Even if you lick my shoes and drink my foot-washing water, I won't give you another chance. Just you wait!"

After hanging up the call, a murderous intent flashed across Levi's eyes.

"Honey, give me one more day. I'll be sure to settle it," Levi declared.

"Huh? How are you gonna solve it?" Zoey found his words hard to believe.

"Anyway, just wait until tomorrow afternoon. It should be done by then."

In the evening, there was another breaking news from the TV station. Six years ago, Levi Group expanded its business by way of replacing human labor with machines. This has disrupted the market and caused many to go unemployed. It was believed that at least thirty thousand people were unemployed because of Levi Group. The main culprit was Levi Garrison!

"Margaret, I'm so jealous of you! It's great that you have the privilege to interview Mr. Garrison."

"I know, right? What incredible luck! But to be honest, Margaret is the best in North Hampton."

"Ain't it the truth? Isn't Margaret the best in professionalism, beauty, and temperament?"

...

Margaret was basking in the compliments from her colleagues.

What an exciting day. I'll get to interview Mr. Garrison soon and receive another five million. Will the time go faster please?

Representatives of major companies arrived one after another to the exhibition hall.

The prominent families and leading corporations in South City had also shown up one after another.

these few days."

"That's right. A malignant tumor like Levi should be driven out of North Hampton forever!"

Margaret and her colleagues commented.

"Know your place!"

"How dare you insult the name of the leader?"

At this time, the Minister of Commerce became furious.

"That's right! Where did this reporter come from? Who is she to insult Mr. Garrison like that? What's the meaning of this?"

"You're from the North Hampton Television Network, right? Call Director Charles Yorke here!"

The other leaders also voiced out one after another.

The remarks of Margaret and her colleagues completely angered them.

After hearing the scolding, Margaret and her colleagues finally understood that they've gotten into deep trouble.

Thud!

Her body went limp, and she fell to the ground.

It never crossed her mind that Levi would have such an identity.

Otherwise, she would never even dream of doing such a thing.

“Margaret, do you still remember the call I made?” Levi had a menacing smile on his face.

Boom!

Margaret was in a state of shock after the epiphany.

How could I forget? Levi even called to give me a chance. But I was too foolish to realize my mistake.
