Chapter 601

Meredith pulled Levi away from Zoey.

“Since both of you know the truth, then I will be straightforward. Zoey, from now on, you will treat Levi as nothing more than a stranger. Understand?” Meredith ordered sternly.

Zoey nodded obediently. “Understood.”

Her face was still full of smiles.

Everyone was confused.

Is it so easy to talk Zoey into something?

Or perhaps she’s always wanted to divorce Levi?

“Levi, let me warn you. If you ever harass Zoey again, I’ll skin you alive!” Logan threatened Levi in a menacing tone.

Both Caitlyn and Aaron exclaimed, “Since you’ve accepted the ten million, you must do as we say and leave Zoey alone from now on.”

Levi sneered, “Why must I stay away from Zoey? I have returned the money to you!”

“Bah! Don’t lie to us! Since when have you returned the money to us, huh? What nonsense!”

The Blacks were now boiling in rage, as they have seen clearly with their own eyes that Levi had the check in his hand earlier.

How dare he say he’s returned the money to us?

Robert shook his head profusely. “It’s alright. We can leave him alone now. He’s nothing to do with our family anymore! Just let him be!”

“Yeah, Grandma! Just don’t mess with him anymore! Who knows, he might have other tricks up his sleeves?”

It took all the Blacks to convince Meredith that it was not worth her time to hound Levi down.

Meredith then exclaimed to Zoey, “Although it costs us ten million, I think it’s all worth it now that you’ve seen his true colors.”

“No, Grandma! Levi’s a good person, believe me!”

Zoey had complete faith in Levi when he said he threw the cheque into the trash can at the Back family’s residence.

There was a high chance that someone had seen it and picked it up.

Right now, Zoey wanted nothing but to prove that Levi was innocent.

Robert added, “My dear, that man has nothing to do with us from now on. Whether if he’s a good person or not, we don’t care.”

“Yeah, it doesn’t matter to us anymore whether he lie!”

The rest of the Blacks also chimed in.

Even though everyone in the Black family said they could not care more about Levi, Zoey knew they would bring the incident up from time to time to shame him in the days to come.

Out of puzzlement, Pamela questioned Zoey, "Zoey, Morris Group really have such high hopes for you?"

"Pamela, I have no idea why Morris Group sees me as their superstar too! This task is insurmountable!"

Zoey herself was flummoxed.

She could understand if Iris were trying to help her out.

But there was no reason for the head of Morris Group to have so much faith in her capabilities.

Why? I just can't find an answer to it!

Pamela now viewed Zoey in a different light.

She was a Rogers, and naturally, she knew that the Rogers family was the most influential family in North Hampton.

However, it was Morris Group that bestowed that much power upon the Rogers family.

Thus, she knew better than anyone in the room that Morris Group was indeed a force not to be reckoned with.

"Mom, Dad, Zoey's net worth is sure going to boom in the future! Morris Group holds her with so much regard. Mark my words, she can easily become a billionaire in the future!" Pamela uttered matter-of-factly.

For the past two days, Zoey was flustered because of two things.

First, she had to settle her divorce papers with Levi.

Second, her work was haunting her in her dreams every night.

The Morris Group handed the mission to her in hopes that she would perform well, but Zoey made little progress.

She was so stressed that her nights were sleepless.

Little did she know, the Black family was aware of the state she was in.

Late in the night, Meredith and Robert were pacing in their house.

They seemed to be more anxious than Zoey herself.

After all, Zoey's mission would rule the future of the Black family.

"What should we do?"

Even Logan was sighing.

"We have already tried everything we could. The issue at hand is that the Black family does not have the power to request anything from the noble families whatsoever," Bailey spoke in disappointment.

Zoey also sighed, "If we are already at the end of our wits, how about I just turn in the mission for someone else at Morris Group to take over? It's indeed a difficult task that I don't think we can conquer."

"No!"

Zoey's decision received the disapproval of everyone in the Black family.

Indeed, Robert Black offered a handsome sum of money.

The Black family was very determined in renting the research center currently under Brock, even if that meant shelling out a large portion of their savings.

The benefit that this transaction would bring them was definitely more than fifty billion.

Brock stroked his chin and laughed. "One billion for a year is indeed quite a lot."

However, his tone changed in a snap. "But who do you think I am? You think one billion is anything to me?"

“No! That was not what we meant!”

Robert was desperately trying to defend himself.

Flop!

He knelt on the ground.

In all sincerity, Robert pleaded, “I beg you, Stone Buddha! Please let us rent the research center! The Black family will forever be indebted to you!”

Brock scoffed disdainfully when he saw Robert on his knees.

What a fool!

Who asked you to chase away Levi?

Pfft! With him around, you can have every research center in the world!

“My, my, I am touched by your sincerity. However, I have bad news for you. Someone has taken away the research center from me. I advise you to forget about it,” Brock said with a straight face.

Zoey Lopez was stunned for a second before she was overcome with joy.

"Levi is here?"

The next moment, Levi appeared in front of the Black family.

Everyone was flummoxed.

What is he here for?

"Levi Garrison, what's your purpose in showing up at our household? I don't think our business is any of yours."

Logan questioned Levi in an unfriendly tone.

"Yeah! From the moment you left the gates of our manor, you have no right to set foot in this place ever again! Get out of our sight now!"

Everyone in the Black family was spitting threats at Levi.

A few of the Blacks' security personnel stood in the path of Levi to block him from approaching.

They were just waiting for their master's order to throw him out.

"What's up with you now? Are you regretting your actions? Oh, I know! You don't want a divorce!" Logan snickered in mockery.

"Logan, why are you still wasting your time talking to him? Let's throw him out now!"

The younger ones in the family were about to chase Levi out when Meredith bellowed, "Hold your horses, people!"

She strode forward and asked Levi, "You said you can help us with our problem?"

"That's right!" Levi responded with much confidence.

The commotion in the front yard awakened everyone in the Black family's household.

They gathered in the living room.

"What's going on?"

"I think those people are here for the matters regarding Triple Group."

Everyone in the Black family was shocked. "What?"

Was Levi actually not lying when he said he will solve the problems we are facing?

Are our problems actually solved?

Very soon, Brock and the rest showed up.

Meredith and Robert were about to greet Brock and the others when they walked past without even glancing at them.

It was as if Meredith and Robert were transparent to them.

"May I know which one of you is Zoey Lopez?"

Brock stood in front of the Blacks and sized up the lot of them.

"It's me!" Zoey answered in a hurry.

She had a hunch about what was going to happen.

"Ms. Lopez, it's a pleasure to make your acquaintance. From now onward, both the research center owned by Triple Group and its team of researchers belong to you. Please look through this contract on the transfer of ownership."

Brock was straight to the point. He then handed the said contract to Zoey.

Pfft!

Robert almost passed out when he saw what was rolling out ahead of him.

A stranger was in the office, and it was not Levi.

“Nice to meet you, Ms. Lopez, I’m Neil Atkinson.”

It turned out that this man was Kirin.

“Oh, nice to meet you too, Mr. Atkinson!”

Zoey was pleasantly surprised.

Neil was only a step away from the most mysterious figure in the Morris Group.

Even Iris could barely see him.

Yet, he actually came here personally!

The Black family had also heard of Neil.

They were shocked as Neil being here showed how much he valued Zoey.

At the same time, they breathed a sigh of relief as well.

Luckily, it’s not Levi!

They were scared out of their wits earlier.

“Ms. Lopez, you’ll pioneer our entry into the electronics market! The boss believes in you and has specifically sent a team to assist you!” announced Kirin.

“That’s great!” Zoey replied with a smile.

With the help of Morris Group, Oriental Star Group successfully settled in South City.
In just a few days, the preparation works were done, and the project kicked off.
With the strong support of funds and talents, the prototype of their electronic products had taken shape.
The Blacks were also basking in the reflected glory.
Feeling proud, Meredith and the others were in a good mood every day.
The younger generation of the Black family, like Russell and Zoey, was so successful.
"I'll look for a good husband for Zoey. You guys can ask around too. He must be a perfect and outstanding man, otherwise, he's unworthy of her!" Meredith announced with a smile.
She was also treating Aaron and Caitlyn better.
This made the two of them very excited.
Everything had indeed become better after Zoey left Levi.
They were once again glad that they had divorced.
People in other places noticed a strange phenomenon in South City.

The eyes of Leslie and Derek were popping out of their heads with astonishment.

Does he know what he's talking about?

Never has anyone been so pompous!

Not even the quasi royals of South Hampton, the Caesar family.

How big of an appetite must he have to take over South City?

But this group of people was far more vicious than anyone they had ever met.

It was terrifying to see that one glare could decapitate someone.

But of course, one glare could not literally kill someone.

It was mainly because that man attacked so fast that the human eye could not catch the movement, resulting in such an illusion.

He was definitely the best of the best, whom even Scott and Typhoon were no match for.

The man in blue took off his sunglasses, revealing an evil face.

He said with a smile, "Why are you all on your knees? Get up."

After the man talked, only then did Leslie and his family feel relieved.
