Chapter 691

With a wave of his hand, a subordinate went to Levi.

He ordered, "Monitor that woman closely. If anything happens to her, report it to me right away."

He did not expect Mia to warn him about his situation.

It is rare to have someone so kind within an emotionless family like the Joneses.

She deserves my acknowledgement.

Back at the villa, Wales dragged Mia into the living room.

Plop!

Mia cried in pain when Wales kicked her knees. They buckled, and she fell to her knees in front of Michael.

Then, Wales asked, "Grandpa, do you know who she ran out to meet?"

Curiously, Michael responded, "Who did she go to?"

Instantly, everyone who thought about pleading for Mia backed away.

“Both of you shall receive ten strokes each! I will increase the number if you continue to beg,” Michael cruelly snapped.

With that, Mia’s parents did not dare to continue.

On the other hand, Michael did not feel sorry that Mia had to receive such brutal punishment.

He would not care even if she were beaten to death.

After all, she is a woman.

If she dies, I can easily replace her with another one.

Only the men’s lives matter to me!

All the males in this family are precious to me, and I will hate to lose any of them.

Deeply rooted within this family was the patriarchal thinking, where they preferred males over females.

Even in this age and era, the perception was still ingrained in their minds.

"Have I ever warned you that Mia is under my protection?" Levi spoke as he walked into the room.

He scanned the crowd and continued, "I will kill anyone who touches her."

It took a few seconds before everyone could react.

"What? He is Levi?"

Many people present had never seen him before and were startled.

In particular, Michael was surprised too and he scanned Levi from head to toe.

Then, he responded, "You have certainly inherited your parent's values."

Mia was also shocked to see Levi. She anxiously said, "Levi, what are you doing here? You should be hiding now!"

Like Zoey, she was kind and was worried that something might happen to Levi because of her.

"Mia, don't worry. No one can bully you as long as I am here." Levi smiled.

"Look at this! Even up to now, Mia is still helping this outsider. She is clearly a traitor!"

"Yes! She is a bi*ch!"

The Joneses were stunned and couldn't believe it.
This ferule was passed down three hundred years ago and represented the family's supremacy.
In other words, it was the embodiment of the Jones family spirit.
Now, their 'spirit' was destroyed today.
Every single one of them was in a stage of shock.
Boom!
Mia's eyes widened.
This is the end.
When standing in front of the ferule, the Joneses would be in fear.
To go against it would mean one was challenging the Joneses power and was a signal of betrayal.
However, Levi had the guts to break it.
It was as good as provoking the Joneses and declaring war on them.

Bam!

The Joneses were appalled by Levi’s atrocious tone.

“How dare you use such an arrogant tone when you speak to us? We are one of the royal families! What makes you think you can defy us?” Wallace snorted.

Laughter erupted among the Joneses.

We are invincible in South City! Even the Gates family and the Caesar family have to obey us!

Ignoring the Joneses, he grabbed Mia’s hand and said, “I promised to protect you, Mia. Come with me!”

“What?” It took a moment for Mia to recover from the daze. “I can’t, Levi. I have to go to jail!”

Levi scoffed, “I won’t allow that to happen! Why don’t they go to prison themselves?”

“What the hell do you mean, Levi Garrison? Since when do you have the audacity to question our decisions?”

A person’s silhouette streaked across the room as soon as Michael gave his order.

He was none other than Shadow, the most powerful martial arts expert in Jones family.

An expert in assassination and stealth, no one would have the time to defend themselves when he struck.

Not even a bullet could harm him if he moved fast enough.

Wallace felt rest assured with Shadow in charge of monitoring Levi’s actions.

“Shadow can appear anywhere without anyone noticing him! Levi and Mia won’t be able to get far when he’s out spying on them!” The Joneses exclaimed confidently.

When Levi and Mia were halfway on the road, Levi noticed someone following them.

He chuckled under his breath, “Huh! They think I’m stupid.”

Even the most skillful martial art expert of the Jones family couldn’t trick him.

While Mia spent the next few days in agony, Levi was quite relaxed because he couldn't care less about the Joneses.

Four days later, Elijah arrived at South City with a fleet of cars armed with loaded weapons.

Although he was the warlord of Orientana, he tried to keep a low profile because he was in another territory, Erudia.

When the fleet of cars reached Sapphire Villa, Michael led his family members to welcome Elijah at the front door.

Deep down, everyone was nervous when they saw the merciless warlord in front of them.

Michael immediately ordered, "Tell Shadow to bring Mia here now! Tell her if she refuses, I will send her parents to jail instead!"

Soon, Elijah arrived with two hundred armed bodyguards surrounding him.

He had multiple scars that enhanced his ferocious look and a cigar in his mouth.

Elijah's immense wealth enabled him to acquire an army of a hundred thousand soldiers well-equipped with the most formidable weapons.

Levi couldn't have cared less previously. However, when he heard that Elijah was in South City, he became angry.

How can we allow this mad warlord to wreak havoc as he pleases in Erudia? Does he have a death wish?

"What?" Mia exclaimed.

The bodyguards appeared to be astounded as well because none of them thought Levi would go with Mia.

Meanwhile, in Sapphire Villa, Elijah appeared to be beaming at the successful transfer of 100 billion to his account, but he was actually worried because Erudia was a dangerous place for mercenaries like him.

He would be in trouble if the military discovered his presence in South City.

However, he was willing to take the risk to get an extra fifty billion.

"Where are they? Bring them to me quickly!" He urged.

Levi nodded seriously. "You might pee your pants in fright if I reveal my identity."

"Hahahaha..."

Elijah was laughing out the loudest among everyone who burst into waves of laughter because he thought the notion was too ridiculous. What could Levi be capable of when he was merely someone that the Joneses presented as captives? Even the formidable Michael Jones had to obey him and give him a hundred billion.

This is outrageous!

Mia tugged on Levi's sleeves to signal him to stop talking because she didn't want him to get into trouble with Elijah.

Smiling, Levi remarked, "Your swift departure shows that you're afraid."

"What?" Elijah was thrown off momentarily because he didn't expect Levi to read his fear.

"What the..."

Elijah's men were appalled by the scene.

They had never seen such enormous wolves with pure white fur that emitted dangerous auras. Nor had they seen riders on wolves who were equipped with traditional bows, modern guns, and grenades at the same time.

The Cavalry Regiment that was once the nightmare of almost all enemies on the battlefield reappeared in the forest.

Although Elijah outnumbered the Cavalry Regiment by hundreds of men, they were frozen by their commanding aura.

"All mercenaries who come to Erudia without permission shall die!"

Elijah almost fell to the ground because his knees gave way when one of the cavalry members bellowed.

When he spotted five other men emerging from the corner of his eyes, he broke into a cold sweat as realization dawned on him.
