Chapter 751

One of the online celebrities, Sarah, even pointed the camera at Seth and his men before speaking to her online audience, "Now let me show you this bunch of no-good security guards who are trying to stop our live stream. What does everyone think I should do about them?"

The audience in the live broadcast immediately began to insult Seth and his men. They even threatened to expose them and their family online.

"Get lost! I'm telling you that you can't afford to interfere with my live stream, you got it?" insulted Sarah before trying to walk away.

Naturally, Seth could not oblige her, so he quickly got in front of the live streamers once again to stop them.

In situations like that, Seth was very much like Levi, for he, too, could not tolerate them.

"We have two problems here. First, you're not allowed to live stream here, so please stop immediately; second, you have to apologize for insulting us!" insisted Seth determinedly.

It seemed that Pierre was openly provoking Zoey, who decided to agree generously, "Helena, that's an offer you should definitely consider."

"Do you see how understanding Ms. Lopez is, Helena? Come, join us," continued Pierre as he laughed at Zoey's response.

"Thank you for the offer, but I'll stay."

Helena had sworn that she would stay at the Oriental Star Group unless Levi and Zoey asked her to leave.

"Then, you better not regret that decision!" threatened Pierre in front of everyone.

Seeing how arrogantly Pierre acted as a superior, Zoey could only imagine how 'humble' Star Entertainment's stars and online celebrities could be.

Obviously, the group from Star Entertainment did not come over to visit but to show off and challenge Oriental.

Zoey shook her head discouragingly.

She was fearful of exacerbating the situation.

After all, there was nothing to be gained from that.

"They better pray hard that I don't get to lay my hands on him. I will make him meet his maker sooner," threatened Levi angrily.

He would never let Zoey suffer.

"Ms. Lopez, Star Entertainment's actual objective in visiting South City is not to tour our office. Instead, they're going to film a variety show at the South City Warzone. Their initial plan was to film it at South Hampton, but they were rejected. Yet, for some unknown reason, the South City Warzone permitted them."

The secretary explained the matter.

"I see. So that's what happened."

Although the living and working conditions were tough, the shooting of the variety show in the barracks proceeded without a hitch.

They endured, for they knew that they were doing something different, and the outcome should be great. Most importantly, they would make a lot of money.

As they settled in slowly, they got used to the pace of life there. Seeking to further increase her popularity, Sarah queried, "Boss, can we broadcast live-stream from the barracks? My fans want to see what the army dorms look like."

Pierre puffed a cigar and replied, "It's up to you all. Let me tell you something. Since I'm the one who brought you all into this place to film a show, there's nothing I can't handle."

"You're amazing, boss! We admire you!" Sarah and the others cheered.

"It's nothing! After all, I have connections all over Erudia. There's nothing I can't do!"

Pierre boasted as he gave his cigar the last puff before casually flicking the butt onto the grass.

A small patch of the grass where his cigar butt fell was burnt.

Following his permission, the internet influencers started their live-streaming.

Without her realizing, Levi had shown up out of nowhere.

His booming voice shocked Sarah to the core.

She spun around just in time to see a stern man staring at her. She glared back incredulously. "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

Seeing Levi in his plainclothes, she became bolder. Since he's not a soldier here, he must be an average worker.

Perhaps, he belongs to the production crew.

In that case, I shall give him an earful.

“Which team do you belong to? Is it the equipment team or the logistics group? How dare you try to control what I do? Do you have a death wish?” Sarah challenged furiously.

Hearing such a disrespectful tone, Levi became enraged.

The moment he arrived at the barracks, all he saw were groups of influencers and teams of live-streamers.

By making his military base into such a public spectacle, Levi felt it was a great insult to the pride and discipline of the men and women who had pledged their lives to serve their country.

That was something he absolutely abhorred!

From the corner of his eyes, he spotted the famous influencer, Sarah, insisting on filming the tank. He immediately rushed over.

A glint of cold malice flashed from Levi's eyes as he kicked Sarah's legs. With a loud thud, she fell onto her knees in front of him.

"I'm willing to apologize, but only if you kneel and listen," Levi stated coldly.

Sarah was dumbfounded.

So was her production team.

All the soldiers nearby secretly gave Levi a thumbs-up upon witnessing such a scene.

He is such a ruthless man!

They had been instructed by the superiors not to cause trouble to these online celebrities. Therefore, despite all the disrespect they had received, these guards had no choice but to keep their chagrin at bay.

However, right now, the person standing in front of them was on a totally different level. He had the guts to do whatever he wanted.

Snapping out of their bewilderment, Sarah and her team were now in an uproar.

"You... What did you just do? You actually assaulted someone!"

After seeing their pillar of support, Sarah and the rest relayed what happened to Pierre in an exaggerated manner.

Sarah sobbed continuously, with the red marks left by Levi still printed on her cheek.

When Pierre saw that, he became enraged.

"Who are you? How dare you hit my people?" yelled Pierre.

Jenson was furious.

"You are in no position to ask me that," replied Levi frostily.

"See, Mr. Grant? Look at how horrible his attitude is. He was worse when you weren't around just now. He assaulted us directly!"

Pierre fanned the flames, trying to stir up his anger.

Jenson seemed to be cross at his complaint. "That's it. I don't care which platoon you're from. Since you hit someone, you must apologize to them!" instructed Jenson furiously.

"We'll only accept your apology if you kneel," added Sarah and the others.

However, Levi merely smirked. "My stance remains the same. None of you can bear the consequences of my apology!"

At that moment, Sarah and the rest became flustered.

They had taken many photos and videos earlier, which included a large part of the military base.

They knew that these were definitely classified as military secrets.

Hence, if an investigation unfolded, the consequences would be really dire.

However, the more restricted the content was, the more exciting it was to the audience, and the more publicity the show would reap.

This was why they still chose to film and live-stream the military base.

“You rascal! You’re deliberately making things difficult for me, right? Apologize right away. Otherwise, I’ll throw you out!” threatened Jenson.

When Levi heard Jenson’s threat, he chuckled.

“Fine. But if you want me to apologize, all of you must kneel!”

Everyone was shocked to the core as they trembled in fear.

They looked around and tried to discover the source of that sound.

“Who the f dares to touch him? This is outrageous!”

A furious bellow rang across the compound.

They saw Mortimer, captain of a troop, and a bunch of men sprint over.

As Mortimer headed straight towards Levi, he instructed someone, “Inform the Commander-in-chief and Captain Steele immediately!”

“What brought you here, Captain Lambert?” asked Jenson with a flattering smile when he saw Mortimer.

Although he was a department head, he still worked a desk job.

Hence, he did not have a lot of authority.

Perhaps, he would be important in festive performance, but the military base was dominated by fists. The strongest person wielded the most power.
