Chapter 811

“What’s so funny?” Levi asked in a cold voice.

“Morris Group still has the guts to send you here? Your boss sent 13 groups of men here, of which 8 ran away because they were so afraid of us, and another 4 fled after being beaten up. We even turned the last group of men into cripples. They’re just not giving up, aren’t they?” The security guards looked at them in disbelief.

Levi said calmly, “Oh yes. We’re also here to demand for medical fees and an apology.”

Everyone around the front desk laughed even louder.

Levi and Seth instantly became the laughing stock of the day.

“Medical fees and demand an apology from us? What a joke!” Roars of laughter resonated in the building.

“You want to ask for payment? Come, follow me.”

Instead of throwing Levi and Seth out, the security guards brought them to the chairman’s office.

“Ah!”

It was as if time stood still.

The tension in the room was so thick one could cut it with a knife.

The edge of the sword was so icy-cold that it sent chills down Seth's spine.

Sweat droplets also started rolling down from his forehead, and he could not help but gasp.

The sword would have cut through his neck if it had tilted a little.

On the other hand, Levi remained calm and did not show any changes on his expression at all.

As if he felt nothing on his neck.

After a while, Kameda sat straight up and looked at Levi, "Aren't you afraid?"

The phone call Levi made shocked Kameda and all his men in the office.

Who did he call?

Xabian?

“Who is Xabian?” Kameda did not know what was going on.

“Xabian Goel, the patriarch of the Goel family!” His assistant reminded him.

“What? Mr. Goel?”

Having lived in South Hampton for nearly two decades, Kameda certainly knew who Xabian Goel was.

He’s the number one man in South Hampton!

None of the prominent families here would dare to defy his order!

“Are you kidding me? This lad gave Mr. Goel a call?” Kameda chuckled.

“Did he say 20 minutes? Fine! I’ll give him 20 minutes!” Kameda let out a mirthless laugh.

If no one appears after 20 minutes, I’ll incapacitate him!

Five minutes later, they began to hear footsteps along the corridor.

Kameda received a call from the front desk receptionist, who warned him that a group of men were heading toward his office.

Bang!

In a split of a second, a group of well-suited men swarmed in after kicking down his office door.

Kameda immediately stood up from his chair after seeing this group of men.

This was because he knew every single one of them.

They were the heads of prominent families from all over South Hampton.

More and more people started flocking into his office, and Kameda started panicking.

Soon, almost 40 heads of the prominent families gathered in his tiny office.

In other words, all the patriarchs from the common prominent families in South Hampton had gathered here.

At the sound of this voice, the Masters of these common prominent families in South Hampton stood upright with solemn faces.

This was Xabian Goel's prestige in South Hampton.

When he gave an order, all the noble families must follow.

Kameda Ichiro's heart leapt to his throat.

With just one phone call, he had invited South Hampton's top man, Mr. Goel to make an appearance.

What type of person was he?

Kameda Ichiro's legs trembled and he couldn't stand still.

The samurais behind him were even more frightened.

This was no ordinary person!

When Kameda Ichiro heard his name being called, he was overcome by fear and collapsed onto the ground.

Following that was the sound of liquid spilling and a strong stench.

Kameda’s trousers became wet.

He was so scared that he urinated...

The samurai with him were also wetting their pants.

What Bushido was this?

In the face of real power, they were reduced to wetting their trousers.

A long time ago, Levi met some samurais from the country of Raysonia.

"Hey? What are you doing here?" Wales, immediately blocked Levi's way and asked curiously.

"Why is that your business?" Levi sneered.

"You aren't thinking of coming back to the Jones family, are you? Making all your way here to South Hampton." Wales suddenly shouted.

From his point of view, Levi's only purpose for being in South Hampton was to be recognized by the Joneses so that he could be admitted back into the family.

"Let me tell you this! The Joneses will never recognize your identity! Stop dreaming!" Furiously, Wales made his point.

"Ridiculous." With that, Levi got into his car and left.

Immediately, Wales went back to Edburg Manor and reported everything to Michael.

"What? He has returned to South Hampton? It's obvious that he wants to return to our family, isn't it? What should we do?"

The grandfather panicked.

"I have no idea what he's doing here. Anyhow, he came out of Vision Group." Wales voiced his puzzlement.

When Levi handed the check to Iris, the two ladies were indifferent and their faces showed no reaction.

"Hmm?"

Levi was puzzled.

He had brought in the final payment of 3.5 billion.

That solved Iris' huge problem.

How could she not show some reaction?

This is not normal!

Zoey might not know what was happening and so her indifference was acceptable.

What's with Iris?

Levi did not bother to explain himself to Wales.
He simple hung up the phone.
But that made him understand why Zoey and Iris acted so cold toward him.
It was obvious that the Jones family told them the same thing.
That was the reason for the two girls' strange reaction!
So be it!
Levi felt it was unnecessary to explain for himself.

As the God of War, it was below his dignity to bother about a nest of ants.

However if the Jones family kept on provoking him, he would have to take action against them.

Zoey nodded her head, "In that case, okay, I shall attend."

Following that, the whole company was busy preparing for the biannual celebration.

Finally, they decided that the celebration would be held on an island. The staff would also be holidaying as well.

When Iris bumped into Levi, she laughed, saying, "Levi, you are attending our biannual celebration, right?"

Levi smiled, "Of course. Without my presence, this celebration would be totally meaningless!"

Levi was the most important guest.

Everyone wanted to meet him.

So, it could be said that this biannual celebration was held in his honor.
