Chapter 861

Whoa!

The group gasped after hearing that, and they all looked at the speaker, Kyle.

“Why are all of you looking at me? That rumor has spread across South Hampton. They said that Levi is a bastard child who only has a mother, while his father’s identity remains unknown. They even labeled him as the Jones family’s disgrace,” Kyle bluntly stated.

Boom!

Mia’s brain was about to burst.

She thought that leaving the Jones Residence would do Levi some good, yet who knew that they would meet someone who labeled him as a bastard child too.

“Did you call me a ‘bastard child’?” Levi calmly asked.

“Yes, I did. What’s wrong with that?” Kyle sneered.

He knew the Joneses looked down on Levi and could not wait to get rid of him.

As such, there was no need for him to be afraid of owning up to it.

Besides, if he taught Levi a lesson, the Joneses would probably thank him.

Xenia and the other girl were stunned.

They had never seen anyone as bossy as he was.

“Levi, let’s leave. There is no need to get upset with such people!”

Mia was worried for Levi.

“Mia, you don’t have to worry. If I can’t even handle a brat like him, then I do not live up to my name.”
Levi shrugged and even poured himself a glass of wine.

He looked unaffected, as though the situation did not concern him at all.

Xenia and Alice’s eyes were shining with admiration as they looked at him.

Levi was charming and attractive.

Another man came forward and smashed another wine bottle on Kyle's head.

Blood splattered everywhere, and there were glass shards strewn across the floor.

Being cruelly attacked on the same spot, Kyle became disoriented.

He furiously turned and demanded, "Who the hell hit me?"

"It's me," the man behind him replied coldly.

"M-Mr. Goel?"

Just as he was about to explode, Kyle saw a familiar face that made him cower in fear.

Isn't he Jaron, the head of Prince Gang?

Kyle crashed into several tables before he landed on the ground. Blood filled his mouth, and he felt like dying from Jaron's kick.

"I will kill your entire family if you call our master a bastard child," Jaron roared.

"Yes! The Prince Gang will hunt down whoever who has anything bad to say about our master."

The rest of the members sounded one by one.

Boom!

The short few remarks took everyone in the restaurant by surprise.

They affirmed Levi's identity as Prince Gang's leader.

He could no longer afford to let Levi roam free because everyone in South Hampton knew Levi was a bastard by now.

As long as he was free to move around, he would remain a disgrace to the Jones family which they wanted to avoid.

Their only plan was to imprison Levi permanently in the Jones residence and prevent him from ever stepping out.

Although people knew he had arrived at the Jones Residence, they would forget about his existence as long as he didn't venture out.

Therefore, the damage and impact he would cause the Joneses would be greatly reduced.

Michael had learnt this tactic from someone else.

Levi's mother, Emma Jones, was permanently imprisoned and wasn't allowed to leave that place.

Until now, they had kept her in captivity for almost thirty years.

She was locked up since the day Levi was born.

“Later, don’t go shooting your mouth off. You better stay in this corner and keep quiet.” Michael came over on purpose to remind him.

Since he couldn’t hide his relationship with Levi, he had no choice but to acknowledge him.

That was all Michael could do to prevent him from humiliating other Joneses.

The courtyard within their ancestral home was large enough to accommodate a thousand people.

Hence, representatives from Jones families based all over the world were gathered there.

There was a chair in the ancestral hall was reserved for the head of the family.

On it sat an old man with white hair. He was as thin as a stick and looked as if he could fall anytime the wind blew.

“Impressive! You have lived up to the reputation of being a Jones. Our ancestors are proud of you.” Joey clapped with joy.

He turned his attention to Michael as it was now the latter’s turn to present his family’s achievements.

Michael glanced at Westley before presenting. “The South Hampton Joneses isn’t as glorious as Chillshire’s. We do not have any exceptional members. The only one worth mentioning is my seventh son, Anson.”

Westley interrupted immediately, “Oh? I heard Anson is a prodigal son, to the extent you forced him to join the army. So, how is he doing now?”

"Anson behaved badly in the past and was every bit the prodigal son you heard about, but he straightened out after joining the army. Today, he is one of the God of War's close subordinates as a Brigadier General in the Iron Brigade. He is a fearsome warrior and the God of War's right-hand man," Michael explained with aplomb.

"A Brigadier General in the Iron Brigade?" Westley's eyes almost popped out in disbelief.

If what Michael said was true, his family's achievements would pale in comparison.

"Levi Garrison? Come out here!" Joey ordered angrily as he slammed his staff on the ground.

As the person with the highest authority within the Joneses, he was furious to see such conflict during a solemn event like this.

The junior members of the Jones family should always be respectful!

At that moment, everyone turned their gaze toward Levi while the members of the South Hampton Jones family hung their heads in shame.

The time to be humiliated has begun!

It's all because of Levi!

He is the source of our humiliation!

However, Levi didn't move despite being ordered to do so.

Joey shifted his sharp gaze to Levi.

Although he hadn't known Levi for a long time, he was still aware of how cruel his grandson was.

He knew Levi would have no qualms about drawing his knife and extracting blood from Aiden.

If Levi and Aiden were drawn into a conflict, the South Hampton Jones family would be done for.

The shame brought upon the family could never be washed away.

"Insolence! What are you trying to do?"

Aiden could feel how terrifying Levi was as he instinctively retreated a few steps.

The crowd berated Levi one by one, "How dare you cause trouble during such a solemn occasion?"

Joey was outraged as he stabbed his staff into the ground loudly.

"Why is there such a bastard within the illustrious Jones family?" he lamented as he watched Levi approach Aiden.

Levi had never set such a rule in the Iron Brigade.

In fact, he would encourage his men to put on their Iron Brigade armbands when they returned home because it was a prestigious symbol.

Any family who had a son serving in the Iron Brigade would feel extremely honored.

Levi's words brought everyone's attention back to him, including Anson's.

He sneered at Levi, "Who are you? Do I know you?"

"Are you a member of the Iron Brigade?" Levi asked.

"That's right! Brigadier General Anson Jones of the Iron Brigade at your service," Anson replied.
