in like a normal person. If he failed, James would be paralyzed for life.

Olivia did not expect James to be able to stand up now.

Looks like James's luck was pretty good?

Olivia did not think too much about it.

She pretended to be happy and said. That's great! Ella, did you bring James home?"

"He's home. Your brother has been in the hospital for too long and wants to go home. The attending doctor also said that he's recovering well and can go home to recuperate for the time being." Ella said.

"Alright, I understand. I'll be back soon. When I get back, I'll definitely celebrate James's recovery," Olivia said with a smile.

"Yes, Olivia. I'm so grateful to you. You're our lucky star. Previously, in Prover Hospital, the doctor also said that James had recovered very well, but he never could tell that there was a possibility of him standing up again. This time, finally, he can. stand, Olivia. Without you, James would really have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair, Ella cried. "Ella, you're being too serious. We're family. There's no need to thank me. You're treating me like an outsider, Olivia said, trying her best to pretend to choke up

Not far away, Andy heard Olivia's fake cry and sneered. Olivia gave him a cold look.

Olivia did not forget to defame Gina. "Ella, you also know that Prover Hospital is Gina's private hospital."

Olivia paused, but Ella naturally understood what she meant. What she meant was that Gina was Prover Hospital's director. As long as Gina gave some instructions, the doctor would definitely not care about James's treatment. That was why James's legs could not be treated.

At the thought of this, Ella fell silent. Her disgust for Gina had once again surged. However, she had been too tired recently and could not be bothered to scold Gina. Ella took a deep breath and said unhappily, Today is a good day. Let's just talk about happy things. Don't mention that unlucky name."

Olivia almost laughed out loud when she heard the familiar disdainful tone. It was as if all the unhappiness that had happened in the past had disappeared. She and the Miller family were still a loving family.

However, things had changed. At this point, the Miller family no longer had any value for her to rely on. She was just unwilling to be abandoned just like that. She could also play with the Miller family members in her hands.

Chapter 372

Olivia replied obediently, "Alright. Since James has been discharged from the hospital, this is a great thing. Ella, I'll immediately finish my business trip and go home to celebrate."

"There's no need to rush. You're so busy with work. Are you done with your work now?" Ella asked considerately.

"Almost." Olivia glanced at Andy from the corner of her eye.

"If you have free time, you should rest well. There's no need to rush back." Ella's heart ached for Olivia.

"I'm not tired, Ella. Alright, that's all for now, I still have something on. I'm hanging up." Actually, Olivia was impatient. It was too tiring to pretend to be happy for James

"Okay." Ella quickly hung up

Olivia turned around and said to Andy, "I'm going back to the country tomorrow."

Andy was surprised. "So fast?"

He h

had not had enough fun yet.

“Why? Are you reluctant for me to leave?” Olivia mocked Andy.

“I want to stay for another two days. You can go back first,” Andy said.

Andy realized that it did not matter if he was not fluent in the country’s language. In any case, it was fine as long as he had translation software on his phone. Previously, it was mainly his first time going overseas and he was a little at a loss. After staying for two days, Andy already felt very comfortable.

It did not feel much different from being in his home country.

“Up to you,” Olivia said.

This was exactly what she wanted.

Till head back to the hotel first. What about you?” Olivia glanced at Andy.

Andy rubbed his chin and revealed a wretched smile. “Me? I don’t want to go yet. I want to go out and play.”

Olivia looked at Andy’s wretched smile and knew that Andy wanted to play with multiple women.

She looked at Andy in disdain and did not say anything. In the end, Olivia turned around and left while Andy followed the navigation in another direction

Olivia wanted to take a taxi back to the hotel by the roadside, but she happened to see a Maybach parked in front of the casino. No one got out of the car. Olivia only glanced at it and suddenly realized that the brown-haired man who got out of the car looked so familiar.

It looked particularly like her current leader, Dr. Jacquard.

However, Dr. Jacquard was blond and did not have brown hair.

Olivia was stunned. Her gaze followed the man’s back. The man seemed to have sensed Olivia’s gaze. He turned his head and met her gaze. When Olivia saw that familiar pair of eyes, she was sure that she was looking at Dr. Jacquard. She did not expect to see Dr. Jacquard’s true appearance under such circumstances.

Usually, when Dr. Jacquard saw her, he would either wear a mask or a hat, only revealing his eyes

Dr. Jacquard probably did not expect to show Olivia his true appearance under such circumstances, right?

For a moment, Olivia panicked. She knew that the more she knew, the faster she would die. She immediately turned around and pretended not to recognize him.

However, she did not expect “Dr. Jacquard to catch up.

Chapter 372

When Olivia heard the footsteps behind her, she was extremely nervous. The moment her arm was grabbed, even her heart skipped a beat. She trembled and did not dare to turn around,

“You recognized me. Why are you hiding? Did you see a ghost? Why are you so afraid?” Dr. Jacquard came from behind and said.

Olivia decided to play dumb. “Sir, what are you talking about? I don’t understand.”

“Alright, I won’t do anything to you even if you recognize me. Turn around,” Dr. Jacquard said,

Olivia turned around stiffly and lowered her head. “Dr. Jacquard.”

“Yes, I hid my identity from you previously because you were used by me not long ago. I still can’t trust you completely. Now that things have come to this, you’ve done things neatly under me. It’s fine if I tell you my true identity. My real name is Ibrahim Rosario.

When he was Dr. Jacquard, he had a blond hair wig.

Olivia took a deep breath. “Alright, Dr. Rosario.”

Ibrahim smiled when he saw Olivia holding her breath. He patted Olivia’s shoulder and said, “Alright, don’t be nervous. Relax. Anyway, even if you don’t meet me today, you will know my identity after a while.”

Olivia tried her best to calm down. She looked at Ibrahim in confusion. “Why do you say that?”

The

The corners of Ibrahim’s mouth curled up. “Didn’t you invest in Ethan’s project? One million dollars, this project is my medical team. It’s under development

Olivia’s eyes widened. “I see.”

"It's nothing. You may leave. Ibrahim waved his hand.

Olivia heaved a sigh of relief, but before she left, she still had something to ask Ibrahim. "Dr. Jacquard, no, no, Dr. Rosario, I want to ask you something. Has James's leg really been treated?"

Ibrahim said with a faint smile, "No, the drug test failed." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Olivia was surprised. "Didn't you say that if the new medicine is used on James, if it fails, James will be paralyzed for life? Why is he able to stand and walk now and even discharged from the hospital?"

Ibrahim smiled. "Do you know what it means to have a terminal lucidity? Coincidentally, you mentioned this too. I don't know how long James's leg can last. When he's paralyzed, it will be troublesome. Then, before he's paralyzed, think of a way to deal with him."

with

Olivia was at a loss for words. If she had known earlier, she would not have asked. Ibrahim had directly asked her to deal with James. How could she do that?

However, Ibrahim was her leader. She was dissatisfied and could not show it. She only muttered. "I'll think of a way you

Ibrahim clicked his tongue. "Aren't you always quick to come up with ideas? Why are you letting the man go now? I thought you would come up with a solution in the next second. Think about it carefully. Who does James have a grudge against?" With Ibrahim's reminder, Olivia did have a clue.

One had to know that James's legs were crippled by Gabriel. Did Gina ask Gabriel to do this? Olivia did not know, but Gabriel was with Gina. Wasn't it the same no matter who did it?

Olivia had an idea. "I understand. Mr. Ibrahim. However, when the time comes, you have to help me act."

"Of course," Ibrahim said.

Olivia glanced at the casino. "Dr. Rosario, have a good time.

Ibrahim said nothing

He turned around and left.

Chapter 372

After Olivia turned around, she immediately bought a plane ticket back to the country.

The next day.

Olivia landed in Norwood.

It was Noah who picked up Olivia.

“Ella has prepared the food at home. She’s waiting for us to go back and eat, Noah said.

“Alright, Olivia replied.

Olivia was relatively cold. After all, after they had , the relationship between them had changed. Olivia still felt a little disgusted when she saw Noah, and she did not want to get close to Noah. Anyway, she would avoid Noah if she could.

Noah glanced at Olivia in the rearview mirror. ‘Olivia, why are you so cold to me?’

Chapter 373

Noah was really asking the obvious.

“Did I!” Olivia played dumb

Noah said solemnly, “Olivia, after you return to the Miller family, you will only be my sister in my heart. Don’t worry, I don’t have any other thoughts about you,”

Olivia smiled awkwardly. “Alright, Noah.”

“Alright, let’s just make things clear.” Noah did not say anything else and continued driving.

When they returned to the Miller family, Olivia saw an excited James. He had been in a wheelchair for more than half a year. Now that he could move freely, he was extremely happy.

When he saw Olivia, James excitedly went forward and grabbed Olivia. He gave Olivia a big hug. "My good sister! Thank you. If you hadn't recommended me for treatment, I'm afraid I wouldn't have been able to stand up so quickly!"

Olivia patted James's back and said, James, it's good that you can walk. The past is dark and you can't chase after it. The future is promising!"

James was silent. In the past six months, he had suffered too much mental torture. He was very happy that his legs had recovered. However, he could not let the past pass just like that. It was the adulterous couple, Gabriel and Gina, who had almost crippled him. He had to take revenge on them. He had to make them pay at all costs!

"James?" Olivia's voice pulled James back from his thoughts.

James came back to his senses. "Sit down and eat first

"Okay"

After dinner, James went out for a walk. He went out for a few hours and did not come back. This made Ella a little worried, so she called James.

"James, where are you? Why aren't you home yet? Is it because your legs are not feeling well?" Ella asked rather tactfully.

After all, the attending doctor had said that James still needed to recuperate for the time being. However, James felt that he had recovered and was walking at high intensity.

On the other end of the line, James's tone was deep. "I'm fine. I'm not feeling unwell. I'm just taking a walk outside. I'll be back after I'm tired. Don't worry about me. It's getting late. Ella, go to sleep first."

"Alright." Ella hung up the phone. Although she was sleepy, James was not back yet, which made Ella feel worried.

Olivia sat beside Ella. She placed her hand on Ella's shoulder and said, "Ella, go and rest first. I'll wait for James to come back in the living room."

Ella was very gentle. "Olivia, you're already very tired from the long flight today. How can I let you wait for James to come back? I'll wait here!"

Ella's heart was filled with Olivia, her caring little darling. It was a ridiculously wrong decision for her to abandon Olivia previously. Reality proved that her biological daughter, Gina, was inferior to her non-biological daughter. Olivia.

Olivia shook her head. "Ella, I slept for a long time on the plane today. I'm full of energy now. Moreover, I've been overseas for two days. I still need to get rid of the jet lag and I'm not tired at all. You should go and rest first. I think James should be back soon. I probably don't have to wait long."

Ella was so tired that she could not help but agree. Then, she went upstairs to sleep.

About half an hour later, James walked back, drenched in sweat.

Olivia stood up and said in surprise, James? You went for a run?"

Before James could answer, he suddenly fell to the ground in front of Olivia. Olivia was shocked and went forward to help James up.

Chapter 373

Unexpectedly, James's reaction was especially intense. "Don't come near me! Go away. I can get up on my own."

Olivia was shocked.

If he could get up, so be it. Why was he so fierce? What was wrong with him? Olivia could not help but want to roll her eyes.

Therefore, she silently watched as James struggled to raise his body a little before falling back down. This repeated more than a dozen times.

James suddenly went crazy. That's impossible. Haven't I recovered? Why can't I stand up again? Did the doctor lie to me?"

Just now, when he was walking outside alone, he was walking normally. Suddenly, his limbs were numb, and he could not move. He fell to the ground. The passers-by wanted to help him up, but he also rejected them. He sat on the ground for a long time before he felt better. Eventually, he forced himself to get up and walked home.

"No, no,

I don't want to be a cripple, I don't want to James started to beat his legs in despair.

Olivia pretended to be concerned and squatted down. She held James's hand and comforted him. "James, don't be agitated. Perhaps you're just tired from walking. It's okay, Why don't you sit on the ground and rest for a while?"

James knew very well what was wrong with his body. Something was wrong. It was too wrong.

He was about to say something when he suddenly felt suffocated. He started to clutch his chest and fall back.

Olivia was not very panicked. She knew that James's almost paralyzed appearance was "normal".

She pretended to be at a loss. "James? James, are you alright? Hold on, I'll send you to the hospital immediately!

At the hospital

James did not know how long he had been unconscious. When he woke up, the sky outside the window was still dark. Olivia was guarding the bed.

When Olivia saw James wake up, she let out a sigh of relief and said, James, it's good that you're awake. You scared me to death. It's too late. My brothers and mother should still be resting. I'll take care of them here. That should be enough. That's why I haven't called them yet and asked them to come over."

She tried to squeeze out two tears.

James looked at the "sensible" Olivia and suddenly felt sorry for her. "Olivia, you're my good sister. Thank you. Did I scare you just now?"

Olivia shook her head. "No. By the way, James, the doctor said that you were poisoned with thallium, causing your limbs to be numb and your consciousness to be unclear."

"Thallium poisoning? Then what about now?" James cried.

James's eyes widened in shock. SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"The doctor gave you the medicine. You still have to observe the subsequent situation," Olivia lied, James's eyes lost focus. Thallium poisoning. Even if he received timely treatment, he would not have long to live. Who would poison him? Who wanted his life?

"Gina, it must be Gina! Otherwise, it must be Gabriel. They know that I know that the person who caused my car accident was Gabriel. They're afraid that I'll take revenge on them at all costs. Therefore, they're going all out to kill me!" James became agitated Moreover, Gina and Gabriel were both powerful and influential. Wouldn't it be easy to get some thallium?

Olivia was really surprised. She originally wanted to make up some lies to make James think that it was Gina who did it. Unexpectedly, James, who was blinded by hatred, did not need Olivia's guidance at all.

Chapter 374

Chapter 374

This was exactly what Olivia wanted.

James clenched his fists with all his might. "I, James, will never accept being a cripple and a good-for-nothing. I will definitely make Gina and Gabriel pay the price!"

When Olivia saw the bulging veins on James's forehead, she knew how agitated James was.

Olivia comforted him. "James, calm down. Calm down first. Your health is more important."

James smiled dejectedly. "Is my health more important? I've already been poisoned. I won't be able to live for long. I don't want to live the rest of my life as a cripple. But even if I die, I have to die for something. If Gina and Gabriel want me dead, I won't let them off James no longer cared how he was poisoned. Gina was so capable that it was easy for her to poison him

In fact, James did not have thallium poisoning at all. It was just that Olivia had asked Ibrahim to arrange for a doctor to create a medical record. James currently trusted Olivia and did not suspect her at all.

fake

This was very good. Otherwise, if James knew that he was a lab rat who became like this after failing the trial, he would definitely resent Olivia. It was naturally best that James blamed Gina and the others.

James pondered for a moment. He took Olivia's hand weakly. "Olivia, can you do something for me?"

“Sure, tell me,” Olivia said.

At King Bar

“If James can really kill Gina, it’s also a good thing. Colin said and casually took a sip of wine.

“He definitely can’t do it alone, so I need your help, Mr. Barnes.” Olivia smiled ingratiatingly.

Elaine had just been overseas and was tricked by Gina. Colin was also in a fit of anger. However, he was not in the mood to deal with Gina now. With someone helping him do work and messing with Gina, even if he did not kill Gina and only made Gina unhappy, it was still good.

Therefore, Elaine was willing to help.

Colin made a call to his subordinate, who quickly sent a box over. He took it and handed it to Olivia. Olivia opened it and saw that it was a gun

Olivia thanked him. Thank you, Mr. Barnes.

Colin sneered. “What’s there to thank me for? Since you’re already here to ask for my help, doing a good job is the best way to thank me. However, if James can’t even hurt Gina, don’t blame me for being ruthless.”

Colin was not interested in helping a piece of trash

Olivia was a little nervous. She did not dare to guarantee that Gina could not be killed by James. However, James only asked Olivia to ask Ethan about the recent itinerary of Gabriel and Gina.

She guessed that James was waiting for her.

However, Ethan was useless. Olivia would definitely not go to him for help. Instead, she went to Colin Colin was generous. He even gave Olivia equipment.

Olivia smiled apologetically. “I understand.”

She did not dare to say anything else, afraid that she would make more mistakes.

“Are you leaving? Why? Do you think I’ll let you stay the night? Colin asked with a sneer.

“No, no, I’ll leave immediately.” Olivia was relieved that Colin let her go.

Nancy was restless. That damned Shane had brought her to meet Henry again. After interacting with him, Nancy felt that Henry looked quite gentle and gentlemanly.

However, it was impossible for Nancy not to understand the principle that one could not judge a book by its cover. Now that Shane and Henry were drinking, who knew what the two of them would do when they were drunk.

She did not want to pretend to be a chaste woman, but Shane was a fool who liked to hit people. As for Henry, she always felt that he was a beast in human clothes.

However, Nancy did not drink. It was not because she was being cherished, but because Shane wanted her to drive him home later. It was also not because Shane adhered to the traffic rules. It was just that he was worried about others driving and did not want to die from drunk driving.

Shane cherished his life.

Finally, Shane could not drink anymore. “I can’t take it anymore. I want to go home and sleep.”

Nancy immediately went to help him up like a servant. Shane pointed at Henry and said, “Send Mr. Matt home.

Finally, she got the two men into the car and drove Shane home. Shane got out of the car and instructed Nancy earnestly, “Send Mr. Matt home. Remember to serve him well.”

Nancy was about to explode. She knew that Shane was up to no good when he insisted that she be his driver. He just wanted to send her to Henry for fun. Although Henry was lying in the back seat without any movement, who knew what would happen when she sent him home later?

However, she had no right to disobey Shane

Nancy could only brace herself and send Henry home.

At the door of the house, Nancy did not dare to let the drunk Henry walk in by himself. She also sent Henry to the sofa in the living room. Henry's eldest son had a villa, but she did not see any servants. However, she could not care less and wanted to run away.

Suddenly, Henry grabbed Nancy's arm. Nancy was scared out of her wits. She was really worried that Henry would use force on her.

Perhaps he looked refined, but he was playing especially perversely!

Anyway, Nancy did not dare to gamble.

In the end, Henry only pulled her and shouted in a daze, "Wendy, I'm back."

Nancy smiled stiffly. "Mr. Matt, I'm not Lacy. You've got the wrong person."

Henry sized up Nancy and seemed to have sobered up a lot "Miss Steele? You sent me back? Thank you."

Then, he let go of Nancy. Nancy heaved a sigh of relief. "You're welcome. I'll be leaving then."

"Can I trouble you to make me a hangover medicine? I have a terrible headache. Thank you very much, Henry said.

He pointed to the cabinet under the coffee table. The medicine is in there."

"Alright." Nancy bit the bullet and agreed. After thinking about it, she had promised Gina that she would be her spy to observe if there was anything wrong with Henry. If she did not come into contact with Henry, how could she discover it? Moreover, she had no choice now. Even if Shane did not give her to Henry to play with, he might give her to someone else in the future.

Nancy knew that she was in trouble, so she wanted to find someone to help her. Gina was willing to give her a chance, so she had to seize

Only then did the security guards recover from their shock and go forward to check on the situation. The manager of the restaurant directly ran to Gabriel and Gina and knelt down in fear.

"Miss Miller, Mr. Jackson, I'm sorry. It's really our security that has caused trouble for the two of you. No, it has caused danger. I promise you that from now on, the security measures of Grand Restaurant will be upgraded. I'm really sorry!" The manager kowtowed desperately. His entire body was trembling, and he was scared to death.

If James succeeded and caused Gabriel and Gina to die in their restaurant,

An ambulance arrived and Gabriel took Ashley to the ambulance.

Ella arrived at the police station a little later. When she found out about James's death, she broke down. When she saw Gina, she wanted to rush up and tear her apart. "Bitch, James is your biological brother! How could you do such a vicious thing? I'm going to kill you, I'm going to kill you!"

The police officer stopped Ella, who had lost control of her emotions. Ella turned around and grabbed the police officer's hand tightly. She roared, "Gina is a murderer! Why didn't you lock her up? Could it be that you were bribed by Gabriel to protect Gina, a murderer! Where is the justice? You should immediately shoot Gina to death now. Isn't it only right and proper for you to pay with your life for killing someone?"

The police officer was speechless. "Mrs. Miller, please understand the situation. Your son, James, was the one who injured someone with

If not for Miss Miller's heroic actions, the casualties would definitely not be just 0 deaths and 2 injuries. Furthermore, Miss Miller's actions were self-defense."

When she heard the word self-defense, Ella felt as if the sky had collapsed. Did this not mean that Gina did not have to pay with her life for killing James?

No, Ella could not accept this result!

Ella broke down and cried, "No, how could it be self-defense? You must have been bribed by Gabriell

As Ella spoke, she wanted to hit the police officer. The police officer warned, "Mrs. Miller, if you attack again, we'll detain you."

Ella sat on the ground and rolled around like a spoilt brat.

No one wanted to talk to her

The police officer said to Gina and the others, "Miss Miller, Mr. Jackson, you can leave first. We will contact you again if there are any new developments in the follow-up investigation ‘She’s really like a crazy woman. Olivia complained in her heart.

However, she pretended to be concerned and went forward to help Ella up

Olivia squeezed out two drops of tears. “Ella, let’s go home first,”

Ella cried, “Olivia, why did James suddenly want to kill Gina for no reason? What happened? Did you notice anything before? Even if his legs suddenly don’t work anymore, he can continue the treatment. Why did he have to go to the extreme?”

Today, Ella went to the hospital to take care of James and realized that he was not recuperating in the hospital. James even suddenly asked her second son for over 20 thousand dollars.

Then, James did not pick up the phone or reply to the message. Ella was anxious to find James when the police called and told her about James’s death.

At this point. James was dead. There was no evidence. Olivia was in a good mood, so she naturally lied. “Ella, didn’t the doctor say that James’s condition suddenly worsened? It’s chemical poisoning. This poison might have been inflicted by Gina.”

“What did you say? Do you have evidence? If you do, we’ll call the police now. We can’t let James die for nothing!” Ella was extremely agitated.

Olivia pretended to be helpless and shook her head. “No, Ella. It’s not like you don’t know. Gina is rich and powerful. She also has Gabriel’s support. What evidence can she leave for us to control her? I didn’t know that in his anger, James chose to die with Gina. However, James told me that when he went for a walk that day, he met Gina, When Gina saw that his leg had recovered, she didn’t seem too happy. Later, James suddenly had an accident and was sent to the hospital. After all, there was no evidence. I can only say that something was wrong” Olivia spouted nonsense.

“Ella, James was also thinking for us. He had already decided to fight Gina to the death. He just wanted to take responsibility for his own actions, so he didn’t say anything and just went on his own. He didn’t want to implicate us. After all, isn’t it easy for Gina and Gabriel to kill us now?” Olivia asked.

Ella broke down even more. James, my poor child. If he wanted revenge, why didn’t he tell me? I would have helped to avenge you, James. Anyway, I’m already old. You were still young! Why were you so stupid

Gabriel's face darkened. "Harry, if Gina hadn't saved your daughter today, she would have died long ago. What right do you have to criticize me now?"

Harry did not expect Gabriel's reply to be so aggressive. His face immediately turned ashen. "Let me ask you, is James here for Gina? If you weren't with Gina, would James have come to us for revenge?"

"She was the one who insisted on following us. Gina said that Ashley met her in Prover Hospital and had been following behind her. She asked for it," Gabriel said coldly.

Harry was still relentless. "Listen to what you're saying. Gina has already been shot. It's fine if you don't comfort her, but you're still saying that she deserves it?"

"Where's Gina Miller? Is she hiding? Doesn't she usually want to stick to you? Now that she knows that she's harmed someone else, she's too embarrassed to apologize?" Harry scoffed and accused.

Gabriel's tone turned cold. "Gina saved your daughter. It's fine if you don't know how to be grateful, but you still want Gina to apologize! Dream on! However, since you don't care about Gina's life—saving kindness, I can help you shoot Ashley a few more times. After all, if Gina hadn't reacted fast enough and pushed Ashley to my side, Ashley would have been hit more than just in the arm!"

When Harry heard that Gabriel was going to shoot Ashley a few more times, he was about to explode in anger. "You've gone crazy. that you have a girlfriend, you're planning to disown your family!"

Ashley was also in disbelief. "Gabriel, how can you say such cruel words? You want to shoot me? That makes me really sad!"

Now

Neil knocked hard on the ground with his walking stick, signaling them to be quiet first. "Enough, Harry. You were the one who was being unreasonable first. Don't blame Gabriel for being unpleasant. Isn't what Gabriel said the truth? Gina is not only my savior, but also your savior, Ashley. You father and daughter should thank Gina properly!"

"Thank her? Thank her for bringing trouble to my daughter?" Harry said disdainfully.

Gabriel said solemnly, "Harry, if you and Ashley don't thank Gina seriously, I will remove you from the list of shareholders."

Harry was stunned. He did not expect Gabriel to be so determined. “Gabriel! Have you forgotten that when you started your business, I was the first person to stand up for you? Putting aside the fact that I’m still your family, how can you say such treasonous words?”

“Harry, I’ve already paid off your help when you became a shareholder and enjoyed the dividends for so many years. From now on, don’t think of using this matter to morally kidnap me,” Gabriel said coldly

Gabriel wanted to make things clear today. He did not want Gina to suffer the malice of his family again.

“You!” Harry shouted.

Harry was so angry that he could not speak. He asked Neil, “Neil, do you agree with what Gabriel said?”

“Yes! Harry, we’re brothers. You know that I like peace between families, but Gina is my daughter-in-law. Gabriel also loves Gina very much. You and Ashley have no right to point fingers at Gina! Moreover, the truth is that Gina saved Ashley. Are you going to be ungrateful people? Isn’t it your duty to thank Gina?” Neil said.

Harry was indignant. “Neil, Gabriel, for Gina, you want to fall out with me. Forget it. Don’t tell me you want to be my brother because of her?”

“If you continue to target Gina, we really won’t be able to be brothers!” Neil said firmly.

Harry looked heartbroken. “Okay, okay! I’ll thank Gina. Ashley, prepare a generous gift and thank Miss Miller!”

With that, Harry slammed the door and left.

Neil closed his eyes and sighed. He could not understand why Harry could not tolerate Gina. Gina was such an outstanding and kind child! And she was his savior!

Neil asked Ashley, “Ashley, tell me, why can’t you and your father tolerate Gina? She’s our family’s future daughter-in-law. It doesn’t have much to do with you, right?”

Ashley’s face turned pale and her heart skipped a beat. She knew that Neil was really angry and had said harsh words. “I just think that Gina’s family background is not good and she’s not worthy of Gabriel. I think Gabriel deserves better.”

Actually, this was secondary. What Ashley hated the most was Gina’s cold and aloof personality. She was not easy to control.

Chapter 378

"I don't need you to feel that way. Do I need your permission to marry Gina?" Gabriel retorted.

Ashley's heart could not take it anymore. "Gabriel, can you not talk to me like that? I'm just concerned about you. It's said that an elder sister is like a mother. I just want to care about you like your mother, who's not around anymore. Gina did save me this time. Don't worry, I won't be ungrateful. I will thank her properly."

Ashley could not help but cry, feeling aggrieved.

Neil sighed. "Ashley, not to mention that Gina is very outstanding and has a very successful career, just the fact that she is my savior is enough for her to marry into the Jackson family. Perhaps your intentions are good, but don't be a busybody in the future."

"Alright, I understand Ashley lowered her head.

"Rest well!" Neil said.

Neil's heart ached for his junior, but he was also angry at Ashley for finding fault with Gina. This made his heart feel a little uncomfortable.

Gabriel went forward to help Neil leave. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Not long after Gina returned to her apartment, she received a call from Ashley.

After she picked up the call, Ashley said reluctantly, "Miss Miller, thank you for saving me."

At the scene, Gina decisively asked Gabriel to protect Ashley. This was an undeniable fact. Even Ashley was very surprised. "Don't worry, I'll do more than just thank you. I just placed an order for 10 million dollars at Quaria to express my gratitude."

Ashley did not want Gina to feel like she was petty.

However, 10 million dollars was nothing to Gina

Moreover, thanking her was what Ashley should do. Gina's reaction was relatively calm. "Alright."

Alright?

Ashley felt uncomfortable again. She felt that Gina's indifferent tone was as if she was responding to her subordinate. Gina should at least be polite, right?

Ashley felt suffocated. However, when she thought about how Neil and Gabriel had said that they were going to sever ties in the ward today, she did not dare to lose her temper at Gina.

Chapter 379

Chapter 379

Ashley could only suppress her anger and say, "My father asked me to pass on the message. Thank you.

"Insincere," Gina said casually.

Ashley felt the anger in her chest expanding bit by bit. She wanted to curse. "Then Miss Miller, what should I do to show my sincerity?"

"Thank me in person," Gina said.

Ashley was silent for a moment before asking. "Are you referring to me thanking you in person together with my father?"

"You don't want to? Then forget it. I'll take it that you didn't thank me, Gina replied straightforwardly.

Ashley was stunned. She was afraid that Gina would complain to Gabriel and Neil after hanging up the phone. If the family really fell out because of Gina wouldn't that be a huge joke?

It was not that Ashley was interested in a harmonious family. It was just that she was unwilling to destroy their large family because of an outsider.

In the past, Ashley had thought that at the very least, they were related by blood to Neil's family. Could Gina's status in Neil's heart be higher than their blood ties?

Until today, when Gabriel said that he wanted to remove Harry from the company's shareholder list, and Neil said that he wanted to sever ties with Harry, did Ashley truly realize that Gina's status in Neil's heart was really higher than anything else.

I'm not unwilling. How about this! I'll choose a restaurant and have a meal with you before thanking you. Is that okay?" Ashley asked politely

"You don't have to eat with me.,

Just thank me, Gina said directly.

endured it again and again. "Alright, I'll go over with Harry tomorrow to thank you."

"Sure." After Gina said that, she sent Ashley the address of her apartment.

"Alright, I'll hang up first, Ashley gritted her teeth and said.

She really did not like to talk to Gina politely.

Gina did not say anything and hung up first.

Ashley was speechless. She threw her phone to the ground in a frenzy and screamed in anger.

The next day, Harry and Ashley went to thank Gina as promised.

Harry's face was ashen. Ashley's mood was extremely bad, but she still advised Harry, "Harry, liven up. You have to bear with it. Don't cause too much trouble."

Harry hesitated as the apartment door opened.

The moment the door opened, Ashley forced an awkward smile. For the first time, she greeted Gina with a smile. "Miss Miller, good morning. Harry and I specially came to thank you. Thank you very much for saving me." t say anything.

After Gina heard what Ashley said, her gaze fell on Harry. After all, Harry stood rooted to the ground and did not say Ashley could only use her uninjured right hand to pull Harry's arm. Harry did not want to fall out with Neil and Gabriel, so he could only lower his head. "Miss Miller, thank you very much for saving my daughter!"

"Alright, I understand. You can leave now." Gina then closed the door.

As the door closed, a gust of wind blew towards Harry's face. At that moment, Harry felt like his lungs were about to explode. Gina wanted them to come to her door to thank her, but she did not even let them enter the door and immediately closed the door to send them away.

Harry felt that they had been tricked by Gina.

This was too much! Harry clenched his fists tightly. He wished he could smash the door and barge in to give Gina two slaps

Chapter 879

Ashley looked at Harry, who looked like he was about to explode with anger. She grabbed Harry's hand and said, "Harry, my hand hurts. Send me back to the hospital first.

Ashley also signaled the surveillance camera at the entrance of Gina's apartment.

The door was still closed. It was too incompetent and furious for them to flare up at the door. If they were recorded, Gina would be treat it as a joke and watch the video every day. Wouldn't that be too shameful?

Harry tried his best to suppress the anger in his heart.

He comforted himself that now was not the time. When the time was right, he wanted Gina to die an extremely miserable death!

In the end, Harry snorted and agreed to leave first..

Back in the car, Harry started to get angry. "This bitch is so good at putting on airs. Alright, let her be smug for a while longer. In the future, she will suffer.

After cursing. Harry finally felt a little better. He said with concern, "Ashley, does your hand hurt? I'll send you back to the hospital now. This damn bitch wanted you to apologize at her doorstep despite you being injured. , I'll kill her sooner or later."

Ashley thought that Harry only said that he wanted to kill Gina because he was extremely angry.

In fact, these were Harry's real thoughts.

"Harry, I'm fine. It doesn't hurt very much. Don't you have a social gathering? Go socialize. I don't want to go back to the hospital for the time being" Ashley said.

"What are you going to do?" Harry asked.

"Release my anger, Ashley said.

It was impossible for her to hold back her anger. Although she could not vent it on Gina, she already had someone in mind..

Ashley was already so old, so Harry had nothing to worry about “Alright.”

Just like that, the driver sent Harry to the restaurant. Then, according to Ashley’s request, he drove the car to the Miller family. The Miller family was lifeless.

The door was decorated with white flowers. It was not closed, so Ashley successfully entered the living room. The living room was decorated with near-light, and James Miller’s photo was placed on the offering table.

James’s body was cremated today. It was done by Liam and his two younger brothers. Because Ella’s mental state was too poor, she did. not go to the scene. Olivia accompanied Ella at the wake. When she saw Ashley suddenly barge in, she was also stunned.

Olivia was still a little confused. Ella asked, “Who are you? Are you James Miller’s friend? Are you here to pay your respects to James?” Ashley was instantly infuriated. Her left hand was still in pain and in a sling around her neck. However, she was actually recognized as James’s friend. Wasn’t this humiliating her? “Who am I? I’m Gabriel’s sister, Ashley. I’m also the victim of your bastard son’s injury,” Ashley said angrily.

Ella’s mental state was extremely unstable. She did not care about Ashley’s identity and suddenly stood up from the sofa. “Who do you think you are? What right do you have to call my son a bastard? You bitch, get out!”

Ella’s scolding stunned Olivia. It seemed like Ella was really going crazy.

Not only that, but Ella also wanted to hit Ashley. Fortunately, Olivia quickly grabbed Ella. “Ella, what are you doing? Calm down. She’s from the Jackson family!”

Ella did not care, “I don’t care who you are. You just can’t scold my y son

Chapter 380

Olivia suddenly realized that she could not hold back the crazy Ella.

She watched helplessly as Ella rushed up to tear Ashley apart. Ashley would not sit still and wait for death. Although her left arm was still aching, it did not stop her from picking up the fruit plate on the coffee table and throwing it at Ella's face. "Bitch, you still want to hit mer Ashley shouted. The bridge of Ella's nose was instantly bruised, and she fell to the ground in a daze. Blood gushed out of her nose as she screamed in pain.

Olivia was scared to death. Worried that she would be implicated, she began to beg for mercy. "Miss Jackson, I'm sorry. There might be something wrong with Ella's mental state. Please spare us! James injured you, but he also paid the price with his life. He's already dead. Miss Jackson, please calm down.

Ashley snorted coldly. When she saw the photo of James on the offering table, she felt very angry

She stepped forward and swept away the offerings on the table. Then, she threw James's photo to the ground and stomped it into pieces. "Who allowed you to mourn this bastard? I'm warning you, if you dare to hold a funeral for this bastard, I won't let you of!!

In order to protect herself, Olivia nodded repeatedly. "Yes, Miss Jackson. I'll remember what you saidr

Ashley smashed James's mourning hall and felt a little better. Before she left, she still felt a little upset. She kicked Ella, who was sitting on the ground. "You're also guilty, you bitch. You gave birth to the two bastards, James and Gina. If it weren't for Gina, I wouldn't have suffered such an undeserved calamity!"

Ashley was also angry because of Gina

Ella was kicked in the center and almost fainted. Olivia did not dare to make a sound. Moreover, she was afraid that Ashley would hit her too. She did not even dare to breathe loudly.

time I see you!"

Ashley had vented enough. "Remember, the Miller family, you bunch of bitches. I'll beat you up every ti

She could not bear Gina, but she could beat up others. Anyway, they were a family. If Gina angered her, Ashley would find the Miller family to vent her anger!

Only when Ashley was far away did Olivia dare to go forward. She helped Ella up and let her sit on the sofa.

one!

No one knew if it was because of the pain, but Ella’s eyes were dull and she did not speak.

Olivia was not in the mood to care so much. It was already good enough that she was willing to take the first aid kit and apply medicine for Ella

Noah, who had witnessed everything on the second floor, swallowed his saliva and finally dared to go downstairs.

He sat beside Ella. “Ella, are you alright?”

Ella shook her head. Olivia took the first aid kit and applied medicine for Ella. Noah looked at the mess on the ground and sighed. “Ella, it looks like Miss Jackson is very angry. Let’s not hold James’s funeral.”

Olivia also persuaded her. “That’s right, Ella. After all, we still have to continue living”

“You guys decide.” Ella said in a hoarse voice. She closed her eyes in exhaustion. She was too tired and sad. After being beaten up again, she only wanted to rest.

Nancy sat uneasily in the taxi to Henry’s house.

Shane asked her to deliver a few bottles of wine to Henry for him. This bastard, he even asked her to do such an errand.

But Nancy had to do it.

Nancy felt that Shane was deliberately creating an opportunity for her to interact more with Henry. However, Nancy did not want to interact too much with Henry because her inexplicable intuition told her that Henry was not a good person

When Nancy arrived at the doorstep, she rang the doorbell. Soon. Henry personally came to open the door. He was a little surprised to see Nancy. “Miss Steele, what’s the matter!”

Nancy smiled awkwardly. "I'm here to deliver wine."

Henry took the bag and said politely. Thank you. Come in and rest for a while before leaving. Have a glass of water."

Nancy did not really want to. After all, she was the only one in Henry's house. She was not comfortable being alone with him. It was not that she was afraid that Henry had ill intentions towards her, but she was afraid that Henry would do something even more perverted to her.

"No, thank you," Nancy said.

Henry did not force her, but at this moment, Nancy's phone rang. Shane had called.

"Have you delivered the wine?" Shane asked.

"Yes, Mr. Benderson, Nancy answered nicely.

"Alright, wait for me at Henry's house. I'll come and pick you up later."

"Why?" Nancy was a little flustered.

"I told you to wait for a while. Why are you talking so much nonsense?" Shane started to get impatient after saying a few words.

"Okay. Nancy swallowed her anger and agreed.

Henry invited her again. "Miss Steele, then come in and sit for a while."

"Okay" Nancy entered the villa uneasily and sat on the sofa in the living room.

Henry poured a glass of water accompany you. Help yourself."

With that, Henry went upstairs.

for Nancy and prepared to go upstairs. "Miss Steele, I still have something to do in the study. I can't Nancy did not dare to drink the water Henry gave her. She was worried that if she drank it, she would fall unconscious and wake up in bed. She might not even wake up. After a while, Nancy was a little hored sitting alone. Gradually, she seemed to smell a faint smell of blood.

She was so frightened that her heart raced, but there was nothing abnormal around her. Where did the smell of blood come from?

Nancy wanted to run away, but if she ran away now, Shane would definitely hit her for being disobedient. However, she was really flustered.

Nancy looked up at the second floor. After confirming that there was no one on the second floor, she mustered her courage and thought about looking for the source of the smell of blood herself. She carefully opened the drawer under the coffee table. The first drawer contained some tea leaves

As soon as she opened the second drawer, Nancy could smell an even stronger smell of blood.

She saw a complete thumb with a broken finger. The cut on the finger was still covered in blood and was placed in a transparent plastic bag. Seeing this scene, Nancy was so frightened that she almost screamed.

She knew it. Her intuition told her that something was wrong with Henry. Could this person be a pervert who killed and dismembered people

How could there be a severed finger in a normal house?

However, this broken finger did not look like an adult's

Nancy was so frightened that she was about to cry. Fortunately, she was only looking at a finger. If it was a hand, leg, or eyeball, she would really not be able to control her fear and scream loudly.

Nancy came back to her senses. She was afraid that Henry would find out that she had discovered his secret. She closed the drawer without daring to breathe and raised her head stiffly, Fortunately, no one was staring at her from the second floor.

Nancy was about to leave when Shane arrived. He knew the password to Henry's house and entered the house by himself

"Yes, he's upstairs. Mr. Benderson, can I go home first?" Nancy asked in a sobbing tone.

Shane found it strange. "What's wrong? You look like you're about to cry."
