Chapter 461

Chapter 461

The people surrounding the ship were fully armed. They were all foreign police officers.

Seeing that Gina did not make any moves and she didn't look dangerous, the person shouted again, "Don't do anything. Stand where you are, or we will shoot."

Gina did not move. She did not know what was going on. If she wanted to escape, she would have thought of a way to do so inside the ship just now instead of walking out openly. Moreover, she could not let them fire. There were many arms inside the ship, which might cause an explosion. She was still not sure if Keith was on board.

She could not let his men fall into danger again.

Seeing

g that Gina was behaving herself, the police asked someone to come forward and bring her down. Then, the police rushed in and began to search the ship.

After finding the mass arms on the ship, the police officer approached Gina and asked, "Your name?"

"Gina Miller."

"Miss Miller, we suspect that you are inextricably linked to the Lighthouse, the terrorist organization. Please come back with us and cooperate with our investigation."

"The Lighthouse?" Gina was puzzled. What did this ship have to do with the Lighthouse? Wasn't it the ship of the Blue Vale Hospital?

Gina suddenly realized she might have been set up.

The police officer grabbed Gina's arm. "Miss Miller, please cooperate."

Gina did not say anything and left with the police officers.

In the royal castle.

Princess Lisa was drinking coffee.

The s e r v a n t hurriedly said, "Princess, Miss Miller has come to Mosnioca."

Lisa's eyes lit up. She put down her cup and said in surprise, "Really?"

Immediately, Lisa was a little unhappy. She sighed gloomily and pursed her lips. "Why didn't she tell me she was coming to Mosnicca? Aren't we friends?"

"She didn't tell me on purpose? Lisa was still thinking.

The se r v a n t shook her head. "Princess, it's not like that. I was about to say earlier that Miss Miller has been arrested and imprisoned"

Lisa suddenly stood up and gravely said, "What did you say? Say it slowly and carefully!"

Lisa wa s a little puzzled after hearing the s e r v a n t 's words. "Is Gina colluding with the Lighthouse?"

She didn't believe it.

However, it was a coincidence that Gina saved her last time at Sunshine Avenue. However, after interacting with Gina for a while, Lisa felt Gina was a cold girl with a kind heart.

Chapter 461

"She is in Prison 01, right?"

Lisa stood up and said, "I want to go over and take a look."

Gina stayed in prison after undergoing interrogation. She honestly told the truth about what she had to say, but the police officers said the other people arrested from the ship were all members of the Lighthouse. Their statements were consistent, saying Gina was a supplier of mass arms to their organization.

She provided the mass arms because she was thankful the Lighthouse had done her a service. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

In addition, Gina herself had abundant financial resources.

Her statement was logical. But they required further investigation, so Gina was temporarily taken into custody.

Gina recalled she had heard from Lisa that someone had secretly sent arms to the Lighthouse. She figured they were probably getting closer to the truth, so someone was looking for a scapegoat.

Gina actually was found.

Gina sneered.

A burst of hurried footsteps sounded. Gina looked up and saw Lisa rushing over.

The prison guard still wanted to stop Lisa, but she was a royal princess, and she did not dare to stop her. He only dared to follow her and said carefully, "Princess... Princess, you can't go in. You can't visit a suspect!"

Lisa suddenly stopped, and the guard almost bumped into Lisa. Fortunately, he braked in time and immediately distanced himself from Lisa.

Lina looked at the locked steel door and ordered, "Open the door."

"Princess... The guard was in a

I was in a difficult position.

Lisa was angry. "Why? Are you worried that I'll break into the prison? The person imprisoned inside is my friend. There's not enough evidence to prove that she's the one who colluded with the Lighthouse. Can't I go inside and meet my friend whom I haven't seen for a long time?"

"No... no." The guard was speechless.

He had no choice but to open the door for Lisa.

Lisa was relieved to see Gina was safe and sound. "Gina! Are you alright?"

Gina stood up and said, "Lisa, why are you here?"

"I'm worried about you, my friend!" Lisa stepped forward and grabbed Gina's hand. "The environment here is terrible, but... I can't take you away directly. But don't worry, I will think of a way to prove your innocence. Let me know if you need anything."

Gina paused. "Do you believe me?"

“What?” Lisa was stunned. “Why wouldn’t I trust you?”

Gina smiled. “They said that what happened last time on Sunshine Avenue was directed and acted by me to make friends with you. This arms deal is also to thank the Lighthouse for helping me. I want to interfere in your country’s politics.”

Lisa smiled helplessly. “I’ve investigated you, I believe in your character and my judgment.”

“Thank you,” Gina said.

Chapter 461

“Lisa, I do have something that I need your help with, I want to know if there’s anyone called Keith among the people who were brought out of the ship this time.”

“Keith, is he... your friend?” Lisa asked curiously.

“Yes,” Gina replied.

“Okay, I see, I’ll help you find Keith.”

Then, the guard outside the door reminded her, “Princess, you should leave. Please don’t make things difficult for me, okay?”

Lisa sighed. “Gina, I have to go. Don’t worry. If anyone dares to bully you, I won’t let him off.”

“Thank you.” Gina said. However, no one could bully her yet.

Gina lay down quietly after Lisa left. She was a little tired, so she decided to rest.

Gabriel felt uneasy.

Gina had not replied to his message. He knew what Gina had been up to. Mosnioca and Shyran were time-lags, but Gina had not replied. He was worried.

The phone rang, Gabriel glanced at it and realized it was an unknown number. He hesitated to answer it. Seeing the call was about to hang up, Gabriel answered it.

“Hello?”

“Gabriel, this is Michael Clark,” said Michael angrily.

Gabriel’s expression also turned cold. “What’s the matter?”

it’s about Gina being arrested and sent to the prison in Mosnioca, said Michael Gabriel was shocked. “What did you say? I’m going to Mosnica now!”

“You should go, but you have to hear me out, understand the situation, and then find a way to deal with it,” said Michael, taking a deep breath. “Gina is so clever. She will be fine for a while.”

Chapter 462

Moloca

Gina, who was sleeping, smelled something unusual and immediately woke up. However, she did not act rashly. Instead, she took out a unique traditional medicine pill hidden in her hair and swallowed it to help her temporarily hold her breath.

Aher a while, Gina heard the sound of her cell door opening. She still did not move.

Someone approached in the darkness.

Then, the person reached out his hand to Gina and wanted to test if Gina was breathing.

In the blink of an eye, Gina grabbed the person’s hand and twisted it. The person immediately let out a scream. Gina gave the other party two more kicks, making the other party lose the ability to resist. Then, Gina turned on the light.

It was none other than the prison officer who brought Lisa here today.

The prison officer was wearing a gas mask at that moment.

Gina stepped on the prison officer’s face. “What do you want?”

The prison officer shook his head and stammered, “...I’m just here to look at the situation in your prison!”

Of course, Gina did not believe him. "You're already wearing a gas mask. So, did you release the poisonous gas?"

"Why?" Gina pressed further. She guessed, 'The prison officer has probably been bribed to deal with her. Who could it be? Someone from the Lighthouse?"

Someone wanted to lay his hands on her and take her life. Then, he would make sure there was no evidence and make her a scapegoat. However, it would be wishful thinking to try to subdue her with such a little subterfuge.

"Who bribed you? Speak," Gina asked.

Of course, the prison officer couldn't say

At that moment, the other co-workers of the prison officer rushed over when they heard the commotion. When they saw the scene, they all thought that Gina had assaulted a police officer and was trying to escape from prison!

They immediately pointed their guns at Gina and said in Estain, "Don't move. Give up resisting!"

Gina did not panic. It was this foreign prison officer who wanted to harm her first. Of course, she would not be polite to him, but Gina still felt compassion for others.

She kindly reminded them, "Don't stay around here. Something will happen. Quickly cover your nose and leave. Take your colleague away, too. I need to stay somewhere else. You guys make the arrangements."

The other co-workers of the prison officer were puzzled. They did not understand why Gina said that. Gina suddenly remembered she had forgotten to get to the point. "There's toxic gas in this cell."

Although the toxic gas concentration was low, because the cell was narrow and the ventilation was not good, the gas would not dissipate without ventilation for a while.

No one believed Gina's words. It seemed Gina's skills were good, so they became more vigilant. They still aimed their guns at Gina, worried Gina would break out of prison.

But someone soon suddenly fell to the ground with limp legs and tainted. The others were stunned.

Gina reminded them again, "Hurry up and leave with your colleagues. Don't you understand now? I told you there's something wrong with the we in this room!

Then, everyone saw the prison officer who ran into Gina's cell was wearing a gas mask. They finally believed Gina's words. They began to leave with their men and put Gina in a slightly distant cell.

Gina immediately took in large mouthfuls of fresh air after she entered the new prison cell.

She had held her breath to the limit. Now that she had suddenly replenished her oxygen, her lungs were starting to hurt. Gina slowly recovered.

If she found out who bribed someone to tamper with the prison, she would not let them off.

Lisa came again after a while.

"My friend was almost killed. Besides, other than that ship, is there any evidence to prove that she was colluding with the Lighthouse? I'm asking you. Is it legal to keep people locked up without proof? I'm just taking my friend out a little early."

As Lisa spoke, she arrived at Gina's new prison cell.

Gina was a little surprised to see Lisa. "You're still up."

"I slept but heard something happened at the prison. I was worried about you, so I came straight here." Lisa was a little annoyed. "I told you that you're my friend. I won't let anyone have the chance to hurt you. But tonight..."

Gina sincerely said, "It's not your fault. Someone is playing dirty. I'm flattered that you're so worried about me."

"Gina, you are the only one who is worried about me. I know you're my good friend I acknowledge, but it's normal for me to be worried about you? Let's go. I'll take you away. You can stay at my place,"

The prison officers wanted to stop Lisa and Gina,

Lisa said, "Don't worry, I'm not trying to cover up for my friend. If she colluded with Lighthouse, I'll personally send her to prison. After all, I need to think about my national security. But I think my friend was framed, and someone wanted to kill her to silence her! She's also a victim now, and I think we need to find out who's trying to frame my friend first."

The prison officers felt what the princess said made sense

Lisa continued, "In a word, I will not allow my friend to remain in such a dangerous place. I will take her to my her away today. I will bear all the consequences."

away.

Hence, Lisa brought Gina back to her residence.

"Are you hungry?"

Lisa poured a glass of milk for Gina.

To tell the truth, the food in the prison was indeed poor. In addition, Gina was not used to the food in America. She did not eat much of the dinner sent over from the prison. After a night of torture, she was hungry.

"A little." Gina nodded.

"I'll get someone to make something to eat," Lida said.

"Can I have Shyranian food?" Gina asked.

*No problem," Lisa said with a smile.

After half an hour, the dishes were served one after another. Gina began to eat, Lisa hadn't had much Shyranian food and tasted it.

Lisa and Gina chatted as they ate. It was satisfying.

“You’re having the late-night snacks? How leisurely.” A discordant and slightly mocking voice sounded.

Lisa felt frustrated when she heard the voice. The source of the voice was none other than her brother, the future heir of the royal thily-Prince Alan.

Gina did not turn around and continued eating.

Alan sized up Gina’s back and was curious about Gina. Lisa did not get up and said casually, “Alan, I don’t think I invited you here.”

“Can’t I come if you don’t invite me? Besides, my dear sister, how can I not come in the middle of the night when you’ve come to the prison to cause trouble? What do you mean by forcibly bringing a suspect out of prison? Are you going to take the lead in disregarding the laws of our country?”

Lisa retorted, “Without evidence, my friend should be released by morning, Moreover, her life was in danger just now. Gina saved my life. What’s wrong with me repaying her?”

Alan was so angry that he laughed. “Even if there’s no evidence, she’s still a suspect in collusion with Lighthouse. You’re always protecting her. What will others think? Shouldn’t you cherish your reputation and care about the honor of our royal family?”

“Alan, you don’t have to remind me of that. Besides, I believe in Gina’s character. There’s no way she could have colluded with the Lighthouse,” Lisa said confidently.

Alan sneered. “I hope you can keep your word. If Gina is proven to be colluding with the Lighthouse, my dear sister, I will deal with you impartially. Then you’ll be the one harboring the criminal, and you’ll be the sinner of our country!”

Alan turned around and left with a gloomy expression after saying so. Ever since Lisa won the support of the public for punishing the Atkinson family for selling fake medicine, Alan could tell Lisa wanted to snatch the position of the heir from him.

Alan did not care. He was the heir

Just because she's ambitious? Well, wishful thinking, thought Alan.

Lisa rolled her eyes at Alan's back. "It's getting late. I'm a little sleepy. I'm going to hit the sack, Gina, see you tomorrow morning.

"Okay."

The next day.

Lisa and Gina had breakfast together.

"Gina, the prison officer who tried to poison you with gas refused to confess. He insisted he wanted to kill you because he didn't like you," Lisa told Gina.

The prison officer lied through his teeth. Although the poisonous gas he brought was not much, it was not a chemical he could readily come into contact with. It would be odd if no one instructed him.

Gina chewed slowly. "I have a way to make him tell the truth."

"Tell me," said Lisa.

Lisa felt it was feasible after listening to Gina's plan. "I'll arrange it."

The cell door where the prison officer was located was opened late at night.

He immediately woke up and saw a man in black had entered his prison by the moonlight coming in through the window. He immediately became vigilant. "Who are you?! What are you doing here? Don't get close, or I'll shout!"

The

man in black stepped forward and slapped the prison officer. "Shut up and be quiet. I'm here to rescue you."

The prison officer was dumbfounded and aggrieved. "Really?"

"Nonsense? The princess is determined to avenge her friend and must get something out of you. The princess won't let you off even if you are beaten to death and do not tell the truth. Do you understand?" said the man in black earnestly.

The prison officer was silent. He felt what the other party said made sense. "have no choice! Do I dare not do as I'm told? So? How do you plan to save me, Boss?"

"To help you

"Okay." The prison officer was unprepared.

Just as the prison officer got up and took two steps, the man in black suddenly restrained him from behind. He covered the guard's mouth with one hand to prevent him from shouting and grabbed the prison officer's neck with the other hand.

Before the man in black could exert any force, the prison officer was scared out of his wits. He asked in a muffled voice, "Wh... what do you want to do... Mmm..."

The man in black said, "I have no choice. Don't blame me. After all, I was paid to do this. The boss said only dead people can keep their mouths shut. If the princess wants to investigate, it's hard to guarantee you won't be able to resist one day."

"No, no!"

The man in black deliberately allowed the prison officer to bite his hand. He pretended to be in pain and let go. The prison officer angrily said, "Damn it, you want to kill me? I'm telling you that you won't succeed. Fill tell you the truth. If we die, we'll die together!"

The prison officer started shouting "Help, help!"

Soon, his former colleagues rushed over and subdued the man in black.

The prison officer told his former colleagues, "I was ordered by Mr. Ander!"

In the castle.

Lisa looked at the time and said, "Mr. Ander should be here soon."

Gina nodded. Gina was not surprised Ander was the one who bribed the prison officer

Ander was holding a grudge.

However, Ander did not dare to kill Gina. The poisonous gas would only paralyze Gina's limbs and make her lose the ability to resist. It was unknown how Ander would retaliate against Gina.

Ander walked in a minute later. He still looked awful. He stayed at the prison's in his house for a night last time, and he was too old to hold on. He was seriously ill and had just recovered not long ago. When he found out Gina was imprisoned, he wished he could go to prison and tear Gina into pieces. However, it was impossible. Ander had arranged for someone to harm Gina.

Unexpectedly, it still failed.

"Princess, why are you looking for me?" Ander said impatiently,

Lisa snorted. "Under the circumstances, Mr. Ander, do you have to pretend to be innocent? I will hold you accountable for bribing the prison officer to assassinate my friend."

"Princess Lisa, you're loyal," Ander sneered.

"So what are you going to do with me? Princess Lisa? Gina didn't get hurt, did she? The prison officer affected by the poisonous gas also said he accepted the compensation. After all, he was only unconscious for a short while and was fine. So , what are you going to do with me? Come on, lock me up in jail”

Ander acted like he didn't care.

In any case, his crime was not serious. He was not scared of anything

Gina smiled and said, “I don't need you to go to jail, Mr. Ander. I need you to stay at the prison of your home for a day and a night.”C

Ander's face was pale. Wasn't it equivalent to killing him? He angrily said, “I go to prison if you tell me so. Why should I listen to you? Don't think I'll listen to you just because you have the princess to help you!”

“No, I won't.” Gina calmly took a sip of water. “However, Mr. Ander, you should think about your son. Isn't Daniel getting married soon?”

“So? Do you want to ruin my son's wedding?! My son and his future wife are close. You can't ruin it just because you want to!” Ander said with a red face.

“I'm not trying to ruin it. It's just that I'm afraid the bride probably doesn't know Danyll has been injured, so there's one thing he can't do,” Gina said expressionlessly.

Ander widened his eyes in disbelief. At the same time, he was exasperated that Gina had revealed such a secret. “Shut up, shut up. No, how did you know?”

It was because Ander had arranged for someone to spend a lot of money to find Dr. Genevieve's whereabouts to treat his son's male problem...

It was hard for Gina not to know.

Gina would not have used that information to pressure Ander if he had not provoked her. However, Gina didn't think about what she could do to a scoundrel like Ander. By any means necessary. Search the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"You...you..." Ander was so angry that he could not speak

He did not want the matter to be exposed. He wasn't just worried about his son's marriage, but he was more concerned about his family's reputation. If the words got out about the matter, the entire Stuart family would probably become a laughingstock in everyone's eyes. Therefore, he could only compromise. Ander gritted his teeth and said, "Okay, I agree. You and the princess are not allowed to spread this matter!"

"I'm not that nosy," said Lisa, fighting back a laugh and trying to be serious.

Ander, just like last time, I will send someone to supervise you in completing this punishment. You must stay in the room for 24 hours.

"Oh, right. Out of consideration for your physical condition, I will arrange for a doctor to be by your side," Lisa said with a fake smile.

"Also, I'm warning you for the last time. Gina is my friend. If you dare to harm my friend again in the future, you and your family will pay the price!" Lisa said word by word. Every word was sincere.

Ander looked terrible. It was partly because he was about to spend a day and night in that damned prison and partly because Lisa was threatening him, and he couldn't fight back. Ander turned around and left with a cold expression.

Lisa was delighted to see Ander in such a sorry state. "Gina, I'm not only happy because I helped you punish Mr. Ander but also happy for myself."

"What do you mean?" Gina asked calmly.

"Mr. Ander is my brother's loyal follower. Daniel's passionate pursuit of me was Mr. Ander's idea. At that time, Mr. Ander mainly wanted Daniel to marry me and bind the Stuart family's relationship with the heir of the royal family. Therefore, I'm in a good mood now that I see him suffer, Lisa said honestly.

Gina smiled and did not say anything. She had become friends with Lisa because of benefits, but not so utilitarian. Hopefully, their friendship would last forever.

The servant suddenly rushed into Lisa's room and hesitated, "Princess...

Lisa put down the coffee cup. "What's wrong? You're in a hurry. What's the matter?"

The servant looked at Gina.

Gina thought it was because she was there, so the servant could not say anything. She immediately stood up and said, "I'm going out."

The servant shook her head. "No, Miss Miller. You don't have to leave."

Because what the servant was going to say was about Gina.

"Princess, Miss Miller, you didn't check your phones just now, did you? Please, you... you take a look..."

Lisa was confused and exchanged glances with Gina. She took out her phone when she saw Gina pick up her phone.

Gina saw the news on the pop-up window

"The leader of the Lighthouse, the terrorist organization, appears on the Internet for the first time. The live broadcast is too aggressive

However, the leader's live broadcast had ended. Gina looked at the recording on the Internet. The content of the live broadcast was the leader of the Lighthouse had shouted at the royal family of Mosnioca and asked them to release Gina, his partner. He had even posted a video of Gina and him meeting and working together. However, the video was short, less than 15 seconds. However, from the video, it could be seen Gina and the leader of the Lighthouse were chatting happily!

The leader said he would carry out a terrorist attack if they did not release Gina!

The live broadcast caused an uproar. Many citizens were agitated and demanded Gina should never be let off the hook. Gina was still calm after watching the video. However, Lisa was a little confused after watching it.

“Gina, have... have you ever met the leader of the Lighthouse, the damn villain?”

Gina looked up with a clear and firm gaze. “Never. This video is produced by AI”

She could tell at a glance, but it was clear that the other party was not using a crude AI. There must have been a hacker who had helped make this short video. Therefore, it looked real, but in front of her, the number one hacker, it naturally could not escape her eyes.

Lisa

Lisa took a deep breath, feeling uneasy.

Gina could understand her panic. After all, they had only known each other for a short time. Even if Lisa had hoped Gina could help her in the first place, Lisa was still a loyal friend.

Therefore, Gina was willing to explain a little more to Lisa. “Lisa, please trust me. I’m not lying to you. You’re my friend. I won’t lie to you. It doesn’t matter if you don’t trust me. Give me some time. I’ll prove my innocence and find the person who made me take the blame.”

Making her scapegoat was akin to kicking an iron plate.

Lisa took a deep breath and said, “Gina, my friend. I trust you unconditionally!!

Norwood

Norwood was on a secret call. “I watched the live broadcast. Buddy, your acting skills are amazing”

Colin

The person he was talking to was the leader of the Lighthouse.

“It’s a shame for the batch of arms you wanted to give me,” the leader said unhappily.

“It can’t be helped. I’ve been targeted. Don’t worry, I’ll send it to you when the limelight passes. Isn’t that enough? We’re all friends.” Colin smiled.

He was in a good mood now. Gina had fallen this time. His plan could be said to be perfect. Previously, he had sent a batch of arms to the Lighthouse, and the royal family had been holding on to it. Upon seeing they were about to find him, Colin learned of Gina Miller's whereabouts and cooperated with someone, throwing the blame on Gina.

"Alright. Let's have a pleasant cooperation. The leader laughed evilly. He did not expect Colin to ask him to help deal with a woman. Was the woman that difficult to deal with? The leader felt disdain inwardly. He even found it was demeaning to say Gina was his friend in the live broadcast

"Nice working with you," Colin said with a smile. Then, he hung up.

Elaine, who was listening to the phone, was in a good mood. She walked behind the sofa and held Colin's arm. "Colin, you're amazing. You killed two birds with one stone!"

Colin smiled nonchalantly. "Gina is no match for me after all. She can die overseas as she likes. As for the assets under her name, take them bit by bit. By the way," said Colin, looking at Elaine. "Don't you like Quaria? Quaria will be your company when the time comes,"

Elaine was ecstatic, as if she was about to become the chairman of Quaria. She said happily, "Thank you, Colin. This will be the best gift I will ever receive in my life. Love you!"

With that, Elaine massaged Colin solicitously.

Colin smiled and patted the back of Elaine's hand, "It's nothing. You're my only sister. Who should I be nice to if not you? You don't have to thank me."

Elaine nodded. "Okay... but the leader of the Lighthouse will not change his mind, will he? Colin."

Colin smiled helplessly. "My silly sister, do you want to hear what you said? Besides, what's in it for him to change his mind?"

Elaine agreed. "I was overthinking, indeed."

"Alright, don't overthink. Just wait to inherit Gina's jewelry company," said Colin.

“Good!”

Ibrahim had just woken up from his afternoon nap when he saw the news from the Mosniaca-Gina colluded with a terrorist organization. Now, the people in Mosnioca agitated and demanded to kill Gina directly. After all, Gina colluded with a terrorist organization and was no different from a terrorist.

Ibrahim laughed when he saw the news. He had teamed up with Colin this time and finally caused Gina to suffer a setback. The leader of the Lighthouse could not possibly betray them. Gina would be doomed. Gabriel could not save Gina this time, could he?

Gabriel did not have any connections with the royal family of Mosnioca. Ibrahim could not be happier this morning.

He called Harry.

“Mr. Jackson, did you watch the news?” Ibrahim asked. After all, he was the one who planned this. He was in a hurry to claim credit because he wanted Harry to know that he was not just doing nothing.

“Yes, I did,” said Harry. He was also awake and having breakfast. “Well done, but Gina should have died a long time ago. If she had, there wouldn’t be so many things that followed.”

“Mr. Jackson, you are right.” Ibrahim had nothing else to say.

If he could have killed Gina sooner, wouldn’t he have? Wasn’t that because Gina was not that easy to deal with? This time, he had joined forces with Colin, and both sides were pushing forward.

When Gina died, Gabriel loved Gina so much that he must have been devastated. He might not be able to recover from it.

At that time, wouldn’t it be easy for Harry to replace him?

Ibrahim let out a long sigh. He could finally help Harry complete the mission after such a long time. By the time Harry got what he wanted, he should be able to stop being so busy.

Ibrahim stretched. When he first met Gina, he did not know she was so troublesome and hard to deal with.

However, they still won in the end.

Chapter 465

In the prison of Ander's house, Mosnioca.

Half of Ander's body was submerged in the water. His face was pale, and he had a high fever and was coughing non-stop. However, the doctor guarding him aside had given Ander an IV drip. Daniel was devastated to see his father suffer. He said to the subordinate sent by the princess to supervise, "My Father is not feeling well now. Can you be lenient? I give you as much money as you want. As for the princess, she won't know we didn't strictly execute it as long as you don't say anything, right? My father can't hold on anymore. He's old and can't take it! Why don't I help my father complete this punishment!"

The subordinate said expressionlessly, "I'm sorry, Mr. Daniel. I can't promise you that. This is the punishment that Mr. Ander deserves. Mr. Ander wouldn't have been punished if he had not framed Miss Miller, I can only say he deserves it."

Daniel was furious. "I don't want to hear any of your bullshit now. If the one locked here was your father, would you still be in the mood to tell me this?"

The subordinate was still calm. "I'm sorry, Mr. Daniel. Apparently, it's not my father who is being punished now. Of course, I can't understand how you feel Daniel was so angry that he wanted to hit the subordinate. "Don't you ever say that to me again!" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The servant hurriedly went forward to stop Daniel "Calm down, Mr. Daniel

The princess's subordinate was not someone who could be beaten up casually. Then, the servant took out his phone and showed it to Daniel. "Mr. Daniel look. Gina has suffered retribution now!"

Daniel looked at the phone and saw Gina was being judged live. He laughed and hurriedly handed the phone to his father. "Father, look, Gina is doomed. The b**h. I knew it wouldn't end well for her!"

Although Daniel had fallen in love with Gina at first sight, he only had deep disgust and hatred for Gina now. His father almost died because of Gina.

Ander smiled when he watched the live broadcast. "My son, I want to watch the live broadcast. I want to see how Gina died!"

Many people gathered at the entrance of the castle and demanded to shoot Gina

Meanwhile, the trial of Gina was being broadcast live from the castle's inner hall.

As the heir of the royal family, Alan planned to judge Gina. After all, Lisa was still desperately defending Gina, the criminal, last night.

Now, Lisa was standing aside with an ugly expression. Alan sneered smugly and even wanted to grock her. “My dear sister, why are you so stu p i d? Didn’t I remind you that Gina is a criminal? But you still insisted on defending your so-called friend. Now, there are enough witnesses and evidence. Your friend is colluding with the Lighthouse. What else do you have to say now? I’ve said it before. You’re covering up for this most evil criminal. I won’t let you off even if you’re my sister! You will be punished by the law, too!”

Alan spoke righteously. The nobles who came to attend the trial cheered for Alan.

“Prince Alan is the hope of our country to enforce the law impartially!”

“Prince Alan is what everyone wants. Some people even dream of competing with Prince Alan to seize power. They’re dreaming”

As that person spoke, he gave Lisa a meaningful look.

Chapter 466

Chapter 466

Lisa’s expression was awful. She wanted to retort and tell everyone loudly that she trusted Gina, her friend. She trusted her judgment more. With Gina’s character, there was no way Gina would collude with the Lighthouse. However, no one would believe her if she defended Gina now. She would even... make her situation even more difficult.

Alan told Gina, “Gina Miller, are you still unwilling to admit you colluded with the Lighthouse? However, it doesn’t matter if you admit it or not now. The evidence is sufficient. I think your country will not tolerate criminals like you if they know you have done such a thing to endanger international security. Are you ready to accept your death?”

“The witnesses and evidence are all fabricated. I’m not guilty,” Gina said calmly.

“You’re still quibbling at this point. What’s the point? The leader of the Lighthouse has stated that you’re partners and even threatened to rescue you. Don’t tell me you believe that he’ll rescue you. You’ve been abandoned. Don’t you understand?” Alan questioned.

Gina retorted, "The leader of the Lighthouse is framing me. The video of me meeting him was just an AI synthesis. Moreover, he said that I provided her with arms. I've never come into contact with the arms business. Where did my arms come from? Moreover, those arms are all models of your country. How did I get the arms in your arsenal?" Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Alan said disdainfully, "With your financial resources, it shouldn't be difficult for you to get some arms, right? How did you manage to get our country's arms? It's because... you have an insider."

Alan sneered and stared at Lisa

Then, everyone's gaze landed on Lisa. Their questioning gazes were interrogating Lisa, although they said nothing.

Lisa was angry. She would not admit to something she had not done. "I didn't do it! I hate those terrorist organizations as much as anyone. I would never do such a crazy Thing!"

"My sister, I can't protect you. Do you think it's impossible just because you say so? After the trial of Gina, I will continue to judge you." Alan's expression was solemn as if he was ready to put righteousness before family at any time. However, his eyes could not hide the smugness in them.

If his sister had just been a pretty face and gotten married obediently without doing anything s p i and wanted to s t c h the position of the heir of the royal family from him, he would not have been so determined.

Gina said calmly, "Alan, this has nothing to do with Princess Lisa. Don't even think about using me to drag her down. Impossible."

"What nonsense are you talking about? What do you mean by I want to drag her down with you? She made a mistake!" said Alan unpleasantly.

"Alright, Gina, let's get back to the topic. Don't try to change the topic and quibble anymore. You said the video was created by AI, but we've asked an appraiser to verify it. It's not produced by AI at all. Do you still want to use such a lousy excuse to quibble?"

"Your people can't tell if it's created by the AI because your people aren't skilled enough," Gina said coldly and firmly.

Alan frowned. "You're arrogant. The appraisers are all top-notch AI talents in our country. What right do you have to judge them for not being skilled enough?"

"It's just not enough. Because this AI video was produced by a hacker on the international hacker ranking. Your technicians can't match the skills of the hackers on the hacker ranking, so they can't see any flaws," Gina said truthfully.

"What are you looking down on? You said our technicians can't see through the flaws. Does it mean that you want the hackers on the rankings to verify the authenticity of this video? Alright. I accept the justice of the trial process and also want you to die knowing. Then how about I contact Hacker Jimno, the number one hacker on the international hackerranking, to verify the video now?"

"Sure," said Gina.

Alan immediately instructed someone to edtrust Hacker Jimna, the number one hacker, on the anonymous website with the high price. Unexpectedly, they received a reply quickly and even gave them a contact number.

Chapter 466

Alan dialed the number without hesitation. Then, Gina's phone rang in front of everyone.

Gina took out her phone and showed it to Alan.

Alan was stunned when he saw that the caller ID was his number,

The people around him also realized something.

It turned out that Hacker Jimno, the number one hacker on the international hacker ranking, was Gina.

Everyone's eyes were filled with disbelief.

They started whispering,

"She's the number one hacker. How... how is it possible?"

"But the information provided by the anonymous website can't be false!

Alan was stunned for a long time. Then, he hung up and said to Gina, "So you're the number one hacker. Then I can't let you appraise it. You'll cover up for yourself. I think that's your intention. Do you think I'm s t u p i d enough to let you appraise my evidence just because you're the number one hacker?"

"I never asked you to invite the number one hacker on the hacker ranking to appraise it. Gina said with a sneer,

“You said yourself that you wanted to invite the number one hacker. However, your technician’s skills are not good enough, but the hackers’ skills on the international hacker ranking should be enough. It’s feasible no matter who you invite to appraise it.”

Alan’s expression was ugly. He decided to settle for second best and invite Hacker Atimy, the second hacker, to appraise it.

Hacker Atimy happened to be in Mosnioca, so he quickly rushed over. He wasn’t as mysterious as Gina. No one knew his true identity before he admitted it himself. He usually had a lot of commissions, but he was still way behind Gina at the technical level. He had always been curious about the true identity of the number one hacker. He rushed over without hesitation when he heard he could meet the number one hacker for this task.

Hacker Atimy was surprised as he walked into the castle hall and saw Gina. “I didn’t expect my opponent I’ve been unable to surpass to be a woman

Gina said coldly, “Why? Can’t a woman be better than you?”

Hacker Atimy smiled and said, “I’m sorry. I was a little biased. But you’re indeed an outstanding woman.”

Alan interrupted their conversation. “Mr. Atimy, it is not the time for you to chat. I need you to verify if a video was produced by AI. Get to work as soon as possible. Our time is precious, and we don’t want to waste it.”

Hacker Atimy stretched. “Okay, please give me a notebook.”

After the notebook was prepared, Hacker Atimy began to concentrate on the operation.

Chapter 467

Chapter 467

Hacker Atimy concluded after analyzing the data.

“This video is still synthesized through AI,” said Hacker Alimy.

Everyone was shocked and discussed.

“How... how is it possible? How do we explain the arms?”

“Does the leader of the Lighthouse have a grudge against Gina? Is that why he’s slandering her?”

“It doesn’t make sense. Shouldn’t she have been dead

ow if she had a grudge against the Lighthouse? Why is she still standing here?”

Someone even questioned, “Mr. Atimy, you didn’t just say that to save Gina’s life because you’re Gina’s friend, did you? Then I still hope you have a conscience. It would have been a serious problem for international security if she had colluded with the bad guys. Do you think you could stand away out of trouble when the bad guys’ power increases daily? Don’t be silly!”

Hacker Atimy sneered in disdain and retorted, “What are you guessing? This is the first time I met Gina today. I only found out that the woman is Hacker Jimno. I don’t have to put in a good word for her. She didn’t give me any money.”

He looked at Gina. “But frankly, I hate this woman because she’s allways at the top of the hacker ranking. No matter how hard I try, I can’t surpass her. It’s frustrating.”

After Hacker Atimy cleared Gina’s name, Lisa suddenly gained confidence. She looked at Alan with a faint smile. “Alan, you should have heard it. This video was produced by AI. Do you still think your judgment is correct and I’m protecting my friend?”

Alan looked terrible. At first, he did not believe Gina’s words, so he asked Hacker Atimy to verify it. He felt he could humiliate his sister ruthlessly, but he did not expect it to humiliate him.

The trial, broadcast live across the globe, was not just a trial of Gina Miller, the suspect, but also a power struggle between Alan and Lisa.

The whole world could watch it.

Now that Alan n was at a disadvantage, he felt embarrassed, and his face became gloomy.”

In a villa on a nameless island in the Pacific Ocean, the leader of Lighthouse was also watching the trial. At first, he was watching it with relish. After all, he could turn the royal family of Mosnioca upside down in just over ten seconds. It made him feel so happy.

However, something went wrong in the middle of the trial. He had hired a famous hacker on the ranking to help him produce this video to prevent others from discovering flaws. However, no matter how much he thought about it, he did not expect Gina to be the number one hacker on the hacker ranking.

The leader immediately felt upset. He felt frustrated that he had lost to a woman. It had even hurt his self-esteem.

The leader was so displeased that he crushed the glass in his hand. Ignoring the glass fragments plunged into his hand, he reassured himself, "So what if Gina proves AI produced the video? I have said on live that Gina is my friend in front of the entire world. The sentence is enough to defeat the woman!

'As long as it was said, not only the royal family of Mosnioca but also the people will not let Gina off easily! I do not believe that Gina can escape unscathed with my words and the arms on the ship. Actually, Gina does have a way to escape unscathed, which is I come out personally to clarify I have nothing to do with Gina.'

Thinking of that, the leader could not help but laugh. How could he clarify things for Gina?

The leader was about to calm down and continue watching the live broadcast when his phone suddenly rang. He glanced at the caller ID and saw it was an encrypted call. It only showed the number one.

The number meant that his daughter, studying in another country, was calling him. He had protected his daughter well. Other than his trusted aides, no one knew who his daughter was. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Hence, the leader picked up the call and said, "Hello? What's the matter, my daughter? It should be dark over there at this hour. Why aren't you still up? Why did you think of calling me? Do you miss me? I've been a little busy recently. I'll come to your place to see you when I'm free, akby?"

However, it was not his daughter's voice on the other end of the phone but an unfamiliar man's.

The man told the leader in Estain, "Your daughter is in any hands now. I will kill her if you don't start a live broadcast to clarify things with Gina immediately."

The man's voice sounded a little tired, and he was panting. It was unknown what kind of struggle he had gone through to get a moment to catch his breath before making this call.

The leader was stunned. He did not believe what the man said. He sneered and said, "Do I have to believe you when you say you're holding my daughter hostage? I sent so many bodyguards and confidants to protect my daughter. You think you can get close to my daughter?"

The man said disdainfully, "You don't believe it, do you? Then, I'll let you hear your daughter's voice!"

On the other end of the phone, Gabriel tore open the cloth covering the mouth of Ellen, the leader's daughter.

Ellen's eyes widened in fear as she said to her father on the other end of the phone, "Dad, save me. I have met a kidnapper. He's so scary and powerful. He's gotten rid of the people who protected me. I don't know where he brought me now. I'm so scared. Come to save me quickly!"

It was indeed the voice of Ellen, his daughter.

The leader immediately panicked.

Meanwhile, he was furious. He could not believe someone could get close to Ellen under layers of protection. What went wrong?

"I'm warning you, don't even think about harming my daughter. I can agree to your requests, but if I find out that you've hurt my daughter, I'll do my best to hunt you down even if you run to the ends of the earth. Do you understand? You son of a b**h.

"And who the hell is Gina to you? Why are you risking your life for her?" said the leader angrily. Anyone who offended him would not end well!

When he found out who had dared to kidnap his daughter, he would tear him into pieces and throw him into the sea to feed the sharks!

"Do you think I need to answer your questions? Start the live broadcast immediately. My patience is limited. I'll cut your daughter's neck if you're a minute late. What do you think?" Gabriel asked coldly. He silently took a deep breath and endured the various injuries he suffered during the kidnapping of Ellen.

“No, Daddy. I’m scared! Help!” Ellen cried in fear,

The leader gritted his teeth. “Alright, I’ll start broadcasting instantly, but don’t you hang up the phone. I want to listen to my daughter’s voice at all times!”

He was worried that something would happen to his daughter.

Then, the leader immediately turned on his phone and started a live broadcast on Mosnioca’s social media platform.

O

In the hall of Mosnioca’s royal castle.

The live trial of Gina was still ongoing.

There were many different opinions, but almost no one spoke up for Gina other than Lisa.

Even though it had been confirmed that the video of the so called Gina meeting with the leader of the Lighthouse to discuss arms cooperation was synthesized by AI Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

The nobles next to Mosioca still felt that Gina might have an unspeakable relationship with the leader of the Lighthouse.

After all, this was the first time the leader of the Lighthouse had made a public announcement on the internet that Gina was his friend, but this was the first time the leader of the villain organization made such a loyalty move.

It was too unconvincing to say Gina had nothing to do with the leader of the Lighthouse.

Amidst the endless debate, someone said, “The leader of the Lighthouse is on live broadcast again!”

Everyone's attention instantly shifted to the live broadcast of the leader of the Lighthouse

They wanted to know what the leader of the Lighthouse would say in his second live broadcast.

The leader of the Lighthouse said in the live broadcast, "I was lying when I said that Gina was my friend last time on air. I was just being paid to do such a thing. Someone else provided me with the arms. However, don't even think about knowing who he is. I won't betray him. My partner was in charge of tricking Gina to the port, and I was responsible for arranging the arms on the ship that set the trap to get Gina on board. My partner said he hated Gina for too long and hoped to use my power to get rid of Gina, so we worked together to plot this scheme.

"The so-called meeting and cooperation video was also produced by AL I hired a famous hacker on the hacker ranking to make the video. Ordinary people won't be able to find any flaws! That's all I want to say. Then, the leader of the Lighthouse immediately hung up.

The hall fell into silence.

Lisa was the first to speak. She questioned Alan, "My respected brother, how is it? Can this prove my friend is innocent now? Please end it. She is not a sinner and should not be judged."

"What if the leader of the Lighthouse's live broadcast is just to confuse the public? Or should I say that he... he was threatened by someone, so he came out to fake his testimony to help Gina?" Alan said stubbornly.

Alan didn't even find his words credible after he said so.

Then Lisa laughed and sarcastically said, "Alan do you want to hear what you're saying?"

"I think you know well how powerful and cunning the leader of a terrorist organization is. You said he was being threatened. Is that even possible?"

"If he can be threatened so easily, wouldn't we have long eliminated his faction and wiped out their entire organization?"

Chapter 458

Many people nodded silently. They felt what Princess Lisa said made sense. Who could threaten the leader of the Lighthouse? It was so unrealistic

However, they did not know why the leader of the Lighthouse suddenly started a live broadcast to help Gina.

However, they were not interested in guessing a p e r v e r t ' m e t l t y. Perhaps he just felt it was fun to fool people?

Although Alan was unwilling, he could not blame Gina for being Lisa's friend in front of everyone.

He felt a dryness in his throat and did not want to speak. "Since the truth is out now, Miss Miller, your trial is over. Congratulations on regaining your freedom."

Gina was expressionless as she said, "I'm innocent. Prince Alan, you owe me an apology for putting me on trial without any explanation."

Alan's expression changed. He thought, "Gina, who do you think you are? You wanted me, a royal noble, to apologize to you? Are you worthy of it?"

"Why? Are you unhappy?" Gina asked sharply.

Lisa said, "Alan, there's an old saying in Shyran that it's never too late to learn from one's mistakes. Haven't you always said that you love Shyran's culture? Then you should have heard of this old saying, right?"

"Furthermore, Gina is a Shyranian. You've publicly wronged her and live broadcasted her trial in front of the entire world. You even almost agreed to the requests of the nobles to shoot her. Shouldn't you apologize to her? Are you trying to destroy the friendly relationship between our country and Shyran? Alan, you shouldn't be so disregarding the overall situation as the heir of the royal family, the face of our country, right?"

Lisa's words raised this matter to a whole new level.

Alan was unwilling to apologize to Gina, whom he regarded as a lowly merchant. Despite Gina's multiple identities, he thought his royal bloodline was the highest in the world. However, so many eyes were staring at him in the hall.

He still disdained Gina's identity and

He would appear childish if he did not apologize to Gina in a fit of pique. Lisa was already trying to win over people to support her.

Lisa was competing with him for the position of the heir of the royal family. If his performance lost popularity during this period, his position as the heir was likely to be compromised.

To stabilize his position as the heir, Alan lowered his arrogant head and said to Gina, "I'm sorry, Miss Miller. I wasn't calm enough and was too excited before. Because the Lighthouse has done so many terrible things, we must hate anyone who is involved with bad guys.

"I was biased for a moment and didn't have the patience to listen to your explanation. Fortunately, your wisdom and calmness proved your innocence. I hope we can bury the hatchet after this misunderstanding is resolved. You're my sister's friend, which means you're my friend."

Alan said with a fake smile. He even said Gina would be his friend. He praised her so much and hoped the woman would not be ungrateful

Lisa rolled her eyes silently. Why was Alan pretending to be close to her in front of others?

Gina was not her friend! Alan, her c c k y, narcissistic brother, was not worthy of being friends with a girl like Gina, who was both clever and beautiful.

Gina looked up coldly at Alan and said, "Prince Alan, we will never be friends."

Lisa was in a good mood when she heard Gina's words. She knew Gina wanted to draw a clear line with Alan and stand on the same side as hers. She believed that her judgment would not be wrong. Gina was a good friend to have Alan's expression stiffened. He thought, 'Does the woman mean she has to cause trouble with my restless sister? Alright. I want to what these two ignorant women can do!'

Gina continued, "Can the trial end since my innocence has been proven? I still have something on and don't want to waste time."

"Yes. I declare the trial is over," Alan said coldly.

He turned around and left. The nobles in the hall also left one after another. After Hacker Atimy received the commission fee, he walked to Gina. "So your real name is Gina Miller. It's not a good thing to expose your real name."

“It can’t be helped,” Gina replied indifferently.

Hacker Atimy shrugged. “Do you know why I gave myself the code name Alimy?”

Gina shook her head. She was not interested in his code name.

Hacker Atimy explained, “Because A represents the first place, much higher than J

Ever since he had been second for a long time on the ranking, he had changed his code name to Atimy.

Gina was slightly surprised and smiled. “You’re humorous

“Do you think I’m joking? I’m serious. I’m confident I’ll surpass you one day. Be careful. You won’t be able to keep your ranking. You’ll be number two.”

Gina chuckled. “Alright, I’ll be careful.”

Hacker Atimy raised his eyebrows. He left in satisfaction after getting the attention of his opponent.

Lisa walked to Gina. “My friend, you have been wronged.”

Gina denied it and said, “You’ve always chosen to believe me unconditionally. I’m not aggrieved. Thank you, Lisa. From now on, you can always ask me if you need my help.”

Thank

you * Lisa was delighted.

Gina was a friend Lisa had made with her heart, and Gina had also given Lisa her heart. What a beautiful two-way love.

“By the way, Gina, you asked me to look for someone called Keith on the ship. I’ve investigated. He doesn’t seem to be on the ship.” Lisa told Gina the results.

Gina frowned. Keith was in danger because that ship had entered the waters of another country. It was not easy to track it. Besides, it was difficult to locate it at sea, and she had lost it for some time. What happened during this period was unknown. This time, she had indeed misjudged and fallen into a trap.

She was eager to save people and underestimated her opponent.

“Okay, I see.”

“Lisa...

Gina paused. “Lisa...”

“Ginal” Someone called out to her from behind.

Gina turned around and saw Daniel

In the end, Gina proved her innocence and was released.

His father fainted from anger when he saw the results of the live broadcast and had a high fever. Under such circumstances, his father could not stay n prison anymore. However, the princess’s subordinates kept staring at him and refused to give in. He had no choice but to look for Gina.

There was hatred in Daniel’s eyes, but the words that came out of his mouth were begging, “Gina, I’m begging you. My father really can’t stay in prison.

Daniel knelt before Gina without another word. SEARCH the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Lisa sneered. “I can only say that you can’t have the intention to harm others. Gina wouldn’t have done anything to your father if your father hadn’t hammed Gina. Doesn’t he know that at his age? Does he still need others to educate him?”

Daniel was speechless again. He was angry but did not dare to say anything. He was so excited that tears streamed down his face. “But my father can’t take it anymore. My father didn’t take your life even if he harmed you, did he?”

Gina did not want Ander dead. Moreover, she thought of something that Ander could help her with

Hence, Gina said, "I can let him out, but you have to promise me you'll do something for me?"

When Daniel saw Gina had relented, he immediately heaved a sigh of relief and said, "You can ask anything you want. Tell me quickly! No! Let my father come out of prison first!"

Gina gestured to Lisa.

Since it was Gina's decision, Lisa agreed to let someone take Ander out of prison.

Daniel immediately called home. The princess's subordinates left immediately after hearing the princess's instructions. Daniel could not help but cry after confirming his father was taken out of prison by the s e r v n t s .

'It can't be that the leader of the Lighthouse fell in love with Gina at first sight and can't bear to see her die? It shouldn't be, should it?"

Ibrahim was at a loss. He did not know what else he could do to deal with Gina:

Ibrahim could not help but call Colin. "ME Barnes, I don't understand why the leader of the Lighthouse changed his mind. Can you help me answer my questions?”

Colin was irritable on the other end of the line. “You’re asking me? I also want to know the answers. He took so many things from me but came out to clarify things for Gina. I even want to kill him. Are you calling to question me now?”

Ibrahim quickly admitted defeat. “Mr. Barnes, don’t be angry. You’ve misunderstood. I didn’t mean that.”

“You

don’t mean that? Then, get lost. Don’t fucking bother me.” Colin hung up the phone. He was also frustrated.

Colin had tried to contact the leader of the Lighthouse to find out what was going on, but he could not contact him at all. Furthermore, the arms he had given away were for nothing. He was furious. Ibrahim had hit a brick wall.

Ibrahim listened to the dial tone on the phone.

He took a deep breath and closed his eyes. He looked back on his life as something of a loser.

He was ordered around by Harry.

Now, he was being shouted at by Colin, a young man in his twenties. The more he thought about it, the angrier he became

He still felt frustrated, so he swept all the sundries on the coffee table to the ground, shattering the glass.

On the other side, Colin had just hung up when another call came in. He did not even look at the caller ID. He thought Ibrahim, the lunatic, was calling to annoy him again. The moment he picked up the call, he scolded, "Are you fucking having a death wish? If you dare to call me again, I let you die on the

"What did you say? Who are you going to kill on the streets?" Ander's weak voice sounded

Colin's expression immediately changed when he heard Ander's voice. He said politely, "I'm sorry, Mr. Ander. I thought the lunatic who called me just now had called back. I'm sorry. I was still sleeping and was a little confused. Please forgive me for my rudeness just now."

Ander had just left prison for a few hours. Although his fever had subsided, he felt that his old bones were about to burst from soaking in the water for a long time.

He was still weak

In the end, Gina still needed their family's help.

Ander wanted to kill someone, but if he did not help Gina now, he would have to stay in prison for 24 hours. Wouldn't that kill him?

He had no choice but to agree.

"I don't want to disturb you at this late hour. To make a long story short, I heard that a medical team in Norwood has developed an all-in-one medical examination machine, which is said to be able to detect all the problems in one's body just by taking a tube of one's blood. Colin was curious. "Mr. Ander, when did you become interested in medical treatment? However, I'm afraid their machines are not as fantastic as they claim. It's only a little famous in a small area now

Chapter 470

He could never tell the truth for the sake of his reputation

In addition, he was not feeling well now, so he could not be bothered to talk nonsense. “I only have one question for you. Can you get me one of the machines? if you say you can’t do it, I’ll hang up. I can find someone else to help me!”

Colin did not want to anger Ander. “Mr. Ander, please don’t be upset. It’s just a machine. How can I not be able to complete such a small matter? I just thought you wanted to invest in it. Leave the matter to me since it’s not an investment. I promise that I will complete this matter tonerrow.”

“But why do you sound so weak, Mr. Ander? Are you feeling unwell? You must take care of yourself and have more rest,” said Colin

He treated Ander with flattery because the Stuart family had given the Barnes family a lot of help before it made its fortune. That was why the Barnes family had opened the largest casino overseas.

Besides, a private army owned by the Barnes family had all the weapons and supplies that Ander had found a way to provide them, so Colin had to show great respect to Ander.

However, Colin did not expect his question would hit Ander’s sore spot.

Not only did Ander not accept his kindness, but he snorted and said, “You don’t have to worry about that. Do your job well!”

Then, Ander hung up.

Colin was stunned. Was it wrong for him to show concern

He could not understand why the leader of Lighthouse and Ander

Colin was speechless. Then, he called Ibrahim ching so weird today. What was wrong with these two?

Ibrahim was surprised. Colin told him to fuck off but then took the initiative to call him. Although he was angry, he could not reject Colin's call.

After picking up the call, Ibrahim even asked politely."

What are you looking for

"Yeah, I need an all in one medical e xamination machine

"Huh?"

Ibrahim didn't understand, but he felt that it was impressive.

"Are you deaf, or can't you understand human language?"

Colin's temper flared up immediately. He seriously suspected that Colin did it on purpose. Was Ibrahim pretending to be a fool here?

Although the project was under Ethan, wasn't Ibrahim the lead developer?

Ibrahim swallowed his anger and said, "Mr. Barnes, it's not that I don't want to agree to your request, but if you want this machine, it's not up to me alone. I have to ask Mr. Jackson first

"Furthermore, the technology for the all-in-one medical examination machine is currently confidential. Would it be more suitable for you to buy it later when we start mass production?" Ibrahim wanted to reject tactfully, but Colin did not give him a chance.

Ibrahim, listen carefully. I'm not interested in the technology of your bullshit machine, but I need one right now. All you have to do is send the machine to my house first thing in the morning if you can't do that, you should know the consequences will be dire

"By the way, don't pretend as if you need to ask Mr. Jackson. Do you really think Ethan is your boss? Don't tell me you're suppressed by Ethan, the loser. I'm going to laugh your ass off" helpless. “Mr. Barnes, it’s not that I can’t give you the machine, but I want to know what you want it for. You got to tell me a reason, right?”
