Chapter 56: Tops the list of popular searches.

She lowered her head, Mariana was sad.

Leopoldo looked at Mariana, then ordered Lionel:

-Find a hacker to hack that account and send a clarification.

-Yes.

Hearing these words, Mariana looked at the man behind her, who was also looking at her. They looked at each other, but said nothing.

Mariana opened her mouth slightly, wanting to say something, but at that moment the man had already turned around and left.

The man was about to leave, but he didn't hear the woman following him, so he turned and asked:

-You're not leaving yet?

Mariana's eyes suddenly lit up and she ran happily to Leopoldo's side. They left the bar.

The cold night breeze made Mariana shiver.

The next moment, Leopoldo put his cigar-scented jacket over Mariana's body, wrapping it tightly around her.

Mariana's heart trembled and her face suddenly turned red.

The two walked together in the silent night.

-Although it was because of the agreement that you helped me, I got the benefit in the end, so thank you.

Mariana's voice was slightly hoarse. When it reached Leopoldo's ears, his heart trembled.

-But next time, if it's still about the agreement, you won't have to help me.

After a pause, he lightly bit the corner of his lips and she continued:

-I can mind my own business.

If it was about the deal, I didn't want his help.

The man next to her kept walking and did not respond to Mariana, which made her feel a little uncomfortable.

She knew that what she said was annoying, as if she was a person who didn't know how to be grateful. But he really didn't like this kind of help, it made him feel that she was inferior and had a gap between them.

And yet, he could not say what he really thought.

In silence, they walked to the car and got in. They did not speak the whole way.

Mariana stepped onto the wooden floor and caused a noise. After glancing at the man in the living room, Mariana turned around and went upstairs.

It seemed that they were always silent.

Just as she climbed a step, Leopoldo's cold voice appeared behind her,

-I remember what you told me.

After being frozen for a while, Mariana nodded her head softly and went upstairs.

In the middle of the night, Mariana could not sleep and opened her eyes. Seeing the darkness, she felt annoyed. She had been tossing and turning in bed for a long time. She was thinking about Leopoldo's actions and words.

She stood up immediately and grabbed her hair in anguish. He didn't know what was wrong with him. Many thoughts ran through his mind, but he dared not dwell on them.

At that moment, she felt hungry.

Mariana realized that she had not eaten since she and Xavier had separated, that is, she had not eaten for twelve hours.

Attributing her irritation to hunger, Mariana put on her slippers and went to the kitchen.

There were plenty of ingredients in the fridge and, after searching for quite a while, she found a bag of noodles and a few eggs. After cooking, Mariana took a bowl of noodles to the dining table and had just pulled out a chair to sit on when she heard footsteps.

Mariana looked up and saw Leopoldo coming down the stairs. He was wearing a gray suit and one of his hands was in his pocket. He walked over to the fridge, opened it and took out a bottle of water, then looked at her.

For a moment, Mariana felt a little embarrassed, holding the bowl of noodles in her hand, she lowered her head and said:

-I was hungry.

After a while, he raised his head and looked at Leopoldo, who was still standing in front of the refrigerator after drinking water, and asked him politely:

-Do you want something?

-Yes.

Mariana was very surprised, she looked at Leopoldo dumbfounded. She just wanted to relieve the embarrassment and did not expect him to accept.

After a pause, Mariana got up and headed for the kitchen:

-Then wait a while, I'll prepare it, it will be ready soon.

A few minutes later, he brought Leopoldo a bowl of noodles that provoked an appetite. There was a fried egg in the noodles and some green vegetables, which looked delicious.

Leopoldo remembered the noodles he had with Mariana last time, which were similar to this. He began to eat and was very peaceful at this point.

The food was tasty.

Leopoldo looked at Mariana, who was eating the noodles quickly, but without looking indecent.

-Do you cook a lot? -Leopoldo asked.

Mariana looked at Leopoldo and said yes. Then she lowered her head again, thought of something and added:

-I only know how to cook a few simple meals, I haven't cooked after I married you.

Leopoldo asked no more questions, just lowered his head and ate the noodles.

Mariana smiled, feeling relieved.

The two finished eating in silence, then returned to their rooms.

The next day, Empress Santa again topped the list of popular searches.

This film, which had only recently started shooting, was already on the popular search list continuously, making a lot of people talk about it. She had such a great heat that many people in the circle were jealous.

Mariana had just taken out her cell phone, then it rang, it was Ana's call.

Mariana smiled and picked up the phone. Before she could say anything, Ana's excited voice came from the other end of the phone:

-Mariana, you know? Mariana's Diary made a statement today that she is not Mariana. And she did such a thing just because she was jealous of you.

Hearing Ana's words, Mariana remembered Leopoldo's words from the night before, and was moved.

-Mari, how amazing that you found that person so quickly and resolved the issue.

Mariana laughed and spoke in a light tone:

-You are exaggerating.

-No, Mari, in my opinion, you are the best. You don't know how beautiful that newly designed suit of yours is, and even the director praised it many times.

Then Ana said dejectedly:

-Since the problem has been solved, you should get back to work, shouldn't you? I'm really not capable of being the head of the wardrobe team, Mari, stir it up as soon as possible.

Chapter 57: It really was her

Mariana gently shook her head, feeling a little helpless for a moment.

-Anita, I didn't want to tell you, but now I can't hide it anymore, when I went to the set last time, the head of the wardrobe group resigned, so I can't come to help you.

At that, Mariana felt even sadder and more helpless.

-Mari...

Before Ana could say anything, Mariana interrupted and continued:

-I think you are capable of leading the wardrobe group. I trust you and look forward to seeing you in the company.

After hanging up the phone, Mariana sat on the bed, looking at the sunlight coming through the window, and a smile reappeared on her face.

At that moment, the phone rang again.

It was the director's call, Mariana felt puzzled.

After a pause, he finally answered.

-Mariana, you have completed the matter very well, now the negative news has also disappeared, the matter has been solved, so you'd better keep coming to work on the set tomorrow.

Mariana was surprised, while the director continued:

-The new costume you designed last time was very good, you also treated the team's work diligently before, and Anna also sought me out many times and told me that you were important to the costume team.

The director's words were full of emotion and some consolation. They reached Mariana's ears and moved her.

-Director, what happened last time...

Mariana's words were interrupted.

-It has been resolved, we have to look forward, don't we?

Shocked, Mariana lowered her head and had some complicated feelings in her mind,

-Thank you, director. Tomorrow I'm going to the set to work.

There was excitement and joy in his words. It was like finding a way out of a desperate situation. He didn't expect the director to hold her back, and the director was affirming her value by saying she was important to the wardrobe team. It felt great to be valued.

The sunlight fell on Mariana's body, warming her body and her heart.

The next day, Mariana got up early, cleaned up briefly, put on her bag and went to the set. She felt a joy she had never felt before.

On the way to the dressing room, she met many colleagues, Mariana greeted them with a friendly and cordial smile. They were all surprised. It seemed that after that accident, she had changed drastically from the inside out.

-I heard that Mariana's endorsement helped him withdraw the popular search, make the statement and even inform the director to keep his position.

-Really? How do you know? Really, she has an endorsement that is very powerful?

-Yes, otherwise I could no longer be the head of the wardrobe team.

People were arguing, and their words were full of accusatory intent.

"Has someone reported to the director, so I can continue to work here?"

With her eyebrows furrowed, Mariana was thinking about these words that broke the tranquility in her heart.

“Is it him?”

There was some conjecture in his mind.

But Mariana’s expression did not change.

He was about to look for the director, but someone stopped him. He looked up and saw Andrea.

He felt helpless, he didn’t expect to run into her right after returning to the set. Still, he looked at Andrea with a smile on his face and asked in a soft voice:

-Miss Solis, what do you want?

-I don’t expect you to have so much means. After this affair, you can still be the head of the wardrobe team, how amazing!

Andrea laughed sarcastically and glared at Mariana.

-If you say you don’t have a backing behind you, no one will believe you. How powerful your backing!

Andrea’s mockery was relentless.

Mariana narrowed her eyes slightly and became quiet,

-I don’t know what you’re talking about, I have to go find the director, so I’m leaving.

After saying that, she prepared to leave, but was prevented once again by Andrea.

-Why are you in such a hurry to leave? Am I no longer worthy to talk to you? You’re begging for it.

Andrea said angrily. She stared at Mariana, the smile on her face was terrifying.

But Mariana continued to remain silent in front of her. Such a calm and even indifferent attitude made Andrea even more enraged.

-If people didn’t know, they would have thought I would have a sexual relationship with the director.

Andrea stepped forward and spoke close to Mariana's ear. These words made Mariana feel a little uncomfortable.

Mariana's eyes looked coldly at Andrea's lips. The lips were blood red and Andrea was like a poisonous snake.

Chapter 58: After the danger

-Why do you treat me like this? Just because you don't like me?

Looking doubtfully at Andrea, Mariana asked with a stoic face.

-Mariana, don't pretend, you know exactly why, you know it in your heart! Some people are not for you to touch, if you touch them, I will destroy your whole being!

His words were full of resentment.

Mariana looked into Andrea's eyes that were full of feelings, as if she wanted to kill her right now.

At that moment, a cheerful voice sounded behind her,

-Mari, you're back at last. I told you you would come back.

After saying this, Ana gave Mariana a hug with infinite warmth.

At this moment, Ana saw Andrea and felt surprised and then asked in confusion:

-Miss Solis, the director is looking for you, it seems he has some questions about the script to talk to you, aren't you going?

Ana said it with a serious expression and not as if she was telling a lie.

Andrea's assistant immediately stepped forward, pulled Andrea and said in a low voice:

-Since the director is rushing us, we'd better leave quickly, you've forgotten that the company....

Before the assistant could finish speaking, Andrea turned her head and gave her a look to get her assistant to shut up. Then she left.

Looking at the backs of the two, Ana let out a sigh,

-Luckily, there is still someone on the set that Andrea is afraid of. If not, how can we let him out.

Mariana looked at Ana with a smile and said:

-Thank you, Anita.

Laughing, Ana looked around and pulling Mariana to one side, she said in her ear:

-Mari, after I called you today, I went to find the director thinking I could convince him to let you come back.

Hearing this, Mariana was moved.

-But you can continue to work here because of Mr. Durán's help.

Hearing these words, Mariana was surprised, but felt joy at the same time. She moved her lips, but could not say anything.

"It's really him."

Even after she said something like that, he helped her in his own way again. Her heart felt warm, making her cheeks burn slightly.

-Mari, what is your relationship with Mr. Durán? He even helped you.

In addition, Ana remembered that the last time Mariana's father came, it was also Leopoldo who appeared to resolve this matter. Leopoldo had helped Mariana many times.

Ana said with a mischievous smile:

-Do you have a love relationship?

Hearing this, Mariana came to her senses, waved her hands and hurriedly explained:

-What are you thinking about? It's not like that.

The determination in his words made Ana feel a little lost,

-I thought you had a love affair with Señor Durán. After all, who doesn't like a man like Señor Durán?

Suddenly, Ana was stunned, she reached out her hand and pulled Mariana in surprise. Mariana noticed the pain and could not help but frown, her eyes looked at Ana with confusion,

-What's wrong?

Ana stammered:

-Mr. Durán!

Mariana turned and saw Leopoldo, who was surrounded by the crowd.

At this point, he had a cold face, which made the temperature around him drop a few degrees.

Mariana averted her gaze, her heart trembling slightly. "You can't have heard what I just said?"

But she remained calm, suppressing the agitation in her heart.

A gust of wind blew past Mariana, stirring her hair and making her feel itchy. She didn't know what to do at that moment. Leopoldo passed by her, leaving a cigarette smell in the air.

Ana pushed Mariana back half a step. A group of people passed by the two women, turned the corner and disappeared.

Mariana's accelerated heartbeat returned to calm.

-Mari, it seems that Mr. Durán doesn't treat you any differently, so why did he ask the director to reserve your position?

Ana's question reached Mariana's ears. Mariana raised her eyes, looked towards the corner and frowned.

She was also puzzled.

Since Leopoldo had come to the set, the director and producer were supposed to be with him at that moment, so Mariana and Ana went back to the dressing room. Just as she opened the door, a loud noise sounded:

-Welcome to Mariana.

Everyone's tone was cheerful, which made Mariana feel satisfied. Someone was waiting for her return, and that was enough.

-It has been a hard time for everyone, from now on I will take my job more seriously, I will work with everyone so that we can finish our jobs and get back to the company as soon as possible.

In front of all the people, Mariana said with a firm expression.

-Mariana, you're back at last.

-Yes, Mariana, you don't know how much I've missed you!

-Mariana, you don't know how strict Ana has been with us during this period of time when you were not here.

Off to the side, Ana heard this and stepped forward putting on jugs and said:

-When Mariana returns, you start complaining, I'm going to teach you a lesson.

With that, Ana stepped forward to grab the boy, and the two chased each other which drew laughter from the crowd.

Seeing this scene, a warm current flowed through Mariana's heart, she smiled.

The time on the set thus passed in joy.

Chapter 59: Bottomless Hole

Despite Andrea looking for trouble for Mariana from time to time and the rumors, Mariana lived a very satisfying life.

However, there were still people who were not willing to leave her alone.

One day, Mariana had just arrived on set and was about to turn on her computer to review the design drawings, but to her surprise, Ana came rushing through the door. She was panting as she spoke:

-Mari, your father is coming again.

At these words, the mouse in Mariana's hand fell to the ground.

Ana's gaze toward Mariana was full of sympathy, but she felt helpless. "Last time Leopoldo had sent Mariana's father to jail, so he shouldn't have come back for Mariana so soon."

But Ana could not say such doubts, they were no longer important now.

Mariana ran out and saw the man who scared her forever, she felt helpless and lost.

-Why are you here? -asked Mariana coldly.

This question made the man look at her,

-Why can't I come? Stop talking nonsense and give me the money quickly. If you don't want me to come back next time, give me enough this time.

The man's words were cruel and aggressive. It was as if what was in front of him was not his own daughter, but an emotionless ATM machine.

-I told you last time, I don't have any money....

Mariana felt helpless. Before she could finish, she was interrupted again.

-Don't you have any money? This film has made a lot of investments. You are the head of the wardrobe team, you say you have no money, I don't trust you at all.

With more and more people gathering around her, Mariana felt embarrassed and blushed.

-Look, his father is coming again, this time he's coming for the money too, isn't he?

-Mariana has caused great loss, and now her father still dares to come here, do they think this is their home or what?

-I have never seen such a brazen family.

The discussion of the others continued, while Mariana lowered her head to hide her emotions at that moment.

“A family?”

Mariana felt ironic and smiled, not raising her head.

The man’s hand moved toward her again,

-Hurry up. You think it’s okay to find someone to take me to the police station? But someone bailed me out! You’re such an ungrateful daughter to do this to your father!

The man’s hand came forward again, the man said impatiently:

-Hurry up.

Mariana took out a black leather wallet, before she could open it, it was snatched by the man in front of her, he took out the little money inside and the only bank card, then threw the wallet to the ground.

-Just this? And you don’t want to give it to me? -Shame on you! Next time prepare more for me, otherwise you know the consequences.

As he said, he looked at Mariana as if he were looking at an enemy. After saying this, he left.

Mariana squatted down and picked up the wallet, wiping away the dust. The wallet was already empty, and her mind was blank.

“Where am I going to find money?”

At that moment, Ana, who had been standing behind her, stepped forward and took Mariana’s hand with some concern, speaking nervously:

-Mari, what are you going to do? If he comes back next time...

He could not tell the consequences. The bad effects caused by Mariana's father the next time were still not completely gone. After so few days, he came again.

And Mariana suddenly understood that someone had taken her father out of jail. It was as if there was a big invisible hand covering her, and as soon as she relaxed a little, that big hand suddenly tightened.

-Anita, if you know of a way to get money fast, remember to tell me.

Hearing these words, Ana was quick to nod:

-Yes.

Mariana put her purse away, ignoring the stares of the people around her, and returned to the dressing room. Sitting in the chair, her mind was a mess.

Her father was a bottomless hole, she could not fill it. She could escape for once, she could not escape forever. She stood up and rubbed her forehead, feeling a headache.

At that moment, the door to the dressing room was suddenly opened from the outside, Mariana raised her head and looked at Ana.

-Mari, you know, I found a job for you. I just found out about a high-paying design job.

Hearing this, Mariana's eyes lit up, she looked at Ana with some expectation.

-There is a bar called Color Bar in the bar street, clothing shows are often held there, this time, the person in charge wants to change the style to attract more people and improve the performance of the bar, and the remuneration given is very high.

As she said this, Ana extended a hand.

Mariana asked:

-Five thousand?

-No, it's fifty thousand.

Mariana was surprised.

-He also said that if we do a good job this time, we can cooperate more in the future.

Mariana wanted this job. It was no small amount.

“If I get this job, I’ll have money for my father. I have to hold out until I finish the job on the set before I go to face my father.”

“I can’t give the set any more trouble.”

Mariana raised her head and felt happy.

-Anita, thank you for being so attentive to my affairs.

Ana waved her hand and hooked Mariana’s shoulder:

-We are friends, you don’t tell me this.

After work, Mariana said goodbye to her employees and headed straight to the Color Bar.

Chapter 60: I had no other choice

It was the second time she had come to a bar. Frowning, she still felt uncomfortable. Watching the men and women coming and going, Mariana walked carefully and arrived inside the bar.

When she looked up, she was stunned.

This bar was different from others, there was a big U-shaped platform in the middle. They were holding a fashion show at this time, many women in sexy clothes were walking on the platform.

Mariana felt uncomfortable and her expression was unnatural, it seemed that she did not belong here. After staying in the same place for a while watching the show, Mariana already knew what the bar needed.

Mariana made a decision. She felt she could change them.

He headed inside, Mariana ordered a less than intoxicating cocktail, and then began to ask questions:

-I hear you're looking for designers, right?

The waiter looked her up and down for a few moments and nodded,

-Please follow me.

That said, he walked to a corner.

As she approached, Mariana noticed a man sitting on the couch, wearing a suit and with long hair that was shining under the colored lights.

She had deep eyes and red lips, she was like a vampire in the night. Mariana stopped and felt afraid.

But at that moment, the horrible face of her father, who was extending his hand towards her, came to her mind. In an instant, Mariana made up her mind.

She was in front of the man. After making a brief introduction, the waiter left, leaving Mariana and the man alone in this corner.

-You've seen the show, haven't you? What do you think?

The words came out of the man's mouth and reached Mariana's ears, which made her frown softly. Obviously, from the moment she entered this bar, she was already being spied on, and that feeling was bad.

Mariana made an effort to suppress the discomfort and irritation in her heart and looked at the man.

At this point, he wouldn't even let her sit down.

-From the expressions of the spectators, it can be deduced that this show is not very successful, although the models are sexy, they cannot attract the public's attention -said Mariana bluntly.

The man was stunned and straightened up, then looked at Mariana,

-Please sit down.

Mariana sat a little away from the man.

Seeing Mariana's careful and cautious behavior, as if he was a monster, the man laughed mockingly and said nothing.

He appreciated this unassuming woman as she entered the bar. After all, a woman who came here dressed like this was either trying to be a model or she had come to drink, but she had come to the wrong place.

He didn't care why she came here, he thought she was not the type of person he was looking for. However, what this woman had said changed the man's impression of her.

But that was all.

-Designer?

The man shook the glass in his hand, the wine still swaying, as did Mariana, who was sitting uneasily at that moment.

-Yes, I hear you are recruiting designers.

She looked at the man steadily, ignoring the noises around her.

The man placed the cup in his hand on the small table in front of him. With his hands folded and resting lazily on his knees, the man looked directly at Mariana,

-You can call me Carlos, I'm in charge of this show, and as you just noticed, the show is no longer attracting people, the bar's customers are decreasing day by day.

-And what you have to do is to change the style of this show so that it will attract the public again, and thus improve the profit of this bar.

Mariana understood the importance of this show for the bar. One could say that the particularity of this bar depended on this show that was to attract customers with beauty.

-If you can trust me with the complete design of the models' clothes, I can try.

She had always designed high-end dresses or theater costumes, but this was the first time she had encountered such a costume design.

But she had no choice, she had to do this.

After hearing these words, Carlos said with a mocking smile:

-It is natural.

After a while, he continued:

-But this bar is different from the others. Here, the models have the right to choose their own clothes, and it's not me who decides this, it's them.

The man pointed his finger in one direction.

Mariana saw the models who were surrounded by men.

“Are they the models?”

-Are you confident or not?

After a moment of silence, Mariana thought hard in her head. Then she looked at the man and said:

-I want to try.

You might be able to change them instead of changing clothes, right?

-Okay.

Eric stood up, his tall body was oppressive, he smiled and said to Mariana:

-Follow me.

Arriving in the dressing room, the man called a waiter and ordered him:

-Let the models in so the designer can take a look at them.

The words were flippant, and the attitude was like picking out meat in a supermarket.

And Mariana frowned.

Soon some women dressed in tempting clothes came in, they had expressions of discontent on their faces.

-Carlos, after the show, we are free, there are still customers waiting for us.

-Yes, Carlos, why are you calling us here? The bar doesn't have many customers anymore and I'm not going to let anyone escape.

-I'm about to go out with a man, Carlos, what do you want?
