Chapter 1805

Upon hearing Joshua's name, Luna was taken aback.

She bit her lip. "What time is his flight?"

"Seven this evening," Bonnie said with a sigh. "Luna, why don't you contact Joshua yourself? I'd probably be able to help you had it been anyone else, but Joshua..."

"Alright." Luna took a deep breath and hung up.

Leaving the cafe, Luna got in the car while looking for Joshua's contact, calling him afterward.

Soon, Joshua picked up. Before Luna could say anything, Joshua, on the other end, smilingly greeted, "It's only four in the afternoon. Didn't we agree to meet at ten tonight?"

Joshua was asking for a beating.

Luna rolled her eyes. If she did not know that Joshua had already applied for the airway that night leaving the city, she would think that Joshua would probably want to...do something to her that night.

However, at that moment, she understood clearly that he was just trying to provoke her.

Luna took a deep breath and smiled. "Why? Are you planning to stand me up at Orchard Manor tonight?"

Joshua was silent for a while before chuckling. "How did you know?"

Listening to his deep voice, Luna secretly thought that Joshua's acuteness was always beyond her expectations. She only said one sentence, and he had already deduced that she knew about him leaving on a private plane.

Luna furrowed her brows and took a deep breath. "I got Bonnie to check. Joshua, I need to return to Merchant City urgently tonight too, so can I hitch a ride?"

"Urgent?" Joshua furrowed his brows a little. "Does it have to do with Jim?"

Luna's breathing stopped for a while. After a while, she bit her lip. "H-How do you know?"

Jim's reaction that day was rather out of the ordinary, but Luna thought that only the Landry family would know about it. She even sent a message to the butler to make sure the servants did not spread the news.

"I am the president of Lynch Group, after all." Joshua sounded low and calm. "Jim started going berserk today, attacking the Lynch Group in quite a reckless fashion, so I'm planning to head back tonight to have a look."

Luna's heart skipped a beat at what Joshua said.

It turned out that Jim's condition was not only on personal matters. Even at work, he was very emotional. It looked like she had to return to Merchant City with Joshua that night, or the consequences would be unimaginable.

At that thought, Luna bit her lip. "I've never seen him so abnormal. He was smashing my mother's stuff."

Then, Luna sniffled. "I'll wait for you at the airport in two hours?"

Joshua, on the other end of the line, was silent for a while. "I haven't agreed to it yet."

Luna was in no mood to bargain with him. She sniffled and persisted, "Haven't I already owe you three times? Adding another two times would be more than enough, right?"

Joshua's breathing was cut short when he heard what Luna said. After a while, he laughed in a low tone. "Are you really going to use this to barter?" "If not?" Luna said with a smile, "Don't you like this, Mr. Lynch?"

Chapter 1806 Both Joshua and Luna were quiet for a while before Joshua finally smiled. "Okay, as long as you keep your promise, Ms. Luna. I'm willing to add a passenger on the plane."

Then, Joshua hung up.

Hearing the disconnecting tone, Luna closed her eyes depressingly.

The flight was at seven. By the time she reached Merchant City, it would be around eleven at night.

She hoped everything would not be too late by then.

Soon, the car reached Bonnie's mansion. When Luna entered, her three kids were already awake.

Nellie pushed over Luna's barely unpacked luggage over to her, all teary-eyed.

"Mommy, when are you coming back again? When will we see each other again?"

Neil, on the other hand, was right behind Nellie. He passed Luna a huge bag of food and gifts. ,

"Mommy, the three of us prepared some food and gifts for you.

"This is for you to have on the plane, and some of these are for you to take to Merchant City. The gifts are paintings and little handcrafts we made for the past six months."

Neil passed the items to Luna earnestly. "You have to open them and have a good look once you're back. There are also a few communications devices that Nigel did for you. If you don't know how to use them, call Nellie, and I'll tell you."

Looking at how understanding Neil and Nellie were, Luna could not help but walk over and gently hug them.

Then, she turned around and looked at Nigel who was silently sitting on the sofa.

He was hugging his laptop on the sofa with his head lowered. He looked like he was in a terrible mood.

Looking at him, Luna was heartbroken.

Back then, Nigel was sick when the three kids first left Merchant City. She missed Nigel's message and could not send them off at the airport.

Thus, for the past nine months, Nigel had been mad at her. Every time Luna was on a video call with Neil and Nellie, he would hide far away.

Initially, when she returned that time, Luna planned to improve her relationship with Nigel.

Alas...

| Luna sighed and gently took the laptop in Nigel's hand away, placing it by the side.

Then, she bent down and gently hugged him. "Nigel, I wanted to properly make it up to you, but something has happened with your uncle. I must head back to deal with it. If you're angry with me,

I'll let you be angry at me, but the next time I'm back, you can't be angry anymore. Okay?"

Luna's gentle voice made Nigel bite his lip, his eyes slightly reddened at her gesture.

He bit his lip and looked at Luna closely. "Are we important to you?"

Luna's heart skipped a beat upon hearing and seeing her son. She sniffled and tightly hugged him.

"Of course, you three are very dear to me." "Then you have to keep your promise. The next time you are back, you have to spend time with us." Nigel hesitated for a while. In the end, he still could not help himself. He gently pecked on Luna's face. "I love you."

His sudden confession calmed Luna's heart, which was anxious because of Jim. She felt warmth spreading in her chest.

"You have to go back and settle this calmly," said Nigel into her ear with a suppressed tone. "Uncle is an adult. You can't compete with him in strength. Get Daddy's help when it's necessary. He'll help you."

Luna was taken aback before realizing that her mature son already knew what she was going back for.

Nigel's acuteness was at Joshua's level.

Luna sighed and hugged him tightly. "Okay."

Nigel sighed and gently said in her ear, "You have to solve it quickly. I already saw Aunt Bonnie booking a flight to Merchant City two days later." Luna was stunned by Nigel's words. If Bonnie were to see Jim in such a state...

Chapter 1807

At six in the evening, Luna appeared at Banyan City Airport on time. It was raining at that point. and Banyan City at night was extremely cold.

Luna, standing at the airport's entrance, shivered due to the cold and the thin clothes she wore.

The car stopped by the airport and Joshua immediately noticed Luna, who kept rubbing her hands and stomping her feet, by the airport.

Her thin figure was slightly shivering in the cold wind, but her gaze was still trying to look in the distance, searching for him through the rain.

Joshua's heart skipped a beat at that scene. He immediately opened the car door and got out of the car, not even bothering to use an umbrella, merely wearing a coat as he headed toward Luna.

Even if he was soaked by the rain, he still protected the lady's coat in his hand well. Not a single drop of water landed on it.

Joshua walked under the rain and strode toward Luna, passing the coat in his hands to her.

"Put it on."

Luna was a little stunned. She subconsciously looked at the clothes Joshua passed to her.

It was the style that she used to like, but she remembered that when she was staying in Banyan City, her clothes were all in Blue Bay Villa.

The big fire a year ago had incinerated Blue Bay Villa into ruins. Where did Joshua get the coat from?

As if reading her mind, Joshua smiled a little and said, "I don't understand much about women's clothes, but I remembered a few pieces of the clothes you had from the clothes that got burned. This was one of them."

Luna initially did not want to wear the coat that he gave her, but it was too cold.

She put on the coat while furrowing her brows and saying, "You...bought the same style of clothes from my previous burned clothes?"

Joshua calmly responded while leading Luna into the airport. He smiled self-deprecatingly. "I bought it a year ago. I took note of your clothes that were burned and secretly replaced it, putting them at Orchard Manor. I initially wanted to give you a surprise, but..."

Before he could surprise her with that, Luna was taken away by the Quinns to Merchant City.

She never returned after that.

Luna, following behind Joshua and staring at his tall, looming figure, bit her bottom lip and said, "Thank you."

She thanked him for once treating her so sincerely.

Joshua sneered a little at her politeness, his tone rather condescending as he added, "That's not the only thing in the surprise I prepared for you."

The clothes were only a fraction of what he had prepared.

A year ago, on the day Luna was taken away by the Quinn family...

The only reason he got Luna to send Theo to the airport by herself was not that he wanted to give Luna and Theo time alone together, but he had prepared a sensational marriage proposal in the city.

He wanted to give her a surprise, to give her all the romance and joy that he could think of.

However, once he had everything prepared, his female lead ran away.

When he found her once more, he saw her getting engaged with Malcolm... The memories kept appearing in his mind. Joshua chuckled self-deprecatingly and said, "It's not important anymore."

Walking behind Joshua, Luna looked at his figure and inexplicably felt that he was in a little sorrow, but she did not know what to say to comfort him.

When they walked past security and safely boarded the plane, Luna let out a deep sigh of relief. She took the food that Nellie previously prepared for her and gave half to Joshua.

"From the kids."

Joshua casually looked around and found a bag of small biscuits. The biscuits were made in the shape of kittens and rabbits. It was adorable.

It was evident that this was Nellie's work.

Seeing his daughter's biscuits, Joshua's emotions finally calmed down a little. The plane took off, yet the entire journey was in a depressing atmosphere.

Chapter 1808

Luna started to worry about the Landry family and Jim, but she could not discuss it with Joshua like how Nigel told her to.

No matter what she thought, in the eyes of the public, she and Joshua were enemies. She could not tell all the embarrassments of her family to the enemy.

Four hours passed by in a blink of an eye.

At eleven that night, Luna and Joshua arrived at Merchant City Airport. "Theo's car is waiting for you outside."

Once the plane stopped moving, Joshua remained gracefully seated.

"You head down first."

Luna, who was taking her luggage, stopped a little. After a while, she nodded. "Okay."

Although Luna understood that Joshua and she needed to keep some distance, seeing how he actively did that, she was still rather uncomfortable with it.

Pulling her luggage out of the airport, Luna immediately noticed Theo's car and strode over. While Theo was helping her with her luggage, she furrowed her brows and said, "Have you seen any news about the Landrys?"

Theo looked at her as if he was hiding a secret. He frantically shook his head. "No."

Then, he canceled the news that Luna was about to look at.

"I'm not too familiar with the way. Why don't you guide me?"

Luna looked at the navigation system in the car and felt something was off. Why did Theo ask her to guide him instead of using the navigation system?

Nonetheless, she did not think too much about it. Perhaps Theo was not used to electronic devices, so she placed her phone down and looked out of the window, guiding Theo while thinking about what would happen when she returned to the Landry Mansion.

Seeing Luna's phone placed by the side, Theo secretly let out a sigh of relief.

The news in Merchant City that night was not suitable for Luna to see.

On the plane at the airport.

Lucas looked at the news online and frowned deeply.

“Sir, the news online on Ma’am is still spreading fast. Even if we have already used a huge number of hackers and PR companies, we still can’t stop the discussion. Even... Young Master Nigel can’t stop them.”

Joshua rubbed the middle of his brows. He picked his phone up and glanced at the news.

(Angry Brother! Family’s Business in the Ruins, Yet She Climbed Into the Enemy’s Bed!)

(Is She Worthy to Be a President?] (Play of the Century: Jim Landry Shows Proof of Collusion Between Luna and Joshua!)

(She Killed Her Mother, Made Her Father Go Nuts, Yet Was Sleeping With the Enemy! Exposing the Heiress of the Landrys, Luna!)

Countless unpleasant headlines came into view. Joshua narrowed his eyes.

The media was using the fact that they were not in Merchant City to set them up.

Joshua casually tapped into one of the news, and Jim’s enraged face filled his screen. In the video, Jim was angrily rebuking Luna for Rosalyn’s vegetative state, saying that she made Charles go crazy. He even showed proof of Luna getting in touch with Joshua. He said that Luna was a betrayer.

“I hope that everyone will boycott Luna, forcing her to step down!

"A person like her isn't worthy to be a member of the Landry family! She isn't worthy to be the president!"

Looking at the news, Lucas was extremely angry. "So this is his true colors! Sir, I never knew that Jim was this kind of person. He..."

Joshua narrowed his eyes and interrupted Lucas.

"Does Luna have bodyguards with her?"

Jim might do even more heartless things when Luna returned.

At that thought, Joshua took a deep breath and stood up. "Get the car ready. We're heading to the Landry Mansion."
