Going through all those thoughts internally, Luna secretly pressed the mic on her collar and communicated with Joshua. "What should we do?"

Joshua's calm, steady voice was heard from the concealed earbud. "I think we were too late; they've taken a step ahead of us. Still, it's okay."

His low voice was very remote. "Mother-in-law would never discover Butler Fred and Mickey's real identities if they don't fool her once. Just follow the things I say, and don't hint at Jim. I'm sure he'll understand what we're trying to get at."

Luna bit her lip. "Alright."

Joshua's voice slowly rang in the earbud, and Luna was stunned when she finished listening to Joshua's plan.

She subconsciously turned to look at Jim, and moments later, she inhaled deeply and glared at him. "What are you trying to get at, Jim? Are you saying our mother isn't the mastermind? That she's framed? Who'd dare frame our mother?"

Jim furrowed his brow tightly at Luna's abnormal reaction. He believed Luna knew the truth, that there was no reason for Joshua to keep it a secret from his wife if he had already told Jim.

However, from Luna's reaction, he felt he had never really understood Luna.

By right, Luna should be siding with him, targeting their common enemies and revealing Butler Fred and Mickey's true colors. Why was she siding with Rosalyn and helping Butler Fred and Mickey all of a sudden?

Looking at Jim's shock-filled gaze, Luna knew Joshua was wrong. Jim did not guess her real purpose and even thought that she had changed. However, she could not possibly tell Jim the truth at this point.

She sneered while looking at Jim. "Why? Cat got your tongue? Or you can't think of any other excuses?" She looked at Jim remotely in a glance and then looked at Rosalyn again. "Just ignore him, Mother. Let's continue with our breakfast. It's been a long time since we've gathered."

She even helped to place more food onto Rosalyn's plate.

However, before Luna could finish placing the food onto Rosalyn's plate, Jim curled up his lips coldly and slammed his cutlery onto the table.

“What are you saying, Luna? Don’t forget that Granny Lynch is Joshua’s grandmother! If you want to be with Joshua, you shouldn’t allow Mother to take this fault!

“Do you think there isn’t enough misunderstanding and conflicts between you and Joshua?”

Luna snorted at Jim’s outburst as she, too, slammed her cutleries to the table. “Jim Landry, I hope you’ll remember the torment your grandmother, Granny Lynch, had done to us!”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 2368

“Do you really think Granny Lynch isn’t guilty of Uncle Colin Landry’s death, even when the Quinn family had instigated everything? How many times has our business nearly entered into bankruptcy because of the Lynch family? Which of these had nothing to do with Granny Lynch?”

“She even sent an assassin to kill Father and Mother! Mother only sent someone to poison her in Banyan City, and she didn’t die right away. Granny Lynch even lived for many years ahead even after being poisoned , didn’t she?”

Luna sneered halfway through the conversation. “Now that the feud between our family and the Lynch family is solved, are you not willing to admit the things that happened? If Mother said she did it, then she did it. No one is worthy enough that Mother would shoulder the blame for them, isn’t that right?”

She looked at Rosalyn’s face seriously. “Mother, am I right?”

Rosalyn’s face looked terrible as she looked at Luna’s sincere face. Somehow, she managed to muster a weak smile. “That’s right, Luna. No one in this world is worthy of me to take the blame for them, so yes, I was the one who did it.”

After that, she looked at Butler Fred and pushed her wheelchair to Luna, grabbing her hands gently. “Thank you for believing in me.”

Luna curled her lips into a smile. “Mother, you don’t have to thank me. I’m your daughter.”

After that, she looked at Jim wordlessly. Despite her silence, however, her eyes reflected her thoughts with vicious intent.

Thus, Jim sneered and stood up. His movement was so rough that the chair behind him dropped to the floor. However, Jim did not care and just walked away, bypassing the chair.

When he reached the door to the dining room, he sneered without turning back. "After all, the three of you are the real family. I've always been an outsider."

He smiled coldly. "No matter how hard I try to fit in, no matter how hard I worked, to you, I was just a b*stard from the Lynch family. If that's the case, I won't be coming here anymore. I've found my mother's grave, met my half-brother, and I got Joshua with me, too. I have no reason to return here anymore."

Rosalyn looked at Jim's back and bit her lip. "Jim..."

"I'll go take a look." Charles sighed and went after Jim, noticing the look of panic on Rosalyn's face. No matter what happened, Jim would also be his son.

If Jim had a conflict with Rosalyn and Luna, he should be the middleman.

"Father!" After just taking a few steps, however, Luna stopped Charles from leaving. She lowered her head and continued to have her breakfast while looking at Jim's retreating form remotely. "Don't go after him. He already said he's not a Landry, so he won't come back here anymore. Why do you need to go after him? It'll be just a waste of time and energy."

Luna then continued to enjoy her breakfast and urged Rosalyn and Charles to continue eating, much to Charles' bewilderment.

He looked at Luna, puzzled, before he gazed at Rosalyn again. "What's going on? Luna and Jim weren't like this before at all!"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2369

'How did it turn out like this? They were only back for just a bit,' Charles thought.

It was just yesterday that Luna posted a photo of her, Jim, and Bonnie on her social media account. She even wrote a post, hoping that Bonnie would wake up quickly so her dearest brother would no longer be alone. How did this 'dearest brother' become an outsider just overnight?

Charles sighed as he looked at Rosalyn. Finally, he sat back down on the chair. It was not that he listened to Luna and decided not to go after Jim, but he remembered how Jim never wanted anyone to show up to him when he was in a bad mood, so it was not a good choice to go look after Jim right now. It was better to leave him alone.

The breakfast was awkward after the little fight they had. Everyone entertained their thoughts and was rather absent-minded during their meal.

After breakfast, Charles suggested bringing Rosalyn to the garden for a walk to ease her mood. "I'll go with Luna. You can go ahead and do whatever you wish." Rosalyn rejected his offer with a smile and waved her hand at Luna. "Do you mind accompanying me for a while?"

Luna was stunned but nonetheless nodded. She went behind Rosalyn and gently pushed her wheelchair as they made their way to the garden.

"You two, come with us," instructed Rosalyn faintly when they walked past Butler Fred and Mickey.

Butler Fred and Mickey looked at each other and followed Luna and Rosalyn to the garden behind the mansion, their expressions looking rather sour.

Rosalyn, seated in the wheelchair, gazed at the man made mountain and stream, her lips curled into a faint smile. "I'm grateful, Luna. Thank you for believing in me." She looked at the mountain, which was at a far distance, while her thoughts seemed to fly over the fake mountain to a place far far away.

"I know my excuse was very lame today. You might also wonder why won't I admit it previously if I was the one who did it, right?" asked Rosalyn.

Luna stayed silent. That was until she took a deep breath and looked at Rosalyn's face. "Yes."

To Luna, Rosalyn was an honest and truthful person. If Rosalyn was the one who did it, she would have admitted it long ago instead of waiting to come clean on this day.

"You still choose to believe me." Rosalyn sighed. She reached out her hand to grab Luna's hand. "I'm very grateful for the trust that you have in me, but..."

She closed her eyes. "I let you down. I lied."

Luna bit her lip and said with a hoarse voice, "Then... what did you lie about?"

"I think you know what I mean." Rosalyn smiled faintly as she then turned to look at Butler Fred and Mickey, who both stood behind her. "You two! It's about time for you to tell the truth."

Butler Fred and Mickey kneeled at the same time, with Butler Fred burying his head into his arms.

"Mickey and I did it, but..." He sighed while speaking remorsefully and self-deprecatingly, "There's a reason why we did it."

"On that year, Ma'am, during a time she was intoxicated, said she wanted to poison Granny Lynch."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2370

Butler Fred's voice became hoarse and smoky as he continued, "Ma'am has always been a person of her word. Since she said she wanted to poison Granny Lynch when she was drunk, I thought she meant it for real. Hence..."

Butler Fred stayed quiet for a moment and looked deeply into Luna's eyes. "Hence, Mickey and I had followed through with her order secretly. After many years, Ma'am had never asked us about the process of poison, and we, in turn, never reported back to her. After all, it was an offensive and harmful thing."

Luna's face turned pale instantly after listening to Butler Fred's explanation as she quietly wrung her hands together under the table. Shivers ran across her skin.

'So...that's the truth? Is this all there is to it? Mother was the one who said she wanted to poison Granny Lynch to Butler Fred and Mickey when she was drunk, so that's why they.... Luna's head could not process the truth.

“Don’t fall prey to their words so easily,” rang Joshua’s voice from the concealed earbud just as Luna nearly fell into the answer. “If it happened as Butler Fred said, they only followed the order from your mother’s drunken words. What evidence do they have to prove it?” Luna’s heart felt less burdened upon hearing this.

She took a deep breath and looked at Butler Fred and Mickey. “Butler Fred, I know you’re very loyal to the family, but I can’t believe your words solely like that. You said you did what you did because my mother ordered you and Mickey to poison Granny Lynch when she was drunk, but do you have evidence to prove it? If there’s no evidence, I’d assume you’re just saying things.”

The air in the garden suddenly grew dense as Butler Fred, Mickey, and Rosalyn looked at Luna together in disbelief. First of all, Rosalyn never expected Luna to request evidence from Butler Fred and Mickey. Secondly, Butler Fred and Mickey never thought Luna could be so sensitive with details.

After a moment of silence, Rosalyn was the one to break the ice, “Luna, Butler Fred and Mickey have been working for us for nearly thirty years. They’ve proven their loyalty to me and never did anything bad to me. I believe that they wouldn’t fabricate the truth out of thin air. After all...

Rosalyn sighed. “More than twenty years ago, I had a hard time due to your father’s illness and you being lost. During that time, Granny Lynch was relentless with the attacks to destroy the Landry Group. I was very tired at that time, so there’s a possibility that I might’ve said something about killing Granny Lynch.”

After all these years, Rosalyn had never doubted Butler Fred and Mickey’s loyalty. They had been with her through all kinds of experiences all these years. Thus, no matter what happened , she would never suspect them.

However, Luna did not think so.

She took a deep breath. “I only believe the evidence when I see it. Words can be fabricated, and without any evidence, Butler Fred can just say that he only killed a person because it was an order from you or even Father. I won’t believe him just because he said that is the truth.”
