"I...I won't touch her anymore... "Can you...can you please check her again and double confirm if she needs to go to the hospital?"

"Of course she'll have to go to the hospital." Luna, who was still leaning against Joshua's body for comfort, wiped the tears from her eyes and added, "But that won't happen unless you do it."

"The ambulance is already on its way here, and are you honestly going to let someone else take her instead?"

As soon as she finished her sentence, the sound of sirens echoed from outside the gate.

Jim's face flushed scarlet once more. "You're right."

With that, he strode over to Bonnie and gingerly picked her up from the wheelchair. "I'll bring her to the hospital right now."

When he reached the front door, carrying Bonnie in his arms, Jim suddenly froze and said, "No matter what, I still want to thank all of you."

If they had not planned this wedding for them, he would have chosen to give Bonnie a quiet and private farewell.

He was not trained in emergency medicine, and he had only limited knowledge about basic first-aid skills, so if Bonnie were to stop breathing with only him around...she might not have been able to survive.

"Also..." he let out an exhale. "Father, Mother, I want to say I'm sorry. I was too impulsive just now, and I promise to make it up to you as soon as Bonnie gets better." Rosalyn could not help chuckling when she heard this. "Why do you need to make it up to us? We're family, and this is what family is supposed to do. Besides, it's partially our fault that Bonnie ended up like this."

Jim sighed. "I'm the one who should take responsibility for this, but enough said. I should take her to the hospital now."

Then, he turned and disappeared out the door.

Harvey and June exchanged glances, then linked hands and scampered behind Jim. A split second later, the ambulance screeched to a halt, and the doors were flung open. Not long after that, the sound of the siren grew fainter and fainter as the ambulance sped away.

Joshua glanced at Luna, smiling, "I thought you'd go with them to help look after Bonnie." Luna sighed, "I wanted to..."

After all, Bonnie was one of her closest friends, and apart from Jim, she was probably the one who was concerned about Bonnie's safety the most.

However...

When she saw the way Jim carried Bonnie so gently, Luna changed her mind about following him to the hospital.

She knew how hard it had been for Jim and Bonnie to find their way back to each other, and since Bonnie finally awoke from her coma, they would surely want to spend time together and Declare their love for each other. One was her brother, and the other was her best friend, so how could she possibly deprive them of this opportunity? Therefore, no matter how badly she wanted to go with them, she suppressed the urge to do so and decided to respect their privacy.

Besides, she was confident that Jim would be able to take even better care of Bonnie than she could.

"That was terrifying." Charles wiped the sweat from his forehead. "I was worried that Bonnie would..."

He could not find it in himself to finish his sentence. He did not want to jinx anything yet. Finally, he sighed, strode over to Rosalyn's side, and helped her back into her wheelchair." . Thank God you were here..." Rosalyn plopped down breathlessly in the wheelchair and finally shook her head after catching her breath. "You shouldn't be thanking me." With that, she lifted her head to glance at Kate. "Ms. Miller, what was the pill you fed Bonnie just now?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2496

When Rosalyn said that, everyone in the living room fell silent as they focused on Kate. Luke furrowed his eyebrows and looked at Kate suspiciously. "You gave Bonnie some medicine?"

This stumped Kate. She had been extra careful and did not think Rosalyn would see it!

She

bit her lip and unconsciously took a step backward. "I..." "Kate, what's going on?" Gwen's eyebrows knitted together as she sternly spoke, "Did you really give Bonnie a potion or something?" Kate merely took another step back as her face turned pale. This, however, only fueled everyone's suspicion. Since Luna had never liked Kate, she was more agitated to hear her mother saying Kate gave Bonnie an unknown medicine. "Kate, what's going on? Tell us. Even if you don't..."

She took a deep breath and looked at her three kids, who were discussing among themselves some distance away. "Nigel, get me the surveillance footage." Joshua frowned. He pulled Luna into his arms and said with a low voice, "Regardless of whether Kate gave Bonnie any medicine, Bonnie is awake now. Maybe the medicine she gave Bonnie was as to save her..."

Kate's family was quite powerful in Europa. A few years ago, they started to invest in medical organizations. In the end, over half of the medical organizations in Europa were funded by Kate's family. In that case, Kate could have had medicine that could save someone's life. Luna furrowed her eyebrow and looked at Joshua coldly. Lowering her voice, she hissed under her breath, "She has medicine that can save Bonnie? So she's better than my mother?" Joshua found himself unable to reply. Sometimes, he felt that Luna could be unreasonable, but he had to admit that what Luna said this time was quite reasonable.

Rosalyn was a professional at making poisons and medicine, but she was not as capable as Christopher in developing medicine. Nonetheless, she could easily discern a person's illness with just one look.

Obviously, Bonnie's situation was out of her knowledge range, which was why she was so anxious to do CPR for Bonnie. Moreover, Luke's investigation result stated that Malcolm was the one who came to Bonnie's ward and did something to her.

Rosalyn did not know any of that, yet Kate could give Bonnie medicine which made her wake up immediately. Even though Kate's family was the corporation behind many of the medical organizations, it did not mean Kate could possess a sort of medicine that could cure anything!

Was it just a coincidence that Kate's medicine helped Bonnie wake up? The living room was awfully quiet. Everyone had their attention on Kate while they waited for her answer, Gwen frowned anxiously. "Kate, tell us: What's going on?" Kate sighed. After a while, she lifted her head after summoning her bravery. She looked at Gwen and Luke.

"I did give medicine to Bonnie. I've told you before. My fiance used to be in a state where he had insufficient blood flow to the tissues of his body, and no one knew the reason why, so my family and his family had funded many medical organizations.

"The medicine I gave Bonnie was from the medical organization our families funded. The people from the medical organization were the ones who researched and developed the medicine according to my fiance's situation. When I saw Bonnie's condition and how Mr. Jim was about to go c razy because of Bonnie, I acted on my own and...gave Ms: Bonnie the pill.” She smiled bitterly and took a step back.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 2497

“I did it because I meant well. I believe Mrs. Landry knew this, too. Looking at Ms. Bonnie’s situation, her life will end if the CPR stops. That’s why I decided to try the pill as a last resort and gave Ms. Bonnie the pill.

“I just can’t believe...”

Her eyes were cold and filled with hatred as she looked at Luna. “I never thought all of you would think i’d want to murder Ms. Bonnie. Do you think I need to murder her, given the situation she was in?”

She looked at Luna disdainfully. “I understand that Ms. Luna was worried about her friend, but your friend was so close to death during then, yet you could think that I wanted to murder her. And when I kept quiet, you wanted to check the surveillance footage!

“I think that’s too much for me to accept.”

She sneered and turned around, wanting to leave. “I never wanted to come today. Gwen was the one who asked me to come with her, and since Sean is in the hospital, he requested me to come to witness his brother and sister-in-law’s wedding. That’s why I came.

“I never expected to save someone’s life and be treated as a bad guy after coming here. Since no one welcomes me, there’s no reason for me to stay.”

With that, Kate strode out the door.

Luna’s expression contorted in shock. She bit her lip as she grabbed the fabric of her clothes tightly.

Had she thought wrongly after all? She was just curious why Kate had the medicine to save Bonnie, but Kate refused to give it to Bonnie while letting other people know about it. She would have never known about it had Rosalyn not asked. Heck, she was also curious why even Rosalyn could not tell the exact details about Bonnie’s situation, but Kate’s medicine could immediately let Bonnie wake up! If she truly did misunderstand Kate...she was willing to apologize. She took a deep breath and got out of Joshua’s arms. She lifted her leg and wanted to chase after Kate, but Joshua stopped her. Joshua looked at Luke. "She's one of your people. You should be the one to go after her." Luke said nothing for a minute. Then, he looked at Gwen. He grabbed her hand while wanting to bring her along.

However, Gwen gently pried her hand from his. "Why don't you go on your own?" She smiled gently. "I want to accompany Luna."

Luke furrowed his eyebrows and said in a low voice, "Luna has Joshua with her."

Even if Gwen asked him to do it, he still thought it was inappropriate for him to chase after Kate alone. He of all the other people knew the feelings Kate had for him, and he did not want anyone to misunderstand, especially Kate. "I want to stay and accompany her." Gwen smiled. "You know I'm not in the best of shape right now. Aren't you just making it difficult for me to insist on wanting me to go chase another person?"

After Luke left, Gwen looked at Luna plainly. "Luna, you don't have to blame yourself. It's good to be alert all the time. Maybe—"

"Maybe Luna was right to stay alert," Joshua chimed in. "Maybe something is up with Kate after all."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2498

"What do you mean?" Gwen's eyebrows furrowed tightly by what Joshua said. "What could Kate be up to?"

Kate had been by Luke's side for more than a year, and Gwen had been in contact with Kate for quite a while already. After the time they spent together, Gwen did not have an extremely good impression of Kate, but not one too bad as well.

From the numerous women who liked Luke, Kate was the most suitable one for him. Her family, her background, her personality, and also the feelings she had for Luke... All of those made Gwen feel that Kate was the perfect future match for Luke.

If she had to choose someone to take care of Luke upon her departure, she would not hesitate to choose Kate.

When Luna said there was a problem with Kate, Gwen thought that Luna was feeling pity for her and was biased. However... Why did Joshua share the same notion Luna did? Joshua was never a slave to his emotions, that much Gwen knew.

Joshua looked at Gwen. “Do you wish that she has a problem or not?” Up until this point, he did not know what kind of attitude Gwen had toward Kate. Gwen furrowed her eyebrows and looked at Joshua so somewhat bewilderedly. “If she has a problem, she has a problem. If she doesn’t, then she doesn’t have a problem. Why do you ask that?”

Joshua squinted and looked deeply into Gwen’s eyes, almost understanding her attitude. Then, he sighed and looked in the direction where Kate and Luke left. “Luke might not like the arrangement you prepared for him. As for Kate...” He paused for a while. “I’ll tell you when I’ve thoroughly investigated everything.” Then, he turned and looked at his three kids, who were discussing something inaudible. “Are you three coming back with me?” Neil lifted his head and nodded immediately. “We don’t mind going back, but the house isn’t the best place for us to work in. Mr. Lynch, if you could arrange a quiet place for us, then you’re the best Daddy in the world!” Joshua did not respond immediately. He thought for a while and said indifferently, “Uncle Jim’s Swan Lake Chalet at the west side of the town is empty.”

“That’ll do!” Neil nodded. “We’ll go there. It’s more convenient for us to work!”

Luna furrowed her eyebrows. “What work do you three have to do?”

“Why did they refuse to go home with us? We want to find a quiet place?” Luna thought.

Although the Swan Lake Chalet on the west side of the town was empty, it was nearer to the suburb and less convenient. Why did they want to go there? What were they planning to do?

Then, he looked at Joshua. “Mr. Lynch, please send us to Swan Lake Chalet. Also, please provide us with the best logistics and safety assurance!”

Joshua found it amusing to see Neil acting seriously. “Alright.” He took out his phone and made a call. “Lucas.”

Very quickly, Lucas brought some men and fetched the three kids respectfully. “Is it appropriate to let them live there?” asked the wheelchair-bound Rosalyn. “It’s alright.” Before Joshua could say anything, Luna smiled and explained on behalf of her kids.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 2499

"They're very smart, so don't compare them with regular seven-year-old kids," added Luna.

A year ago, Nellie, Neil, and Nigel helped her overcome danger and risks while one of them was far away and the other two beside her. From then on, Luna no longer viewed them as ordinary children.

Thus, when Neil requested Joshua to find a quiet place for them to stay, she just asked a question and was not worried. After all, they were smarter and more mature than anyone else. Rosalyn sighed and shook her head faintly. "I'm still not that close with them yet, so I don't know how talented they are."

"You'll know it soon." Joshua's lips curved into a smile as he politely bade Rosalyn and Charles farewell. "I still have things on my plates. I'll leave now."

He did not forget to leave a group of bodyguards to protect Luna, Gwen, Rosalyn, and Charles. "I think Bonnie, Jim, and Harvey won't take too long to catch up. All of you could go over an hour later."

Luna was touched by Joshua's attentiveness. "Alright." Then, she got on her feet and sent Joshua to the door. With her back still turned to Gwen, she muttered under her breath, "You should investigate in detail about Kate."

She thought Joshua would say the same thing as before, that she thought too much. However, this time, Joshua held her hand softly and nodded. "Don't worry." He squeezed her hand tightly and asked her not to worry. Only then did Joshua let go of her and left.

Luna stood still as waves of emotions rocked her heart when she stared at Joshua's back. She was sad and happy at the same time, and it felt like her heart was dangling mid-air.

The good thing was that Joshua finally understood her instinct and her judgment of Kate. The sad thing was... If Joshua believed it too, it meant that her assumption was correct, that there was a problem with Kate.

With those thoughts in her head, Luna suddenly felt pity for Gwen. She wondered if Gwen would feel sad when she found out about this, especially when she trusted Kate so much.

Would it...mess up Gwen's plan? When she thought of how indecisive Gwen was about leaving Luke, her heart started to ache.

"Luna," rang a voice from behind, calling out to her. Luna snapped out of her train of thoughts and turned to see Gwen smiling at her from behind,

When Luna turned around, Gwen held Luna's hand and smiled with her brows and eyes. "I'm not wrong about Kate."

Kate and Bonnie were not related at all. Before Bonnie fainted, she had never seen Kate before. However, Kate was willing to give the specially curated pill by her family to Bonnie and saved her in a life-and-death moment.

Gwen did not know whether Kate did it out of kindness, or because Bonnie was Gwen's friend, but this just proved that Kate was a good person.

Gwen was at ease to leave Luke to Kate.

"You're not wrong about what?" Luna furrowed her eyebrows as she gazed at Gwen's pure smile. She felt helpless. "Gwen, my mother and Christopher are both experts in studying poison and antidote. Ask her if there is truly such a miraculous medicine that could cure any kinds of illnesses."

Gwen paused and looked at Rosalyn without thinking much. Rosalyn closed her eyes and sighed. "There's no such miracle medicine in the world. The only reason I could think of why Kate's pill could save Bonnie is that the property of the medicine coincidentally offset the poison in Bonnie's body."

She squinted as Gwen and Luna looked at her with shock. "I'm certain Bonnie must have been poisoned when we're not aware."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2500

Poison? Again?

Agitated, Luna's eyebrows furrowed. "Isn't Nikki in jail now?"

Why was Bonnie poisoned again? The mere idea baffled Luna. Who else harbored such hostility toward Bonnie in Merchant City, other than Nikki who was jealous of Bonnie because of Sean? At this point, Bonnie had been poisoned twice. She did not originate from Merchant City, so Luna did not understand why many people wanted to poison Bonnie.

"Those who hurt Bonnie might not be Bonnie's enemy." Joshua seemed to be able to read Luna's mind. He sighed and held Luna's hand lightly. "Everyone knows that Bonnie is Jim's beloved woman and your best friend. There are always many people around you and Jim. Of course, Bonnie is just a patient, and not only can't she speak or move, but she also can't see who was next to her to harm her. It's easier to go after Bonnie than the others around you and Jim. It cost less, too."

Joshua's voice was low and cold as he added, "That's why they'd choose to harm Bonnie."

"That's right." Charles nodded in agreement. "It's definitely better to harm a patient than a healthy person. Also..." Charles sighed and looked down at Rosalyn, who was in front of him in her wheelchair. He sounded grateful and in peace as he continued, "Now, Bonnie is awake."

"What if Bonnie didn't wake up? Sooner or later, there will be estrangement between Jim and Rosalyn."

This was a situation they had never thought of. All the while, they thought Jim would be happier if they hid the truth that Bonnie would eventually wake up. Additionally, they wanted to have Jim truly cherish the moment and realize his true feelings for Bonnie.

However, they did not expect...that someone out there, who hated Jim so much in Merchant City, would deliberately harm a patient!

"I know what you two are saying." Luna bit her lip and held Joshua's hand tightly. "But...I thought only a few of us here know Bonnie won't die and will wake up. Anyone else should be under the impression that Bonnie was doomed, that she merely has a few more minutes with us. Why would someone want to harm a person who was about to die?"

Luna did not understand.

The entire living room entered a moment of silence.

Luna was right. Not even Jim or Harvey knew Bonnie would wake up. The only people who knew this were Luna, Joshua, Charles, Rosalyn, Gwen, and Yannie. 'Could it be...?' Suddenly, Luna took a step back as disbelief appeared on her face. "Could it be Yannie?"

She did dare to imagine that Yannie would betray her! However, even if Luna refused to accept it, Yannie was the most possible suspect.

After all...it was not the first time Luna was wrong about someone. She had trusted Aura and Malcolm, but they proved her wrong. This drained her trust to believe in someone new and her confidence in herself. "It's not Yannie." Joshua squinted. "She's not that type of person." In addition, Yannie and Malcolm were not related in every aspect.
