"Mhm." Joshua nodded and gently patted Luna's shoulder. He wanted to say something when Lucas called him.

"Sir, we found Ms. Larson!"

Joshua furrowed his brow. "Where did you find her?"

"At..."

On the other end of the line, Lucas looked at the disheveled – looking Gwen. "At the dump station at the south of the city. We were searching for her when someone suggested looking at the dump station because Saigen City has a cold climate, and many drunkards would feel cold when wandering the streets. These people either hide in any empty house they could find, or they'd lose it and hide in trash bins because..."

Lucas cleared his throat. "Because the trash bin is against the wind. So, I got them to look at each dump station, and we found Ms. Larson." Joshua was silent. How did that work?

He looked up at the anxious faces of the other three and said in a suppressed tone, "Take her to The Spring Resort and wash up. Get a few more people to serve her."

"Understood!"

Joshua had just hung up when Luna excitedly rushed over to him and grabbed his hand. "Have we found her? Where is she?"

Joshua looked at Luna's bloodshot eyes and saw her wrinkled clothes from sleeping on them the entire night.

"Have you not taken a shower yet?"

Luna furrowed her brow and looked at him strangely. "Of course! I've been caring for Gwen the entire night."

She did not plan to fall asleep, having planned to rest for a while. She just did not expect that she would fall asleep.

"Alright, I have a suggestion." Joshua looked at Luna, then at Yannie. "I'll send you two to The Spring Resort right now. You two go take a good shower with Gwen and rest."

Luna initially wanted to refuse, but she suddenly came to her senses. Joshua said to take a good shower with Gwen and was instantly elated.

– If she was going to be with Gwen at the hot spring, that meant that Gwen was located!

“I’ll go pack up!” Saying that Luna turned around and returned to her room. Going to the hot spring was one of the things they wanted to do on their Saigen City trip! Seeing how excited Luna was, Thomas could not help but smile. “She looks so energetic that she doesn’t look like someone who had cared for a drunkard the entire night.” Then, he lowered his head and looked at Yannie, who was standing next to him. “Learn from her. Don’t be depressed all day.”

Yannie lowered her head and nodded a little.

After a while, she looked up and carefully said, “Mr. Lynch, where did your men...found Gwen?”

Joshua massaged his glabella and swept a glance at Luna’s shut door. Inside, Luna perked her ears up while packing “My men...found her at the dump station,” replied Joshua. “She seemed to have been drunk and wasn’t sober. Since it was too cold outside, she hid in a trash bin to stay away from the wind. She was sent to the dump station outside the city.”

Hearing that Gwen was, of all places, found in a dump station, Luna froze amid packing up her things. A moment later, she came to her senses. This explained why Joshua got Lucas to send her straight to The Spring Resort. No wonder he got her and Yannie to accompany Gwen.

Gwen had spent the night in a trash bin.

Luna, though shocked at first, then found it amusing. Gwen was always a clean freak, a knowledge that Luna had known her for so many years. Gwen had always been clean and tidy.

However, she did not expect that...a clean freak for almost her entire life would get into a trash bin when drunk!

Luna could even imagine that when Gwen woke up, she would be so shocked she would not dare to admit that she crawled into a trash bin.

At that thought, Luna quickly packed up. After getting everything ready, Luna soon pulled Yannie along, about to leave.

When they were by the door, she suddenly remembered something and turned to look at the men. “Do you guys have anything on today? If not, do you want to join us?” The hot spring was something relaxing. Luna could see that for the past few days, ever since they reached Saigen City, Joshua and Thomas had been tense and on edge. Joshua had said that he would accompany her to relax a little once they were in Saigen City, but ever since they arrived, he had been busy. He could barely take the time out to meet her, let alone have fun with her.

Thus, she thought that if they had nothing going on that day, they could come along and relax. However, Joshua refused her the moment she asked the question. "You three go have fun."

He smiled. His gaze seemed to go past Luna into the distance. "We have a meeting with the Hughes family today." He lowered his gaze. "We're going to meet Steven Hughes, the brother of Denise Hughes, the one Yannie mentioned. I want to see who this person is that claims to have the real knife." Looking at the coldness in his gaze, Luna understood that Joshua was, in fact, enraged on Luke's behalf.

Yes, Luke had already passed, but the item he left behind for Gwen was slandered and called a fake. As Luke's best friend, it was normal that Joshua was a little angry, but Luna was not planning to advise him against it. "Have a fruitful discussion, then." She smiled and looked at Joshua before turning around and pulling Yannie along. When they were by the lift, Luna pressed the button, though her eyebrows were still pressed together.

"Wait for me a while." She stuffed the things in her hands to Yannie, turned around, and strode back to the room.

At that moment, in the room, Joshua and Thomas were already sitting on the sofa, discussing the things they were going to talk about with the Hughes family that day. Luna's sudden return stopped their discussion abruptly.

Joshua looked up at her with a smile. "What is it?"

Luna realized that it was a little inappropriate for her to suddenly return. She had interrupted their discussion. However, since she was already back, she took a deep breath, walked over to Joshua, bent down, and kissed him on the forehead. "If you're going to settle the score with the Hughes family, count me in."

If Denise's words truly meant that she slandered Gwen's knife, and it made Gwen lose it and suffer that much...

Catelyn hoped that the Hughes family would pay for what Denise did. "Okay." After Luna kissed him, Joshua chuckled and gently hugged her. If Thomas was not there, he would have hugged her and kissed her for a while more.

Joshua's hug made her feel safe and warm, so much so that when Joshua let her go, she was blushing "I'll be leaving now," said Luna and quickly left. Hearing her footsteps vanishing in the corridor, Thomas changed into a more comfortable position and looked at Joshua calmly. "Are you two that close?"

"And what of it?" Joshua smiled and leaned back, looking Thomas in the eye. "We're an old couple but are still head over heels for each other. Seeing you and Yannie, on the other hand... you two don't look like a couple that has just gotten together."

Yannie was indeed always obedient toward Thomas, but something seemed to be missing.

From how Joshua saw it, for the past few days since they arrived at Saigen City, he had always been busy with Thomas. However, he realized that Yannie had not contacted Thomas once throughout the entire duration.

Thomas had even got her to come over, yet she only lowered her gaze, agreeing to whatever Thomas said. Not only did she not profess her love and concern for Thomas, but she also did not have any display of affection for him. Not to mention her being like Luna, coming to offer him a kiss at the thought of counting her in.

Joshua's words deflated Thomas. He slumped into the sofa.

Thomas closed his eyes and sighed. "I thought that if I brought her back to Saigen City, it'd be better, but I never expected that..." Thomas chuckled bitterly. "The environment in Saigen City is worse than Merchant City.

"Because I've reappeared in Saigen City, others could see that my return this time is to fight for the Howard family estate, so many heiresses have been trying to get close to me. "Yannie...can't take it. She's always had low self-esteem, and she feels that she's so far disconnected from my world, that she's not good enough for me."

For the past few days, Yannie mentioned breaking up a couple of times.

Every time, he would tell her sternly that he had no plans of breaking up with her. He did not feel that she was not good enough for him. At the thought of that, Thomas frowned.

"That's because you did not give her enough sense of security." As someone who had been in such a situation, Joshua perfectly understood the state Thomas and Yannie were in.

It was just like him and Luna seven years ago. Because he had trouble communicating, she always believed he disliked her. She did not have much sense of security, which was what Aura took advantage of, and this caused a long string of catastrophes...

At that thought, Joshua paused for a while. "Once things are over, Luna and I will help you."

"Mmh."

At The Spring Resort, when Luna and Yannie arrived, Gwen had been washed by the people serving her for the fifth time.

No matter how drunk she was, she should be sober by then.

She changed her clothes and sat on the ground pitifully. Her eyes were filled with grievances. "Luna, they lied to me. They said that they found me at the dump station."

Luna wanted to laugh, but she did not dare to when she saw how pitiful Gwen looked. She refrained from laughing and walked over to Gwen to hold her hand. "Then tell me—where did you go?"

"How would I know..." Gwen pursed her lips. "I only remembered having a weird dream. When I woke up, I'm already here."

She continued as she glared at Luna to voice out her dissatisfaction, "I was drinking with you, wasn't I? Why didn't you take care of me? Why did you let those people do whatever they want with me and say I went into the dumpster?"

Luna was amused. "So you're blaming me because you ran away by yourself?"

Gwen furrowed her brow and wanted to say something before she spotted Yannie standing behind Luna. Thus, she let go of Luna and stood up to stride at Yannie and looked at her with a serious face. "Yannie, I know you won't lie to me. Tell me what happened last night in detail."

Yannie did not expect Gwen to ask her this. She was caught off-guard for a moment before she lowered her head and told Gwen everything that happened last night. She even looked at Gwen and carefully added, "Gwen, it's not a big deal going into the dumpster by yourself. It's snowing and practically freezing in Saigen City. The dumpster was dirty, yes, but I don't think it smelled..."

She was not good at lying, but she did not think she had to lie about this. Gwen would need to face the fact sooner or later. Many people, including Lucas and his men, those who helped to shower Gwen just now, and those who were at the dump station, had...seen it. Thus, even if she and Luna comforted and told her a lie, it was better to let Gwen accept the fact and be over with it soon. Luna did not plan to comfort or lie to Gwen. She just wanted to make fun of Gwen because she found Gwen's pitiful look quite amusing.

"I..." Gwen walked back and slept on the bed while staring at the ceiling with a stupefied expression. "Did I really sleep in the dumpster?"

Everything that happened was just a dream?

She could have sworn that she saw Luke in her dream, but he kept on denying that he was Luke. Despite that, she was assured he was Lucas because of the aura he emitted. He was not willing to admit his identity, yet he still cared for her. He did not want to let her freeze out on a day that snowed and let her get out of his car to bring her home.

Gwen could not remember what happened later. When she woke up, she was already in Spring Resort. She looked at the ceiling while her head was a mess. If she snuck out after she was drunk, and if she slept in the dumpster where Lucas and his men found her there... Everything about that person must be a dream. She clearly remembered the man who denied being Luke brought her to his car and made her sit inside.

She felt disappointed knowing that it was a dream. The disappointment was larger than the shame of knowing she slept in the dumpster.

A tear rolled down her face from the corner of her eye. She stared at the ceiling while her heart started to throb.

She must have missed Luke way too much, so much so that she started to have weird dreams after she got drunk. Perhaps deep in her consciousness, she wished Luke was still alive.

Nonetheless, it was just a beautiful illusion.

Luke's heart was still beating in her chest. How could she hope for a person without a beating heart to suddenly be alive? "Gwen..."

Originally, Luna had thought of many things to tease Gwen about her sleeping in the dumpster to cheer her up. Before she could say any of that, however, she noticed Gwen submerged herself in sadness again.
