

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2797

Chapter 2797 Joshua smiled when he saw how excited Luna was. "What kind of people do you think Shelly's parents are?"

Luna never expected Joshua to ask her this question. She paused and thought for a while before chuckling. "I just hope her parents are just an ordinary couple. It'll be best if their family is a happy one." The sentence was followed by a sigh. "I hope Shelly can be lucky like Riley; to be reunited with parents that love her like Thomas and Yannie."

Joshua curled his lips into a smile at Luna's words. "Yes. We'll go back in a week, and I'll take you to meet Shelly's parents."

Luna furrowed her brow. "We're going back in a week?"

Although she missed her children, could they truly finish up Thomas and Steven's matter in a week's time?

"Yes." With Luna in his arms, Joshua cocked up his head and looked to the front as though he had the ability to look through the wall and into a greater distance. "I'll settle all the problems within the week. Then, we'll go back to Merchant City."

Luna still had her reservations. "Are you sure you can solve all of it?"

It was not because she did not believe in Joshua's capability, but the problems in Saigen City were quite complicated. While Thomas was locked up in prison for allegedly killing his father, Joshua still needed to handle the issues in Howard Group.

That was not all. He had to find evidence to prove Thomas' innocence and help to arrange Senior Howard's funeral. A week was just too rushed, and it did not help that Tina and Dan were causing more trouble! Furthermore, the issue with Steven and Gwen was hard to settle too. Gwen wished to sue the Miller family and the Hughes family, but both families were highly notable in Saigen City. Gwen could not take down these two families on her own.

Lastly, there were still many people making a scene outside of the Howard Group... Luna thought it was just impossible to settle all of those complicated problems within one week "I know it's hard, but I don't want to pull it back anymore."

This morning, Bonnie called to tell him about Jim. She also provided a piece of valuable information, saying, "Jim said he vaguely remembers he carried Shelly out from the room Luna used to stay in. I...suspect Shelly is Luna and your fourth child." Her hopeful voice still lingered in Joshua's ear. After cuddling with Luna, he used the meeting as an excuse to leave Luna. As he left the office, he placed strands of Luna's hair and his hair into Lucas' hand. "Send this back to Merchant City and give it to Bonnie immediately." Everything was just an assumption. To know if Shelly was truly their child, they needed the result of the paternity test. He must not tell Luna this until evidence was released. He did not want to disappoint her if the presumption was wrong.

At the entrance of a cafe in Saigen City. Denise looked at the address provided by Nigel. Once she confirmed she was at the right place, she took a deep breath and pushed the door to enter.

There was a man dressed in black with a cap sitting at a table by the window. He was having his coffee and looking outside the window. "Hi." After a deep breath, Denise walked over. "Are you the uncle Nigel mentioned?" Finally, the man returned to his senses and stood up. He reached out his hand for a handshake. "Hi. My name is Sean Wheeler."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2798

Chapter 2798

Looking at the handsome man with dark skin and a rather 'unruly' personality, Denise frowned. "So you're Nigel's uncle?"

Nigel's uncle had to be either related to Joshua or Luna...but this man's temperament was far different from them both!

"Yes." Sean curled up his lips and smiled. He pointed at the seat in front of him and hinted to Denise to sit.

Once Denise sat down, he waved his hand at a waiter to order a beverage for Denise. After the beverage was served, he looked up and took a good look at Denise before talking, "Nigel asked me to come to go look for Riley with you. Where is she now?"

Denise picked up the hot beverage and felt the warmth radiating from the glass. "She's in my brother's mansion in the countryside now. I think my brother has gone to help Joshua and is not in the mansion now, but..."

She looked at Sean. "There are people guarding the mansion. Do you..."

After taking a good look at Sean's thin figure, she frowned. "Don't you have any helper? If you are alone... I don't think there's any way to save her."

It was not because she did not believe in him, but Sean was just too thin. Steven knew how important Riley was because he knew she was Thomas and Yannie's daughter. He had to look after Riley very well just because he wanted to stay on Thomas' good side.

Therefore, the people he arranged to guard the mansion must be very good with their job.

Could such a thin, fragile-looking person like Sean be able to rescue Riley? She doubted it.

"I alone am enough." He curled up his lips and smiled. Before he stood up, he picked up coffee and finished the remaining. "Let's go. Lead the way please."

his

Denise furrowed her brow in disbelief. "It's really just you only?"

"Of course." He curled up his lips and walked to the counter to pay his check. After that, he went outside.

Denise's eyebrows furrowed. Despite being full of doubts, she still followed behind him.

"Mister, it's not that I don't believe in you..." As she got into Sean's car after leaving the cafe, she could not help but clarify herself with a frown, "It's just that those people my brother hired are not simple, so..."

"So you still have no faith in me." Sean raised his brow and smiled. He glanced at Denise. "I'm not as bad as you think."

Denise bit her lips at what Sean said. "I—"

"It's fine," Sean cut her off. "So, where should I go?"

After a moment of silence, Denise got out of the car and walked over to the driver's side. "I'll drive."

"Are you sure?" Sean looked at the slender woman and thought about his SUV. "This car isn't like the normal car you drive."

It was Denise's turn to taste doubt from the other party.

She sneered and opened the door to the driver's seat. "I've driven this type of car numerous times. Step out."

Sean smiled and got down when he saw her sweet face suddenly look so domineering. "I rented this car. If you damage it, I won't be able to pay for it."

"Don't worry. I can afford it," Denise replied.

By the time Denise finished talking, Sean was leaning back in the passenger seat with a cigarette in his mouth. "If you take down your family, then you'll no longer be the young miss of the Hughes family. Without that identity, can you still afford it?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 2799

Chapter 2799 The atmosphere of the car became dead silent as Sean spoke his mind. There was only smoke and silence filling up the closed space. After a while, Denise looked at Sean with a bitter smile. "Did Nigel tell you all of that?" "Half from him, and half from my own doing," Sean answered. Denise frowned and did not understand. "You found out by yourself? You're from Merchant City and are not related to anything here in Saigen City. Why do you want to investigate my family?"

Sean curled up his lips and took a huge puff of his cigarette. "Yes, neither my family nor my friends are related to Saigen City. This is also my first time here, and your family has nothing to do with me either. But..."

He looked to the side at Denise with his bright eyes. "Not long ago, I joined a gang in Merchant City. Every brother in the gang treated me very nicely, and they were very willing to accept me as one of them. However, there is a scar in their hearts that they can't heal." Upon rolling down the window, the breeze blew into the car and dispersed the smoke in the car. "More than three months ago, they lost their leader, and his seat would always be empty every time a meeting came up. At every gathering, they'd also prepare another set of cutleries. This is an unspoken way for them to remember their leader. It also pains me to see it, so I think I should do something for them." Once he finished, he raised his brow and looked at Denise. "Do you understand it now?" Denise kept quiet for the longest time. Finally, she bit her lip. "The leader that you're talking about... Is it Luke?"

All this while, she had been kept in the dark. She did not know about Luke and had always thought her brother was awakened from a vegetative state. Her par secret from her, too. It was until yesterday that she realized Luke was another brother of hers. The brother that she was looking at was the other twin brother.

That was why she would spend time getting to know Luke. However, the information she gathered was the information that was available on the internet; a gang leader who dominated Sea City and Merchant City. She thought these kinds of gang leaders were no different from the gangsters she often saw on the street.

Now that she heard Sean talk and reminisce about Luke with respect and nostalgia, she realized she was narrow-minded.

After a moment of silence, she spoke, "This Luke... What was he like?"

"He has a charming and unique personality." Sean took the last puff and threw the cigarette butt out the window. "Let's go." Only then did Denise regain her senses. She smiled embarrassingly and started the car engine. On the way to the mansion, she could not help but ask about Luke.

“After Luke passed away, did the gang elect a new leader?”

“No.” Sean squinted and looked ahead. “They’re waiting for him to go back.”

To others, he was here in Saigen City to help Joshua and Luna to look after Riley to ease their burden, but the truth was...

“Sean, we admire your bravery and courage, but you’re not qualified to be our boss.”

“What if I can get Luke’s information?” Sean asked.

“If you can find our boss, we’ll admit and let you be our second-in-charge. If the boss himself says that he no longer wants to be our boss, then you’ll be our boss in the future.”

The words from the person in charge of the gang kept lingering in Sean’s mind after he departed from Merchant City.

He closed his eyes silently. He knew that even though he shared the blood from the Lynch family, his childhood and younger years had decided his path. He could never be a successful businessman that everyone envied like Joshua or Jim.

However...

If he could achieve what Luke had achieved, that was another type of success, was it not?