Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is not Easy chapter 2931-Joshua's statement made the entire room go silent as everyone gaped at the pair of men onstage.

Everyone in Banyan City knew that Rianna, the most powerful businesswoman in the city at one point, died due to complications during childbirth, and at that time, Adrian even hosted a memorial for her.

At her funeral, Adrian cried his heart out, claiming that Rianna was the most selfless woman he had ever met and that she had chosen to give up her life just to continue the Lynch bloodline.

This was why even after so many years, everyone in Banyan City was under the impression that Adrian and Rianna were a match made in heaven, and that if Rianna had not died, they would have spent the rest of their lives together, happily ever after. At this moment, however...

Joshua's bold statement destroyed everyone's impression.

"Mr. Lynch, you can't frame your father with false accusations just to get out of paying our money back!" All of a sudden, someone yelled from among the crowd.

The entire room seemed to fall silent once more.

After a brief pause, someone else shouted, "That's right, Mr. Lynch. Are you and your father putting on another act just to get out of paying back your loans?"

"First, you claim that you're going to disown your father, and now, you're accusing him of being the mastermind behind your mother's death, instead of it being due to childbirth as previously claimed. Do you even have any evidence to support your claims?"

"Do you think we'll believe you just like that?"

"He's right-we'll never believe you unless you show us concrete evidence!"

Luna could not help furrowing her eyebrows when she heard the crowd beginning to protest.

After all, Joshua was, at one point, one of the most powerful men in the city, so she was surprised that when it came to a point that Joshua had become involved in a financial scandal, the people who had supported him in the past would turn on him.

"Of course I have evidence." Joshua curled his lips into a smirk as he swept his glance across the crowd, staring straight at the people who were questioning him. Then, he added coldly, "After all, I'm Adrian and Rianna's son, and I'd be the last person willing to believe that my father has killed my mother.

"I would rather believe that my mother died while she was giving birth to me, and it'd be an easier pill to swallow than the idea that my father had killed his wife, but after seeing the cold, hard facts, there's no doubt this is the truth."

With that, Joshua sighed and took out his phone. "Let's start."

As soon as he finished his sentence, a white screen lowered down from behind the stage, and at the same time, Jude instructed a few backstage workers to wheel out a projector, the beam directed straight at the screen.

Luna furrowed her brows when she saw this, then glanced at Joshua and asked in a voice barely above a whisper, "Since when did you arrange all this?"

Joshua curled his lips into a smirk. "I didn't-it was Adrian who planned all this, I just borrowed it for a moment."

Even though Adrian and Jacqueline's wedding seemed like a ludicrous prank in everyone's eyes, and Jacqueline had ulterior motives for marrying Adrian, he still could not help feeling proud of the fact that he had managed to convince a young woman into marrying a fifty-year-old man like him.

Therefore, Adrian requested specifically for a projector to be prepared, intending to showcase all of his and Jacqueline's wedding photos for the public to admire. Joshua was just borrowing his setup for a bit.

However, instead of the wedding photos Adrian had prepared, the projector displayed a series of evidence portraying Adrian's involvement in Rianna's murder!
