

Read Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is Not Easy Chapter 2947

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is not Easy chapter 2947—Even the air seemed to freeze when Luna’s blade sank into Jacqueline’s abdomen.

Just a few moments ago, everyone in the hall was stunned by the video shown on screen of Anne’s death, but everyone’s attention was gripped by the fact that Luna had stabbed another woman right in front of them!

Even Jacqueline was stunned by this. She widened her eyes in horror, staring at Luna.

How could this be? How did Luna dare to hurt her in front of everyone?

She slowly lowered her head.

The blade was entrenched deep in her abdomen, and bright red blood was seeping along the edge of the dagger, finally dripping onto the ground and staining the white floors a jarring shade of scarlet.

The shock dissipated from her eyes as she stared at the blood. Then, finally, Jacqueline lifted her head to stare at Luna, a triumphant sneer on her face.

“Luna,” she muttered, trying to stifle the excruciating pain as she sneered at the woman before her. “You’re dead.”

The reason she had gone to such great lengths to take revenge on Luna and Joshua was that she had no evidence of them actually killing Fiona. After all, no one had yet to find her corpse, much less any concrete evidence of their involvement in this.

Jacqueline knew that Luna and Joshua were behind Fiona’s death, but since she had no evidence, this was the only way she could get revenge on them, but at this moment, things had changed...

Although she still did not have any proof of Luna killing Fiona, one thing was clear Luna attacked her.

Almost everyone who was anyone in Banyan City was gathered here at the wedding, and Luna stabbed her in front of so many pairs of watchful eyes...

Not even Joshua could save Luna from this, no matter how powerful he was, unless he could somehow buy out everyone at the scene and prevent them from telling the truth...but this was impossible.

Most of them were Adrian's debtors and had gathered here to get their money back from Joshua.

Although Joshua had cut ties with Adrian, these people still harbored vengeance over their lost money, and if Joshua were to bribe them, they would surely make outrageous requests that Joshua would never be able to fulfill.

Not only would they ask for their money back, but they would also even go to great lengths to ask for more compensation, and no matter how powerful Joshua's business was, he would never be able to support so many people.

Therefore, Luna...would have to go to jail.

At the thought of this, Jacqueline sneered and grabbed hold of Luna's hand, which was still curled around the handle of the dagger, and sunk the blade even deeper into her own belly.

As the pain grew even more intense, the smile on her face widened. She stared at Luna intently and murmured, "You're dead, Luna. I'll let you rot your next ten years in jail."

Luna, who had lost almost all sense of rationality at this point, snickered at this. "Well, since I'm going to jail anyway, I might as well kill you so you'll meet Anne in the afterlife!”

With that, she yanked the dagger out and raised it, getting ready to stab Jacqueline once more.

“Luna!” Joshua lunged toward Luna, grabbing hold of her around the waist, and bending her wrist at an angle that loosened her grip around the dagger. The dagger clattered on the ground, and Joshua wrapped his arms around her. “Don’t fall for her trick! She’s trying to provoke you!”

Luna did not struggle against his grip and instead lifted her head to meet his head.

“She’s not trying to provoke me. I really want to kill her. I want to avenge Anne’s death!”

“Anne won’t return even if you kill her!”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-