

Read Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is Not Easy Chapter 3024

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is not Easy chapter 3024-By the time Joshua made his way to the building lobby, the driver from Lynch Mansion had just pulled the car over.

Luna opened the door and was just about to get in when someone grabbed hold of her arm.

She turned around with a frown and came face-to-face with Joshua's chiseled face.

Luna rolled her eyes as soon as she saw who it was. "What are you doing here?"

He sure seemed to be enjoying his meal with that attractive young woman, so why was he here all of a sudden?

"Lucas told me you came and left without saying another word, so I came to see what was happening." Joshua gestured for her to get in the car. "Why did you leave without saying hi?"

Luna rolled her eyes, then got into the car and turned to shoot him a murderous look. "Well, I saw how engrossed you were in that conversation with the charming young girl and didn't think it was my place to interrupt, Mr. Lynch."

Then, she glanced at him out of the corner of her eye and added, "Is that your new secretary? I've never seen her here before."

"Yes." Joshua nodded earnestly. "She's my new secretary, and she just joined two days ago. She—"

"She had the privilege of dining with the esteemed CEO after just two days of starting work here?" Luna cut him off with a scoff and shot him a contemptuous look. "You're getting more and more shameless, Mr. Lynch."

Whether it was Aura or Fiona, Joshua never once allowed them into his office to have lunch with him like this.

This woman had just joined the company for two days, yet he had broken all his rules for her. Was he becoming more and more shameless, or just plain disrespectful?

Did this mean that he would go so far as to bed another new female employee when she was not around in the future?

The more Luna thought about this, the angrier she got, so she turned her head aside to stare out the window and remained silent.

Joshua could not help feeling amused by the sight. He curled his lips into a smile, staring at her for a long time, before finally saying, "Her name is Tara Moore."

Luna glanced at him in disdain. "What a pretty name."

"What I'm saying is..." Joshua smirked, then reached out to pull Luna into his arms. "Her surname is Moore, just like Christian Moore, Rianna Moore, and Eanne Moore."

Luna, who had initially been struggling against his grasp, froze when she heard this. She turned to gape at him. "Are you saying...that she's a relative of yours?"

"Yes." Joshua sighed. "A few days ago when we got into that fight, I reflected on my part in this. You're right; I failed to take your feelings into consideration, so I sent some of my men to track John down.

"According to them, John and Sammie had been to plenty of cities during these few months, with the most recent one being Jordan City, where my maternal grandfather resided.

"Therefore, I got in contact with my relatives in hopes they'd be able to help me."

With that, Joshua pressed a kiss onto Luna's forehead and continued, "Although I didn't manage to find John there, they sent Tara over in hopes that I'd be able to teach her my ways of business."

As he said this, he gently pinched Luna's cheek playfully. "Why else would I allow her to have lunch with me in my office? It's because she's my cousin."