Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is not Easy chapter 3075-“I don't need any special treatment.” John grinned at Tara.” All I want is the opportunity to participate.”

Tara furrowed her brow slightly at this but said nothing. Finally, she turned and left the room.

To her surprise, she ran right into Luna, who had just gotten off the elevator.

Luna, too, was just as startled to see her here.

Surely Tara, who was obsessed with Joshua, would be at Moore Group with Joshua at this moment, getting some quality time with her favorite 'cousin'. Why was she at the hospital, then?

“Hello, Luna.” Tara smiled sheepishly when she saw Luna.

Luna frowned and shot her a cold glance. “What are you doing here?”

Was Tara here to see Gwen? That did not make sense; she and Gwen did not know each other at all. Why would she visit her?

Tara paused, but before she could come up with an excuse, Robyn's voice rang out behind her. “Miss Moore!”

Robyn sprinted toward them and handed the card to Tara, panting. Miss Moore, my brother doesn't want to accept this gift. He hadn't intended to get any sort of reward when he saved the old man. He did so out of kindness, so we won't accept your money.

“All he wants is a fair chance to contend with other competing companies at the public bid. He doesn’t want to be indebted to you for anything.” Robyn sighed.

The truth was, she wanted nothing more than to keep the money. After all, this amount would be more than enough to cover Anne’s medical bills and keep their entire family afloat, so why not?

However, John insisted he did not deserve this money and thus refused to accept it.

He saved the old man out of kindness, and if he chose to accept the money, it would make it seem he saved the man for ulterior motives.

After all, this was 75 thousand dollars. He could not hold this to his conscience!

Robyn knew there was no point arguing with him, so she came out to return the card to Tara.

“Miss Young, is... Is that you?” Luna recognized her immediately.

“What a coincidence.” Robyn’s grip tightened around the card when she saw Luna, and she gave her a rather awkward smile. “I didn’t know you’d be here, too.”

“Yes, what a surprise.” Luna paused for a moment, then asked, “How’s the food? Does your brother like it?”

Robyn nodded. “Yes, he says it’s delicious.”

Alarm bells sounded in Tara’s head at this sight. What was going on? Did Luna somehow find out John was here?

Not only that, but she even bought food for him.

Was Joshua and her efforts all for nothing?

At the thought of this, Tara glanced at Luna dubiously and asked, "Luna, you... How do you know Miss Young?"

"We met briefly," Luna replied, glancing first at Tara, then at the card in Robyn's hand. "What's going on here?"
