Pursuing My Ex-Wife Is not Easy chapter 3084-“I did,” Luna answered abruptly.

Luna smiled and jumped out from Tara’s back when she heard Gwen’s worried voice.

“Gwen, you are my best friend. How could you keep me in the dark when you know about John? What were you thinking?” Luna asked and pretended to be angry.

It gave Gwen a scare to see Luna suddenly appear in front of her.

After a while, she quickly waved her hand and tried to explain, “I don’t want to hide it from you but...”

She thought fast, “Joshua was the one who told me to keep it from you. He said he was afraid you would act recklessly and go look for John...”

After that, she quickly stood up, smiled, and approached Luna to hold Luna’s hand.

“Why would I do such a thing? I really wanted to tell you about it last night when I found out.”

Luna could not pretend anymore and chuckled when she saw how worried Gwen was.

“You’re so smart. You know no matter how angry I’m at Joshua, he would try all methods to make me happy.”

In the meantime, she glanced at Tara and asked, “So when did you and Tara get along so well?”

If she remembered it correctly, it was just yesterday morning that Gwen shared the same thought with her when it came to Tara. Both of them did not have a good impression of Tara.

Suddenly, Gwen smiled awkwardly, “When I found out she was a fan of yours. Because of that, I don’t feel that way anymore.”

Luna raised her brow and looked at Tara.

All of a sudden, Tara felt shy and blushed.

“I have been a fan of your works. The reason that I travel all the way to Banyan City to look for Joshua is that I’m getting engaged two months later. I’m hoping you can design a set of jewelry for me as my engagement present. But you were in jail because of Anne... So I don’t know how to tell you.

Then I asked my father to come out with an excuse so I can go look for Joshua because of some business matter.”

“The only reason I flirted with Joshua was because... He said you’re not being yourself lately. And he wanted to do something to provoke and motivate you so you will pull yourself together...”

After that, she looked at Luna with her puppy-liked eyes and said, “Now that I told you everything, please don’t be angry at me anymore. Blame Joshua. I’m innocent. He’s the one who asked me to do all that. I’m still hoping you will agree to design a set of jewelry for me.”

Luna could feel how sincere Tara was but she remained silent because she was surprised Joshua was the one who was behind everything. She was also shocked that Tara was getting engaged. It angered her more knowing Joshua still asked Tara to make her jealous when he knew Tara was getting engaged soon.

‘Joshua Lynch! Damn you!’ she thought.

Suddenly, she thought of something and asked with a frown. “Where is your boyfriend? Does he know what Joshua makes you do? Does he mind it?”

At this point, she did not care how she felt but she was worried if that would affect the relationship between Tara and her boyfriend.

“He knows. And he’s very supportive of the idea too. In fact, you saw my boyfriend before and you knew him too,” Tara answered smilingly.

“I know him?” Luna frowned.
