

Luna laughed, "With your relationship with Mr. Lynch, do you still need to use such a way for him to owe you one?"

Jude gracefully placed the teacup down. He flatly glanced at Luna. "What I'm saying is the truth. It's the truth."

Then, Jude yawned and looked at Theo. "You invited me over just so your girlfriend can interrogate me? "

Theo laughed. Jude called Luna his girlfriend. He was extremely pleased about that.

"Mr. Smith, don't mind her. Luna is just being curious."

"There is nothing to be curious about."

Jude elegantly lifted his gaze and looked at Luna. "I might expand into the jewelry business in the future.

There is nothing wrong in making an acquaintance with you, Ms. Luna."

Jude placed his business card in front of Luna. "If you have plans of changing companies, contact me. Although Joshua and I are friends, things like poaching his staff should still be done."

Then, Jude gracefully adjusted the tie on his neck, turned around, and left.

Luna remained seated on the chair. Looking at Jude's business card with his contact on it, her gaze was complicated.

All of the reasons that Jude gave could not convince her. In her eyes, all those reasons were only just Jude finding excuses to do things on behalf of Joshua.

If it were not for Joshua, Luna did not believe that Jude would help her so wholeheartedly.

Jude's shoddy reasons were only a way of trying to redeem Joshua's pride.

After all, Joshua has already said that besides work, he would not meddle in any of her affairs in the future.

However...

Luna lowered her gaze. Even if Joshua has already said those things, why would he still secretly help her using such cumbersome methods?

Could it just be because she was the best jewelry designer in his company?

That was not too realistic.

After all, although she was brilliant and great in jewelry design, Joshua has only stepped into the jewelry industry not long ago.

The Lynch Group was involved in many industries. They did not have to go into jewelry, nor did they really have to hire her.

However...

If Joshua helped her was not because of work, then what was it for?

Luna thought of a possibility, then, she shook her head. Forget about it.

How could Joshua like her? Luna, in Joshua's eyes, was only a crush who was a good match with him in bed.

He still cared for Alice the most, right?

"Luna?"

Suddenly, Theo's voice pulled her back to reality.

She lifted her head and noticed Theo looking at her with concerns.

Luna furrowed her brows. "What is it?"

"You..." Theo looked at her hand. "You put your hand into the teacup."

Luna was surprised. She immediately took her hand out and wiped it with a tissue.

"Luckily the tea is warm. If it was boiling hot, you would have burned your hand."

Theo sighed, "What are you thinking about, if you're in such a daze?"

Luna lowered her head. "Nothing much."

"My performance went quite well."

Coming out from Bamboo Palace, Jude directly got in the black Maseratee by the entrance.

"It looked like she accepted my reasons."

In the back seat, Joshua's long slender fingers were flipping through the documents on his lap. "You better hope so."

"But, Luna and Theo are quite a match. They're pretty artsy-fartsy. When I entered, I heard them discussing what the skull meant as an element."

Joshua, who was flipping through his documents, stopped his actions.

He lifted his gaze and looked at Jude. "So what did the skull element represent?"

Jude did not expect that Joshua would be interested in this topic.

He responded and tried to think back.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 622 "Theo said that the skull as an element represented a dispirited object."

"Luna said..." Jude thought for a while before saying,

“The skull represented evil and coldness, also something that should have died long ago yet it still existed. That’s what she said.”

Joshua gripped the documents so tightly his knuckles started to turn white.

That design sketch that he took from Luna’s office was still in his study.

He thought that Luna would design something meaningful for him, modeling his hand after her sketches.

However, he did not expect that this was the meaning behind it. Evil and cold.

Something that should have long died, yet still existed.

Turns out, this was how Luna viewed him. He even still tried to find ways to help her and Theo in this matter.

Joshua narrowed his eyes. He closed his documents coldly. “Lucas, go.”

Jude raised his eyebrows. “We’re leaving just like that?”

“If not?” Joshua coldly swept Jude a gaze. “What?”

Should we go up and have a cup or two with them?”

Jude furrowed his brows. Why did he feel that Joshua was suddenly unhappy? He did not say anything much to him that made him unhappy, right?

After returning home from the Bamboo Palace, Luna had a video call with all three of her children. She was in a good mood.

Neil and Nellie were in the dorm of their summer camp.

They were eating while chatting with her, telling her about the new friends they made in the summer camp.

Nigel was in the bed in the hospital. He was typing away on the keyboard while listening to them chat. It was quiet and peaceful.

There was a time difference, after all, Luna was not afraid that she would affect her children’s bedtime, so she kept smiling and chatting with them.

When it was late at night, the three of them hung up at the same time so that she could rest properly.

Luna was helpless, she could only hang up and go back to her room.

She flipped around in bed, unable to sleep. She switched on her phone and looked at the news.

It was all about Irene and Yvonne that day. After the press conference ended that morning, Irene immediately packed up her belongings and returned to her hometown.

She said that the big city life did not suit her.

Yvonne and the management company behind her were involved in multiple crimes. They were prosecuted.

Over at Sea City, the remaining men of the Walter family were almost all brought down.

Among all the piles of news, there was a small headline. (Joshua Lynch's Father-In-Law Joseph Gibson Sentenced to Five Years in Prison for Assault.)

Luna tapped the news and looked at the photo. Joseph in the photo has aged much more and looked much more haggard, yet Luna had no emotions in her heart.

This middle-aged man was once her father whom she respected the most.

However, at that moment, seeing him being sentenced to jail, she has no whatsoever reaction anymore.

It was as if he was just a stranger.

In fact, she has already become strangers with the Gibson family. There had been too many disappointments.

At the end of the article, was an interview with Natasha and Alice.

In the video, Natasha was crying while Alice was much calmer compared to her.

It was only that...

At the end of the video, the reporters asked Alice a juicy question, "Mrs. Lynch. You and your husband already have two cute children. Have you ever thought of having another one?"

Alice smiled gently. "Yes, we have thought about it, but Joshua has been too busy recently. When he is less busy, we will consider it."

Later on, the reporters asked a few more questions regarding Joshua. Alice calmly and gently replied to them all. Her eyes were filled with tenderness and affection. Luna's heart was long numb to this, but it still ached a little.

Irene has gone back to her hometown. Yvonne has gone to prison.

Alice, the main culprit, still could safely express her love in front of the camera.

Luna suddenly understood why Joshua got Jude to help her and Theo.

Perhaps, the person Joshua most wanted to help and protect...

Was Alice.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 623 After the incident with Irene, Luna had no longer seen Joshua.

As the project was coming to an end, she got busier.

Luna no longer had the time to think of him.

Finally, the project was completed on time.

Luna's designs were sold out once they went on the market.

"As expected from Moon the great designer, you're better than the rest! "

Sitting on the sofa, Anne was eating fruits while listening to the news. She turned to look at Luna who was packing up.

"How many days of leave did Joshua give you?"

Luna continued packing. "This morning, Lucas sent me a message. Half a month."

Anne furrowed her brows. "You still haven't seen Joshua?"

Upon mentioning that, Luna could not help but furrow her brows and sigh, "Yes."

After Irene's press conference, Joshua had been deliberately avoiding her.

No matter whether Luna went to his office or in a meeting, she would not see him anywhere.

She has tried to wait for him in his office or downstairs but to no avail.

At that thought, a deep sense of helplessness overwhelmed Luna.

Even if they had been apart for more than six years, Joshua was still the same as back then.

As long as he wanted or if he was willing to do it, even if Luna used all her might, she would not be able to see him at all.

Luna even asked Lucas how on earth did she offend Joshua. Lucas stuttered and could not give an answer either.

However, thank goodness that Nigel's sickness was turning for the better throughout that time.

The doctor said that if nothing unexpected were to happen to Nigel, he could live for a few more years, so the bone marrow transplant could wait longer.

However...

As the thought of how challenging it was to see Joshua, Luna's head hurt uncontrollably.

Initially, she thought that as long as she did a great job and successfully completed this project for him. Joshua would see her and their relationship would get better, but Luna was wrong.

Even if the project was a success and Luna became the envy of everyone in the company, she still did not see Joshua, so much so that Joshua even got Lucas to thank her and award her on his behalf.

Luna thought long and hard. She could not recall where she had offended Joshua.

If it was because of Irene's incident and Luna did not tell him where Hailey was, it was quite impossible for Joshua to be angry about this for that long, right?

"Do Neil and Nellie know that you are going to see them in summer camp?"

Anne's questions pulled Luna back to reality. Luna shook her head. "I plan to give them a surprise."

Anne was munching on an apple. "John said that you're a famous designer in demand right now. To celebrate the completion of your project, he and I want to celebrate with you tonight and have a meal together."

Luna placed the last of her clothes into her luggage and swiftly zipped it up. "You two go ahead. I have already asked Theo out."

Anne paused for a while. "You and Theo... don't tell me that you have really gotten together? I see he cares for you too. What are you thinking about?"

Luna raised her eyebrows. "Before I find a cure for Nigel, I won't think about all these."

Furthermore, if she were to consider a partner, the first person she should consider should be Malcolm Quinn.

"I'm going out tonight to discuss our breakup."

Back then, Luna was forced to admit her relationship with Theo because of a misunderstanding.

At that moment, it had been three months since that misunderstanding.

It was about time to announce a breakup.

Anne pursed her lips. "How heartless."

Luna and Theo agreed to meet at Bamboo Palace.

When Luna reached, Theo was waiting for her at the entrance. He was in a white suit that day, looking handsome, artistic, and elegant.

Theo was standing by the entrance with a huge bouquet of flaming-red roses. He had a joyful smile on his face.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 624 Looking at Theo from a distance, he looked like a teenager in love.

Across the road, once Luna got down from the taxi, she immediately saw Theo hugging the bouquet of roses and smiling from ear to ear.

The vein on Luna's forehead popped.

The reason she asked Theo out that night was to end things properly. In her pocket, there was a pair of rings that she made herself to wish Theo and his future partner all the happiness.

However, at that moment, looking at the bouquet of roses in Theo's arms, she had mixed feelings.

"Watch out! "

Just when Luna was looking at Theo, wondering how to continue the date that night, a male's voice suddenly rang out from behind her.

Luna furrowed her brows and instinctively turned back to look.

In front of her eyes was a silvery flash of the blade of a knife. Just when the knife was less than 10 centimeters away from her head, Luna's heart instinctively beat aggressively. She subconsciously took a step back.

Thud!

The man who was waving the knife at her knelt to the ground and the knife fell onto the ground with a clunk. Luna was stunned. She came to her senses only after a long while.

When she comes to her senses, the man that was about to stab her a moment ago has been apprehended by two burly men in black.

"Take him back to Sea City."

A man next to them lit a cigarette and coldly instructed them.

Luna furrowed her brows. "Luke Jones?"

Luke smiled thuggishly. "Tsk, how rare of you, a great designer, to still remember me."

He let out a puff of smoke.

"How much does the Walter family hate you? This man escaped to Banyan City. I initially thought he came to seek refuge with Joshua. Turns out, he came here to kill you."

Luke lowered his head and kicked away the fruit knife on the ground.

"If it were not for Joshua's wisdom and alertness that predicted that he would come for you, your life might have ended here tonight."

Luna furrowed her brows and subconsciously looked behind Luke.

As expected, not far in the distance from Luke, she saw Joshua.

He still wore the same black handmade tailored suit that he had worn for years. He was so regal and cold that it kept one at a distance.

Compared to the last time she saw him, Joshua has gotten thinner and a little bit more distant and cold.

He was leaning against a red-bricked wall of one of the shops, with his head lowered, scrolling on his phone. It was as if Luke and Luna had nothing to do with him.

Luna gritted her teeth.

All this while, she had resorted to all ways to try to see him and get closer to him.

However, she failed every single time.

Luna did not expect to see him here at such a moment.

She was just ambushed and almost died, but the person that yelled at her to watch out was Luke.

The people that kicked the thug over were Luke's men.

Joshua, on the other hand, the man that Luna thought she knew best, did nothing at all when she encountered such a dangerous situation. He even pretended that nothing had happened and continued playing on his phone.

A sense of bitterness appeared in Luna's heart.

Even though she and he did not have much of a relationship, just based on the fact that she just helped Joshua bloom in the jewelry business, this should not be the attitude of Joshua at that moment.

"Are you still going to chat?"

Joshua, who had his head lowered all this while, kept his phone. He flatly swept a glance at Luke. "Things are done. Let's go."

Then, Joshua turned and was about to leave.

Luke furrowed his brows. Even he could see that there was something wrong between Joshua and Luna.

When they were on the way there, Joshua was still worried that Luna might get injured. He chose to drive himself and raced all the way there, yet, once he reached, he pretended as if it had nothing to do with him?

"Joshua Lynch! "

Luna furrowed her brows and rushed forward. She opened her arms wide and blocked his path.

"How long are you going to avoid me for?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 625 Joshua raised his eyebrows and flatly swept a glance across Luna's face.

He has not seen her for a long time.

Ever since he knew the meaning of her design, he has been trying to avoid her at all costs.

Since she said that he was evil and aloof, a person that should have long died, why should he appear in front of her and make each other unhappy?

Only that, Joshua did not expect that Luna would openly block his path in the streets.

Joshua lit a cigarette. He stood there elegantly mixed with a hint of thuggishness.

"I'm avoiding you?" "Are you not?"

Luna raised her head and met his gaze fearlessly. "I have been trying to look for you all this while but fail every single time. If I attend a company meeting, you will refuse to join in. If you're not avoiding me, then what are you doing?"

Joshua inhaled a huge puff of the cigarette and turned to look opposite the road.

Outside Bamboo Palace, Theo, in white, was still hugging a bouquet of roses. He lowered his head and looked at his watch and looked around anxiously at the same time.

Joshua smiled and exhaled smoke at Luna. "Ms. Luna, you leave your boyfriend waiting for you, yet here you are questioning me if I'm avoiding you or not. It's not good, right?"

Luna bit her lips. Of course, she knew that being late was not a good thing. Obviously, she was already late!

However, to her, the chances of being able to bump into Joshua were much rarer.

Luna bit her lips. "Joshua, answer me. How long are you planning to avoid me? All this while, I have thought long and hard. I have never done anything that made you angry or dissatisfied. Also, now I've already helped your jewelry company have a great start. I want to know the reason you're avoiding me."

Joshua sneered, "You don't need to know." Then, Joshua lifted his legs and was about to go around Luna.

Luna furrowed her brows. She unrelentingly opened her arms wide, continuing blocking in his path.

"Joshua, how the hell have I offended you?" Joshua was rather annoyed. He sneered. "Ms. Luna, don't you know it clearly?"

Joshua took another puff of the cigarette. He was wrapped in a mist of smoke. He swept Luna a flat gaze.

“Evil, cold, something that should have long died but still existed. Isn’t this how I am in your opinion?”

Then, Joshua raised his hands and flung Luna’s hand away with force. He turned and left frigidly.

Luna remained in the same spot, stunned.

Cold, evil, and something that should have long died

Her brain stopped working for two seconds before Luna finally understood.

Previously, Joshua took away her design with a skull that she once drew for Nellie as a game.

Also, after Irene’s incident came to an end, she and Theo met with Joshua’s best friend, Jude.

When Jude entered, Theo and she were still discussing what the skull symbolizes.

Those words from Joshua seemed to be the explanation she gave Theo previously, about what the skull meant to her.

At that thought, Luna’s body could not help but stiffen.

Thus...

Did Joshua think that she thought of him as someone evil, cold, and should be long dead?

Although back then when she drew this, this was her thought.

However, at that moment, she needed Joshua. She needed to get close to him.

“Tsk, tsk. Looks like you guys are in a fight.” Suddenly, Luke’s thuggish voice rang out in her ears. Luna lifted her head.

In front of her, Luke inhaled the last puff of the cigarette.

He threw the cigarette butt into the bin. “You two are pretty interesting. The first time I met Joshua was because he wanted to rescue you.

“That day at the abandoned factory, seeing him carrying you away, I thought you two were a pair. Who would have thought that you two weren’t?

What are you two playing at now? A lover’s quarrel?”

Luna lowered her gaze. “You won’t understand.”

“I don’t understand you women,” Luke sneered, “you and your best friend. Both of you are equally difficult to deal with.”

Upon hearing Luke mentioning Gwen, Luna lowered her head and straightened her coat.

She asked casually, “Is she still alright?”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 626 All this while, Luna had been busy working and trying to find a chance to meet Joshua. She has not contacted Gwen for a very long time.

“She’s not too well.” Luke shrugged. “She’s pregnant.”

Luna suddenly looked up. “Pregnant?”

“Yes.”

Luke furrowed her brows and fished out another cigarette from his pocket in annoyance.

“Actually, this time I came to Banyan City to look for you. I want you to persuade her.”

Luke lit the cigarette and took a deep puff. “She had the child for a few months already.

According to the time, the child should belong to the monsters that raped her back then.”

Luna’s blood froze instantly upon Luke’s words. How could this have happened?

Luna’s voice was hoarse. “Did she... not take any medication after the incident?”

Luke laughed, “Do you think she would have gotten pregnant if she had taken the medication?”

Luna was rendered speechless.

Luke lowered his head. He sounded a little depressed.

“She was heavily injured back then, her situation was complicated. After the incident, you guys were anxious to leave. I only had a bunch of men who knew about nothing with me. We never would have expected such a thing to happen. A few days ago, she kept puking non -stop. We initially thought that it was a digestive system problem, who knew that she was actually pregnant.”

Luna’s body fumbled.

She thought of the situation back then.

Gwen was targeted by the Walter family back then because of her.

However, at that time, the situation was in too much chaos, even Luna, as a woman, forgot about the contraceptive pill, let alone the bunch of rough men in Jones Gang.

Luna bit her lips. Her voice was hoarse. “So how is she right now?”

“The doctor said that her body is not in a good condition, we cannot just simply abort the baby. If not, she might be infertile in the future and it would be a danger to her life. I also felt that she should keep the child for her own sake, but she’s reluctant to do it. She said that she felt disgusted at the thought of the child. She tried to kill herself a few days ago, but I stopped her. She is currently in the hospital under twenty-four-hour surveillance by my men. I got two psychologists to accompany her, but it's not working very well."

The more Luke explained, the more annoyed he got. "I've also already told her. Once she gave birth to the child, give me the child. I'm looking to adopt anyway, but she is unwilling. The only reason why I didn't leave with Joshua is that I wanted to ask you if you were willing to follow me to Sea City to persuade her. This woman treats her emotional well-being much more important than her life."

Luna's face instantly turned pale.

Luke was a man. He would not have understood that if Gwen gave birth to the child...

That meant that it constantly reminded Gwen that she had once been sexually assaulted.

This was not only Gwen. Any other woman would not have been able to accept it as well.

However, if she were to abort the child...

Luna pursed her lips and considered for a long time. In the end, she took a deep breath. "I'll come with you."

Although she has already made the decision to visit Neil and Nellie in summer camp, she could visit them at a later time.

Gwen needed her more urgently at the moment.

"Luna! "

Suddenly, Luna heard Theo's voice coming from the distance. She furrowed her brows and lifted her head. Theo, at that moment, had already crossed the road with a bouquet of roses in his arms, approaching them.

Luna furrowed her brows and looked at Luke. "When are you going back to Sea City?"

"Tomorrow."

"Okay." Luna took a deep breath. She passed a piece of paper with her contact on it to Luke.

"Contact me tomorrow."

"Why are you so anxious to leave?" Luke smiled and swept Theo a glance. "Your boyfriend?"

Luna pursed her lips. "You consider it so."

"How messy." Luke mockingly smiled and directly reached his arm out and placed it on Luna's shoulder. Then, he thuggishly looked at Theo, who was coming their way.

“Bro, she said that she’s going away with me tomorrow.”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 627 Theo furrowed his brows and looked at Luna.

“Who is he?”

Luna helplessly took Luke’s arm off her shoulders. “

A friend.”

“How do you have friends like that?” Theo swept Luke a cold glance. Then, he stuffed the huge bouquet of roses in Luna’s arms. “Let’s go. I have been waiting for you for a long time.”

There were people walking in the streets. Luke was still next to her, Luna felt embarrassed to put the bouquet of roses down, so she could only carry it. She turned to look at Luke.

“Remember to contact me tomorrow.”

Then, Luna turned around and left together with Theo.

Once they crossed the road, Theo subconsciously turned around to look.

Luke, across the road, was still standing by the bin smoking. He seemed to be troubled by something.

Theo did not like men like Luke, who constantly had a cigarette with them and looked like a thug. “How come I never knew that you had friends like that?”

Luna turned and swept a glance in Luke’s direction.

“What about it?”

She knew that Theo had grown up in his grandfather’s house in a family of scholars. He was also accomplished in art. Surely, he could not accept a person like Luke, who came from a poor background and looked like a thug.

Theo narrowed his eyes. “Don’t mix with people like that in the future.”

He hated people like that.

Luna rolled her eyes and laughed, “But, he is a friend of my friend. I’m planning to follow him to Sea City to visit my friend tomorrow.”

Theo stopped in his tracks. “You’re really going to go away with him tomorrow?”

Theo thought that Luke was deliberately trying to trick him a moment ago.

Luna, who was next to him, nodded. She strode into Bamboo Palace.

“My friend is sick, I plan to go and visit her.”

“But...” Theo caught up after her. He slowly fished out two tickets from his pocket.

“I have already bought tomorrow’s flight ticket...”

Luna was led by a waiter into a private box. She placed the bouquet of roses by the side. Then, she looked at Theo in surprise.

“Flight ticket?”

“Hmm.” Theo nodded. He placed the flight tickets in front of Luna. “To Saigen City. A six days seven nights for the two of us.”

Looking at Luna’s shocked face, Theo lowered his head. He sounded a little depressed. “Don’t you have a half month’s leave? Saigen City is close to Neil and Nellie’s summer camp. After our trip, we only need half a day to reach the summer camp. We can still have fun with Neil and Nellie for a few more days.”

Luna was so stunned she was rendered speechless. When Theo asked her previously if she had any rest after the project, Luna casually replied to him that she had half a month off.

However, she did not expect that... Theo would secretly plan and arrange her time for her so thoroughly.

Luna was silent for a long time before she raised her head and looked at him.

“Theo. Have you forgotten that... we’re only pretending to be lovers?”

Between them, there should not be a bouquet of roses, there should not even be a six days seven nights trip for the two of them.

Theo lowered his head and smiled shyly. “I know, you and I are just pretending, but...”

He raised his head and looked at Luna. “I hope that we will become a real couple. I’m serious, Luna. Give me a chance. When you finish settling Nigel’s matter, let’s get married, shall we? I will be like their biological father. I’ll take good care of the three of them. I...”

“Theo.”

Luna closed her eyes and interrupted him in a low voice. “You deserve much better.”

She took a deep breath and opened her eyes. “You’re a great guy. I, on the other hand, not only do I have three kids, but I also had a terrible previous marriage.”

Theo furrowed his brows.

“But you have already changed your looks. You’re no longer the Luna Gibson from before. No one knows about your marriage in the past. I also don’t care about it!”

“But I do.”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 628 una took a deep breath. She downed the tea on the table in one go.

"You're a gentle and kind-hearted man. You deserve a much better woman and deserve to find better happiness. Not with a woman who had just climbed out from the depths of hell."

Then, she placed the empty teacup on the table and looked at Theo meaningfully. "The reason why I asked you out tonight..."

"Is to thank you for helping me. Now that the storm has passed, no one is caring about your private life anymore. No one cares about me anymore either. We it's time to announce to the public about our breakup."

The light in Theo's eyes dimmed a little. He looked at Luna and opened his mouth. His face was a little ashen.

"I thought..."

Theo lowered his head. "I thought that you asked me out..."

He did not finish his sentence.

"But, I can understand." Theo took a deep breath, raised his head, and looked at Luna. "You have been hurt so badly. It's normal that you won't accept another man. Don't worry, I will stay by your side and wait for you to slowly regain trust in love."

Then, he shredded the tickets stylishly and threw them into the bin.

"You have your things to attend to. Go and do them tomorrow. I'll come with you."

Luna rubbed the middle of her brows.

"Theo, don't be stubborn. It won't come to fruition."

"Whether to continue or not is my decision to make, not yours." Theo smiled at her and directly picked up the menu. "Let's order."

Luna furrowed her brows. Throughout that night, she tried to find a chance to get Theo to give up on her, but Theo would not budge. He would even openly change the topic.

Luna was helpless. In the end, she could only let him be, After all, she has already said what she needed to say repeatedly.

The next day at four in the morning, when Luna was still asleep, she received Luke's call.

"Come down."

Luna groggily opened her eyes. "So early?"

“Hmm.” Luke’s voice was low and cold. “Gwen sliced her wrist.”

Luna instantly jumped up from the bed.

“How is she?”

“We found out in time, nothing serious.” Luke’s voice, on the other end of the line, sounded low and depressed.

“But, she’s not in a stable mental state.

I’m worried for her. It’s better if we get back earlier.”

“I’ll come down now.” Luna took a deep breath and immediately picked up the luggage that she had packed to see Neil and Nellie the day before and directly headed out.

The morning air was rather cold. Luna shuddered while putting her luggage in the trunk. Then, she quickly opened the car door and got in the back seat.

Once she entered, she noticed that besides her, there was another man in the back seat of Luke’s car.

Joshua, who was in black, was leaning back on the leather back seat. He closed his eyes resting.

Luna was stunned. Why was he there?

“Mr. Lynch needed to do something in Sea City with me, so he tagged along.”

Luke sat in the passenger seat in front. He calmly looked at Luna from the rearview mirror.

“If you don’t want to sit with him, you can sit in the car of one of my men.”

Luna smiled and looked at Joshua closely. “No, I can stay here.”

To be able to be in close contact with Joshua was exactly what she always wanted.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 629 The driver started the car and drove.

Luke sat in the passenger seat in front. He furrowed his brows and looked at his phone. Luna did not know what he was looking at.

After a long while, he kept his phone and glanced at Luna in the rearview mirror, looking at her dark circles under her eyes. “If you’re sleepy, sleep for a while. Gwen heard from the doctors that you’re going to visit her today, she’s stable for the time being.”

Then, Luke laughed self-deprecatingly, “Women sure are weird. No matter how my men and I tried to persuade her, she would not listen at all. Once she heard that you’re going to visit her, she immediately obeyed.”

Luna smiled. “Because none of you are women, you won’t understand how a woman feels.”

Luke shrugged. "That's true. After all, both of you have been best friends for more than ten years."

"More than ten years?"

Upon Luke's words, Joshua, who was in the back seat, furrowed his brows and opened his eyes.

The car was in silence at that instance.

Luna froze.

She never thought that Gwen would tell Luke that they were best friends for more than ten years.

Her identity at that moment was no longer Gwen's best friend back then.

Joshua turned his head around and looked at Luna coldly.

"You already knew Gwen for more than ten years?"

Luna lowered her head. She clasped her hands together.

"Yes."

If she were to deny at this moment, according to Joshua's character, he might interrogate Gwen.

Rather than throwing this difficult for Gwen to handle, Luna would rather answer Joshua herself.

Luna lifted her head and looked out of the window.

"Gwen and I were online friends more than ten years ago."

Luke, sitting by the passenger seat in front, raised his eyebrows. "Online friends?"

"Yes."

Luna took a deep breath and raised her head. "We used to play an online game called Lost. We knew each other from there and became best friends later on."

Luna guessed that Gwen must have casually mentioned to Luke that they were best friends for more than ten years. She would not tell him the truth of how they knew each other. After all, that involved her true identity.

Therefore, Luna casually mentioned an online game that she had once played with Gwen when they were still in school to become the reason that they met.

Luke was rather surprised. "The two of you don't look like people who would play online games."

Luna smiled. "There are so many more things you don't know about us."

She yawned and turned to look out of the window.

"Gwen and I became good friends in the game back then.

It was only that I knew how she looked but she did not know about me.

"The last time when I was in Sea City, she did not like me at first. Later on, when she knew of my identity, we became friends again.”

Using this relationship of online gaming friends, Luna directly went with the flow and explained her conflict with Gwen previously.

Joshua was playing with the ring on his finger. His gaze was deep.

“I see.”

Luna pursed her lips. She did not know whether Joshua bought it or not.

Anyway, after visiting Gwen this time, she had to explain this matter to Gwen clearly.

“Actually, I also have played Lost before.”

After a long while, Joshua raised his head and gazed at Luna coldly. “Which section do you play at?”

Luna was stunned for a long while before coming to her senses. “I was at... Section One.”

“What a coincidence. I also play Section One.”

Joshua smiled and swept Luna a cold glance. “Such a coincidence.”

Luna felt extremely sheepish.

She had indeed played Lost with Gwen for some time, but the people in the game who knew them knew that they were a pair of real-life best friends.

If Joshua were to investigate this, her identity might be exposed...

Luna secretly clenched her fists tightly.

It looked like using games as a cover was not a good choice.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 630 However, who would have expected that a man like Joshua had also played such a game before too?

At that thought, Luna smiled. She raised her hand and yawned. “Luke, how long till we reach Sea City?”

Luke looked at the time. “About four hours.”

Then, he swept Luna a concerned glance. “If you're really tired, sleep for a while. We'll reach by noon.”

Luna nodded. She turned and looked at Joshua rather apologetically. “If you have played Lost before, perhaps we might have even known each other online many years before. Let's catch up once I wake up.”

Then, Luna yawned and directly leaned back on the leather seat. She closed her eyes and pretended to sleep. Actually, Luna could not even fall asleep.

She squinted her eyes and looked at Joshua through the crack of her eyes.

Joshua looked at her with a darkened gaze.

His eyes had so many emotions that she did not understand.

Luna did not dare to react in case Joshua saw through her. She remained that way peeping at him until the car reached the freeway.

She indeed did not have a good night's sleep the night before.

On one hand, she was worried about Gwen, on the other, she was concerned about Theo.

Luna finally could not help but close her eyes. The moving of the car put her to sleep.

While being groggy, she seemed to have heard Luke teased. "You have been looking all the way. Is it really that nice to look at?"

Joshua, next to her, seemed to have replied to Luke something, but Luna did not catch it.

Her consciousness started to blur.

When she woke up, the car had reached Sea City.

"You're up?"

Luke's aloof voice came from in front.

Luna furrowed her brows and slowly opened her eyes.

The car was very quiet.

The driver has gotten out of the car, smoking. Luke still remained seated in the passenger seat in front, scrolling through his phone while looking at her.

Luna furrowed her brows and subconsciously turned sideways to look.

"He's gone."

Before she could have a good look at Joshua's seat, Luke said flatly, "Didn't he previously acquire the Larson family's estate and eat away at the Walter family's business bit by bit? Once he reached Sea City, he was taken away to the office for a report presentation."

Luke lifted his hand and touched his cheek. "What on earth is going on between you two?"

Joshua refused to be in the same car as Luna. Joshua only got in the car after a good deal of persuasion from Luke.

Still, Joshua watched Luna sleep throughout the entire journey.

Luna, on the surface, was icy and distant toward Joshua, but the first thing she did when she woke up was to look for him

No matter how he saw them, they looked like a pair of lovers who had a falling out.

“Nothing is going on.”

Luna lowered her eyes and looked at the time. It was almost noon.

“When can we see Gwen?”

Luke pressed a button and winded the car window down.

“Anytime.”

When all of the windows were down, only then did Luna notice that the car was parked at the entrance of the hospital.

She furrowed her brows. “So... you were waiting for me to wake up?”

Luke smiled. “When Joshua left, he saw how sleepy you were. You probably did not have a good night’s sleep. He got me to let you sleep a little longer if I wanted you to help me look after Gwen. Since he had already given instructions, how would I dare wake you up?”

Luna had complicated feelings.

She took a deep breath and was about to get out of the car when her phone rang.

It was from Theo. “Luna, did you go to Sea City with Joshua?”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 631 Luna’s hand that was holding her phone tightened slightly.

“How did you know?”

On the other end of the phone, Theo sucked in a cold breath. “So, you really went to Sea City with Joshua?”

Luna frowned but did not answer.

“Luna, didn’t we agree yesterday that I would go with you?” Theo’s voice carried a hint of disappointment. “I know you don’t want to trouble me, but I told you...”

Sucking in a deep breath, he frowned. “I ‘m on my way to Sea City, tell me where’s the location of the hotel you’re in, I’ll go to you.”

Luna glanced at Luke Jones who was sitting in the passenger seat. He shrugged, then opened the door and stepped out of the car. Luna was the only one left inside the car.

“Theo. “ She sucked in a deep breath. “I came here because my friend fell ill, I came to visit her, not for traveling or for a vacation. Joshua is with me only because Luke is his friend too. You really don’t have to come, I might be able to go home tomorrow.”

“But...” On the other end of the phone, Theo frowned.

“Do you know how I found out you went there with Joshua? Alice told me. She just called and said the two of you have rekindled old flames. She asked whether I would like to work together with her..but I rejected her. She said she's on her way to Sea City. I was worried she would make a fuss out of the fact that you and Joshua went to Sea City together..."

He paused for a moment. "I can at least help if I'm there with you."

Luna paused. For the past few days, Alice had been laying low, she almost forgot there was still a ticking time bomb beside Joshua in the form of Alice Gibson.

But, Luna's hand that was holding her phone tightened slightly.

She came just in time. The Walter family was the cause of Gwen's tragedy. If not for Alice, the Walter family would never do that to Gwen. Since she followed them to Sea City this time, it was the perfect opportunity to take revenge on Alice for old and new wrongs together!

But...

Still, she sucked in a deep breath. "Theo, I know you won't listen even if I ask you not to come. But..."

She pursed her lips. "If you really want to help me, please don't come to Sea City. Go abroad, to Neil and Nellie's summer camp, help me take care of them."

Luna still remembered; Alice told her she had someone stationed beside the children. No matter how smart they were, they were just two young children, when faced with absolute power, they could never escape. Even if they had Zach and Yuri beside them, the two bodyguards were, to be straightforward, simple musclemen. Luna could sleep peacefully at night if she knew Theo was with them.

"Neil and Nellie..." Theo frowned, hesitating slightly. "Are they in danger?"

"Perhaps." Luna sucked in a deep breath. "You know how important the children are to me. I'm not afraid of what Alice will do to me, but I'm worried that she'll harm my children at the same time that she's targeting me."

For a long while, there was nothing but silence from the other end of the phone. A moment later, Theo sighed, "Then, you be careful. I'll buy my tickets now and fly over to see them."

Then, he could not help himself and asked, "How long do I have to be there to protect them?"

"Wait for me. I'll fly over and meet you there when I can.”

“Alright.” After another long moment of silence, Theo sighed, “Be careful when you’re in Sea City.”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 632 “I will.” After reminding Theo of some important details, Luna finally hung up. Putting away her phone, she closed her eyes and leaned back on the leather upholstery of the car, her thoughts in a mess.

If not for what happened to Gwen, maybe she... would not consider taking revenge against Alice. She was a woman too, she understood too well how painful it was to go through what Gwen experienced. And the source of this pain was Alice’s hatred towards Luna. If this time she did not make Alice show her true colors and force Joshua to expose her true identity, all the pain that Gwen suffered would be in vain.

She intentionally sent Theo abroad because of this too. One of her friends had already suffered. If unfortunately, she failed, she did not want to drag Theo down with her.

“What are you thinking about?” All of a sudden, Luke’s voice dragged Luna’s mind back to the present. She opened her eyes and smiled in his direction. “I heard you have been busy getting rid of the Walter family’s and Liam Clark’s remaining followers?”

Luke laughed, “Why?”

Luna raised her eyes, looking at him calmly and indifferently. “I can help you.”

The man lifted his eyebrows, opened the car door and climbed back into the passenger seat, then raised his eyes and looked forward. “How?”

By the time Luna and Luke finished discussing Alice, it was already past 11 a.m. The moment the conversation between them ended, Luke’s phone rang, it was a call from Gwen. Luke pressed the button for the loudspeaker.

“This is Luke Larson.”

The woman’s voice drifting from the other end of the phone was still very weak, her breath unsteady. “Are you lying to me again? You said Luna is here, where is she? Luke, I ‘m begging you, please don’t treat me like a fool again, please?”

At Gwen’s words, Liam could not help himself and raised his eyebrows at Luna. “Say something.”

Luna licked her lips and sucked in a deep breath. “Gwennie.”

The woman on the other end of the phone remained silent for several seconds then a trace of excitement and happiness seeped into her breathless voice. “Luna! You’re really here?”

“Yeah.” Luna smiled. “Something happened and I got delayed, I’m at the hospital, right downstairs, I’ll go up to see you now.” With that, she hung up the phone and gazed at Luke deeply. “Lead the way.”

Luke laughed scornfully, “No matter what, I’m the leader of the biggest gang in Sea City. Only two people can order me to serve them using this tone of voice, Gwen is the first one, and you’re the second.”

Luna curled her lips in a smile. “All thanks to Gwen, it’s your own fault for falling for her.”

The moment her words left her mouth, the smile on Lucas’s face froze. He stuck his hands into his pockets, lifted his legs, and strode ahead. “Nonsense.”

Luna hooked the corners of her lips up in a smile but said nothing. She saw everything that Luke did for Gwen. If he was only nice to her because of Joshua’s previous request, then he would not go the extra mile for her.

The two of them rode the elevator upstairs. The moment the doors to the elevator opened, Luna spotted Gwen who had been waiting for them by the entrance to the elevators, sitting in her wheelchair.

“Luna!” A red flush blossomed across the woman’s pale face, a lively light entering her dull eyes. “You really came!”

Luna could not hide the excitement in her heart, she strode forward and placed her arms around Gwen in a soft hug. “How are you?”

“No... not very well.” Gwen held in the tears swimming in her eyes, reached out, and held Luna’s hands. “I always wanted to tell you. I remember now, what was written on the piece of paper I gave you!”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 633 Luna paused. She still remembered the ‘love letter’ that Gwen stuffed into her hands when she was drunk. That night, after she sent Gwen home, Liam Clark caught her with the letter. Later, Liam took a photo of the letter then set it on fire. And the next day, tragedy struck Gwen.

She still did not know the contents of the letter. The next day, because of the trauma Gwen suffered, she experienced short-term memory loss, and coincidentally forgot the contents of the letter.

And now Gwen said she remembered.

“Luke.”

When Luna was still stuck in her daze, Gwen raised her eyes and side-eyed Luke. “Can you give us some privacy?”

Luke motioned to the caretaker who was pushing Gwen’s wheelchair. The caretaker hurriedly retracted her hands from the handle of the wheelchair, then turned around respectfully and left.

Luke took a cigarette out of his pocket and was about to light it when he unconsciously glanced at Gwen. Finally, he stuffed the cigarette back into its packet and then swept his eyes across at Luna coldly. “I booked the entire floor, there is no one else here except the two of you. You can say anything you want here, it’s very safe.” Luke looked at Luna meaningfully. “Take good care of her.” With that, he turned and left.

When the numbers on the elevator panel Luke was riding in started to change, Gwen finally let out a deep breath, raised her head, and looked at Luna. “The contents of the letter I gave you is...”

Luna sighed faintly, raised her hand, and started pushing Gwen’s wheelchair. “In the letter, you told me you found out the real Hailey Walter is actually Joshua’s current wife, Alice Gibson, am I right?”

Luna’s calm and indifferent voice stunned Gwen. She turned her head and looked at Luna in shock. “You... you already know?”

“Yeah.” Luna wheeled her slowly along the hallway, a trace of melancholy in her voice. “Even till now, I haven’t read the contents of your letter. But I found out about the truth in the past few weeks or so.”

Back then when the Walter family read the contents of the letter, they risked the danger of Joshua exacting revenge on them again and attacked Gwen once more. It was obvious the information that Gwen held was critical to the Walter family. And what they feared the most, was the exposure of Alice’s identity. The cause of death of the puppet that impersonated Hailey could not have been suicide. With an identity like hers, she would definitely know who the real Hailey Walter was. That was why Dennis would kill the puppet in a murderous rage, to create the illusion that she was dead. Then they took a huge risk and again plotted to harm Gwen. After returning to Banyan City, the Walter family started to plan, wanting to plant the identity of Hailey Walter on someone else.

Luna sighed, "Gwennie, I'm sorry, it's all my fault." If she did not return to Sea City, if she did not reunite with Gwen... Gwen would still be the perfect, loving couple with Ben Zeller. She would not discover the Walter family's secret, and such a tragedy would not have befallen her."

"There's no need to apologize..." Gwen shook her head, a wry smile appearing on her pale face. "I could've chosen to ignore you when you approached me. Even after I discovered this information, I could've acted like I didn't know anything and not tell you."

She lifted her eyes and looked into the distance, her gaze calm and unfeeling. "These are all my own choices, it's not your fault, it's not anyone's fault. This is my destiny. I was destined to be played with by an idiot like Ben Zeller, destined to suffer through this calamity, and also destined..."

She lowered her head and gently stroked her flat tummy.

"And also destined to be pregnant with the devil's child."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 634 Seeing her look so down and afraid, Luna's heart squeezed in pain. She bit her lip, walked in front of Gwen, knelt down, and grabbed Gwen's hand. "Gwennie, you... really don't intend to keep this child?"

Gwen closed her eyes and nodded fiercely. She bit her lip, her voice almost squeezed out from between her teeth.

"Luna, do you know... every time I think of this child in my stomach, I will remember the events of that day.

There were five or six of them... all of them looked like monsters... I don't know who the child belongs to, all of them forced me... forced me several times."

Even with her eyes shut tight, tears still slid quietly out of the corners of her eyes. "I can't move past this. For the past few days, whether it's the doctors or the nurses, or even the psychiatrist, all of them kept persuading me, in my body's current state, if I insist on getting an abortion, I might be infertile for lie... If there's an accident during the surgery, I might even lose my life. All of them suggest that I rest for a few months, and after I fully recover, by that time, the child would have grown up, then both the child and I would be safe..."

With that, she opened her eyes and looked straight at

Luna. "You have 3 children, I don't know whether you'll understand how I feel right now. Even if I give birth to the child, I won't love him. His father is a criminal and his mother doesn't love him, giving birth to him would be nothing but a tragedy. That's why..."

Gwen sucked in a deep breath. "Even if there might be a risk to my life, I don't want this child to be born." She lowered her head. "The doctor said... in another week or two, the child will have a heartbeat, it'll be a complete lifeform."

Finally, she sucked in a deep breath and raised her head. "I want to abort him before he becomes a complete lifeform."

Luna's heart squeezed together at Gwen's words. She had never experienced Gwen's pain, so she could not put herself in her shoes and understand her pain and suffering.

But she was right. If this child was destined to become the grim shadow that followed her her whole life... then it would be better if she ended his life before he formed into a complete lifeform.

"But Gwennie." Luna held her hand. "Are you willing to risk your life to abort this child?"

"Yeah." Gwen nodded solemnly, a hint of despair in her expression. "Luke will not agree to this... If he doesn't agree, even if I escape from here, no hospital in Sea City will dare to perform the operation on me . with the current state of my body, he'll capture me before I make it out of the city... maybe, after I die... I'll be free again."

"I'll help you." Luna sucked in a deep breath and stood up. "If you really don't want this baby... I'll help you convince Luke."

"Really?"

"Yeah." "Interesting."

The moment Luna's words left her mouth, a man's cold voice rang out. Joshua leaned on the wall in the hallway, a taunting sneer hanging on his lips. "Luke asked you to come here to Sea City to persuade Gwen to keep the child for the sake of her own health, and now you want to help Gwen persuade Luke instead?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 635 Both Luna and Gwen turned around upon hearing the man's voice.

Seeing that it was Joshua, Gwen's expression turned ugly.

Luna on the other hand, raised her lips in a faint smile. "Luke said this floor was very secure, there wouldn't be anyone else besides the two of you. So in his eyes, you're not even human?"

Joshua smiled, eyes flattening into two crescents. "I don't know whether you're insulting me or Luke with your words." He stood up elegantly and strolled toward Luna. "I heard the first thing you did after you woke up in the car was ask about me. I thought there was an emergency of some sort, so I rushed up here immediately." With that, he curled his lips up into a sneer, then glanced at her coldly. "It seems I should not have come."

"You know you should not have come and yet you're still here?" Gwen frowned, sounding slightly displeased.

Previously, like everyone else, she thought Joshua was a loyal and loving man, someone who had always kept Luna in his heart. But after she found out about everything that happened to Luna, she saw him as nothing but a fake, two-faced hypocrite.

Joshua laughed coldly and glanced at Gwen, "This is how you treat your savior?" Back then if he did not acquire the Larson Group that belonged to Gwen's father, and plead with Luke to take care of her and her father, would she have the chance to be sitting here, talking to him alive?

"Savior?" Gwen snorted, "Even though from the eyes of an outsider, Mr. Lynch you are indeed my savior. Without you, my father wouldn't be where he is today. But..."

She curled her lips and looked at Joshua. "Everything that you did for my family, did you do it out of pity, out of the kindness of your heart? Without Luna, would you help us so much? My savior is Luna, the person I should thank is also Luna."

Joshua could not help but curl his lips in a smile at Gwen's words. He never expected Luna's friend would grow to become more similar to her in terms of character and personality.

"Since you said that..." He laughed coldly, "Then everything I did for you was in vain? I'm not your savior, you don't owe me anything..." As he spoke, he looked at Luna meaningfully. "Then who does?

Who owes me a favor?"

Luna frowned. She sucked in a deep breath, lowered her head, her eyes darted to Gwen and back again quickly.

“Gwennie, I should send you back to your room.”

Gwen nodded.

Luna raised her eyes and swept her eyes across at Joshua. “I am the one who owes you a favor. Please wait for a moment, Mr. Lynch, I’ll send her back to her room first.” With that, she turned and wheeled Gwen back to her ward.

Joshua stood in his spot, looked at her retreating back as she wheeled Gwen, and could not help but narrow his eyes.

A minute later, Luna walked out of the ward and strode toward him. She stood steadily in front of him and raised her head and looked at him, a smile plastered across her face. “Mr. Lynch, shall we go out for a cup of coffee?” He curled his lips and smiled. “This is how you repay the favor you owe me?”

Luna turned and walked ahead, pressing on the elevator button swiftly. “Of course this is not enough to repay the favor I owe you. This is just the first step.”

As she spoke, the elevator arrived. She lifted her legs and entered. Standing in the elevator, she cocked her head to the side and smiled in his direction. “Mr. Lynch, aren’t you leaving?”

The cold, steel mirror in the elevator made Luna look even slimmer and more charming than usual, the smile on her face as gentle as the first breeze of spring.

Especially her eyes...

Joshua looked at her eyes and felt as if his heart had stopped.

His thoughts immediately jumped back to the time when he and Luna Gibson had just gotten married. Back then, in the throes of newlywed bliss, she loved following him around, acting as his perfect wife.

Even though his expression was ice-cold as always, looking down his nose at her actions, deep down, he felt warm and happy.

Once, they were stuck in a restaurant for dinner and stuck it out until everyone else left. When it was only the two of them left, Luna Gibson would cheekily step into the elevator ahead of him, then stand there and look at him, her head cocked to the side, a smile in her eyes, waiting for him to come in.

Before him, she was always gentle, steady, and submissive.

Now, standing before him with her head cocked to the side, smiling mischievously at him was the only time she saw the lively, high-spirited side of her.

Even till this day, he remembered that scene.

And at that moment, the image of the Luna Gibson of his memories seemed to overlap with Luna in front of him.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 636 Even though their looks, their figures, and personalities were completely different. But those eyes, and the familiar feeling she brought him, were exactly the same.

He murmured and opened his mouth, "Lulu..."

Luna paused violently. It had been a long time since she heard him say that word... Lulu was the nickname given to her by Gwen. Gwen called her Lulu, and she in turn called Gwen, Gwennie. Later, anyone who was closer to her also addressed her as Lulu.

Joshua was no exception.

It was just that after she became Luna, this was the second time Joshua had mentioned this nickname. Did he... find out anything?

She pursed her lips, suppressed the confusion in the bottom of her heart, and looked at him, her lips curled up in a slight smile. "Mr. Lynch, what did you say?"

Only then did Joshua recover his wits. He smiled wryly.

"Nothing." With that, he sucked in a deep breath, raised his leg, and stepped into the elevator.

When both of them reached the ground floor, Luke was leaning on the wall in the lobby smoking a cigarette.

Seeing Luna and Joshua come down, the first thing he did was call his subordinate and ask him to go to Gwen's ward and look after her.

"Don't worry, Gwen won't try to commit suicide again."

Luna looked at how he worried he was and could not help but laugh, "Luke, have you dated a girl before? "

Luke rolled his eyes at her, lifted his legs, and entered the elevator. Looking at Luke's retreating back, Luna could not help it and burst out laughing.

"This man was awkward but cute. If he was less domineering, he would be a good match for Gwen."

Seeing Luna look at Luke from behind, stupefied, Joshua narrowed his eyes and asked coldly, "Interested in him?"

She turned and glanced at him, "No, I'm only interested in you, Mr. Lynch."

He frowned, swept his eyes at her coldly then turned and walked out the door.

Luna sucked in a deep breath and hurriedly chased after him.

The two of them sat down in a coffee shop outside the hospital.

Luna sipped at her coffee and smiled as she looked at Joshua. "I have a favor to ask of you."

Joshua leaned back on the chair indifferently and looked at her. "What favor? You want me to help you persuade Luke to allow Gwen to abort her child?"

Luna paused, then nodded. "Yes."

He lifted his lips in a smile. "You should know, with the current state that her body is in, her life will be endangered if she undergoes the abortion. I would suggest for her to play around for a few months, then abort the baby when the surgery isn't life-threatening."

Luna placed the coffee mug on the table. "But if she waits for a while more before getting the abortion, the baby is going to have a heartbeat."

Joshua raised his eyebrows. "So? It can't be aborted once it has a heartbeat?"

Luna's heart dropped into the pit of her stomach at his words. Back then, after the accident, she hated Joshua to his core. And so, she once considered aborting her own unborn children. But back then the three little kids already had heartbeats. She could not bear to do it.

That's why she tried her best to give birth to them.

And now Joshua was asking her a question like this. Luna found it ironic. She curled her lips. "Then what if it was your own child? Back then, when Luna Gibson met with an accident and fell into the ocean, your children already had heartbeats. If she shared the same thoughts as you, do you think you would still be able to see Neil and Nellie now?"

Joshua frowned. "That's different." "How is it different?"

"Luna Gibson loved me."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 637 Luna almost lost her cool and laughed out loud.

How

thick-skinned could he be?

Back then, he almost killed her and their three children, and now when he mentioned the past, he could still be so sure, so confident that even if the children did not have heartbeats yet, she would still keep them.

Because she still loved him.

Where did his confidence come from, to think that the woman he almost pushed into the gates of hell would still love him?

Joshua clearly read the disdain and scorn in her eyes. He frowned, leaning back on the chair in displeasure. "You seem to doubt my words a lot?"

"Not really," she smiled faintly. "I was just thinking, if back then her unborn children did not have heartbeats yet when Luna met with the accident, whether the final outcome would be the same."

Back then, she hated Joshua to his core, she wished she could feast on his flesh and quench her thirst with his blood to quell the hatred in her heart. But in the end, she still gave birth to his children.

Actually, there was another reason why she could not bear to abort the children...

The babies with heartbeats were triplets. If she aborted them rashly, she would be killing three lives.

"Even if the children did not have heartbeats yet when Luna met with the accident, the final outcome would be the same." Joshua lifted his mug and sipped on his coffee, he obviously did not want to continue this topic of conversation. "You really plan to allow Gwen to take such a risk?"

Luna nodded. "Even if it is for the sake of her own safety, we cannot go against her wishes."

He laughed coldly, "Is Gwen your friend, or your enemy? This is the first time I've seen someone push her friend into a pit of fire."

Luna interrupted him. "Allowing her to keep this child would be truly pushing her into a pit of fire."

Joshua lowered his mug, looking at Luna with a deep, meaningful gaze. "It's just giving birth to the child of someone you hate or aborting a fetus with a heartbeat... is it so unacceptable?"

"Yes." She took a deep breath, and looked at him solemnly. "Mr. Lynch, you're not a woman so you can't understand the God-given feelings a woman has towards her child. There is no mother who doesn't love her own child, Gwen is no exception. But this child, if she keeps it, will bring her nothing but endless pain. Her love for her child and her hatred for the child's father will destroy her."

Joshua remained quiet for a while. A moment later, he switched into a more comfortable position and leaned back in the chair, looking at Luna with faint and indifferent eyes. "In the end, Gwen is your friend, not mine. If you insist on helping her, I can help you." As he spoke, he lifted his eyebrows in her direction. "But, how do you intend to repay my kindness? I remember you already owe me enough favors as it is."

Luna smiled. "You're right, I do owe you many favors.

Then why don't I... " She did not know which nerve short-circuited in her brain, the words just flew off her tongue. "Give you a child?"

Her words caused the air between them to instantly turn quiet.

Luna regretted it the moment the words left her mouth.

But there was no retracting the words she said.

After a bout of awkward silence, Luna coughed softly and turned her face away. "It's just a joke, don't take it seriously, Mr. Lynch."

Joshua looked at her flushed cheeks, a cold smile hanging on his lips. "It's a pretty good idea. When did you start wanting to give birth to my children?"

Luna closed her eyes, she even found it difficult to breathe, her entire body enveloped in tight layers of nerves and awkwardness.

A moment later, she sucked in a deep breath and pulled herself together. "I was just talking nonsense. Mr. Lynch, can't you take a simple joke?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 638 Joshua smiled faintly, lowering his eyes as he fiddled with his coffee mug. "Initially, the way I wanted you to repay my kindness was by continuing to helm the project for next season's jewelry designs.

Unexpectedly... you got the wrong idea, Ms. Luna. "

He raised his head and looked at her, seeming to be in a good mood. "Then it is decided. I'll help you persuade Luke, and you'll help me... "

Luna was so embarrassed she wanted to bury her head in the ground and die, she was worried he would really say he wanted her to give birth to his child, so she hurriedly opened her mouth to interrupt him. "I'll help you with the jewelry projects for the next season."

Joshua curled his lips, eyes sweeping across her face faintly. "Of course. I won't ask you to do anything else to repay my kindness, except for something work-related."

With that, he stood up, lifted his legs, and left.

Luna sat in her spot and watched his retreating back, her entire body stiff. She raised a hand and patted her cheek, muscles frozen from prolonged smiling. How could she accidentally say such a thing? Maybe her mind had been quite scattered recently. Since she could not approach Joshua, could not sleep with him, even in her dreams she dreamt about getting pregnant. That's why she let the words slip out of her accidentally.

After Joshua left, Luna sat in the coffee shop and finished her coffee before paying the bill and left.

The moment she walked out of the exit, she immediately noticed there was a man standing on the street opposite the coffee shop. That man was wearing jeans and a black jacket, his long hair blown into a mess by the wind, looking dirty and disheveled.

He was looking in her direction. When she looked toward him, their eyes met. When they looked at each other, the man smiled creepily, pulling down the jacket that covered his face, and that terrible, monster-like face was exposed.

Luna paused violently. It was not anyone else but the man that was captured by Joshua's subordinates for trying to assassinate her at night, Jason Lane.

Jason smiled in Luna's direction, then made a slashing motion across his neck, and turned to leave.

Luna's brows furrowed tightly together.

Jason Lane... was he not locked up by Joshua? When did he come out? Did he follow her to Sea City? Or... the motion that he made just now had made his intentions crystal clear. He chased her here to kill her.

She bit her lip, the first thought that popped into her mind was to call Joshua. But in the end, she gave up when she recalled their awkward conversation moments ago.

Returning to the hospital from the coffee shop, the moment she entered Gwen's ward, she saw Luke sitting in front of her bed, gently feeding her some mashed potatoes.

Gwen still looked gloomy and depressed, but Luke was ecstatic to hear the news that Gwen had given up committing suicide.

"If I knew you would decide to live on once Luan came and talked to you, I should have brought her here earlier to accompany you."

Gwen pursed her lips, her voice low and hoarse. "She's busy with her own affairs..." With that, she raised her head and immediately noticed Luna standing in the doorway. She smiled at Luna. "You're back."

Luke frowned, turned and glanced at Luna. "You're done talking to Joshua so soon?"

Luna nodded. A moment later, she raised her head and looked at Luke. "Now in Sea City... you're the one who calls the shots, right?"

Luke threw a confused glance at her. "You could say so."

Gwen paused. "What's wrong?"

Luna sucked in a deep breath and looked at Luke. "I need you to arrange for some men to protect me here in Sea City."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 639 Luke was surprised to receive Luna's request.

He lifted his lips in a cold smile, gaze studying Luna's expression from top to bottom. "You have Joshua, why would you need my protection?"

Luna remained silent.

Luke raised an eyebrow. "Why, did you have a fight?"

"Luke." Noticing Luna's ugly expression, Gwen hurriedly interrupted him. "Why are you asking so many questions? It's not difficult for you to arrange for a few men to protect Luna. " The moment Gwen said this, sure enough, Luke stopped his questioning.

He smiled faintly. "It's no big deal, I'll transfer the man who was in charge of keeping an eye on Gwen to make sure she didn't commit suicide again to protect you."

Gwen frowned. "Is it enough?" Somehow, she remembered he only arranged for a middle-aged caretaker to watch over her and prevent her from committing suicide again.

"Eight men still isn't enough?" Luke lowered his head and held the sandwich gently with his hand. "Come on, open your mouth."

Both Luna and Gwen were stunned. Luke arranged for eight men to prevent her from committing suicide again? Luna could not help herself and threw a meaningful gaze at him again. It was obvious that now to Luke, Gwen was a very, very important person... Not long later, Luke finished feeding Gwen the sandwich. He stood up, glanced faintly at Luna. "Are you going to continue keeping her company?"

Luna nodded.

Only then did Luke tidy up the plates, and turned and left. The door to the ward was closed once more.

Gwen lifted her head, frowning at a constant feature on her face, a hint of a cry in her voice. "He's feeding me medicine to stabilize the baby..."

Luna sucked in a deep breath, then walked over and held

Gwen's hand. "Don't worry. It won't take long. I've already convinced Joshua, he'll help me persuade Luke." Gwen lowered her head quietly, nodding as she sobbed quietly, "Okay."

At the moment, she had no other choice. She wanted to die, but failed. The food that she ate every day was based on a menu specifically designed for her by a dietician that Luke hired. It was impossible for her to suffer a miscarriage by accident.

Not to mention medicine to trigger a miscarriage. Every day, she was closely monitored here. No one could bring medicine in here. Without Luna's help, she had no other choice except painfully giving birth to a child that should not have existed in the first place. Just the thought alone felt suffocating.

A moment later, Gwen turned and glanced at Luna. "Why did you suddenly ask Luke's men to protect you? The remaining followers of the Walter family are targeting you?"

Luna shook her head. "No. It's... some private vengeance I have back in Banyan City."

Gwen sighed, "Don't worry, Luke is practically the top overlord of Sea City, with his men protecting you, nothing will happen to you."

Luna nodded.

The two good friends sat together in silence for a while, then they felt too bored and started hunting for a new topic of conversation.

Their past was bitter, but the present was not all rainbows and unicorns either. The only thing that could make them happy was their time spent together as students. Back then, Luna had yet to meet Joshua, and Gwen was not married to Ben Zeller yet. As they talked, they could not help but talk about the time when they played the online game, Lost, together.

"Actually, even after so many years, the game is still running."

Gwen sighed, then took an invitation out from under her pillow. "Some time ago, I was bored and downloaded the game again and logged on.

Unexpectedly, a lot of the people we played with back then were still playing the game." She stuffed the invitation into Luna's hands. "This is the invitation that the clan leader sent me a few days ago. She's getting married in real life and invited a lot of old friends in the game. I really want to go... but my health doesn't allow me to... why not, you attend on my behalf? Maybe you might even meet the clan member that you had a crush on! "

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 640 Luna accepted the invitation and laughed helplessly as she tore it apart, "I'm afraid the clan member from back then must have forgotten me a long time ago."

In high school, in order to play with Gwen, Luna downloaded Lost and registered for an account, even creating a character. As a rookie in the game, she stumbled around in the game, even walking was difficult for her.

Later, she met a clan member from the clan that she later joined. He taught her how to play the game, helping her level up and fighting bosses in dungeons, the two of them had a good time playing together.

During that time, Luna gradually started to have feelings for him, and he too told her she was very special.

Later on, he said he only played the game to try it out, he was too busy with his job in real life and would stop playing. Since then, he never came online again.

After he left, Luna was upset for a period of time, so she too put aside the game. The last day she logged onto the game was the day she registered her marriage with Joshua. She thought she should say a proper goodbye to her young love that ended before it even started.

But unexpectedly, when she logged into the game, she realized the clan member had sent her a message six months ago, telling her he was already in Sea City and wanted to meet her.

Reading the message, Luna felt as if fate was playing a cruel trick on her. Because the date on the message, she remembered clearly, was the day she met Joshua.

The day the clan member sent her the email saying he wanted to meet her was the day she met Joshua and fell in love with him at first sight.

Later, she deleted the game and never logged in again.

Now, if Joshua did not question the time she met Gwen, she would have forgotten this game a long time ago, and what's more, would never remember there was once a fellow clan member that she had a crush on.

Gwen handed her the laptop. "What if he didn't? Do you want to go online for a look?"

Luna tore open the wedding invitation, the date of the wedding was tomorrow, the name of the bride printed on the invitation was Clover Bailey. An unfamiliar name.

She frowned, looking at Gwen's excited expression as she turned on the laptop. "Do you really want me to attend the wedding on your behalf?"

"Yeah!" Gwen nodded seriously. "Just go on my behalf, it'll be... like fulfilling a wish of mine."

Luna paused, then sighed and agreed. But, since Gwen already turned on the laptop for her, Luna accepted it and logged into her old account.

Unexpectedly, the moment she logged on, she received a message from the clan member. (I haven't seen you for so many years, I never expected you would still be here.)

Luna was so shocked she did not speak for a moment. A long while later, she sucked in a deep breath and typed a sentence into the chatbox. (I haven't touched the game in a long while, it popped up during my conversation with a friend, so I logged in for a look.)

He sent her a smiley face. (This is fate indeed. I redownloaded the game too after someone mentioned it to me today.)

After another long bout of silence, he took the initiative and sent her a message. (Are you still in Sea City? Back then I came to Sea City to see you but failed.

Coincidentally, I'm also in Sea City right now, would you like to meet up?)

Luna paused, excitement bubbling in her chest. (I'm attending a wedding tomorrow, would you like to come along?)

(Alright.)

Reading the word 'Alright' that the man sent to her, somehow, excitement filled her chest. She never thought she could somehow reconnect with someone with whom she had lost contact for so many years. At least she could make up for past regret, right?

Looking at her smiling eyes, Luna frowned. "What's the matter?"

Luna took a deep breath and turned to look at her, "You are right. The clan member... is still here!"

At the same time.

In a five-star hotel in Sea City.

Joshua turned off the computer and took out his phone.

"Lucas, find out who will be holding the wedding at the Ocean View Hotel in Sea City tomorrow."

On the other end of the phone, Lucas was silent for a long while, and finally answered. "Sir, I found it."

"It's... Gwen Larson's ex-husband, Ben Zeller's wedding."
