

Policewoman 19

The Policewoman Chapter 19

A large conference table in the conference room of the Municipal Public Security Bureau's office building was filled with uniformed police officers.

They were the chief and deputy chiefs and political commissars of the Municipal Public Security Bureau, the chief and deputy chiefs of the criminal investigation team and the public security team, as well as the chiefs and deputy chiefs of the public security sub-bureaux.

This meeting was chaired and convened by Xiao Wenbin, the Director of the Public Security Bureau, for this emergency meeting.

After sitting in the chair and reading out the spirit of the expanded meeting of the Municipal Committee to everyone, Director Xiao said loudly.

"In recent times, the social security in Yanjing City has been quite unstable, although we have cracked several major cases, there are still some lawless elements at large. The lessons of blood tell us that it is the duty of those of us who are police officers to get rid of violence and pacify people, we should not compromise and bow down to those evil forces, we should give them the most severe blows and eliminate and eradicate them in one fell swoop.

"Now I declare that the 'Fight Against Blackness and Illegality' operation is officially launched, the following Deputy Director Yan, who is in charge of criminal investigation and public security, will read out to you the specific deployment of our operation"

Everyone's eyes fell on Yan Zhengkuan, the deputy director of the Municipal Public Security Bureau, who was sitting beside Xiao Wenbin.

Only to see Yan Zhengkuan sweeping the eyes of all present, making a serious, earnest face, he said.

"Just now, Secretary Xiao has already conveyed the spirit of the expanded meeting of the municipal party committee to everyone, so I won't repeat it to you here, the specific deployment of our 'fight against blackness and illegality' operation this time is"

Tang Huimin didn't even want to listen to this guy's nonsense here, and was preoccupied with what was going on between her and Lin Kai

Beep beep beep!

At this time, her mobile phone suddenly vibrated in her pocket, and seeing Lin Kai's name displayed on the screen, she then picked the phone up and whispered.

"Xiao Kai, I'm in the middle of a meeting, what do you want?"

"You're Tang Huimin, right?" A cold voice came from the phone, "Your nephew is in our hands, if you want him to live, come to 82 Castle Peak Lane right now, I want to negotiate a deal with you, remember, only you are allowed to come alone, otherwise, we will tear up the ticket"

"Who are you?" Tang Hui Min asked eagerly.

“Don’t you care who I am, you’ll know when you come.” As soon as the words left her mouth, the other party had already hung up the phone.

When Tang Huimin called the phone back, it was already switched off.

For the sake of Lin Kai’s safety, she was now disregarding everything and hurriedly stood up, walked over to Chief Xiao, asked him for a leave of absence, and after obtaining Xiao Wenbin’s consent, took a step towards the outside of the meeting.

.....

After leaving the Municipal Public Security Bureau, Tang Huimin drove to Qingshan Lane, which is located in the old city.

It didn’t take long for Qingshan Lane to arrive.

As the lane was rather narrow, Tang Huimin parked her car at the entrance of the lane.

After getting out of the car, she turned into a small, shady alley and searched for the door numbers of a household. The place would soon be demolished and almost no one lived here anymore.

Suddenly, she stopped at the door of 82 Castle Peak Lane and knocked gently on the door.

The door opened and a man took her inside.

Then, when Tang Huimin arrived in a spacious and dark house, she heard a voice with an indescribable eerie sound.

“Captain Tang, you’ve finally arrived.”

The person who spoke was a man with a bald head, he was about thirty years old, and his cunning face was full of an odd smile.

Behind him, there were six or seven other men, and the faces of these men were also filled with an evil look.

Tang Hui Min said, “I have come here as you promised, so it’s time for you to hand over my nephew, right?”

This man was Black Dragon, the leader of the Black Dragon Gang.

Before Tang Huimin came, he had arranged for someone to stand guard at the entrance of Castle Peak Lane and made sure there were no tails before he had his little brother lead Tang Huimin into the house.

Black Dragon kept looking at the beautiful young female officer in front of him, his lustful gaze seeming to penetrate Tang Huimin’s clothes, and said indifferently.

“Don’t be in a hurry, our terms haven’t been agreed yet!”

“What terms?” Tang Huimin asked in a cold voice.

“As long as you find a way to release that Wang Jianqiang you just captured, I’ll release your nephew.”

“So, you guys are from the Black Dragon Gang?”

“Not bad, I am the Black Dragon Gang leader you are looking around for.”

“You’re the Black Dragon?”

“Of course, fake one.”

“You’re the one who killed my husband a year ago?”

“You know everything?” Black Dragon asked in surprise, “Did Wang Jianqiang tell you that?”

“Yes,” Tang Huimin said as she gave Black Dragon a defiant look, “Wang Jianqiang explained everything,”

Black Dragon cursed coldly, “Wang Jianqiang is a stupid bastard, I’m still trying to rescue him, but he betrayed us, he’s nothing!”

“You’d better give yourselves up or turn yourselves in, so you don’t have to hide everywhere.”

“Do you think that’s possible?”

“Then you can all wait to be arrested and face the severe punishment of the law!”

At this time, two men led Lin Kai out.

They saw that his hands and feet were tied with ropes, he was injured all over, and a piece of transparent tape had been pasted over his mouth, so he looked like he had suffered a lot.

“Lin Kai, what happened to you?” Tang Huimin asked aloud with a chill in her heart.

“Oooh” Lin Kai’s mouth could not speak, he could only open his eyes wide, shake his head one after another and struggle desperately, signalling Tang Huimin to leave him alone and get out of here.

Helplessly, his body was tied up and he was also being escorted by two strong men, so there was no way to get out.

“You beasts, hurry up and let him go!” Tang Huimin felt a pang of heartache and scolded angrily at Black Dragon.

“Hey,” Black Dragon looked lecherously at Tang Huimin and smiled wickedly, “You can let him go, but you have to take off your police uniform and shirt!”

With a flash of anger on her face, Tang Huimin said without hesitation.

“Fine!”

With that, she unloaded her satchel and slowly unbuttoned the top and shirt of her police uniform.

The thugs’ eyes went wide as the buttons of the uniform unbuttoned and the shirt slipped down her upper arms.

At this point, her shoulders looked like they were carved out of ivory, white and round, shining with a crystal sheen in the gloomy room.

Tang Huimin felt a twinge of disgust as she saw the hoodlums and thugs looking at her greedily, and the men all held their breath as the top of her police uniform fell to the floor.
