

Claiming My Possessive CEO Husband by Qiaoqiao Nove

481 Chapter 481: The Dowry Belonging to Her

Moira Besian took a deep breath and pretended to be loving, “Xaviera, look, Mag has already paid the price. She has been injured all over her body, and her marriage with Moore can’t proceed. You should let go of your anger now, right?” @

Seeing the situation escalate to this point, the guests were already eager to leave. But with Mr. Caleb Mamet present, no one dared to leave first.

Under the scorching gaze of the crowd, Xaviera spoke calmly, “When my mother married into the Evans family, there was a dowry. I heard that Mrs. Rose Campbell intended to pass on that dowry to Mag Evans as her dowry for marrying Moore Mamet. Is that true?”

Hearing these words, Rose’s heart suddenly tightened, and she was shocked, “Xaviera, I... I thought...”

Seeing Caleb Mamet’s stormy expression, Derek Evans hurriedly stepped forward, trembling as he tried to explain, “Xaviera, don’t misunderstand! We’re not keeping the dowry for ourselves, it’s just that the Evans Company is experiencing some financial difficulties right now, and we can’t afford to spare any money. Mag is about to get married, and she’s marrying into the Mamet family. So we thought that we could borrow your mother’s dowry for her first. When the Evans family gets back on its feet, we’ll return the dowry to you.”

“Humph.” Xaviera sneered, “But Mag and Moore can’t get married now. Shouldn’t the dowry be returned to its original owner?”

Derek was sweating profusely, and his face was full of panic. The two of them stood there, feeling as though they were surrounded by an icy chill.

Derek bowed his head, saying nothing. His late wife Nina Hughes’s dowry was worth a fortune, more than the Evans family itself.

Without the company, the Evans family had to rely on the wealth and business left behind by Nina to make ends meet. If they lost this money, they would be in real trouble.

What's more, the dowry had been in his possession for all these years. Why should he give it back to Xaviera just because she asked for it?

Derek

looked uncomfortable, but if he didn't agree, Mr. Mamet may not be easily appeased and his life could be in danger!

"It seems that my father is... unwilling! Both Mag and I are daughters of the Evans family. When she was getting married, you were afraid she would be wronged, and you were willing to give her my mother's dowry. Now that I'm married, why can't you give the dowry to me? After all, the dowry originally belongs to me. It's only fair that I should have it!"

Xaviera continued, "I married into the Mamet family, and I need the dowry. What, in your eyes, Caleb Mamet is less worthy than Moore Mamet? I can be dealt with perfunctorily, and my dowry isn't necessary?"

As soon as the words fell, Caleb Mamet looked up slowly, glaring coldly at Derek Evans.

Derek Evans' face turned instantly pale. Helplessly, he said, "Xaviera, that dowry was left by your mother, and I should've given it to you. But..."

12:21

1/2

481 Chapter 481: The Dowry Belonging to Her

Derek struggled with his words, seemingly carrying a tremendous burden on his shoulders, his body trembling slightly.

"But you know how difficult things are for the Evans family now. We desperately need this money to make ends meet. Furthermore, your mother left you behind when she passed away, and the Evans family has been taking care of you ever since. You know how much it costs to raise a child. Even in her death, your mother had the responsibility to provide for you, so she should contribute her share of the support.”

Derek turned to Caleb Mamet with a fawning smile, “Mr. Caleb Mamet, we wouldn’t dare to treat you perfunctorily! It’s just that Xaviera didn’t tell us she was getting married. Otherwise, I would’ve definitely given her the dowry. I thought she wouldn’t need the money for the time being, so I decided to let Mag use it first. I never thought Xaviera would marry you.”

“Besides, you know how the Evans family has been struggling all these years. The assets and dowry left by Nina have all gone to patching up the holes. Xaviera demands that I hand over that dowry, but I just really... can’t do it!”

The guests nodded thoughtfully.

In fact, Derek’s words made sense. The dowry was Nina Hughes’s pre-marriage property, but years had passed since Nina’s death. The money should indeed belong to Derek, especially considering that he had been supporting Xaviera’s livelihood all these years. Those expenses weren’t negligible either, and it seemed a bit inappropriate to force the Evans family to pay up.

Seeing the guests nodding in agreement, Derek’s face eased a little.

482 Chapter 482: Godfather and Godmother Come to Support

“I spent quite a bit of money raising you too, and I can’t bear this cost alone, so I... used part of the dowry left by your mother. I really can’t give it all back to you!”

Derek Evans pleaded earnestly, “Xaviera, actually, all these years, I’ve always had great expectations for you. I know you hate Rose Campbell and Mag, so I haven’t let Rose enter our house now. It was only because of Mag’s engagement banquet that I allowed her to return. But you’ve turned the Evans family upside-down over such a small matter. How can I hand over the management of our family to you?”

“Xaviera, I’m your father. Even though we had some misunderstandings, you are always my daughter. You can’t... cause such unpleasantness with your own family. It’s not good for your reputation, you know...”

At this moment, footsteps were heard outside the door. Caleb Mamet slowly looked up, “Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, please come in.”

Xaviera was startled for a few seconds, then suddenly turned around.

At the entrance stood an elegant noblewoman and her husband, both dressed meticulously and wearing faint smiles on their lips. Under everyone’s gaze, they slowly walked in.

Doris Sullivan took a glance around, looked tenderly at Xaviera, then walked over to Caleb Mamet, slightly nodded her head, and the two exchanged greetings.

Standing next to Doris was the fashionable Mrs. Sullivan, with taut skin and a stunning figure. Wearing a dazzling sapphire necklace around her neck, she exuded the charm of a mature woman. Who would know that she was Albert Sullivan’s mother if they didn’t say?

Mrs. Sullivan, with her aura in full swing, spoke with red lips lightly parting, “Mr. Evans, today my husband and I are here to tell you that Xaviera’s maternal family is not the Evans family!”

Xaviera was somewhat surprised and hurried to Caleb’s side, asking in a low voice, “You brought them here?”

Mrs. Sullivan proudly raised her head, glanced coldly at the Evans family, and then sneered, “Mr. Evans, I heard from outside just now that you used Mrs. Hughes’s assets to raise Xaviera. That seems reasonable since she is not solely your daughter, and Mrs. Hughes should bear part of the expenses. But are you sure your money was really spent on Xaviera?”

Caleb whispered into Xaviera’s ear, “I asked them to come and support you. Surprise?”

Xaviera hurriedly nodded. This was really a big surprise!

“You said the Evans family business is not doing well, but how can Rose Campbell have the money to buy jewelry? I heard that Mrs. Campbell spent a fortune, more than 10 million dollars, at the jewelry store. Whose money was that? I think everyone knows the answer.”

Derek Evans’s face turned green with anger, “Who are you? What does my conversation with my daughter have to do with you?”

Mrs. Sullivan ignored him and went straight to Rose Campbell. She raised her hand and slapped her fiercely, then snatched a necklace from her neck.

10.58

1/2

482 Chapter 482: Godfather and Godmother Come to Support

“Everyone, take a good look, this necklace is a custom-made, new design from HT. The price is about 10 million dollars, and it seems that Mrs. Campbell bought more than just this piece.”

“Mr. Evans, you said you spent a lot of money raising Xaviera. But as far as I know, Xaviera was not raised by you. You threw her in the countryside, leaving her to fend for herself. You even let your mistress’s illegitimate daughter take over her identity and assets. Now, even the dowry left by Mrs. Hughes has to go to an illegitimate daughter. Do you think we are all fools?”

Xaviera happily ran over to Mrs. Sullivan and shouted, “Godmother! Godfather!”

“Sweetheart!” Mrs. Sullivan raised an eyebrow and looked disdainfully at Derek Evans, “I’m sorry, Mr. Evans, but Xaviera is my daughter. You are not worthy of being her father! Using Xaviera’s assets to support a mistress and illegitimate daughter, do you still have the nerve to bargain here? Give the money back to Xaviera now!”

As soon as the words fell, she walked over to Derek Evans, radiating anger, and rolled her eyes at him, “Mr. Evans, you pamper an illegitimate daughter but mistreat the daughter of your legitimate wife. You even let Mag wrong Xaviera. Is this how you act as a father?"

"And Madame Evans, you forced Xaviera to break up with Moore Mamet for the sake of an illegitimate daughter. You completely disregarded Xaviera and Moore's engagement and demanded that Xaviera give in. As Xaviera's grandmother, you favor an illegitimate daughter. Are you worthy to be Xaviera's grandmother?"

483 Chapter 483: Everyone Pushes the Falling Wall

Mrs. Sullivan's eyes were filled with anger. She said to Xaviera, "Xaviera, don't be afraid. Your godmother will stand up for you. As long as I'm here, no one will dare bully you!"

At these words, everyone started to whisper among themselves.

"They are from the Sullivan family in the Imperial Capital!"

Mrs. Sullivan was sharp with her words: "You still want Xaviera's inheritance? Do you people from the Evans family have any shame! The one who gave birth to Xaviera is Mrs. Nina Hughes, and the one who raised Xaviera is our Sullivan family. What right do you have to the money? Based on how thick your face is?"

"You!" Moira Besian was so embarrassed that her face turned red. The servant beside her managed to help her stand straight.

"Nowadays, Xaviera's support comes from our Sullivan family and the supreme authority, Mr. Caleb Mamet. I'm making it clear to you all today! The Evans family cannot take a single penny from Xaviera!"

When the guests heard this, they all began to whisper among themselves: "So Xaviera was adopted by the Sullivan family. No wonder she married Mr. Caleb Mamet. They must have known each other since they were young."

"In my opinion, the Evans family is to blame for this issue. Although I also have business dealings with the Evans family, I must speak up for what's right. Moreover, the relatives of the Evans family have been implicated. If we continue associating with the Evans family, we'll undoubtedly suffer consequences."

Derek Evans clenched his lips, his face ashen. Just as he was about to argue, one of his close friends spoke up first.

"Mr. Evans, I think Mrs. Sullivan is right. Mrs. Mamet was abandoned when she was a child. Mrs. Sullivan raised her. As her father, you haven't fulfilled your duty to provide for her ... You have no right to take Mrs. Hughes' dowry. I advise you to quickly return the dowry to Mrs. Mamet!"

The words in Derek's mouth were instantly swallowed.

Caleb Mamet sat on the sofa, smiling meaningfully. Those people who used to have close ties with the Evans family couldn't wait to distance themselves from them.

"Mr. Evans, I never expected you to abandon your own daughter, allowing your mistress and illegitimate daughter to wear jewels and squander Nina's inheritance while banishing Xaviera to the countryside. You're heartless as a father!"

"That's right! We were wrong to believe that Mr. Evans was a man of sentiment. You're so ruthless to your daughter, and we could be subjected to your mercilessness one day. Therefore, we've decided not to have any dealings with the Evans family ever again!"

"We also want to sever ties with the Evans family!"

Derek Evans' body went limp, and he swayed, almost fainting. Moira Besian clenched her teeth, but she had no power to refute in front of the supreme authority.

10:58

1/2

483 Chapter 483: Everyone Pushes the Falling Wall

The guests criticized one after another and declared their decision to cut off ties with the Evans family.

Actually, these people didn't think Derek was heartless, it was just that he had offended the wife of Caleb Mamet, so they took the opportunity to please Cal eb by criticizing Derek.

At that moment, Xaviera slowly got up from her seat, her voice cold, "I believe everyone knows that this villa is an inheritance left to me by my mother. It should have been inherited b y me, but it has been occupied by the Evans family for years. They have also t aken my mother's jewelry, accessories and company. It's time to return all of t hat to me, isn't it?"

Hearing this, everyone began to pressure Derek to return the inheritance.

Derek's face darkened as he glared at Xaviera with resentment, "You...Xavier a! You..."

"What's wrong with me?" Xaviera raised her eyebrows, smiling mockingly. Sh e then walked up to Rose Campbell, pulling a crystal bracelet off her hand.

"Mrs. Campbell, this bracelet has been borrowed by you for so many years. It' s time to return it to me!"

Everyone started cursing together: "The Evans family was willing to accept a mistress, which means they're not good people. This mother and daughter are angelic bitches, acting weak and submissive on the surface, yet secretly takin g Xaviera's belongings and trying to kill her."

"Mr. Evans, I don't know what you were thinking to fall for such a lowly woman ."

"Mrs. Mamet is right. Derek, you've occupied this villa for so many years, and Xaviera doesn't have any other requests except for returning what belongs to her. It's better for you and the Evans family to leave quickly!"

"I always wondered how the Evans family could afford such a big villa; it turns out that it was bought by Mrs. Hughes! Mr. Evans, this villa was never yours in the first place. It isn't appropriate for you to let your mistress and your illegitimate daughter live here!”

484 Chapter 484: The Evans Family Was Driven Away

Guests were all close friends and family of the Evans family. They didn't want to be implicated by Caleb Mamet, so they quickly distanced themselves from them.

Once one person started accusing, the crowd began to abuse them.

Mr. Caleb Mamet's presence today was to cause the Evans family disunity and make them lose everything. If Mrs. Mamet was satisfied, she wouldn't naturally cause any trouble for them.

Derek Evans was indeed a scum man. Everything he had now belonged to Nina Hughes, but who knew upon her death, he would throw Xaviera into the countryside and use Nina Hughes' money to support his mistress and illegitimate daughter. Such a person deserved a bad ending.

Derek Evans' head hung low, his body shuddering violently. Why did Xaviera marry Caleb Mamet? Why did she come back with him? Why did she force them to leave the villa?

Bang!

Someone threw a wine bottle at Derek Evans' head. It shattered against his forehead, blood gushing out.

“Derek Evans! You got us involved! Get out of here!”

With one person taking action, the crowd swarmed around the Evans family, shoving and driving them out.

Madame Evans, who was already struggling with mobility, was almost knocked over. She roared, “Let go! This is our Evans Villa! Why should we leave —”

“Old hag! You still have the audacity to say this is the Evans Villa! This was Mrs. Hughes' pre—marital property. What gives your Evans family the right to live here? Get out! You're an eyesore!"

Although the Evans family wasn't the top tier in Libanan, they were a well-known family in town after inheriting Nina Hughes' company and property. Moira Besian had never experienced such humiliation. Her face grew livid and she screamed, "Xaviera! I am your grandmother, how dare you kick us out! You unfilial girl! Unfilial..."

Her shouts gradually faded into the living room, already pushed out by the crowd. Her walking stick fell to the ground, causing her to stumble and fall.

The commotion in the Evans house was so loud that the neighbors came out to watch the excitement. They murmured among themselves, "I heard Old Madame Evans is a difficult person, even abusing her own granddaughter. Now she's getting her just desserts! So embarrassing!"

Mrs. Sullivan's anger hadn't dissipated. "Xaviera is from my Sullivan family. What gave that Old Madame Evans the right to bully her? Did she think our Sullivan family was that easy to bully?"

Albert Sullivan was gentle and reserved, not as outspoken as his mother. He simply said, "I will help Xaviera..."

Before

he could finish, Mrs. Sullivan interrupted him angrily, "That illegitimate girl, Margaret Evans, right? I heard she's a little star. No wonder Xaviera refuses to return to the Evans family. Monsters, all of them!"

10:58

1/2

484 Chapter 484: The Evans Family Was Driven Away

With the Evans family being driven out, the villa's living room suddenly became much more spacious, even the air felt fresher, Sean Price stepped in to clear the area, and the guests quickly left. In just moments, only Xaviera and a few others remained in Evans Villa.

Mrs. Sullivan put her hands on her waist and glared at Albert and his son. They shuddered, "I don't need your help, I'm going to tell the eldest brother directly."

Albert smiled wryly, "Wife, I will teach Derek Evans a lesson. He dared to bully our daughter. How could I let him off? In the future, wherever our Sullivan family is, the Evans family should avoid."

Doris Sullivan nodded, "I will help Xaviera too. If anyone dares to bully my sister, I'll make sure they don't go unpunished. But killing them would be too easy. We must make them taste the pain of being tortured!"

At that moment, the phone connected, and Mrs. Sullivan vented her frustrations to the person on the other end. After a few seconds of silence, a clear laughter came through, "Oh, someone's bullying Xaviera? Alright, I'll be right back."

After hanging up, Doris Sullivan complained, "Eldest brother is coming back? Knowing Xaviera was bullied, you all came rushing here, but if I were bullied, you wouldn't care about me!"

Mrs. Sullivan smacked him, "Shut up!"

An hour later, the Sullivan family left, and Yigol Mamet came for a visit.

Caleb Mamet sat on the sofa, on the phone with someone. His thin lips parted slightly, "Re-test."

Xaviera looked at him curiously.

485 Chapter 485: No Blood Relation

After hanging up the phone, Caleb Mamet's face turned serious. "I sent someone to investigate Derek Evans and found a secret. Before he married your mother-in-law, he got injured, and that part of his body was affected."

Caleb slowly got up and moved closer. “Actually, there’s a possibility that you might not be Derek Evans’s biological daughter.”

Xaviera Evans frowned: “I have suspected this possibility for a long time, but I took Derek Evans’s hair and did a paternity test. The result said we were blood-related. Whether he is my biological father or not doesn’t matter; he and I have nothing to do with each other anymore.”

“But Mag...”

Could it be that Mag, the beloved pearl in Derek Evans’s palm, wasn’t his biological daughter either? Did Rose Campbell cheat on him?

This revelation was explosive!

Caleb spoke awkwardly: “I think he might have lost his fertility, so you and he shouldn’t have any blood ties.”

What? Derek Evans had no fertility?

Xaviera had suspected that she wasn’t Derek Evans’s biological daughter, but she didn’t expect that he had no fertility at all. This surprised her a little.

Yigol Mamet, standing aside, lowered his head.

If only he had no blood relationship with the Mamet family, then he wouldn’t be Jenny Green and Will Mamet’s son. He could continue to be Caleb’s brother, or even live more freely than now.

Xaviera was a bit puzzled. Caleb was so sure, which meant he already had the identification results. But why did the previous paternity test using Derek’s hair show that they had a father–daughter relationship?

Xaviera’s gaze deepened. What secret was hidden behind this matter?

Yigol Mamet quickly spoke excitedly: “Xaviera, you’re not Derek’s daughter! I knew it! How could a shitty family like the Evans be related to you!”

“Xaviera, are you wondering why the previous identification showed you and Derek were father and daughter? I think there might be a possibility that your mother was hunted down and had to hide her identity and escape to Libanan. She created a company, left a huge fortune, and found Derek to pretend to be married. Maybe the real mastermind behind all this was afraid of you finding your real father, so they made a fake identification. What do you think?"

Xaviera: "..."

Yigol's imagination was truly novel—worthy!

At this time, Steve Price came over and said, "The Evans Villa has been cleaned up."

Caleb nodded, looked tenderly at Xaviera, and said, "Change the name."

10:50

1/3

<

485 Chapter 485: No Blood Relation

Xaviera looked up at the sign hanging on the wall outside the Evans Villa. She instructed someone to remove it.

After a moment of thought, she decided, "My mother's surname is Hughes; let's change it to the Hughes Manor!"

Caleb gently stroked her hair: "The confirmation result will be out tomorrow, I'll go with you."

Xaviera nodded.

The next day.

This time the whole process was operated by Caleb's people to prevent the influence of test results. As expected, Xaviera and Derek Evans had no blood relationship.

Xaviera's eyes slightly narrowed, her voice cold: "The previous identification was tampered with. It seems someone has been trying to stop me from knowing the truth, or rather, to stop me from finding my biological father!"

"But what is the purpose of this mastermind? Who was my mother's real identity? I have a feeling that her background is not simple; she might be from a prominent family."

"The person who stopped me from knowing the truth, was it because knowing everything would damage their interests and even make them lose everything?"

Caleb looked up: "You're right. That person has been covering up the truth and monitoring the Evans family, or perhaps they are from the Evans family."

Seeing Xaviera's frown, Caleb smiled: "Don't think too much about it. I'll help you investigate. Now that I have put Steve Price in charge of your mother's shop, do you want to visit?"

Xaviera quickly nodded. She had to go!

Caleb softly comforted: "This matter has been hidden for so many years; we cannot be impatient. We have to investigate slowly."

He hesitated a bit but still asked a sharp question: "Do you... want to find your biological father?"

Xaviera's eyes were indifferent.

"Whether I find him or not doesn't matter. After all, I have four brothers and you by my side. A father is not that important to me anymore."

486 Chapter 486: The Campbell Family in Lokio

Caleb Mamet gently hooked the corner of his mouth, winking at Sean Price.

Sean Price immediately understood, went outside, and made a call, "Mr. Sullivan, yes... The president will take Mrs. Sullivan there later."

"Thank you, Mr. Sullivan. Mrs. Sullivan will be very happy when she finds out about the surprise you've prepared for her!"

The shops registered under Xaviera Evans's mother were originally affiliated with the Evans Group, but now they've all been reclaimed. Xaviera directly ch anged the headquarters to 'Nina, as only her mother's name could match these shops.

In the future, she would be the boss of these shops; how could she not go and take a look?

Xenia Jaak arrived early to congratulate Xaviera, handing her a small gift box, "This is a congratulatory gift, just a small token of my appreciation."

Xaviera smiled, took the gift, and held Xenia's hand as they entered the mall together.

Unexpectedly, the usually bustling mall was now very quiet. Although there were reception staff at the entrance of the shops, there wasn't a single customer in sight.

Xaviera looked around in confusion. The names of the shops had been changed, and there were new products and promotional discounts. How could there be no customers?

She approached a shop surrounded by bodyguards who were not allowing anyone near.

Caleb Mamet's expression darkened, and Sean Price quickly said, "President, let me go check out the situation."

Xaviera went to a shop guarded by dozens of bodyguards, looking fierce and formidable, and the helpless customers could only leave.

After a while, Sean Price came back with a gloomy expression, "President, an offshoot Miss from the Campbell family has come. Her bodyguards are blocking the entrance and not letting customers in."

The Campbell family?

Xaviera felt like she had heard of this family before, but couldn't remember what kind of family it was at the moment. It didn't seem like there was any major household with the Campbell surname in Libanan.

An offshoot Miss coming to the mall required clearing the place out? This was outrageous.

Xenia Jaak sneered, "The Campbell family from Lokio? I've heard of them."

Sean Price nodded, "Yes, the Campbell family from Lokio. I don't know what's happened to them recently; Mr. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell, and Miss Campbell all came to Libanan. I didn't expect an offshoot Miss to come along"

Xenia rushed to the group of bodyguards and angrily demanded, "Who gave you the guts to act wildly here? Get out of the way immediately!"

The bodyguards lowered their heads and glanced at her, their expressions serious, "Our Miss is

10:59

1/2

486 Chapter 486: The Campbell Family in Lokio

gracing this mall with her presence and will not be disturbed by anyone. So we are in charge of clearing the area."

Xaviera saw several bodyguards forcing customers out in the distance. Although the customers were unwilling, they dared not resist and could only leave dejectedly.

Xenia was instantly furious, "Our wealthy families in Libanan are no worse than yours in Lokio. What right do people from Lokio have to run wild on our turf? And I've heard the Campbell family is here to find someone. What's an offshoot Miss coming along for?"

As Xaviera and the others approached, they were stopped by the bodyguards.

The bodyguards were incredibly arrogant, their eyes as if they were the most noble dogs in the world! "Our Miss is gracious enough to visit Libanan, it's your honor. Don't worry about her status; she's highly favored in the Campbell family. You little hoodies can't compare! Leave immediately! Otherwise, don't blame us if you get hurt."

Xaviera's expression remained unchanged.

Sean Price's face darkened, and he quickly contacted the person in charge of the mall.

Xenia, knowing that the shop belonged to Xaviera, mocked with a sneer, "So this is your shop, huh? You just kick people out when you say so! Is your Miss a fairy? Is that why she can't be seen by anyone? If you block the entrance like this, who's responsible for the losses?"

The bodyguard's face turned angry as he raised his fist to attack Xenia. Seeing this, Steve Price rushed over and kicked the attacker away. Turning back with a triumphant smile, he said, "President, am I handsome?"

Seeing one of their own being beaten, the other bodyguards charged over aggressively. Steve Price calmly engaged them with a smile. Before long, they were all lying on the ground, wailing in pain.

So this is the extent of the Campbell family's abilities? Pathetic!

487 Chapter 487: Mrs. Mamet Will Never Forget a Grudge

Xaviera Evans raised her eyebrows, she had never encountered such unreasonable behavior from a wealthy family, demanding to clear a shopping mall just for their young lady? An offshoot Miss from a strange city dared to be so arrogant?

At this moment, the manager came to the door, caught sight of Xaviera, and immediately greeted her joyfully, "Miss, you're finally here!"

Xaviera looked at the crying bodyguard on the ground and glanced at the store before asking, "Why are you the only one here?"

There should have been many employees in the store originally, but now only the store manager was left.

The manager glanced at the second floor with a helpless expression: "Miss Campbell is truly overbearing, she drove all the customers away and demanded the staff to serve her personally. Unfortunately, our business here in Lokio relies on the Campbell family, so I dare not offend Miss Campbell.”

Xaviera curled her lips, the Campbell family dared to be so rampant on her turf? Even if their family head comes today, she would make this Miss Campbell pay a heavy price!

Xaviera went into the store aggressively, ordering, “Go to those customers who were driven away, explain the situation to them, and appease their mood. Along with that, send them some gifts or discount cards, making sure they are satisfied.”

She then instructed another store employee, “You and the others throw these bodyguards out and get ready to receive customers.”

Both of them nodded and followed Xaviera’s instructions.

Xaviera chuckled meaningfully, “I’d like to have a word with this honorable Miss Campbell!”

Xenia Jaak was furious, “Who does the Campbell family think they are? This is Libanan! She should ask who Xaviera’s husband is. That’s Mr. Caleb Mamet ...”

Before she could finish speaking, a shrill female voice came from the second floor, “Who do you think you are! Our Campbell family is of the upper class, and you dare to insult us openly?”

Xaviera saw a woman come down from the second floor, wearing all designer labels and striding haughtily towards her.

A few staff members from the store followed her, each carrying several exquisite bags.

The store specialized in high-end women’s handbags, most of which were unique custom designs with steep prices. Even with Xenia’s abundant family wealth, she wouldn’t dare buy too many.

10:59

|||

F

1/3

487 Chapter 487: Mrs. Mamet Will Never Forget a Grudge

But this Miss Campbell had directly ordered 18 high-end bags, which made Xenia's eyes widen in shock. Was this person crazy?!

Little did she know that Xaviera was already smiling knowingly. Unable to understand why she was laughing, Xenia watched Xaviera gracefully greet the woman.

"Miss Campbell, hello, I'm a shareholder and the person in charge of this store."

Sean Price whispered in Caleb Mamet's ear, "The bags she's holding are all around a million dollars each. Even someone from a wealthy family like Miss Jo would hesitate to buy a few of them. How could an offshoot Miss of the Campbell family afford so much money?"

The total cost of these bags was 20 million dollars!

Sean frowned, "If Miss Campbell can't afford to pay, that would be embarrassing. Mr. Mamet, what do you think should be done?"

Caleb Mamet remained calm, "Since she's decided to buy them, she must pay for them. If she can't afford it, just send the bill directly to the Campbell family."

He paused for a moment, a faint smile on his lips, "However, I'm afraid 20 million dollars won't be enough."

Sean was puzzled.

Caleb Mamet explained, "Mrs. Mamet always seeks revenge for the slightest grievance. Since Miss Campbell has disturbed her store, she will surely make her pay a hefty price. How could 20 million dollars be enough to appease her?"

Sean Price: "?" It seemed that Mr. Mamet was looking forward to his wife's tactics!

With an amicable smile, Xaviera inquired, “Many new styles have arrived today. Which one does Miss Campbell like?”

Zoe Campbell looked at the polite Xaviera and nodded in satisfaction, “I like all of them, wrap them all up!”

The employee promptly nodded, carefully packaging the expensive bags in high-quality fabrics, fearing the surfaces would be scratched.

Just as Zoe Campbell was about to turn and leave after all the bags were packed, the store manager called her back.

“Miss Campbell, among the 18 bags you purchased, ten are new styles, seven are custom designs with an average price of around 1 million dollars, and the last is a limited edition, one-of-a-kind piece designed by Lohill with a price tag of 3,500,000 dollars.”

488 Chapter 488: Miss Campbell Doesn't Pay When Shopping

“Miss Campbell, your total spending comes to 2,150,000 dollars, and there's a promotion in our store that offers a discount for purchases over five million dollars. We'll just round down the total to 2,100,000 dollars for you. Would you like to pay by card or...” 1

The store goes silent.

Zoe Campbell's face darkens, her voice sharp: “20 million dollars?”

What the hell! Are these bags really worth that much?

The store manager's face remains smiling: “It's 2,100,000 dollars, Miss Campbell is from the Lokio Campbell family, I'm sure you can afford it. If you don't have the money with you, someone can bring it to you, and you can wait here. We'll prepare some coffee and pastries for you.”

Zoe's face turns even more somber.

She snorts arrogantly, “What a load of crap! You’re asking me for 20 million dollars for these shitty bags? Do you take me for a fool?! This is a rip-off! Fine, I won’t argue with you! Let’s go!”

With that, she turns to leave.

Xaviera Evans stops her with an indifferent look, giving her an official smile, “Miss Campbell, our shop specializes in luxury items, made of the most precious materials. The prices are clearly marked on these bags. Perhaps you didn’t look closely. If... you feel that it’s unaffordable, you can return them.”

Zoe

is only a daughter from an offshoot of the Campbell family. She finds it difficult to spend 20 million dollars all at once.

She yells in anger, “You guys are ripping me off!”

“Miss Campbell, you’re misunderstanding.” Xaviera blinks. “All the bags have prices clearly marked. If you find them expensive, you don’t have to buy them. We won’t insist. But as a Campbell daughter, if you want to take the bags without paying, how is that different from robbery?”

“Miss Campbell, you’ve accused me of ripping you off, but that’s slander. You had your bodyguards clear the area, so our store could focus on serving you. Based on our usual sales volume, at least 3,000,000 dollars would have been earned during the time the area was cleared.”

“And because you drove away our customers, we need to compensate and appease them. That will also require some funds. The total amount for these would be more than 1,000,000 dollars.”

“I’ve taken on these two expenses and didn’t ask Miss Campbell to pay. Yet, you accuse me of ripping you off? If Miss Campbell really thinks so, I won’t put up with it any more. the hope you’ll pay i Tosses!”

Xenia Jaak can’t help but laugh.

The store manager quickly calculates the losses and then reports: "Miss, the losses incurred by the customers you drove away are roughly estimated to be 3,700,000 dollars. The compensation paid to customers in the form of discount cards and gifts is 1,300,000 dollars. In total, that's exactly

10:59

1/2

<

488 Chapter 488: Miss Campbell Doesn't Pay When Shopping

5,000,000 dollars. If we add the previous 2,100,000 dollars, it comes to 2,600,000 dollars"

"What? You're asking for more money? Pay up, or I'll see you in court!"

Zoe, furious, fumes at the numbers: "I am a Miss Campbell, but dare you stop me? It's your honor to have me in your store!"

"If people learn that Miss Campbell favors your bags, they will definitely follow suit. I'm advertising for your store. Don't be ungrateful, asking me for money. I think you've gone crazy with poverty!"

Zoe pushes Xaviera and strides towards the exit.

Xaviera's eyes darken, "Since Miss Campbell is unwilling to pay, let's call the police. If the news gets out, Miss Campbell will become infamous. The Campbell Company has invested in the development of a tourist project. If everyone knows Miss Campbell doesn't pay for her things, I wonder if they would still patronize the Campbell Company?"

"You!" Zoe roars: "You dare disgrace the Campbell name!

I... It's your honor that I'm willing to take things from your store, but... You're threatening me, are you? If I smash this damn store, will you believe me?"

"You dare threaten me? I'll make you pay dearly!"

Xaviera looks helpless, "Alright then. If that's the case, I'll just have to seek help from the police. The bags you've taken are worth more than 20 million dollars

s. When this issue blows up, the Campbell family's loss won't be just over 20 million dollars. It could be 200 million dollars, or even more."

Zoe's face turns ugly, her teeth clenched.

Suddenly-

"Miss Evans, Zoe has been quite rude and ungrateful, I apologize on her behalf."

489 Chapter 489: Best Actor Winner Elijah Flack Arrives

A gentle female voice came, and everyone looked towards the source.

Zoe Campbell's face was full of joy, and she hurriedly went to greet her, "Anna!"

The newcomer was also wearing jewels, but her demeanor was several notches higher than Zoe's. Every move she made revealed her status as a well-bred lady, held herself with poise and grace.

As soon as this woman appeared, it seemed as if she emitted light, announcing to everyone that she was the top noble lady.

Xaviera Evans glanced at the woman and immediately understood that she was Miss Campbell of the Campbell family, Anna Campbell.

Anna Campbell's proud gaze landed on Xaviera, and then she showed a gentle smile: "Miss Evans, my sister has been spoiled by our family. She may have been out of line in her actions, but we, the Campbell family, are not in debt. Whatever the cost, there is no need for a discount. Just swipe the card."

Anna took a black card from her bag and handed it to Xaviera, "This card was given to me by my father, it has no limit, with 20 million dollars on it, which should be enough."

After speaking, she turned her head to look at Zoe, "You can't be so wilful next time."

“Anna, I was wrong. Uncle is so good to you, he even gave you a black card. You are truly Miss Campbell of our family. The one who had fled abroad can’t compare with you...”

Suddenly she changed color, knowing that she had said something wrong, and hurriedly laughed awkwardly, “Anna, don’t worry, I mean only you are Miss Campbell, no one can be more noble than you.”

Anna’s expression remained unchanged, and she smiled lightly, “Hmm.”

She swiped the card, then left first, full of presence, clearly showing her noble Miss demeanor. Zoe immediately followed, and the bodyguards trailed behind the two sisters.

Suddenly, Anna paused, and a trace of ruthlessness flashed in her eyes, but when she turned around, she still smiled gently, “Miss Evans, we’ll meet again!”

The bodyguards then safeguarded Anna, who slowly disappeared in front of everyone.

Xenia Jaak sneered, “Miss Campbell of the Lokio Campbell family is really grand! Just going shopping in a mall requires dozens of bodyguards, if you didn’t know better, you would think someone was trying to assassinate her! It’s ridiculous!”

“But this Anna Campbell is really not simple. She is a popular female star and the legitimate Miss of the Campbell family. No one in the entertainment industry dares to mess with her, and because of that, she has obtained many excellent resources.”

“It’s probably because she’s not only Miss Campbell but also a popular actress, that’s why she needs so many bodyguards when she goes out!”

Sean Price frowned, “I always feel that this Miss deliberately cleared the mall. There was no need for

10:59

1/3

<

489 Chapter 489: Best Actor Winner Elijah Flack Arrives

such measures, it's like she was putting on a show for someone to see.”

Putting on a show for who?

Xaviera was startled for a few seconds.

This noble—

looking Miss Campbell was not as gentle as she seemed. She hid her true nature too deeply, making her even more dangerous. If she was not careful, she would fall into her trap. Xaviera did not like to speculate about others behind their backs, but she could clearly feel that this Miss Campbell had an inexplicable hostility towards her. Moreover, it seemed that she had not told the Campbell sisters that her name was Xaviera Evans, but Anna called her Miss Evans.

Strange!

After the store resumed normal operations, Xaviera decided to take a closer look at other shops, but Caleb Mamet stopped her, whispering: “Don't leave yet, there's a surprise for you.”

Xaviera looked up with a puzzled expression, and then heard a series of female screams.

“Ahhh! It's Elijah Flack!”

“It's

the best actor winner Elijah Flack? Wasn't it said that he left the entertainment industry and went abroad? Why is he appearing here? Is he coming back?!”

“Elijah Flack and his agent are here! What are they doing in the mall?”

“Check Elijah Flack's Twitter. He said he came to the mall for an event today. Let's go see Mr. Mcdreamy!”

Elijah Flack walked to the door of the 'Nina' store, Xaviera's frustrations instantly vanished as she excitedly rushed over, sweetly shouting: “Brother, you're back!”

At this moment, Anna also heard the commotion over here, "Elijah Flack?"

She was silent for a while, her eyes narrowed, "Help me take a photo and post it on Twitter. Let everyone know that I and Elijah Flack are shopping in the same mall."

Zoe was puzzled, "Anna, even though he is the best actor winner, but you..."

<

490 Chapter 490: Riding the Heat Wave

"Elijah Flack is not only a best actor winner, but he is also the only son of the Flack family in the Imperial Capital." Anna Campbell said with a meaningful smile, "I must fully demonstrate my worth, I want to let everyone know that I am the true Miss Campbell, only I can bring endless honor and benefits to the Campbell family."

Zoe Campbell, not only is Anna's sister, but she also serves as Anna's assistant. She quickly took a few pictures, refined them a bit, and released them from Anna's studio's account, making sure to @ Anna's personal account.

Zoe was confused, "What is Elijah Flack doing at the mall?"

Anna looked disdainful, snorted coldly, "Perhaps he couldn't make it abroad, just happened to be invited to do an event at the mall, so he came back."

It definitely can't be for that person.

Anna's gaze turned icy. She knew she couldn't hide the truth for long. Therefore, she had to be fully prepared before the truth came out. Even when the truth is exposed, the Campbell family cannot do without her.

After all, she has been with her parents for so long, could she be outdone by a stranger?

It's been a long time since Xaviera Evans saw her brother. She excitedly jumped about. Elijah Flack waved at everyone, calming the fans instantly.

Xaviera Evans didn't get too close, she just stood aside and watched him. Her brother was the most stable of her multiple brothers, but eventually he entered the entertainment industry, which caught everyone by surprise.

Later, he gradually withdrew from the entertainment industry, took over the family business, and managed the Flack family's business in an orderly manner.

He's the only heir to the Flack family's assets in the Imperial Capital, steady and seasoned, restrained, only showing a bit of a smile in front of the closest people.

"Wow! This mall is amazing! They managed to invite Elijah Flack?"

"Elijah Flack never participates in offline events. Sometimes he doesn't even attend the movie premiere. I heard his background is quite formidable. He's from a prestigious family, and when making movies, he never cares about the pay, only choosing the projects he likes. And no one can force him to do things he doesn't want."

"Now I'm really curious, who managed to get Elijah Flack to come!"

Standing on the stage, Elijah Flack's detached voice came from the microphone. If you observe carefully, you can see that his gaze was always fixed on someone in the audience, gradually turning gentle.

"Today, I came back to my home country for someone important, hoping to send her my blessings on this special day."

10:59

1/3

<

490 Chapter 490: Riding the Heat Wave

Then Elijah Flack sang a melodious song. This song was written by a famous musician in Fenlon for his sister, and it is most suitable to sing for Xaviera Evans now.

His voice was deep, full of profound affection.

In fact, everyone knows that Elijah Flack's voice is outstanding, but he never sings in public. Today, he set a precedent. Was it for his sister?

When

the last note fell, under the protection of his assistant and bodyguard, Elijah Flack exited the scene, the fans were still very excited, screaming and cheering

Xaviera Evans went to the backstage and took Elijah Flack to the Restroom on the second floor, "Brother, how is everything abroad? Did you come back because of a change in work?"

Elijah Flack ruffled Xaviera Evans' silky hair, "Very good, did I hear that you got married?" Xaviera Evans nodded, Elijah Flack's gaze fell on Caleb Mamet, and he instantly stiffened.

Half an hour later.

Twitter exploded with two pieces of news; one that Elijah Flack had returned home, and the other about Elijah Flack and Anna Campbell.

As Elijah Flack was chatting with Xaviera Evans, he got a call from his agent. That's when he learned that Twitter was blowing up.

Xaviera Evans quickly pulled out her phone, opened Twitter, and frowned, Anna Campbell? Was that not the ostentatious Miss Campbell they had encountered earlier at the shop?

She clicked on Anna Campbell's studio's Twitter, attached was an image that clearly captured the name of the mall.

[Anna Campbell's studio: Anna came to meet an important person.]

Xaviera Evans frowned in displeasure. Was Anna Campbell's tweet piggybacking on her brother's popularity?

Just after her brother came back and said he came to the mall for someone important, Anna Campbell also posted a similar tweet. This could easily lead to misunderstanding!

Indeed, fans in the comments section immediately connected Elijah Flack's return with Anna Campbell.