

Claiming My Possessive CEO Husband by Qiaoqiao Novel

500 Chapter 500: The Most Cunning Person is You!

The crazy fans had just finished leaving comments when the screen went black again. Then, another surveillance video appeared, showing Anna Campbell and Zoe Campbell entering the director's office, with the director and producer rushing forward to greet them.

Anna: "Director Parkin, I can invest in the crew, the Campbell family will contribute five million dollars to this movie. I have only one request, which is for me to play Elijah Flack's sister." —

Director Parkin hesitated: "Miss Campbell, it's not that I don't want to give you face, it's just... the role has already been decided, and it's a newcomer recommended by Mr. Flack, who has great acting skills. We signed the contract yesterday, I'm really sorry..."

—Anna appeared nonchalant: "10 million dollars."

At this moment, Zoe spoke up angrily: "Xaviera Evans? That bitch is not even qualified to compete with our Anna? She's a liar! Does someone with absolutely no acting experience even deserve to compete with Anna for a role? If she stars in this movie, she will completely ruin it! Our Anna is the box office draw, if you choose Xaviera Evans to star, don't blame the Campbell family for being rude!"

Anna was generous: "I have never seen any of Xaviera Evans' works, I think she might not be a professional, and without systematic training, how can she act well in a movie... But it's okay, if you have already decided on the role, then forget it, after all, it's first come, first served."

After hesitating for a while, Director Parkin finally agreed: "Alright then, Miss Campbell, this role will be played by you."

Anna: "Don't worry, Director Parkin, I will cover Xaviera Evans' breach of contract penalty."

When the last sentence was finished, the video ended and switched back to the live broadcast room.

At this point, Anna was still introducing her backyard, saying that she often creates or practices acting there, completely unaware that the situation in the live broadcast room had completely changed.

The audience was in shock for a long time. It turned out that it was not Xaviera Evans who had stolen Anna's role, but Anna who had stolen Xaviera's role. And now she was biting back?

Everyone was stunned for a few seconds before digesting this news. They heard Anna speak: "This is my first collaboration with Elijah Flack, but..."

The host asked: "What's happened?"

"But Mr. Flack seems to prefer Miss Xaviera Evans."

Anna sighed helplessly: "Mr. Flack has already announced on Twitter that he is quitting the movie, and right after the incident with Xaviera stealing the role. I really don't understand why someone like Mr. Flack would stand up for Xaviera. Maybe it's because she was recommended by him, and I don't know what Xaviera said to Mr. Flack, maybe..."

Anna's words were meant to make Elijah Flack's fans come out and attack Xaviera, and to let everyone blame Xaviera for Mr. Flack quitting the crew.

500 Chapter 500: The Most Cunning Person is You!

Over his many years in the entertainment industry, Elijah Flack has never had any scandals. Now, for a newcomer, he has quit the crew directly, and the relationship between the two must not be simple.

Anna smiled meaningfully: "I think Mr. Flack will see the truth one day, it's just a matter of time."

The host was about to ask a question when suddenly there was a roar from his earpiece: "Are you blind?! Look at the live broadcast room!"

The host was stunned for a few seconds, then turned to look at the live broadcast room and went dumb, the entire screen was covered with items, making the video screen freeze.

Normally, it was quite common for the live broadcast room to be showered with gifts, but these people were sending things like 'rotten eggs, 'stinky socks, and 'broken wine bottles, indicating that the audience was very dissatisfied. What was going on?

Before the host could react, Anna gently asked: "What happened? Let's continue our tour of my study, which contains many of my collections..."

Before she could finish speaking, someone in the live broadcast room suddenly opened the interactive channel, and a roar came from the phone.

"You're still pretending! It's obvious that you stole Xaviera's role, but you're biting back! You can even frame a newcomer without any shame, acting all high and mighty on the surface, but in reality, you're the most sinister person!"

There was silence all around.

The servants in the villa all lowered their heads, fearing that Miss Campbell would take her anger out on them. Anna's face turned pale, her body stiff.

After a few seconds, Anna hurriedly tried to explain: "I don't understand what this audience means, you are a fan of Miss Xaviera Evans, then I have nothing to say, I hope you will leave voluntarily, and not disturb our live broadcast."
