501 Chapter 501: Angelic Bitch, Get Out of the Entertainment Circle!

The host, fixated on the screen, immediately changed her expression, lowering her voice as she cautioned, “Anna, better stop talking.”

The barrage of comments on the screen completely obscured the visuals, filled with cursing voices.

[We’ve already seen the surveillance footage! Anna Campbell is a liar! Can’t she even blush when lying?]

[Not only did Anna Campbell steal Xaviera Evans’s role, but she had even turned around to bite back; now, fans of Anna Campbell are all damning Xaviera Evans online!]

[How could there be such a scheming woman! If it hadn’t been for us watching the surveillance, we would have misunderstood Xaviera Evans. I suspect Anna Campbell has done this before, it’s just that this time there is surveillance footage!]

[Angelic bitch! Get out of showbiz!]

Anna Campbell, not understanding what was happening, stepped in front of the camera. Seeing the curses shown on the barrage of comments made her face turn pale, and her eyes were filled with fear.

[Stunned, aren’t you! Bet you didn’t see it coming, we watched the surveillance!]

Though Anna Campbell had a lot of fans, there are many others interested in this matter, currently standing up for the wronged Xaviera Evans.

Faced with everyone’s questioning, Anna Campbell clenched her fists tightly, forcing herself to calm down, and asked with feigned innocence, “What are you all talking about! I don’t understand? You’re saying... I stole Xaviera Evans’s role?”

[Keep acting! I wonder how long you can keep this up! We have all seen the surveillance footage!]

Surveillance?

Anna Campbell's body shuddered suddenly.

Wasn't that surveillance footage handled already?

In reality, the video had already been posted on Twitter, and within ten minutes it had received over 10 million views. It contained footage of both Xaviera Evans and Anna Campbell auditioning.

Anna Campbell's face blanched, it couldn't be! Director Parkin had said it had been deleted. He wouldn't lie to her. After all, the exposure of this matter would also be a blow to Director Parkin.

Anna Campbell pushed down the doubts in her heart. Now wasn't the time to ponder over this. She had to find an excuse, she couldn't let everyone know what she did, or her future would be ruined.

She glanced at the surveillance, then opened her eyes wide, feigning pain, "This.. Miss Evans actually auditioned? But... but the director told me that Xaviera Evans hadn't auditioned and the role hadn't been decided. I had no idea they had already signed a contract, so... it turns out I really did steal Miss Evans's role! I... I'm so sorry, Miss Evans, truly sorry!"

The host, hearing the voice in her earpiece, quickly asked, “Anna, when you accepted this role, you had no idea Xaviera Evans had already signed a contract, right?”

Anna Campbell nodded her head, her eyes filled with guilty tears, “I... I really didn’t know. If I did know, I...I wouldn’t have agreed to play this role. I wrongly blamed Miss Evans, but the director...sigh! Forget it, it’s all my fault.”

Although she seemed hesitant to speak, she subtly shifted all the blame onto the director.

[Damn! Just stop acting! We all saw it. You told the director that if he kicked Xaviera Evans out and let you play the role, you would invest 10 million dollars. Do you think we are all fools? Do you think a few drops of your tears will convince us?]

[Moreover, you can’t even memorize your lines. With your acting skills, how do you compete with Xaviera Evans for a role? How thick-skinned are you! Just because you’re Miss Campbell doesn’t mean you can do as you please in showbiz. Didn’t you say it yourself? Showbiz is a place where talent is valued, otherwise the audience won’t buy it. With your acting skills, you better quit immediately!]

Tears streamed down Anna Campbell’s face as she whimpered, “I... I didn’t do that! Actually... so many directors want me to do films. Why would I need to compete with Xaviera Evans? It must be a misunderstanding? I don’t know Xaviera Evans and there’s no reason for me to target her.”

“Everyone, calm down, the original choice for the role was actually decided from the beginning.” Mrs. Drew slowly walked over, speaking casually as she explained their situation.

Xaviera Evans in front of the screen was slightly taken aback. Mrs. Campbell looked familiar, reminding her somewhat of... her mother, but how could there be a connection between Mrs. Campbell, a noble lady of Lokio, and her mother?

Could it be true as Yigol Mamet said, that her mother was once the daughter of a wealthy family, then encountered some difficulties before marrying Derek Evans, otherwise it would be hard to explain why her mother would marry that useless Derek Evans and bring with her such a large fortune.
