502 Chapter 502: The Relationship between Xaviera Evans and the Campbell Family

Mrs. Campbell was polite and elegant when she spoke, “Miss Evans is not in the acting industry. Auditioning was merely a trial for her, not a bid for the role.”

“As for our Anna...” Mrs. Campbell paused, then continued, “In fact, the role was already confirmed for Anna to play. The audition was merely a formality. She couldn’t remember the lines because she was too busy, but she will certainly prepare thoroughly for the actual shooting.”

Anna Campbell’s face eased slightly, wiping a tear. “My mother is right. Miss Evans has known all along that the role was already confirmed. We even agreed on this before. I don’t understand... why things turned out this way.”

Xaviera Evans was lurking amongst the audience and typed a line: [Now that Miss Evans isn’t here to defend herself, you’re free to say whatever you please. Could this be yet another one of your lies? After all, you previously claimed that Miss Evans stole your role! How can we trust you again?]

Seeing these prominent words, Anna hurriedly explained, “You must believe me. If I really had stolen Miss Evans’s role, why wouldn’t I delete the video? Why would I leave evidence?”

“Our Campbell family is far from short of money. If I indeed made a mistake, we could have just deleted these surveillance videos, and no one would have ever known, right?”

Mrs. Campbell interjected, “Indeed! Our Anna does not even know Miss Evans. Why would we purposely target a stranger? I’d rather Anna leave the acting scene to take over our family business instead. We Campbell’s wouldn’t stoop to doing such a thing against an unknown rookie.”

At this moment, the barrage of comments suddenly slowed down. Everyone momentarily unsure of whom to believe. At this point, Anna’s fans began to come forward and defend her.

[Anna's right! She is Miss Campbell. If she had really stolen the role, she certainly wouldn't have left. any evidence!]

[Didn't Anna say she and Xaviera Evans had already talked it through! Miss Evans isn't in the acting industry. She probably just casually tried out a scene, simulating an audition situation. Someone with bad intentions posted it online, leading to all this misunderstanding.]

[With Anna's fame, there's no need for her to compete for roles. Many directors hope to invite her to their productions. Besides, if she truly wishes to portray a character, the Campbell family would just finance the production. There is no need for her to compete with Miss Evans for a role! Mrs. Campbell is right, they wouldn't stoop so low.]

Spotting the change in popular sentiment, Anna promptly stepped forward, "Indeed, with my status, why would I pick on a newcomer?"

Xaviera Evans gave a meaningful smile.

She despised the Campbell family's pretentious demeanor. Acting as if they were superior to everyone else, thinking that their wealth allowed them to control everything. Unjustly blaming others for stealing their roles, when they themselves were the culprits. If she were indeed a newcomer, such defamation by Anna would make it impossible for her to survive in the entertainment industry, she would be universally condemned.

Then, Caleb Mamet off to the side raised his hand, signaling with a gesture.

Sean Price immediately understood and took out his phone, commanding, "Go for it."

Caleb Mamet lowered his eyes, softly uttering, "Xaviera, the Campbell family ... may have ties to you."

Xaviera Evans showed no surprise but nodded, "This Mrs. Campbell does remind me of Caleb Mamet hesitated a bit, "No, it's not just that."

Xaviera raised her eyebrows, somewhat puzzled.

my mother."

At this moment, Sean Price handed Xaviera a document, "Years ago, when Mrs. Campbell gave birth, someone switched her baby. Her biological daughter is missing, and the child whom they raised as their royal gem is actually the daughter of a servant. But the Campbells are unaware of this."

Hearing this, Xaviera instantly understood.

Caleb Mamet began, "Later, the Campbell family unintentionally discovered this fact but decided not to look for their biological daughter. However, for some reason, they suddenly began their search and ended up in Libanan."

"So what? How is the Campbell family related to me?"

Caleb Mamet looked serious, "You... are the biological daughter they're looking for."

The living room fell silent.

Steve Price and Sean Price glanced at each other, held their breath, and cast their eyes down.

503 Chapter 503: Adrian Campbell Captured

Xaviera Evans was stunned for a few seconds, then regained her composure and sneered, "Me? You're saying I'm Mrs. Campbell's biological daughter?" (1

Caleb Mamet was not surprised by her lack of reaction and glanced at the screen indifferently, "After knowing this, do you still want to confront the Campbell family?"

"They started it!" Xaviera Evans retorted indignantly, "First, Miss Campbell came to my store to cause trouble, then Anna Campbell took my role and even sent people to kill me! Even if they didn't know who I am, they shouldn't have treated me like that! Since they've bullied me, why should I go easy on them?"

Caleb Mamet sighed helplessly, "But if you do this, you might not be able to go back to the Campbell family in the future."

Xaviera Evans sneered, "Senior fellow, do you think I really want to become Miss Campbell? For such a family that would do anything to achieve their goals, why should I go back?"

But Mrs. Campbell must know her mother, and she can investigate her mother's background and secrets through Mrs. Campbell.

Seeing Xaviera Evans not caring, Caleb Mamet heaved a sigh of relief.

"I said it a long time ago; it doesn't really matter whether I find my biological father or not. I already have a mother, a grandfather, brothers, and sisters, many godfathers, and godmothers, and..."

Xaviera Evans smiled, "Senior fellow, you."

Caleb Mamet affectionately ruffled her hair, "Yeah, it's good not to go back. Actually, a few years ago, the Campbell family already knew that their biological daughter was lost, but they only started looking for her now. I don't know what their purpose is."

His expression turned cold, "It's time."

Xaviera Evans looked at the screen, and now the barrage of comments had turned back in favor of Anna Campbell, as her fans were crazily whitewashing her.

Seeing the situation change, Anna Campbell spoke gently, "Thank you for believing in me. As Miss Campbell, I really don't need to target a stranger. This is just a misunderstanding. If you still have doubts, I..."

Bang!

Before she could finish, law enforcement officers burst in.

Everyone looked up, and they were holding arrest warrants in their hands.

Adrian Campbell's heart skipped a beat, and his eyes were full of horror.

How could they be here? Did the people he sent get caught?

Before he could think, the butler ran over hurriedly, "Madam! I... I couldn't stop them, they... they said..."

Mrs. Campbell

glanced at the live broadcast room and then at Anna Campbell, her heart skipped a beat, and she shouted, "Stop them! Stop them quickly! Let's talk outside!"

The audience in the live broadcast room heard the noise coming from inside and looked puzzled.

A police officer walked up, presented his badge and arrest warrant, walked up to Adrian Campbell, and declared word by word, "Adrian Campbell, someone has reported that you hired hitmen to commit murder. Please cooperate with us in our investigation."

Boom!

A thunderbolt exploded in everyone's ears.

The host realized that something was wrong and hurriedly tried to close the live broadcast but for some reason couldn't. Instead, he moved the camera to one side, but the sound could still be recorded.

Adrian Campbell stepped back in fear, "You're talking nonsense! I didn't do it! Show me the evidence, or 'I won't go with you!"

“Miss Xaviera Evans has already filed a complaint and provided CCTV footage as evidence. The four people you hired have confessed that they were acting on your orders. Mr. Campbell, shall we go now?”

As the officer finished speaking, there was complete silence.

Adrian Campbell’s eyes widened in disbelief, looking at the officer in front of him. He swallowed, his body trembling violently.

Xaviera... Xaviera Evans was not only alive and well but had also reported him to the police.

Mrs. Campbell immediately refuted, “My son is Mr. Campbell, how could he hire hitmen to kill someone? It must be Xaviera Evans trying to frame my daughter and now trying to frame my son.

She’s slandering us!”

“Mrs. Campbell, according to my investigation, those four men belong to your personal bodyguards.” The officer took out surveillance footage and a few pictures of the bodyguards.

“The evidence is all here, what else can you say? Miss Evans received serious death threats, and you accuse her of slandering you? We have an arrest warrant. No matter what you say, Adrian Campbell has to come back with us for investigation! Take him away!”

Several law enforcement officers stepped forward, handcuffed Adrian Campbell, and pushed him out the door.

504 Chapter 504: Those who commit numerous wrongs will surely bring about their own destruction paused for a few seconds, frantically resisting and yelling, “Mom! Save me! I don’t even know Xaviera Evans! Why would I hire someone to kill her? I didn’t!”

Adrian Campbell

Those useless fools got him into this mess; not only did they fail to kill Xaviera, but they were also caught!

He's Mr. Campbell, the heir of the Campbell family, he can't end up in jail like this. His parents would surely find a way to rescue him.

"It's Xaviera Evans who's framing me! Officer, you have to believe me, you can't be fooled by her!"

"Mr. Campbell, you can tell us your side of the story at the police station. If you still have doubts, we have other evidence. You made a call to your personal bodyguard when you hired the killer. We've already retrieved the content of that conversation. Do you need us to play it back for you now?"

A call?

They could actually retrieve his call content? Adrian Campbell's body stiffened, his face pale, and he slumped his head down in desperation, unable to defend himself.

"Get in the car" The two officers forced Adrian Campbell into the car.

Mrs. Campbell thought the live broadcast stopped when the officer entered, but when she saw her son being arrested, she could no longer hold back her anger.

"Xaviera Evans, that bitch! How dare she report my son?! If we don't take her down, where will our Campbell family's face even go?"

[The Campbell family still has a face?!]

[Didn't Mrs. Campbell and Anna just say that the Campbell family wouldn't bother with Xaviera Evans? Now they're contradicting themselves!]

[Not a single good person in the Campbell family! The daughter stole Xaviera's role and then slandered her, and the son is even more ruthless, hiring a killer! It's unbelievable how they still don't understand the law and commit such shocking acts. Is it because the Campbells are rich, they think they're above the law?!]

[Did you all hear that? Mrs. Campbell said she's going to kill Xaviera Evans. The whole Campbell family is a bunch of murderers! Maybe they've killed others before!]

[Anna snatched someone's role, exposed her plan, and now wants to silence Xaviera by killing her. The Campbell family is just too arrogant! Are they insane?]

Mrs. Campbell cursed angrily, "Bitch! Xaviera Evans! Xaviera Evans..."

"M—Mrs. Campbell, umm..." the host stammered, "The live broadcast hasn't been turned off yet."

Boom—!!

The Campbells stared at the host in disbelief, as if struck by lightning.

What? The broadcast... isn't off?

The host carefully explained to Anna, who looked furious, "I... I had no choice. I tried, but... it just wouldn't turn off."

At this moment, a line of red text suddenly appeared in the live chat.

[Do not put up a front nor deceive one another, thus, I'm doing the Campbell family a favor by revealing your true colors! You're welcome! -Black Tide.]

Black Tide?

Upon seeing the message, everyone in the chatroom immediately realized that the videos were released by Black Tide. No wonder their phones and computers seemed to be infected with a virus and wouldn't shut off no matter what they tried.

[To clarify, Anna did not fail to delete the videos. Instead, she deleted them to cover up her tracks but I couldn't let Miss Xaviera Evans suffer from injustice. So, I recovered the deleted files and put them in the live chat! Miss Campbell, next time you delete videos, be more thorough so I can't find them!]

Caleb Mamet looked at Xaviera Evans chuckling and typing away, and couldn't help but smile.

Everyone already knew that there was a favored princess of the hacking world named Black Tide. She did things capriciously and would never take on a job she didn't want, regardless of the amount offered. Conversely, she'd step in if she felt a cause was justified, even if the party didn't offer to pay.

It was because she was never swayed by money and never did things that went against her conscience that she would never deceive anyone.

At this moment, the chat exploded again.[Anna! Black Tide has clarified everything. What else do you have to say? Weren't you saying that Xaviera was only trying out acting and never intended to take on this role from the beginning?]

[If you didn't do anything, why would you delete the video? And why would your brother hire a killer? It's because you're all afraid, isn't it?]

[The Campbell family is so scary! If it weren't for all this evidence, we would have been tricked by Anna! Xaviera Evans was nearly killed by their entire family!]

505 Chapter 505: The Secret of the Hughes Family

Anna

Campbell's heart turned cold, her body weakened, and she collapsed onto the couch, her nails digging into her palms. Her voice was suppressed, "I... I will explain everything, Mom... For now, saving my brother is the most important thing."

Soon after, Anna and Mrs. Campbell hurriedly ran out, leaving the host to pick up the equipment and surprisingly, find that the live broadcast could now be closed.

The incident once again trended on Twitter but this time, it took a complete 180-degree turn.

Anna was an A-class celebrity after all and so, many people were paying attention to this incident. Although the Campbell family spent a fortune trying to control the trending topics, they were unable to silence the criticism.

Anna looked troubled, but thought that in a few days, she could apologize on social media and everyone would soon forget about it. Now, the most important thing was to get her brother out of trouble.

However... The Campbell family's business might be affected.

Xaviera Evans had undoubtedly caused a huge mess, stirring up the Campbell family like this. Her parents must hate her, and if they knew she was their real daughter, how could they ever reconcile with her?

Two days later.

Anna released an apology video on Twitter. In the video, her tearful eyes kept saying sorry. With the help of fans trying to clear her name and the money spent by the Campbell family, the matter gradually began to die down.

Xaviera glanced at the video and scoffed, "Truly befitting of an actress! Just look at how pitiful she looks, almost as if she's about to die! She implies that her agent prompted her to fight for the role, and that Adrian hiring a hitman has nothing to do with her. She's still the pure and flawless goddess."

"Her brother is still in the police station! How can she have the nerve to say that?"

Xaviera knew very well that with the evidence at hand, as long as she didn't forgive Adrian, he wouldn't be released. Even with all the money and power the Campbell family had, they couldn't openly seize him from the police station.

But how could a wealthy family like the Campbells tolerate their dirty laundry being aired in public?

As Xaviera came downstairs, she saw Caleb Mamet instructing Sean Price to do something. With a cold expression in his eyes, Sean nodded seriously before turning around and leaving.

Caleb walked up to her, his voice deep, "There's something I need to tell you."

Xaviera shook her head, "Forget it, I don't want to hear anything about the Campbell family. It's annoying. I'm going to send Adrian Campbell to jail, no matter what anyone says. He dared to hire someone to kill me, there's no way I'll let him go!"

Caleb couldn't help but smile, "Don't be so angry. This matter concerns you, and you'll want to know."

505 Chapter 505: The Secret of the Hughes Family

Xaviera raised her eyes, her interest piqued, "Are you trying to say something about my relationship with the Campbell family? Even if they are related by blood, I don't intend to recognize them. After all, things have become irreconcilable because of Anna. Now acknowledging them would only make things more awkward. Why should I put myself in an unfavorable position?"

Caleb looked indifferent, handing her the documents in his hands. Inside, there was also a photo of two women with similar faces.

"Mom?"

Xaviera was surprised. It was indeed a photo of her mother Nina Hughes when she was young, and the other woman who looked a lot like her was...Mrs. Campbell?

“The people in the photo are your mother Nina Hughes and Mrs. Campbell, Nidya Hughes. They are sisters born to the same parents, from the Hughes family in Lokio. They were the top noble ladies, and it was rumored that the Hughes family had two incredibly beautiful daughters. However, they never appeared in public, and the Hughes family was extremely fond of them, even keeping their names a secret before they got married.”

“Later, Mrs. Campbell, younger sister Nidya Hughes married into the Campbell family, while the eldest daughter of the Hughes family went missing. The Hughes family kept it under wraps and claimed that Miss Hughes was bedridden and needed rest.”

“But your mother appeared in Libanan later, and the Hughes family didn’t go to look for her because Miss Hughes was still being taken care of at home.”

Xaviera’s eyes narrowed slightly.

She suddenly felt that there must have been a conspiracy behind this. Otherwise, why would her mother have brought a huge amount of wealth to Libanan and married Derek Evans?

Caleb still wanted to say something, but suddenly felt a sharp pain in his eyes and a wave of dizziness. As his vision went dark, he inadvertently tripped on something on the floor, his body falling uncontrollably forwards.

Seeing this, Xaviera immediately reached out to support him, but due to his towering figure and her own lost balance, they both fell down together.

506 Chapter 506: The Campbell Family Wants to Talk

At this moment, Xaviera Evans was lying on top of Caleb Mamet, with her head buried in his abdomen, almost sliding further down. This scene was indescribable.

The

man inhaled sharply, lifted her up, and spoke in a low, seductive tone, “Mrs. Mamet, are you trying to help me or kill me?”

Xaviera’s face turned red with embarrassment: “...”

She really had no other intentions, she just wanted to help Caleb, but didn’t expect to end up in such an embarrassing position on top of him.

She thought carefully about what she had just touched, her face flushed even redder. Then she shook her head and said seriously: “It wasn’t on purpose!”

“Mmh, Mrs. Mamet always uses that excuse. Maybe it’s time to come up with a new one!” Xaviera was about to argue when she suddenly recalled previous embarrassing scenes. She did indeed always say it wasn’t intentional and that it was just a misunderstanding, always making excuses.

But this time it really wasn’t on purpose. She just wanted to support him.

The atmosphere was still, as she continued lying on Caleb. Just when she realized something was off and was about to get up, Steve Price bounced into the room.

“Director! Director, you told me to keep an eye on the Campbell family, I——”

As Steve entered the room, he saw the scene in front of him and was petrified

He stood there, staring for a few seconds, then hastily covered his eyes and said in a flustered voice, “I didn’t see anything! You two continue! Pretend I was never here!”

Caleb: “...”

Xaviera: “...” I’ll continue your grandma’s leg! Steve Price, could you not imagine so much!

She quickly got up from Caleb and cleared her throat: “Steve Price.”

“Ah? Mrs. Mamet, I’m leaving now, you don’t need to bother, I really didn’t see anything, I won’t tell anyone, I know the atmosphere in the living room is pretty good, but at least lock the door! I’m leaving now, you two continue!”

Xaviera was speechless by his words. At this time, the man adjusted his clothes, sat down on the sofa, and indifferently said: "Steve Price."

The next second, Steve Price rushed to Caleb, smiling ingratiatingly: "Director, I'm here! Please give me your order!"

Xaviera: "... Why did she feel like she was the third party, and Steve Price and Caleb were the real couple?"

A moment later, Xaviera smiled: "The Campbell family, want to talk to me?"

Caleb replied casually, "You've always refused to keep things private, and Adrian Campbell is still locked up in the police station, so the Campbell family is anxious and wants to discuss a price with you."

506 Chapter 506: The Campbell Family Wants to Talk

Xaviera showed no expression, one hand propping up her chin, the other tapping on the table. Her gaze was extremely cold, making Steve tremble with fear.

"Well, since that's the case, let's meet them. Senior fellow, I won't show any mercy just because they are my biological parents. Before, when I thought Derek Evans was my father, I didn't let him off, let alone this group of strangers from the Campbell family"

"Do they think that by revealing I'm their biological daughter, I'll forgive Anna Campbell and Adrian Campbell for their actions? How ridiculous!"

She stood up, "Where is the Campbell family?"

Steve Price: "The Campbells investigated your address, probably thinking you still live in the old neighborhood, so they may go there directly."

Xaviera smiled meaningfully, "Alright, I got it"

Steve Price quickly reminded: "Mrs. Mamet, calm down! The Campbell family is still related to you by blood after all, causing any loss of life would be bad. Although they are ruthless and malicious, you shouldn't be too harsh on them. Show them some face!"

Ruthless and malicious? Steve Price's description was quite accurate!

Sean Price also spoke: "Mrs. Mamet, the Campbell Family knew years ago that at their biological daughter was lost, but they never sought her out because of their reputation and Anna Campbell. Now they suddenly came to Libanon looking for you, there must be a purpose. Mrs. Mamet, you must be careful not to fall for their tricks."

Xaviera appeared calm: "It's alright, they don't have that ability."

507 Chapter 507: Persuading Her to Reconcile

They've known about the disappearance of their biological daughter and sister years ago, yet they never bothered to search. Their sudden appearance now must have a hidden agenda!

In favor of Anna Campbell, they could abandon their own daughter. Have they come to their senses now?

Xaviera Evans curled the corners of her mouth into a smile, revealing her clean, white teeth. Then she chuckled shyly: "Steve Price, you sure can imagine horrific scenarios. I'm so fragile. The Campbell family is here to recognize me. How could I possibly cause harm to anyone? I'm not violent!"

It's scarier when his wife smiles.

Maybe he should send people to protect the Campbell family. Once his wife loses control of her anger and kills one or two of them, it could create problems. After all, the Campbell family is also a reputable family in Lokio.

Also, there's Adrian Campbell in the Campbell family who wants to kill his wife. If his wife got agitated...

One day earlier.

The Campbell family was anxious like ants on a hot pot. They pulled many strings and spent a good fortune, yet they couldn't get Adrian out of jail, Mrs. Campbell and Anna were sitting on the sofa, sobbing.

Anna blamed herself, "It's all my fault... if it weren't for me, Adrian... he wouldn't have messed with Xaviera Evans and wouldn't have gotten arrested."

"My dear daughter! It's not your fault! Everything is on that bitch, Xaviera Evans!"

Mrs. Campbell first comforted, then screamed in rage: "I don't believe Xaviera dare to oppose our Campbell family. Once Adrian is released, I will make her pay!"

At that moment, Mr. Campbell walked in.

Mrs. Campbell quickly stood up and asked eagerly, "How is Adrian's situation? When can he be released?"

Mr. Campbell looked stern and helpless: "The authorities said unless Xaviera agrees to a settlement. If she insists on holding Adrian accountable, Adrian will be prosecuted. Hiring an assassin is not a small crime!"

Mrs. Campbell was consumed with rage, "Xaviera! That little bitch! I'm going to... call her over now. Why wouldn't she agree to a settlement? I'll kill her!"

"Calm down! Do you want to make things worse? I will talk to Xaviera. I'll make her agree to the settlement," said Mr. Campbell.

Mrs. Campbell immediately asked, "What are you going to offer? Money?"

507 Chapter 507: Persuading Her to Reconcile

Mr. Campbell looked serious, word by word: “Actually... Xaviera is our biological daughter. After she was taken away by Nina Hughes back then, she was brought to the Evans family.”

Boom—!!

Mrs. Campbell widened her eyes in disbelief, staring at him.

Anna watched Mrs. Campbell’s shocked expressions and chuckled in delight. Then, pretending to be surprised, she covered her mouth and trembled, “Ah! Miss Evans... is actually your biological daughter, no wonder... no wonder she was against me at first sight. It’s my fault, I should not compete with her. It’s okay, as long as she’s willing to come back, I can apologize to her.”

Mr. Campbell affectionately said: “I have found out her current address. We should go talk to her and make her agree to a settlement, release Adrian as soon as possible. Get ready quickly.”

Tears started to trickle down Anna’s cheeks, “Daddy, I... I won’t go. My sister... she doesn’t like me. I took the position of Miss Campbell, she probably... doesn’t want to see me.”

“Anna!” Before Mr. Campbell could say anything, Mrs. Campbell retorted: “You are Miss Campbell! What has it got to do with her!”

“Mom, actually... I’ve thought about it. If you found your biological daughter, I would leave home.” Anna choked up, “I wish so badly that I was your biological daughter, but I share no blood ties with you. If my sister doesn’t want to come home because of me, how could I feel at peace? So... it’s better if I leave.”

“Anna! Don’t leave!”

Mrs. Campbell was heartbroken. She then pointed at Mr. Campbell in resentment: “I don’t want Xaviera! She’s not my daughter! She’s a wild girl, creating chaos in the Campbell family even before she has officially returned. If she were to come home, who knows what mess she would make!”

“Look at what people are saying about Anna on the internet! And your son gets arrested and suffers in the police station because of Xaviera Evans, do you still want to recognize Xaviera as your daughter?”

508 Chapter 508: The Campbell Family Visits

Mrs. Campbell was almost furious, and Mr. Campbell frowned, “If we don’t recognize Xaviera, how can we save our son? How can we make her reconcile with us?”

Mrs. Campbell choked up, her face flushed with the effort.

At this point, Anna wiped her tears and said softly, “It’s better to acknowledge Xaviera as my sister... Actually, I’ve always wanted a sister, and besides, she’s our parents’ flesh and blood. It’s not appropriate for her to be out in the world alone.”

Mrs. Campbell didn’t expect Anna to say this. She felt even more distressed and said, “My dear Anna is so considerate and can see the big picture. But we’re worried about mistreating you.”

Mr. Campbell sighed, “Anyway, we have to go there once. Even if we don’t recognize Xaviera, we should thank your sister Nina. She saved Xaviera and took her to live in Libanan. Now that we’ve finally found Nina’s whereabouts, we owe the Hughes family an explanation.”

“Moreover, the family head said that Xaviera must be brought back. If you don’t recognize her, it’s disobeying the family head’s orders.”

Mrs. Campbell’s heart trembled, and she realized that she had been too impulsive just now. After calming down, she reluctantly agreed, “Fine! She can come back to the Campbell family, but Anna must be Miss Campbell! Xaviera is just a wild girl. Even if she comes back, she shouldn’t overshadow Anna. Being allowed to return to the Campbell family is already a blessing for her.” Anna interjected, “But Mom, she’s the real...”

“What’s the use of being blood-related! I don’t have any feelings for her. Moreover, she has already caused so much trouble even before returning to the Campbell family. I think she’s a jin x! She's not worthy of being my daughter. Even if she comes back to the Campbell family, I won't recognize her as my biological daughter!"

Anna's eyes lowered, her lips curled into a cold smile.

As expected, her mother won't accept Xaviera. After all, Xaviera has hurt the Campbell family and even caused her brother to be arrested. Even if Xaviera returns, her mother won't accept her.

At this time, Xaviera returned to her secret hideout—her residence in her Black Tide identity. It was a small, dilapidated apartment in an old neighborhood, crowded with people from all walks of life.

The Campbell family eventually tracked Xaviera down to this place. They were genuinely shocked that she lived in such a rundown area.

Anna frowned; the neighborhood's narrow streets made it impossible for their car to enter, so they had to walk in themselves. It had rained the day before, and the streets were full of mud. Their sheepskin high heels would be ruined if they touched water.

Mrs. Campbell, her face dark, could only grumble in a low voice, "I just can't believe that my daughter lives in such a shabby place. It's so embarrassing. If she comes back to the Campbell family, everyone would laugh at us."

Noble ladies in the upper class had to receive etiquette training and top-tier education since they represented their family's image. If others found out that a Campbell daughter grew up in such a place, how could she ever show her face at future banquets?

Mrs. Campbell lowered her head. If not for her son, she would never have come to this place.

The group slowly climbed the stairs. The staircase was narrow, and the cement steps had cracked due to disrepair, making each step feel like walking on large rocks.

As they walked slowly, Mr. Campbell wiped the sweat off his forehead, reconfirmed the address, and knocked on the door.

Xaviera, who was inside, heard the knocking and gave a meaningful smile. Then, she closed her computer, got up, opened the door with a surprised expression on her face, “Mrs. Campbell?”

A moment later.

Xaviera asked calmly, “Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, are you saying that I am your long-lost biological daughter? I was replaced by the Campbell family’s enemies, and they found a child of similar age to mine to avoid being discovered? You came to Libanan to find me?”

Mrs. Campbell, suppressing her anger, remained silent.

Mr. Campbell looked up at the cramped room and, trying to ignore his annoyance, spoke gently, “We only recently found out that our child had been switched. We followed the trail and came to Libanan. You and Anna had some misunderstandings before, but those were all accidents.”

509 Chapter 509: Exposing the True Face

“Nina is Nidya’s sister. After you were switched, it was Nina who saved you and found you. She originally planned to bring you back, but she didn’t expect to be chased and kept hidden, living in Libanan.” 1

“Actually, I have been looking for Nina all these years, but I didn’t expect her to be...”

Xaviera Evans raised her eyebrows and looked at the three people coldly, “So, I am not my mother’s daughter, but Mrs. Campbell’s daughter?”

Mrs. Campbell’s eyes flashed with impatience, but for the sake of her son, she endured: “Yes, since you already know, just hurry back with us.”

Mr. Campbell spoke, “Now you are the daughter of our Campbell family, and you should address Nina as your aunt. We are your biological parents. Although Nina raised you, you should recognize your own identity.”

Xaviera’s eyes were deep.

The Campbell couple weren’t really looking for her. They knew their biological daughter was lost years ago, but they didn’t want to find her. Now they came to recognize her, and there was unwillingness and disgust in their eyes.

As if they were willing to accept her, it was her blessing, and she should quickly be grateful.

But Xaviera didn’t intend to recognize them in the first place, let alone in this way. So she slowly said, “I heard that Mrs. Campbell only had one daughter. If I am your biological daughter, is Miss Anna Campbell the one who was switched by the enemy?”

The atmosphere suddenly became awkward.

Anna Campbell trembled all over, her body softened and leaned on Mrs. Campbell, tears of grievance falling.

Mrs. Campbell felt heartache, and quickly hugged Arina, with an impatient face yelling, “Although Anna is not my biological daughter, she grew up beside us and is like our own. Xaviera, you...”

At this point, Mrs. Campbell suddenly realized something was wrong. She came to reconcile with Xaviera. If she angered her and she refused to agree, what would Adrian do? So, her tone immediately became gentle.

“Xaviera, you have indeed been wronged all these years. Go back home with mom and dad, and we will treat you well, okay?”

Xaviera sneered, "Treat me well?"

Mrs. Campbell felt a little guilty, and immediately lowered her eyes, hiding her emotions, "Of course, why would I lie to you? Just come back with us."

As Mrs. Campbell spoke, she suddenly teared up, thinking of her sister who had died far away from home, filled with sorrow.

"We came a long way to find you, just to take you back to the Campbell family, and treat you well. But Xaviera, I am not just your mother, I am also Adrian's mother. He is your biological brother, and he was arrested. He can't stay there forever."

509 Chapter 509: Exposing the True Face

Was she finally revealing her true intentions?

Xaviera scoffed. If she were just an ordinary girl who had gone through hardships outside and finally waited for her biological parents to greet her, only to find out that her parents didn't like her and even despised her, would she be sad?

The Campbell couple just wanted to achieve their goals, without considering the feelings of their biological daughter, and just wanted to use her emotions to make her agree to reconciliation and save Adrian.

This family was truly disgusting!

Xaviera hooked the corner of her lips, her eyes full of mockery, "Fine, I'll go back with you."

Steve Price, who was eavesdropping in the corner, "

It was over. The Campbell family was definitely going to suffer.

Steve knew that the Campbell couple's purpose was not pure. They claimed to recognize their wife, but in fact, they were trying to save their son who had attempted murder. If their son hadn't been caught, they would surely pretend not to know the whereabouts of their biological daughter.

If Xaviera was just a helpless young girl, how could she survive in the dark Campbell household, facing parents who despised her, a sinister sister, and a malicious brother?

Steve thought about it carefully, shuddering involuntarily, then took a few photos and sent them to Caleb Mamet.

[Boss, Xaviera is going to go back with the Campbell family. She knows that the Campbells are not good people, but she still agrees to go back with them and reconcile. Xaviera is so kind-hearted! *sobbing*...]

Before Steve could finish speaking, his phone suddenly rang.

Xaviera Evans sent a voice message, her tone fierce: [Keep Adrian Campbell locked up for me, wants to come out without my permission! Not killing him would be a show of great mercy from me!]1

He was just joking earlier. His wife is not kind at all, and those who oppose her will not have a good ending.

Xavier didn't originally live in this neighborhood, so there wasn't much to take. She was about to get into the Campbell family's car when an embarrassing situation occurred.

When they came, the driver was driving, Mr. Campbell was sitting in the passenger seat, and Mrs. Campbell and Anna were sitting in the back seat. Noble ladies like them would never share the back seat with another person, as it would be demeaning.

After getting in the car, Mrs. Campbell suddenly realized that Anna was standing there, helpless. She realized that the back seat had always been for her and Anna. How could she let Xavier sit there?

She hesitated for a few seconds and quickly waved her hand: "Anna, get in the car! Xavier, you wait a moment, I will have the driver come for you..."

Before she could finish speaking, Xavier got into the car first, sat directly in the back seat, closed the door, and isolated Anna outside.

Anna's face turned pale, and Mrs. Campbell's breathing stalled as she stared at Xavier unhappily, "What are you doing?"

Xavier looked innocent: "What's wrong?"

Mrs. Campbell was angry: "You child really don't know how to be humble. I told Anna to get in the car first. What are you doing getting in? Get out quickly!"

Xavier looked confused: "Didn't you guys invite me to go back with you? Why would you leave me here alone? Are you sure you want me to get out?"

"Besides, I'm your biological daughter, the legitimate Miss Campbell. Why are you driving your own daughter out of the car and letting an adopted daughter in? Don't you have any affection for me? Or do you think I'm not worthy of riding in the Campbell family's car?"

Xaviera spoke softly and weakly: “Is it that you recognized me, not because you wanted to find your biological daughter, but just to get me to agree to reconciliation, so as to save Adrian Campbell?”

The car was quiet.

Anna lowered her eyes, looking aggrieved: “My sister is right. I’m just an adopted daughter. I shouldn’t compete with her for a seat. I...”

510 Chapter 510: Don’t I Deserve to Ride in the Campbell Family’s Car?

“Mrs. Campbell, look how obedient this adopted daughter is? Even if she gets in the car, she will feel guilty and suffer. You can’t bear to see her blame herself, so please let my sister wait here for a while. We’ll go first!”

Xaviera lazily leaned back, smiling slightly at Anna who was outside: “Thanks for your hard work, wait a while, after all, I am the biological daughter!”

Anna clenched her teeth:

This bitch!

Anna stood at the entrance of the old neighborhood, wearing a custom-made dress and sheepskin high heels, like a star, attracting strange looks from people passing by.

Suppressing the anger in her heart, she forced a smile that looked like she was about to cry: “Mom, it’s okay, you guys go home first, I...I’ll wait here for the driver to pick me up.”

Mrs. Campbell’s eyes were full of heartache. Her beloved Anna was so well-behaved! How could Xaviera bear to bully her like this?

As she expected, their daughter who had been lost outside was vulgar and unbearable, just a disgrace to the Campbell family!

At this moment, the car was speeding along the road. The driver was extremely cautious, fearing that the Campbell couple would blame him. Only Xaviera looked calm and relaxed, leaning back in her seat with satisfaction.

Twenty minutes later, the car stopped, and the driver said cautiously: “Mister, ma’am, we’ve arrived.”

After getting out of the car, Xaviera saw a luxurious villa.

She had seen the villa when Anna had been live streaming before, so she recognized it.

Watching Xaviera get out of the car, the Campbell family's servants seemed a little confused. Mrs. Campbell didn't introduce her, but just said indifferently: "Xaviera, from now on you'll live here. I've already instructed someone to prepare your room."

Soon, Anna also returned to the Campbell's mansion in another car.

She walked elegantly through the door, posing as the hostess, "Xaviera, it looks like you just arrived too. You must not be familiar with the villa since it's your first time here. How about I give you a tour?"

Anna's face was gentle as she walked up to Xaviera. Her raised head and the custom-made dress on her body all emphasized her top noble lady status at all times.
