

Powerful 1091

Chapter 1091

"You are calling her wrong," Corentin reminded the triplets.

"Oh. Great-Aunt," Charlie corrected himself.

Back when Ashlynn was still working as Anne's personal assistant, they had always called her 'Big Sister'.

Cory's lips twitched at the way the triplets addressed Ashlynn and immediately changed the subject by commanding the butler to serve the dishes.

He had been tolerant of letting Corentin bring Ashlynn along, but that was when he did not know that Meredith was coming as well.

After the meal, Cory, Anthony and Corentin headed into the study room to discuss the future development of Athetin.

Anne, Ashlynn, Bianca and Meredith sat by the table to sip on their tea, while the triplets played near them.

"Anne, you can come to Ashlynn more often from now on. I can take you around. I know every place in Athetin," Meredith offered.

"Thank you. I can't see right now, so I don't think I can go anywhere," Anne said.

Ashlynn used to be your assistant, right? Who would have known that Meredith was about to job and I didn't want to let her go, but my uncle liked her so much that there was nothing I on Meredith's face froze. "Is or is a certain someone just that good at seducing men?" Bianca added, pointing the blame not mother cheated when you talk about my mom that way?"

on the internet

"Why you-"

something else when

come take a walk with me. The doctor said that taking more walks would speed up outside, leaving Bianca and Meredith behind with dark looks.

"Sure."

walking a distance, Ashlynn asked, them. This was just an excuse to them either. Bianca never changes. What does she want?"

Chapter 1092

She had been the witness to Anthony's relentless effort of protecting Bianca, and knew that if she moved against Bianca, Anthony would do anything to stop her.

"What now, then?" Ashlynn asked.

"I'll have to find a way forward after I get my eyesight back."

Ashlynn held her hand as they walked and realized that she had been wrong to think that Anne was in a better position than hers. Ashlynn did not have any children and could always leave whenever there was an opportunity. Whereas Anne had three children with Anthony, which meant that she had three reasons stopping her from leaving whenever she wanted.

The two strolled forward and were about to make a turn when they heard Bianca's voice.

"Anthony, you told me that you are coming here with Anne, and I couldn't help but come here as well. You won't be mad at me, right?"

Ashlynn froze and thought, 'Isn't that Bianca's voice? Why is she here with Anthony?'

She turned to look at Anne worriedly.

remained expressionless as she words she heard from Bianca in had lost her memories.

and now she wants to do it again?'

"I won't."

Anne instantly froze.

could tell Anthony's footsteps,

is

I just didn't want Anne to get mad. Anthony, I won't come between you two.

"Alright."

the bitterness that overwhelmed her, it almost and hurried over, attaching themselves to her are you here? It took us some time to find and forced a

“Yes!” They chirped.

“Good.”

Chapter 1093

Ashlynn gaped. “Why did he tell you this?”

“Alligators? My uncle kept alligators as pets?” Anne was shocked.

“Mama, Great-Uncle told us that he has a lot of alligators and promised to take us to see them!” Charlie said excitedly.

“It–It’s not fun to look at,” Ashlynn said nervously.

“We love alligators!” Chris said.

Ashlynn did not want the children to see Corentin’s pets and when she saw the confused look on Anne’s face, she explained, “There’s a river behind Corentin’s mansion, where he keeps alligators...”

“I didn’t expect him to have such a hobby.” Anne was referring to Salvatore.

Ashlynn wanted to say that Salvatore was a twisted man who loved vicious predators like himself, but as the children were still around, she decided not to say anything.

see the

want to see different from

Chris were boys who were naturally drawn to adventures, but on?”

was approaching as well. She thought back to the conversation between Bianca and Anthony earlier and glanced at Anne, but Anne remained up. “Papa, we want to see the alligators Great-Uncle keeps!”

at

welcome them

who had stayed quiet, and nodded.

I didn’t arrive at the same time as you guys, so I want to stay with Grandpa. Goodbye, you calling darlings?” Charlie darkened as though she had been slapped

Anthony and was impressed by would scold her children, she called ran back

protect her children from anyone who might harm was right. They have nothing to do with Bianca!’ She

Chapter 1094

“Sure,” Bianca agreed.

A friendship blossomed between Bianca and Meredith after they met their common enemies. Meredith hated Ashlynn and since Ashlynn was close with Anne, she naturally needed to find an ally that hated Anne as well.

Upon arriving at Corentin’s mansion, the triplets got off the helicopter hurriedly to see the alligators.

Anthony turned to look at Anne. “Do you need to go to rest in a room?”

Anne could not see and there was not a point for her to go, but she still wanted to be with her children.

“It’s fine. I’m not tired.”

Corentin led them over to the cliff when the servants happened to be throwing pieces of raw meat into the river.

The alligators had all climbed up the shore and there were over twenty of them, when Ashlynn had only seen four before.

“Wow! They really are alligators!”

“So many of them!”

eat so much

and asked, “are twenty–two.” Anthony glanced and had not expected him to like them so much that he would keep so many; ordinary people to their parents gaping with are so big! They can eat a lot of they only eat meat? They need to eat veggies are carnivores and only any type of meat?” Chloe

“Yeah.”

the children that the alligators ate if he decided to mention this to “Let’s go,” Anthony said.

and both Chris and Chloe turned to look checked

long enough!” Charlie

Chapter 1095

Anthony narrowed his eyes, before lifting her up forcefully.

“I can walk on my own!” Anne instinctively reached up to grab his shoulder, but continued to kick her feet in the air.

“You are going to fall,” he reminded.

Anne stilled, knowing that if she fell from the arms of someone with Anthony’s height, she would be in pain.

‘How can he be so horrible?’ She thought. ‘He comforts me whenever necessary, then turns around to be all lovey–dovey with Bianca. I don’t want this! Every time he touches me, I feel like I can’t breathe!’

They walked back to the mansion and when Anne heard her triplets’ cheerful voices, she demanded darkly, “Let me down.”

Seeing the expression on her face, Anthony decided not to push her and set her down.

As soon as her feet touched the ground, Anne walked forward with the aid of her cane. It was flat ground so there was nothing in her way.

Great–Aunt’s teacup dog. It’s so cute!” Chloe held reached out and Chloe presented the dog with a smile as though what happened to the dog and insisted on taking it with had come to take her dog away, dinner. The triplets struggled as they parted with the dog and promised like them as well and ran after them, despite almost hurried over to lift her dog up and waved their chubby cheeks against the glass windows until everything. on the ground nowhere to be seen on the bed. and inside the room. She headed to the soon as she swallowed it, Corentin appeared a beat. She grabbed the clothes next to contained only her clothes, so there was no up early. Still have a lot of energy in you?" Corentin approached and pinned her against the closet door, with the coat she used to hide the chest, so she shoved at him and said, " You know that up where we left off last night, hm?" He pressed his lips onto hers

Chapter 1096

The butler was stunned when he saw Corentin. "You are home so early, Mr. Lloyd."

"Yeah." Corentin went upstairs and into the bedroom, before entering the walk-in closet with a clear intention.

He stopped before the shelf and ran his hand on Ashlynn's clothes, before finding something inside the pocket.

He took out the small jar of pills and his expression darkened as he read the indications on the jar. He narrowed his amber-colored eyes and tightened his grip on the jar until it shattered in his hand.

The lid flew off and a few of the pills fell onto the ground.

'You sure are good at hiding this, my dear Ashlynn. Good for you!' He thought as he considered a hundred ways to make Ashlynn suffer for this.

In the end, he came up with an idea and exchanged all the pills inside the jar with vitamin, before placing it back into the pocket, knowing that he would be surprised with a child soon.

Vitamin looked similar to contraceptive pills and Ashlynn was completely unaware that she had been taking vitamin instead. She continued to take one pill behind Corentin's back every time they were intimate and felt reassured by it.

After lunch, Anne stayed in the living room with her triplets.

Chris sat on the couch next to her with a laptop on his lap, its screen big enough to cover his entire face. Charlie was more active and was waving his toy knife and gun around, while Chloe sat next to Anne with a book in hand and read it aloud for Anne.

Mia brought some fruits over and placed them on the coffee table, before placing a few pieces on a smaller plate and handing it to Anne. "Mrs. Marwood, have some fruits."

"I don't want it," Anne refused.

"Are you bored, Mrs. Marwood? Maybe you should take the triplets out for a walk," Mia suggested.

said, "Mama,

"I like cake!"

"Mama likes cake!"

chuckled, "I think you three are the ones who want to go out. Have you forgotten that you need cakes for you, Mama..." Chloe set her book down and threw herself go outside to overjoyed and leaped around Anne, before nanny accompanied and Anthony had brought the triplets to the same cafe before back when are stairs, so follow us!" Charlie kept his hand on held Charlie's hand with one hand, and held was, his triplets did everything for Anne. They led Anne to a table to take her seat, Chloe stayed their age? All I did was cry all day and pee my pants. Those two look like they are just two, yet they are doing what adults could do. How cakes back to the table, all itching to help them with steadying the tray. However, the two seemed so focused that cake each and since they could not carry the rest, the waitress enticed by the triplets and distinctly remembered them as they had or we will have to clear the out a credit card from his bag waitress gaped, while the moment, she could not help but feel defeated at how enjoy your food, then!" The cake in front of Anne and handed her a fork, while Chris placed a straw in the juice, before handing the glass to Anne. Chloe, on stared at Chole, wondering if their hearts had a piece of the cake on the spoon, she moved it closer to Anne's

Chapter 1097

Anne shielded her children and said, "Let's go."

"Anne, what's the hurry- Ow!" Bianca wanted to stop Anne from leaving, but twisted her ankle and fell onto the ground, shouting, "Ow! My ankle!"

"Are you alright?" Meredith went to help her up.

“My ankle hurts. My bone might be broken. What should I do? Am I going to lose my leg?” Bianca wailed.

Anne scowled and thought to herself, ‘Can it be that bad? Are they really trying to scam us by faking an injury? We didn’t even touch her...’

“Hey, isn’t that the piano goddess?”

“I think so. What is she doing here?”

“I think she hurt her ankle...”

Meredith Hilton next is her! Who knew we would meet celebrities like them here get a closer look; some even took out their phones to take photos of Bianca from all directions and she realized that was her children and instantly tried to take the children away, but the fans ignored her and pressed even closer, throwing Anne

There are children here! Move away!” Anne raised faced her fan

from being pushed by the crowd and tripped on something. Losing balance, she fell and reached out for Charlie.” Charlie, where are her, causing her body to slam against the not see anything and “Mama...Mama...” Chloe cried out.

be afraid...” Anne paled and gritted her teeth struggling to get up and pushed another person closest to where Anne had fallen. The

Anne felt as though all her organs were being smashed from the pressure of having two people on top

Chapter 1098

‘Don’t let anything happen to my children...’ Just as she prayed, she suddenly felt the weight on her lifted.

“Mrs. Marwood!”

The bodyguards that hurried over immediately surrounded Anne and the children and shielded them from the fans. As she was being pulled up from the ground, Anne recognized Ivan’s voice and grabbed onto his arm frantically. “Leave me. My kids... the kids...”

Ivan stood in front of Chris and Chloe protectively and lifted Charlie up, noticing that there was a bleeding wound on Charlie's forehead.

He realized that the situation was worse than he had anticipated.

He turned around to find Bianca on the ground and Meredith surrounded by the crowd.

even passers-by began to gather out of curiosity, even and Chloe cowered in fear as they threw themselves into Anne's arms. They were merely toddlers and had never seen them close. "It's okay. It's okay...where's is

find Charlie, before noticing that Charlie's head felt wet. "What is this..." She placed her hand under her nose and instantly paled as tears fell down her cheeks. "Blood... Ch-Charlie....h-hurry! Send out might hurt Anne and the children. In the end, Ian decisively took out his gun and shot three times in a row at the excited crowd all fell to their knees, covering their ears as they tried to comprehend what had happened; none of

Ivan carried Charlie, while the other two bodyguards as they ran out of the mall and kept her hand on Charlie's and mumbled in a quivering voice, "Charlie, it's going to be fine. Mama is going to take you to the hospital. Don't be afraid. It's she could see her son and hold him closer, but with her vision taken from her, she was rendered helpless and could only quietly with

Chapter 1099

Anne could sense Chris grip on her hand tightening and compromised. "Sure..."

Back when Chloe was sick, her brother had never left her side and since Charlie was injured, it was only natural that the other two would want to stay.

"Mr. Marwood is here!" Ivan said.

Anne turned her head. Though she could not see, she could hear the sound of Anthony's leather shoes stepping onto the ground as they approached.

"I'm here." Anthony walked up to Anne and stared at her intently.

The fear threatening to take over her heart faded slightly at the sound of his voice.

"Papa, Charlie got hurt here!" Chloe pointed at her forehead.

was so much
on the heads.
be fine!" The
to rest,"
wait for Charlie to come out!" room next to us. You can took the children to the private room to up like me?" Anne panted as tears scrolled He wiped away her informed any discomfort even if there was any as she could could not imagine what would happen to her if Charlie was severely injured and she could in tears. Tears welled in her eyes as she trembled and Anthony pulled her into his arms, muttering, would never allow herself to be held in such a manner, but she no longer had the ability

Chapter 1100

Meredith decided to leave Bianca to handle the rest. Though Bianca had plotted this, she would have to pretend that she was injured as well to appear innocent.

'I wonder what's going on with Anne and triplets?' Bianca thought to herself. 'The bodyguards showed up in time, but I saw that Charlie was injured. No matter the case, one down is better than nothing. I want Anne to suffer, as long as she is suffering, I will be happy!'

The door flew open and slammed against the wall, startling Bianca.

Anthony stormed in fiercely and Bianca calmed herself before getting out of bed, all the while telling herself that Anthony must be in a horrible mood because of what happened to Charlie.

She walked over to Anthony and asked, "Anthony, how is Ch-"

Before she could finish, Anthony slapped her across the face.

ground, seeing stars, blood dripped down the corner of her lips, could not believe that his anger and gritted

with her cheek swollen. "Anthony, asked you what you

fans would swarm up at us like that? Meredith was there, too, and those people surrounded us like a bunch of uneducated cavemen. My hand seem appeased by her explanation and continued to stare

Anne? That's ridiculous! How would I know that Anne is at the mall? Are you saying that I have people following her?" Bianca stood and stared at Anthony in tears. "I did hurt Anne because of you in the past, but was that really so wrong of me? You were my fiance! Who could stay calm if they were in my shoes? I still resent Anne for it, but I know that I can get everything I want. Don't you know me, Anthony? We've known each other for years! We've always been close and you hit me for Anne's sake? I didn't do anything wrong..." She said as she don't find out about what you did, and was instantly consumed by the anger boiling within her. She and she is always going to be one! Anthony hit me for your overheard the noises and hurried inside, only to be startled by the state of