Chapter 1111

Anthony was Anthony, and she was herself.

The company was left by her father, so Anne would like to manage it herself, and she did not prefer others to intervene.

Xander had no objection. "Okay, I'll talk to Mr. Marwood later."

After that, he went out.

Anne thought out loud, "Are you going to stay if Anthony disapproves? Is this his company or mine?"

Nevertheless, Anne knew that Xander was following orders, and he had taken good care of her in the past. Hence, she would not make things difficult for him.

However, was Anthony really not going to let Xander leave?

Anthony was not interested in running the company, but Anne knew he was spying on her.

That was what made him possessive...

Not long after, Xander knocked on the door and came in. "I've informed Mr. Marwood, so I'll be going back to Marwood Group as the Director of the Finance Department, which I'm good at."

Anne secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

She initially thought Xander would stay, and she was already getting annoyed.

However, this was unexpected.

"Take care of your health." Anne still cared about him.

After all, what happened between them was the past, and they were not strangers.

When she was locked up in the detention center, Lucas also tried to help her find the best lawyer.

Lucas's eyes glimmered as he looked at her. "Have you recovered your memory?"

"Yes, I did," Anne admitted.

She was also blind during the period, but Lucas definitely did not know about it, and she did not think it was necessary to mention it.

Lucas was shocked. "That's great."

Now that Anne had recovered her memory, she would remember everything that had happened in the past, including those between them.

"I won't forget a friend like you."

Anne said 'friend'. She felt a little sorry for Lucas for actually falling in love with Anthony when she lost

"What conflict do we have?" Anthony's expression was getting gloomier.

Anne glanced at him, wondering how he was so shameless as to say that.

Then, she ignored him and entered one of the stalls, closing the door in Anthony's face.

Anthony directly blocked the door.

"Anthony, what's wrong with you?" Anne was annoyed.

However, Anthony did not say anything and directly forced a kiss on her-

"Mmf!"

Anthony swallowed Anne's tiny lips, and she widened her eyes in shock.

His domineering action made her heart pound.

Anthony kissed Anne until he was out of breath and warned her hoarsely against her lips, "You belong to me, your master. Remember that."

Then, he closed the door for her.

"No way..."

The bed in the lounge was far smaller than the one in the bedroom at home.

As a result, their bodies were resting closely against each other.

Anne raised her head and looked at Anthony, whose eyes were closed. He just hugged her and did nothing, behaved very well, as if he really came to sleep.

Anne looked at Anthony's face up close. She had known him since she was twelve years old, until now. She could not help but think if she did not mistakenly sleep with Anthony, the latter would probably never happen.

At that time, Anne was really scared of him, and she would never expect to fall in love with him one day. This was simply unbelievable.

If someone had said she would fall in love with Anthony before, she would have scoffed.

Yes. This would not have happened if it were not for her losing her memory.

Anne was baffled by her own fate.

She wanted to escape Anthony, yet she got into a car accident and even fell for him.

Did she not want to leave Anthony in this life?

"Can't sleep?" Anthony's thin lips brushed the top of her hair, and his sluggish voice sounded.

"...A little." Anne wondered how Anthony noticed it when she did not move. "Why don't you just sleep? I'll go and check out a few documents...ah!"

Everything suddenly turned dark as Anthony pinned her under him.

"Then let's do something."

"N-No..." Anne panicked and pushed him nervously with both hands. "Didn't Doctor Brown say that I need to recuperate?"

"I know." Anthony leaned over, and his voice was hoarse. "I'll help you sleep. ■

Anthony stepped forward, staring at her intently with those sharp eyes as if he could see through her.

On the other hand, Anne felt suffocated from being stared at.

"You're done with the call?"

Anne really wanted to skip the topic, but Anthony brought it back, and she could not help but check his expression. "You're not angry, right? I didn't mean what I said. Besides, Bianca insisted on provoking me."

Somehow, Anne still felt anxious. After all, Bianca was Anthony's the one that got away'.

Even if he were already married to her, he would still be reluctant to hurt Bianca!

Anne felt a heavy discomfort deep in her heart at this thought.

"I'm going to accompany the children." Anne did not want their relationship to worsen because of Bianca, so it was better to avoid him.

However, Anthony grabbed her wrist and pulled her to him.

Then, she took the tea and brought it to the side table next to Anthony. "Mr. Marwood, your tea."

Anthony was looking at Anne interacting with the children, and he did not respond to Mia.

Anne could clearly see a hint of disappointment flash on Mia's face.

So, Mia had such feelings for Anthony.

Was Anthony aware of it?

It seemed that he did not.

However, Anne did not dwell on the matter. After all, Mia was already here when she first came to the Royal Mansion. If there were really something between Anthony and Mia, Mia would have already stepped on her.

Liking Anthony was already a dangerous thing.

"Just because he never did, doesn't mean he never will." Bianca was confident. "You'll witness that day."

Anne lost the chance to speak as Bianca had already hung up the phone.

She sat down on the chair in a daze, lost in thought.

Would Anthony have something with Bianca?

She did not wish for that day to come...

Suddenly, her phone rang again, and it was a news notification.

Anne did not pick up her phone but just glanced at it.

However, her gaze stopped and looked at the screen again-[The principal of Pinnacle Academy was involved in a car accident last night and was sent to the hospital by the ambulance. His life and death are currently unknown.]

Shocked, Anne hurriedly picked up her phone and opened the news page.

The photo showed the car crash with some parts scattered on the dark street, faintly illuminated with the street lights.

There was also some liquid, but Anne could not tell whether the dark puddle was gasoline or blood...

"Rewind to thirty seconds before," Anthony ordered while staring at the scene.

The receptionist did not know what was happening, so she hurriedly took the remote control to rewind for 30 seconds.

After three seconds, Anthony said coldly, "Pause and zoom in on the side."

The receptionist did as he ordered.

After zooming in, Oliver noticed that Anthony's aura had turned hostile. Then, he looked at the screen on the wall again and found out where the problem was.

The reporter's camera showed an interview with the doctor.

Not far from the doctor, Lucas appeared. Anne even ran toward Lucas and then was hugged by him...

According to Oliver's analysis, Anne should either be in the Royal Mansion or the company. Hence, the reason she was at the hospital was because of Lucas.

Not only that, but she was even caught on camera hugging Lucas.

It was quite a distance away from the camera, and no one would know who they were unless they zoomed in. Yet, Anthony could notice it at a glance.

"Are you pleading for him?" Anthony was filled with ruthlessness.

"No, I really am not doing that. I was frightened when I saw the news, so I wanted to come and see if Mr. Newman is fine. I was prepared to leave once I saw him," Anne explained in a hurry.

She was afraid that Anthony would act crazy and truly do what he said.

If so, she would be greatly at fault.

However, her explanation was useless. Anthony bellowed with viciousness, "Do it!"

The bodyguards behind him rushed forward.

Anne was frightened, and she pushed him away with great force. "Anthony, don't you dare!"

"Watch and see if I dare or not." Anthony's patience has its limits.

He has been provoked over and over again. Did they truly think that he did not dare. to do it?

The corridor of the hospital was completely blocked off by Anthony's guards. Everybody else, whether they were the doctors, nurses, patients, or the patients' families, took a detour to get across as they were afraid that they would end up as collateral damage.

Anne looked at Lucas. There was not the slightest bit of panic on Lucas' face, and he seemed like he was waiting for Anthony to take action.

Anne absolutely could not let Lucas get hurt because of her.

She was running toward Lucas, then she was hugged by him.

Due to the angle of the camera, it looked as if she had rushed into Lucas' arms.

Anne did not expect that that was the reason Anthony appeared at the hospital.

She thought it was the driver who had tipped Anthony off.

"Is this what you mean by you don't like him?" Anthony was terrifyingly cold. "Are you forgetting that you're Mrs. Marwood now?"

Anne's throat got a little tight. "This is a misunderstanding."

"Do you think I'm blind? Hmm?" Anthony was grabbing the back of her neck, and as long as he put a little force, that slender neck of hers would be snapped by him!

Anne also got pissed off being pinned by him. "I already told you it's a misunderstanding. I can't help it either if you still think of it this way!"

There was nothing going on between her and Lucas, but the same might not necessarily be true for Anthony and Bianca!

Why must she be completely controlled by him? He was too domineering!

"What did you say?" Anthony was infuriated by her words. His gaze became so scary as if he was about to tear her into pieces.
