Chapter 1131

Anne really wanted Kathryn to say that he should never touch her for the rest of her life.

This way, she would not live in the shadow caused by Anthony.

However, she knew that it would not take a week to recover. If the time were too long, the shrewd Anthony would definitely find something wrong.

Kathryn left just as Anne walked out of the room.

“Why did you come out? You’re injured, so you should rest.” Anthony wanted to hold her hand.

Anne withdrew her hand suddenly as if she was being burned.

Anthony’s face darkened slightly, and a violent restlessness exploded in his heart as if he could not control it. However, he held back.

“I’m going to the company, I’ve taken some medicine, and I’m fine.” Anne was disturbed by the terrible experience last night. At least her feeling of rejection toward Anthony would not be too strong.

She did not dare to have such feelings. She did not want to be torn apart by Anthony...

“Be good, don’t rush to return to the company.” Anthony stretched, grabbed her waist, and picked her up.

Anne’s body froze. Anthony’s strength made her panic.

With the sound of the study door opening, Anthony came out and said, “Prepare lunch.”

“Yes.” The housekeeper went down.

He approached Anne and asked, “You’re awake. Is it better?”

Anne did not understand his moody temperament. Since he was worried about her injury, why did he treat her like that?

Did he really not care about her at all when he did it?

“Why aren’t you talking?” Anthony asked a little more forcefully.

“I don’t feel anything anymore.” Anne snapped back to reality.

“Well, let’s go back to Royal Mansion after dinner. Elder Lloyd has sent someone to bring the plane over. The children haven’t seen you for two days,” Anthony said.

Anne nodded heavily, thinking of her children.

After lunch, she took a Rolls Royce back to the Royal Mansion.

All the way, she was silent.

When Anthony asked her a question, she would answer and nothing more. The atmosphere in the car was very depressing.

When they arrived at the Royal Mansion, the three little ones were taking a nap.

Anne went directly to the children’s room.

Sitting by the bed, looking at their innocent and lovely faces, she could not help but reach out and touch them.

Her heart ached unbearably.

They were so young and needed their parents’ company, but what about her? If Anthony wanted to do something to her again, how long could she hold on?

“Mama?” Chloe woke up.

Then Charlie and Chris also woke up. “Mama...”

“Mama is here.” Anne patted Chloe’s belly lightly.

They did not want to sleep anymore. Drowsily, they burrowed into Mama’s arms.

Are Mama and Papa going on a date?” asked Charlie.

Anne hugged them and shook them. “Yeah, we’re on a date.”

The triplets wanted to call their Grandpa to say thank you because they received the helicopter.

As soon as he made the phone call, Charlie, still angry just now, turned his head and forgot about his anger and talked to his grandfather in the video call.

He kept on praising the helicopter for its beauty. He said that when he grew up, he wanted to fly a plane to carry his grandfather to the sky.

That made his Great-Grandpa very amused.

Anne saw that the triplets looked happy holding her mobile phone. She got up and walked to Anthony.
“I have something to tell you.”.

When she arrived at the side hall where Bianca’s piano was placed, she could not help but ask, “Why are you so impatient with the children?”

“We have to teach the children properly.”

“Of course, I know that children need to be taught, but they are only two years old. Can’t you speak to them properly?” Anne knew how good and sensible her children were, and they were definitely not disobedient. As long as they spoke to them nicely, they will be obedient.

Anthony suppressed the idea of authoritarianism, and his face was gloomy. “Got it.”

Anne did not say any more. She turned around and left, but her arm was grabbed.

“Is there anything else to say?” Anthony asked.

However, there was a hidden grid here.

The wall next to it looked normal, but when the antique vase next to it was moved, the wall would split, revealing a hidden entrance.

In the depths, the light was dim, and human shadows slid across the wall like twisted monsters.

Looking carefully at the walls, one would see all kinds of sharp weapons hanging on them. They all looked lethal.

In the corner, there was a woman huddled, hands and feet bound by nylon ropes. Her exposed skin had been beaten and scarred. Her long hair hung down, hiding her face. "Raise your head!" The subordinate stepped forward and kicked.

The woman moved and raised her head, revealing her face.

It was Lilian Smith.

Lilian, who Anthony could not find all this time, was actually here.

Her eyes were still so fierce, like a trapped animal.

The subordinate said, "Mr. Lloyd, she never said a word about where her organization is."

“Then it has nothing to do with me. I just want to own the Tianya organization. Why do I care about controlling other people’s lives and deaths?” Corentin said with an inscrutable expression.

After Corentin left, his subordinates went into the secret room and looked at Lilian. Lilian felt something was wrong. “What do you want?”

“You’re pretty. I like it very much. I’ve wanted to do something to you for a long time.” His hands reached out to touch her face, pinching and rubbing it. It was very wretched.

Lilian did not move. This man dared to touch her? She was already thinking about how to kill him.

“I’ve already sent the people outside away. No matter how you scream, no one will hear you.” He knelt down, kissed her face, and even touched her face blindly.

Lilian got the message, which was to say, there was no one outside at this time.

So, does this man have a knife or something?

“Do you know... Indulging in sex is dangerous?” Lilian asked.

Before the man could react, Lilian slammed his head on the ground.

“Ahh!”

Obviously, Corentin would not say anything, and he did not give her a chance to ask.

The next time she opened her eyes, the sky was already bright.

When the curtains were all drawn, the room was so dark that she could not see her own fingers.

At this moment, there was a finger-wide slit in the middle of the window curtain, allowing the light from outside to come in.

Ashlynn did not turn over and did not look back. She knew that Corentin was not on the bed. Otherwise, his hand would be on her waist.

After staring at the beam of light in the middle for five minutes, she got up tiredly.

After pressing the button at the head of the bed, a layer of window curtain inside was opened, leaving a layer of thin curtains.

The whole room was bright, and the sun was not too glaring.

Ashlynn got out of bed and dragged her sore body to the cloakroom.

She could insist on going to the company on time on the first day, on the second day, and on the third day.

She suddenly thought about Corentin leaving the company yesterday afternoon and the phone call last night. Ashlynn looked at him seriously. "What did you do?"

"What?"

"You came to the company yesterday afternoon, but you left straight away. Where did you go?"

"I had something to do, of course."

"It has nothing to do with work, does it?"

Corentin took her hand, pulled her to sit on her lap, and slightly frowned. "Why are you so sensitive? It's the same as your body. Baby, do you know how much I like your body?"

"I'm going back to work." Ashlynn should not have asked. It was not like Corentin would really tell her.

"Aren't you working for me?" Corentin refused to let go.

"Then don't you have to work?" Ashlynn asked.

Corentin turned his head and looked at the documents on the table that needed his review and signature, and his expression changed. He patted her upturned buttocks and reluctantly withdrew his hand. "I went to Luton yesterday. Anne's complexion was not very good, so give her a call and ask about it."

A few minutes later, she went downstairs and saw a Rolls Royce parked in the square.
In fact, parking was not allowed on the square.
However, Anthony wanted to stop.
After such a stop, anyone who entered or exited the building would pay attention to this Rolls Royce, which represented power.
It made Anne look like a thief when she got into the car.
Anne protested as soon as she got in the car, "Can you not stop here? Now everyone knows you are here to pick me up."
After she finished speaking, there was an abnormal sense of oppression in the car.

Anne's expression froze, especially when she met Anthony's deep black eyes. She thought she had said something wrong.

"You're afraid someone will see me?"

"No, I'm afraid others will envy me." Anne quickly answered.

Anthony's eyes darkened slightly. "Come here."

After Anne returned to the office, she concentrated on looking at the various rumors on the internet.

Pinnacle Academy and the hospital were not spared, and they were all scolded miserably for being dubbed a 'black-hearted businessman'.

Should she call Lucas to inquire about the situation?

She thought about it and decided against it.

Even if she called, how could she help?

When Anthony found out, things would only get worse.

In the afternoon, she would go to the hospital with the sales manager to discuss the cooperation with the contract.

On the way back, she happened to pass by the hospital where the accident happened.

"Let's go to this hospital to see," Anne said.

The sales manager thought carefully. "Now? I'm afraid they're not prepared. Besides, being picked out by someone is not good for the company."

"I'm here to see the dean of the hospital," Lucas said.

"Have you found the reason for the food poisoning?" Anne asked.

"The greens delivered were contaminated with some kind of medicine," Lucas said.

They did not hide it. Now that this matter was all over the Internet, they could not hide it.

Anne looked at Lucas, who had been haggard after a few days, and knew that he was worried about this matter.

The gauze was still wrapped around the arm, but it was not hung around the neck.

"Is your hand okay?" Anne asked.

"It's in a cast, no big deal," Lucas said. He saw that Anne's complexion was not good, and he comforted her, "Don't worry, I will take care of the matter."

Anne really did not know how to help him.
