

Powerful 1261

Chapter 1261

The red blood streak looked like it had imprinted the artery on her skin.

“Two days later, I will send you to the Hilton family.”

Ashlynn looked at him with wide eyes, but she could not see him clearly because of the tears that blurred her vision. “Corentin, how could you...”

“You are Beth’s goddaughter now, and you must foster a good relationship with her. Stay at her place for a few days, and I will then fetch you back, okay?” Corentin’s voice was gentle, as though he was trying to comfort his precious little baby that had just thrown a tantrum.

Ashlynn clenched her jaw. She hated him. “Corentin, go to hell!”

“Don’t worry, even if I die, I will bring you to hell with me!” Corentin said, and then kissed her lips and bit them.

“Uhm!” Ashlynn felt the pain up to her scalp and struggled.

However, Corentin was like a beast that lost its mind, biting onto its prey’s throat in a deadly manner, forcing it to calm down and face its own death.

the mirror

dressed up

mouth was swollen, and her neck was full of streaks of blood, looking water onto her face, neck, and hands to wash them again and again. However, no matter how she washed them, the smell of lingered.

not care about the injury on her and then pulled away the pinhole camera from behind within the room and pulled away all the cables that she

She fell

the cameras. So what if Corentin have to lose?

Her pathetic life...

were damaged, but Corentin did not drove here and said, “Mr. Lloyd said to send you to the Hilton into the car. The car left the accurately, they were headed to Beth's stood in front of the luxurious not be home. She was a workaholic. She would go to the office early in the morning. Then, who

Chapter 1262

"Who's here?" Meredith, who had just woken up, came downstairs.

Aunt Cher said, "Not sure. I think they might have entered the wrong residence."

Meredith saw Ashlynn and immediately acted condescending. "Ashlynn, it's you. Why did you make my house filthy as soon as you arrived?"

"Mrs. Hilton is the most particular about this, and I'm afraid she would be unhappy about this," Aunt Cher said.

"Ashlynn, I give you a chance to clean up this mess." Meredith used a tone as though she was speaking to the servant. She saw Ashlynn did not respond and did not budge, then asked, "You seem unwilling to? Don't you want to be a Hilton? Can't you do this? It's a shame that my aunt had higher expectations of you! If you don't do it, I will get someone to make you do it!"

Then, she stormed away.

Aunt Cher placed the pail and the rag on the floor. "Do it! Don't think you

to enjoy life."

you are here

not here to enjoy her life. She was forced to be here by Corentin would very

her chances, then squatted down and wiped will have to clean it until I am satisfied. How dare you bully my Ms. Hilton? You should take a look at yourself in the mirror. Who are you to do so?" Aunt Cher must have a high believed that the people within the house must have already been informed about her arrival. It was impossible for them not to know about acting to your eyes? Are you blind?" Aunt Cher used her foot to point at the floor and then stepped right her face twitching. She wanted to pull her finger back, but Aunt Cher stepped expression twisted exaggeratedly. "How dare you seduce Mr. Lloyd? Do you think you qualify just because you are somewhat pretty? How shameless, she let go of her fingers, they were endure it and wiped the floor quietly.

clean this place? This area is clean. What about the others?" Aunt Cher pointed her fingers left and right, almost poking into Ashlynn's face. "You are here to face mostly doing the chores after she got was always somewhere that needed cleaning or somewhere that needed her to move was deliberately not given any break returned home in the evening, she was cleaning up the weeds in the lawn, and the mowing machine

"Auntie, did you have

"Manageable."

Chapter 1263

Marshall had a function somewhere else, so he did not come back home for dinner.

That left Beth and Meredith to be the only masters on the table.

Beth said, "The dishes are served already. Come and eat!"

Ashlynn then realized she was talking to her and was a little surprised. However, she declined, "Thank you, I will have dinner later."

She knew that she was there to be a servant and would not imagine herself as a little missy in the household.

"If we asked you to sit, you better sit. Are you trying to defy the orders?" Meredith was scornful.

She totally could not understand why Corentin was so obsessed with her.

Ashlynn then sat down on the chair. The other servants served her with the utensils, and she said,
"Thank you."

Meredith showed contempt on her face as soon as she heard it.

the servants, what

one bite of her food when she heard Beth will be in charge of all three meals every

was stunned. "Me,

free lunch in this world,"

Ashlynn kept quiet.

endure this, and then she could leave leave Athetin city

had always been out dating with girls instead did not see
was there as a servant in
of them would
it was a good thing
would not let her stay there as she was adequately humiliated, he would get her back to his side, living her past working on the three meals her doing the servant's work in the morning, he wanted to say completely worn out by the

Chapter 1264

"How dare you to talk back! Do you really think you are here to be a missy?" Aunt Cher was whipping mercilessly at Ashlynn's back.

"Ah! Uhm!" Ashlynn could not stand it any longer, grabbed hold of the cane, and snatched it over.

Aunt Cher did not expect her to fight back and said angrily, "Hand it over!"

She then aggressively went forward to snatch.

Ashlynn pushed her away, hard.

"Ah!" Aunt Cher fell on her bum and started wailing, "Someone get a hold of this disrespectful girl! She hit me! Whip her to death!"

The other servants immediately came by, hearing the commotion.

Someone helped Aunt Cher up.

"Tie her up! Lock her up in the room, and do not give her any food!" Aunt Cher pointed at Ashlynn, her face twisted like a witch's.

It was almost as though she could only be pacified if Ashlynn were dead.

Ashlynn looked at the two servants who approached her, still with the cane in her hand.

a finger on her, she could

Jeremy walked in.

to the side as soon as they heard

Ashlynn, he was stunned. surprised. Instead, she appearance.
had heard this, she would not end up the kitchen and knew that they were up to good.
thing was, why was Ashlynn is Ashlynn... She was violent to me. She pushed me to the floor and hurt first." Ashlynn lifted her hand to show the cane hand.
talked back. You deserved to be whipped! You need to abide room smartly, then said, "Dismissed. What a shame to see all Then, he left.
the cane away and Ashlynn. "Can you please explain what is going on?
then told him
tell him, Jeremy would eventually find

Chapter 1265

So, after taking a shower, Ashlynn decided to take a stroll outside instead of staying in the room.
She noticed the wound on her back during the shower.
Even though Aunt Cher was a woman, perhaps she had been working in labor all her life, and she was extraordinarily strong.
Ashlynn's back had strips of red marks, they were all swollen, and some skin was even peeling.
She felt the pain when her clothes brushed against them.
So, she pulled down her collar over her shoulder, trying to see if it worsened.
"Are you injured? Is it serious?" Ashlynn saw that it was Jeremy. She stood up and said, "Not really..." pulled her blouse down. "Let me a second..." Ashlynn was taken aback. How could this guy get top was easily slightly strangled and beautiful, and they looked like a pair of butterflies and unrealistically smooth skin had four long streaks, and medication.” Jeremy frowned slightly. His good-looking face seemed slightly displeased. Aunt Cher was a little too

he was about to withdraw his hand, a red birthmark on the darker than that of the swollen areas. It was small, like the tip had done with the inspection, but she felt Jeremy’s finger touching her. She jumped and hastily pulled her
She found it strange and asked, will get someone to send you the medication.” Then, he ordered the servant to “Thank you,” Ashlynn said.
balcony with his hands in his pockets, looking ashamed of that, so she admitted, “This is they probably
good
said, “It was alright. They did not give birth to me. It was good enough for them to provide

Chapter 1266

Jeremy was caught off guard by her question, he tripped over the steps, and his handsome face almost kissed the ground.

He turned around, amused, and said, “You made me jump!”

Ashlynn had no other choice but to follow him to the guest room.

The servant helped her to apply the medication to her wounds on the back.

Jeremy was striding back and forth on the corridor, frustrated. Why did Ashlynn have a blood-red crescent-shaped mark on her back?

He remembered that his sister also had a blood-red crescent mark on her back, and Beth told him about it.

She had always said as long as there was a blood-red crescent birthmark on the back, that would be his blood sister.

Now, Ashlynn had it... Could it be a coincidence?

kind of birthmark

Beth and her husband were all

could not wait any straight to

straight into Beth's office in a meeting and was not pleased to could finish her sentence, Jeremy had already pulled her hair. She

are you

hair in his palm, then said guiltily, "Mom, I'm sorry, I pulled too much more than what I need. Please take that seriously and carried on late, and Ashlynn was already in bed, with the mediation, and the swells

He was

on the

was her to call it even better that pleading with him would only feed his perverted mentality, and he would never

Chapter 1267

"Also, do you not have your own home? Why are you here every day?" Jeremy implied his intention to kick her out.

Meredith's face turned green. "Jeremy, who is your family? I need to tell Auntie and get her to discipline you!"

"Then, please go ahead. I will say this now, and I will not repeat myself. Whoever lays a finger on Ashlynn is openly challenging me!" Jeremy had always not been seeing eye to eye with Meredith and was, of course, not going to be easy on her this time.

"Are you seriously treating me this way just because of a woman that came from the slum?" Meredith asked once again.

Ashlynn, who was standing by the side, really wanted to express that she wanted to go back to the servants' quarters, but she heard Jeremy rebutting, "Do you think I am joking?"

Right at this moment, Beth came back. She was even carrying a limited edition woman's bag in her hand. However, she was welcomed with such a scene as soon as she got home. Meredith looked as though her savior had arrived. She went forward and cried, "Auntie, look at Jeremy. He allowed Ashlynn to sleep in the guest room. We did not invite her here to be a guest!"

Aunt Cher added on, "Ashlynn even broke the plates this morning. Not only was she not punished, but now she gets to stay in the guest room. I wonder how much she drugged Young Master."

Jeremy's sharp gaze was directed right at Aunt Cher.

Aunt Cher squirmed backward.

glared at her son, then said sternly, "Ashlynn,

Jeremy pulled Ashlynn

he was he so rebellious! This would make things very difficult done?" Beth tell you." Jeremy meant to have a conversation with her in to say that I am not

is everything relevant to you?"

"You..." Meredith was exasperated.

on your nerves. Let me see what he has yet for pulling my hair today!" Then, watched as Jeremy and Beth Jeremy pull his mother's them leaving too and did not wish to stay in the space

her nose as though trying to fan away some nonexistent in the room. She stood there and leave?

bag down in the room, and sat down on the couch, then massaged her neck. "Why are you siding with Ashlynn? Now "What motive?" Jeremy asked.

if the girl you liked is from the slum? If I did not guess it wrong, this girl that you were referring to is Ashlynn, right? Jeremy, I don't care how playful you are out there with any celebrities or models, on this. He sat next to

Chapter 1268

Beth's face was frozen, acting out of the ordinary.

Marshall came back to see his wife's terrible expression and asked her caringly, "What happened? Are you unwell? Do you need me to get the physician over?"

Beth shook her head. "Nothing big. I just need some rest."

"Have a day off tomorrow, don't stretch it."

Beth had something on her chest that she could not tell him about.

She thought that it must not be the case.

If that was not the case, then she did not have the need to tell him about it.

The crescent birthmark. There could be not one... but two... or three... or even many people that have it.

It must be a coincidence.

In the middle of the night, Beth, who could not sleep, crept out of her room, to the guest room.

She entered.

She turned the night light up slightly and saw Ashlynn, who was soundly asleep. Beth walked closer. She looked at the peaceful face and asked herself repeatedly, would this be the daughter that she had lost for over twenty years?

She reached her hand out and pulled Ashlynn's collar on the back downward.

She first saw the red marks from the whipping and then saw the shoulder blade.

A tiny little red crescent appeared. Beth immediately covered her mouth. She was so afraid that she would let out a gasp.

Her body went soft, and she sat on the ground.

The person in bed was still fast asleep, completely unaware of what was happening in the room.

hastily left the room and crashed

red crescent mark. Her eyes from Jeremy versus seeing it for herself had a though the test results were not out yet, he felt that wrong.

right in front of

told mom last night, you will sleep in the guest room from now on, and the chores will be done your mom... agree?"

to his son," Jeremy though Ashlynn was quite surprised, she was still very pleased that she no longer needed to do the chores and had her own room for dragged by Jeremy to the dining table

as ever and asked for must be so pissed off. Otherwise, why would she not choose not to come downstairs for breakfast?

lips and was feeling

said coldly, "If you don't like it, you can go back to your own home and she is an outsider! Who are you siding with?" Meredith could not stand gone against her every time, but now he was even taking sides with will take the side of whoever makes more sense."

you speak to your sister arm and poured milk for Ashlynn." Have pissed that she could not continue saw that was still nowhere to do the chores, had plenty and stared

of the front door and walking to her felt as though Beth noticed her and looked could not see her expression clearly and thought Beth must be pissed. Perhaps her son and could

That would be ugly.

into the car,

to take another

mind was occupied by the paternity test, she could not even

Chapter 1269

Jeremy did not answer. He pulled out his phone and was about to call the doctor.

Beth regained her consciousness again. She was having a meltdown, and her tears were streaming non-stop.

“Beth, are you feeling unwell? Don’t freak me out!” Marshall hugged her worriedly and rubbed her back. “Did Jeremy piss you off again? I will discipline him later!”

Jeremy stood in the same spot, unbudged.

Beth did not say a word, and her tears kept streaming down.

“What is going on?” Marshall got flustered.

Then, he noticed Beth’s shivering hand that was holding the paper. Her hand was trembling non-stop like a flour sieve.

Full of questions, Marshall took the paper and saw that it was a paternity test result.

However, he could not react when he saw Ashlynn and Beth’s names on top, with the results on the bottom. “What... What is this?”

Beth was caught up in both agony and joy at the same time. She could not say anything. Jeremy explained, “This is the paternity testing of mom and Ashlynn. Dad, Ashlynn is my sister.”

Marshall let go of Beth

I remembered Mom telling me about it and started feeling suspicious.

when he first received the report in the hospital, was too intense that he could

He supported himself against the

Is this real? My daughter... My daughter is found. She is Ashlynn? Little

He looked at Beth.

“Ashlynn is my daughter. What did I do to her? What did I do!” She banged her fist onto grabbed her hand. His eyes were watery too.

oh, God!” How ruthlessly Beth had treated Ashlynn back then. That was exactly how much regret and guilt she felt right now. The scene of Ashlynn in the operation theater was cutting caught up

what Beth did and was kept quiet the

know about it. You should not blame yourself too that dumped my little crescent in the slum? I will make Marshall sighed heavily.

had already been two decades. If that were possible to be found out, they would have her even more and protect her so was freaked out. "We cannot tell her the truth, we cannot... The did, she will detest me for it! I am afraid, please don't

Chapter 1270

Ashlynn stood up as she guessed that it was Jeremy.

It was because the Hilton couple would be at work.

Jeremy had rather flexible working hours, which did not really 'discipline' him.

Ashlynn watched as Jeremy walked to her. Just when she wanted to say something, she was pushed over and fell right into a secure, warm hug.

She was stunned.

What is wrong with this person?

"Are you... okay?"

"No, let me hug you."

"Are you sure that you don't like me?" Ashlynn asked.

her

could

mean by 'I think

face, to her body, and so overwhelmed to find someone you acting weird?" Ashlynn did you do this

I just strolled around.

bring you out for lunch." Jeremy put his hands in his pockets and walked out. He turned and looked at Ashlynn, who was still stunned in the same spot, followed him

so, and the two soon left the premises together. She could not help them look so close to

from the car

after arriving at the
to actually not be difficult at about it, he probably would try and there something on my face?" Ashlynn could not help hate my mother?" Jeremy expect him to ask this, so she did not reply