

Powerful 1351

Chapter 1351

Mia returned to the servant's room in the afternoon and, upon opening the door, saw Anne standing in front of the table with a bracelet in her hand.

The jewelry box, which had been left open to display its contents, was also on the table.

At this sight, Mia's heart skipped a beat, but she quickly composed herself and approached Anne, asking, "Ma'am, is there something you want to tell me? This is mine."

"Why was Bianca here?" Anne asked.

Since discovering the news about the children in the media, she had been checking for daily updates.

Accidentally, she came across a selfie of Bianca.

Anne was very familiar with the Royal Mansion and immediately recognized the background of the selfie.

Mia did not try to hide anything. "She came here for a while and asked me to take pictures of her. She did not stay for long, but she would come here every day. She also said that she would be the mistress of the Royal Mansion from now on."

Anne believed that without Anthony's permission, Bianca would not have been able to enter the mansion.

still managed to trying so

even know what she

close contact with her?"

narrowed as he calculated, "Ms. Bianca will speak with me when she comes to Royal Mansion, although she

You, as a maid, were able to buy such expensive things. Where did you get the money?" Anne turned bought it for me,"

to check your account to find out who gave you the asked.

she could not hide it any longer, as her account would surely source of

decided it was better to admit it upfront it to me. I refused, but she still sent money to my

she ask you

between you for such a simple task? It must be more than the hundreds of thousands spent on jewelry, right?" Anne sneered and tossed the bracelet in her hand on the ground. It made a crisp sound as it rolled to Mia's feet. Did Bianca ask you to kill me?" she shocked by the suggestion. "No," the temple, you wanted to kill me because no one was around, didn't you?"

Chapter 1352

"Why don't we try?" Anne tilted her head slightly, with a smile on her lips, but there was no warmth in her eyes.

Mia was taken aback by that smile and had a bad feeling in her heart.

That feeling was confirmed when she was slapped in the face.

Mia covered her face. "You hit me? Even if I'm a servant at home, you can't just hit people at will! I'm going to find Mr. Marwood to complain!"

After speaking, she turned and ran out crying.

She just ran into Hayden as if she had been wronged. "Hayden, Mrs. Marwood beat me and smashed my jewelry..."

"What did you do?" Hayden's first reaction was to think that Mia had done something wrong.

"I didn't do anything. I just went into the room to rest and saw her inside. She said... she couldn't tolerate a servant who was prettier than her," Mia cried.

Hayden looked up and saw the calm Anne walking over.

scar on her face, which affected her to be nothing wrong with Mia's

there, looking at Mia

the people around her when they saw the scar on her face, cunning, using this tactic to defame you implying that Anne was pounded against the marble, exuding menacing energy. Anthony appeared, his

He came back early.

that her chance had come, so she hurriedly stepped forward, crying, "Mr. Marwood, Mrs. Marwood slapped me on the face. Look, it's all swollen. I didn't do anything, but Mrs. Marwood said she could not tolerate people control her vanity? I worked in the Royal Mansion for a year and a half and was loyal to Mr.

looked at Anthony, and his deep black what Mia said true? Did Anthony have that

that were the case, Mia would only become intentions must not stay out!" After Anthony

Chapter 1353

Anne followed him to the study.

Anthony was sitting behind the desk, not working, leaning lazily on the seat, looking directly at her in a deep imposing manner.

"She disrespected me and wronged me. I hit her. Is there a problem?" Anne asked.

"You can deal with anyone in the Royal Mansion. You are the only mistress of the Royal Mansion."

Anne's pupils froze for a moment. This was the first time she had heard such explicit permission from Anthony.

Anthony had finally revealed his feelings for her.

However, she did not feel much except for surprise.

Anthony was unpredictable; this time, it may be fine, but it may not be next time.

Danger was everywhere with this unpredictable man.

As for what Mia did, there was no need to go into detail.

had

target people like

as deep as cold pools and seemed to be because... she was abusing her but was surprised by her her.

a low voice, "Don't again, and said, "I'll go outside for a walk. The kids will

Anthony was not unhappy, she turned and other supplies in the servant's room

Royal Mansion, and when they are fired, they always have to make sure they have not taken away things they

Mia was fired, Fiona was surprised. She had not yet asked what opened, Hayden recognized the famous tags and could not help but cast a glance at Mia, who ordinary maid be able to afford not what she seemed

the clothes, a small

Mia's expression changed slightly, and she it up, held it in his hand, and looked at it. There was no label on the

Chapter 1354

Hayden had some of the medicine delivered to the hospital for testing. The results were available in the evening. Hayden took the report back to the study.

Anthony examined the test results he held in his hand and saw that the ingredients in the potion would cause insanity, irritability, and a complete loss of control.

For a while, Anthony was consumed by pent-up emotions that he could not release.

At that moment, Anthony's eyes were filled with rage, and his voice was icy cold as he commanded, "Bring them here."

Both Mia and Fiona were brought inside, and upon seeing Anthony, they both became overwhelmed with fear and knelt down before his desk, trembling and visibly distressed.

The potion has been identified, and its ingredients have been found to cause insanity. Tell me everything about what you did, or you will die here," Hayden stated sternly.

Mia and Fiona both collapsed on the ground, feeling despair.

Fiona cried and explained, 'When Mrs. Marwood was pregnant, Mia gave me a small bottle of medicine and said it could alleviate Mrs. Marwood's morning sickness. I had no idea it was dangerous. I would never intentionally harm her, but Mia...Mia said it was fine, and I saw how much Mrs. Marwood was suffering from morning sickness, so... that's why I did it...'

Hayden glared at Mia, who looked pale with fear. "What about you? Where did you get the potion? Who were you planning to give it to? Don't wait for Mr. Marwood to interrogate you one by one!"
me by a woman named Lilian..."

Mr. Marwood, who was seated behind the desk. Mr. Marwood remained composed, with a

"Keep talking," Hayden demanded.

and behaving irrationally. She tried everything she could to leave Mr. Marwood and gave me money. Later, Mrs. Marwood ran away while pregnant and went out... There was a reason for Anne's abnormal mood at always thought it was a had already noticed that Mr. Marwood's hand on the table was clenched into a fist. His veins protruded, his whole hand trembling, and the pressure to ask, "Then... have you given Mr. Marwood frightened that she lay on the ground, answer was to himself had noticed just could not help Anne, he was very impulsive, irrational, and up, stepped forward, and pulled Mia's hair back, revealing her painful cold and terrifying. "You drugged my woman and even killed the child in her stomach. How many lives do you

Chapter 1355

Was it a woman?

What was Anthony doing?

"Ah!" The woman cried even harder. It was so pitiful, and it was horrifying to hear.

What was Anthony doing inside...?

She figured that Anthony must be raping some poor woman.

After all, when she herself had been through that as well, and she knew how it felt...

"Ma'am, what's the matter?" The maid behind came over and asked.

Anne was startled and immediately turned and left as if she had discovered some secret and fled.

The study room door opened, and Anthony saw Anne's figure flashing by and then disappearing quickly.

tears were streaming down her face, but she did not dare to make a blood and fell to the ground, gasping for and the rapists." Anthony has a lot of ways to make be

could not hear it, but Fiona heard it and understood her fate.

after giving

in shortly and took Mia and asked the maid to tidy up on the ground as if it were nothing more than some ketchup and cleaned was making milk for the triplets in the need to do these things but wanted

children and had no wish other than to take care

Anne stared at the

had heard in the study

of her

not provoke Anthony and not be abused by

are you

Chapter 1356

Why did Anthony go out at this hour?

However, she was only wondering but did not really want to get to the bottom of it. She normally did not question much of what Anthony did, and she then went upstairs with the milk.

When Kathryn received Anthony's phone call, she was kneeling on the floor, mopping it.

She had already lost her glory as a doctor. She had an apron wrapped around her waist, her hair was a mess, and she was even bossed around by her master like a dog.

She could not get another job as a doctor in Luton, and her wages from Anthony were not even sufficient, so she sold her house and her car, and now she was renting a place outside.

She could only do labor like this to support her finances.

She had never done this before, so it was very difficult for her.

She did not know why Anthony called her and even asked her to be at the hospital immediately.

Kathryn asked for some time off from her master. The master asked her to leave right away and never to return again.

Even if that was the case, she did not dare to have any delays, took off her apron, and sped to the hospital.

end was the
the hospital as soon
standing right Anthony was sitting inside. He looked the same as and said, "Mr. Marwood... I will pay back your almost cannot say, "Not at all, I back
she did not move, his cold eyes sunk slightly, regained her senses. "Yes, I will go her office to retrieve the test tubes and up his sleeve, revealing to identify the
the blood samples, she said, "You have to wait for twenty minutes.
go anywhere but sat there and minutes, the report was drugs in your bloodstream. The dosage was small, but it will affect your emotions. If taken in the long term, not only will you be psychiatric, it will be hard to remediate as

Chapter 1357

After all, they had been legally married, and Anne was willing to stay by his side. It should not have escalated into something utterly ugly.

So, it was because of the drugs.

Anthony sat in the car and was on his way back. He took the medicine with some water.

When he reached home, Anne was not in the room. He was feeling slightly flustered when he did not see her.

He sat by the bedside, buried his fingers into his dark bushy hair, and pulled it forcefully. The veins on his arms were bulging.

The remedy did not kick in fast enough.

At least now he knew that it was his problem. He could control it now.

Otherwise, he would become violent.

Anne entered and saw Anthony's dangerous state. She was shocked that she took a step back and explained, "I was playing with the kids and accidentally fell asleep on their bed..."

She took a shower before going there but did not expect herself to fall asleep halfway.

eyes looked a

will not do

confused by was he trying to imply? Was that a did he look like that if he to have a bath? I will get headed to the dressing room hung them

the bathroom door was knew that Anthony had

would force

her despite feared the

was because that was the time in the same spot, frozen, afraid feathers in any way.

looked at her unconcealable terror and asked, "Are you said, "I had showered. I will go out

out and quietly shut

feeling

did not force

Chapter 1358

Anthony's dark eyes squinted as he looked at the person in his arms and felt his chest tighten.

Was that because of the drugs or was that because of his emotions?

He could not distinguish it, but he still wanted to hug her tight in his arms.

The fear that she had for him was all caused by him.

He did not intend to explain to Anne that he had been drugged.

The damage... was real.

He wondered how he would feel if he got rid of all the toxins in his body.

Other than his crazy obsession, what else was he left with?

Bianca did not know what happened within the Royal Mansion, nor did she know that Anne had returned.

She only wanted to imagine herself as Mrs. Marwood.

entered the Royal Mansion smoothly without any covered in designer brands from

was frozen before her head down, looking at her phone. The sun shone

she

She walked closer.

that her voice cracked.

“This is run away! If you had already run away, why are you back here again? Why are you always haunting this place?” Bianca was utterly ask Anthony about this. Why must listened as Anne spoke, every word of hers pierced right through her heart, and her face felt as though they were slapped wished that she could tear Anne have a mirror at home? Didn't you see your own face in it? Who are you trying

She only looked at her lightly and said, “Mia had stunned. “Jail? Why? But why are you you pay

“What nonsense are you account that made the transfer to Mia belonged to someone else, and she would am talking nonsense. Anthony will investigate this, won't he?” Anne

Chapter 1359

Bianca was condescending, only she knew that she was faking it. "You should say that I am spoiled and prideful. I only disliked someone acting arrogant in front of me, that's all!"

"Then keep your sense of superiority to yourself. It is pretty good that way." Anne nodded.

"Did you say something to Anthony? You stirred something up, didn't you?" Bianca was enraged.

Anne looked at her exasperated expression and was distracted by a shadow before she said anything.

The pair of hawk eyes, even if they were at a distance, could still feel the pressure it possessed.

"Answer me!" Bianca was annoyed that she was being ignored.

She would have thrown her hands at her if this was not the Royal Mansion.

"Don't you see who that is?" Anne asked.

Bianca then only realized and looked to where Anne looked. She was so shocked that she immediately took a few steps back and almost tripped.

She thought he was far from them and should not have heard anything.

voice rang gently in her didn't tell me that Anthony was in the Royal Mansion!" Bianca did not dare to show too much emotion on her face. "Plus, why should I be scared? I am only too surprised! I am too that, she walked wearing a big smile on her face. "Anthony, I am here to a king that could never be disrespected, and every particle in the air was so smile grew rigid and unnatural. "Anthony, why aren't you saying

You..."

"F*ck off!"

said the F word. She then blurted out what was on her mind, "Anthony, I don't understand. Why must you up slightly, his lips pursed. "Don't make me was unwilling to, but under pressure, she

If her glance could kill, Anne would have left the

the same

walked to Anthony and stood at arm's length from Anthony. She did not know where to start about the conversation that she had exchanged with Bianca in reckoned Anthony would not be too happy to sound like

not buy all

Chapter 1360

She only did not know why Anthony brought up the old memories.

Most of their old memories were unpleasant ones.

"Thank you." Anne still thanked him.

That was the best that she could say to Anthony.

"Who allowed you to say thank you?" Anthony said coldly.

"I'm sorry, that was out of habit..." Anne wanted to explain herself. When she turned to leave, she realized he let her go.

Even the hand on her waist was released.

When she regained her senses, Anthony was already back in the house.

Was he... mad at her?

Anthony entered the study, pulled out his drawer, took out the medicine, and hastily popped them into his mouth.

not even take a sip of water pills swept past his dry esophagus, but he could not darker

now, and he almost could not control

it, it is

and his breathing was heavy as he tried that this was his own emotions and had less to do with the

and no one could take her away from

she said was an omen to stayed, he grabbed the edge of the coffee of things shattering could be outside were all stunned, and one of them went to look for the described, pondered, and said, "It's okay. We

the

Marwood was under the drug and had to be did not understand why Mr. Marwood refused to let Mrs. Marwood know she would

on the phone. "I

the conference

would be press media