Chapter 1511

The safest place in the world was beside Anthony.

Tommy could never defeat Anthony in the first place, so he would definitely be caught.

Anne was calm. She wanted to solve all problems and be Anthony's wife, not his sister.

She was the mother of the triplets, and she was not the weakling who wanted to escape.

After the meal, the servants had just put away the tableware when a woman walked in.

Anne was stunned when she found it was Kathryn.

Kathryn was like an old friend, and Anne naturally remembered her.

Anne and Kathryn looked at each other and smiled.

However, Anne was confused. "Who is sick?"

Kathryn was a doctor and was definitely not here to see her.

At least not at the Royal Mansion.

Anthony held Anne's wrist tightly and said, "Take a blood test to check your body."

Just as Anne was looking eagerly at the children on the campus, Anthony grabbed her waist and carried her into the car.

The car door closed with a bang.

"W-What are you doing?" Anne sat on Anthony's lap uncomfortably, slightly blushing.

"There are still a few minutes. No rush." Anthony put his arms around her waist, acting really flirty.

There were times when Anne and Anthony were like this before, but the mood was completely different.

'Sitting on Anthony's muscular thighs and feeling the burning heat of great power could make her heart beat unsteadily.

This man surely did not waste time...

"I'm going down..." Anne wanted to get up but could not as the hands around her waist were overpowering.

"Anthony...mmf!" Anne's little mouth was possessed and swallowed.

Anne was trapped in Anthony's broad chest, imprisoned and kissed.

"I don't need a psychiatrist. It's a skin ulcer, and I think you might have to take a look for yourself."
Lucia sounded helpless.

After hanging up the phone, Anne received a photo from Lucia. The skin on her hand and part of her face festered. When Anne zoomed in, she found. pus.

It was simply disgusting.

Anne secretly disagreed, but she did not show any reaction.

"I just want Anne to help me because I don't have any other friends here..." Lucia looked at Anthony pitifully. "You know my situation these last two years."

Her words showed the unusual two-year relationship between her and Anthony.

Anthony's eyes showed a glint of coldness and tension, and he subconsciously looked at Anne, exuding an obvious sense of presence.

Anne acted as if she did not notice it and only said, "We'll take you to the hospital first."

"I went to the hospital and tried all kinds of medicines, but nothing worked." Lucia shook her head. "Otherwise, I wouldn't be looking for you. I thought with Mr. Marwood's power, he might know any experts or something..."

"There are experts, but it's still better to stay at the hospital than at home and do nothing," Anne said.

Anne was stunned. Anthony's seemingly random words poked deep into her soul, making her feel even guiltier.

Anne was indeed wondering how to get the cure from Tommy to save Lucia. After all, Lucia was innocent...

She did not expect Anthony to see through her so easily.

Anthony was still the same Anthony, so amazing. He had never changed, but he was only better at faking it.

No. Was he faking it?

"Mm..." Anne felt a tingling pain of her soft ear bones, bringing her dazed self back to reality. Then, she said in annoyance, "Don't bite me..."

"Don't be distracted," Anthony demanded domineeringly, "Remember what I said."

"...Do you really want to do this?" Anne sighed helplessly.

Should she just leave Lucia to suffer and not help her?

Anthony knew Anne was feeling guilty. Then, he gently stroked her delicate face with his rough fingertips and stared at her intently. "I'll be fine only if you're fine. Hmm?"

Then, he grabbed her slender waist and became distracted.

The real meaning of ‘do it together’ was obvious...

“W—What are you doing? We’re in the kitchen...” Ashlynn noticed Corentin’s dirty intentions and resisted.

“No one dares to come in.” Corentin lifted Ashlynn up the table with force.

Ashlynn sat on the table where she would usually prepare the dishes, and the cool *temperature penetrated into her clothes, making her shiver and want to get down.

However, Corentin’s body was between her legs, and she could not get down.

Why was someone from Luton calling her?

Before this, she had only been in touch with Anne from Luton.

Ashlynn thought of something and hurriedly answered, "Hello?"

"Ashlynn, it's me, Anne."

When the familiar voice sounded, Ashlynn could not believe her ears. "Anne? Is it really you? Am I hearing it correctly?"

Corentin rested on the bed with one hand behind his head. When he heard who the caller was, he raised his brows.

Was it Anne...

"That's great. It's fine as long as you're fine." After Anne told her the summary of what had happened to her, Ashlynn was relieved.

The two updated each other on their current situations, and they were both well.

When Ashlynn said she was fine, Corentin got out of bed, poured a glass of wine in front of the wine cabinet, raised his face slightly, and drank the wine in the glass.

The light in the study room was not turned on, and the darkness inside covered Corentin's face. In an instant, he looked gloomy and terrifying. Then, he answered the phone in a devilish tone, "Who revealed the news!"

"I-It was that doctor."

"Then shut him up!"

"Yes, we'll teach him a lesson!"

"Teach him a lesson? I believe that only dead people can help me keep secrets."

Corentin hung up the call, and his mood was unstable.

Walking out of the study, he returned to normal. In fact, he even went to the kitchen to get food in a good mood, delivering it to the bedroom in person and feeding Ashlynn.

While Ashlynn was eating, the doctor was already found by Corentin's subordinates and tortured. In the end, he was thrown into the ocean.

When Anne arrived, the doctor was already replaced by another doctor.

The server froze on the spot. In the face of these two scary men, he did not dare to either enter or leave.

Ashlynn and Anne looked at each other, and they could tell that the other person was speechless from her eyes.

Then, with perfect mutual understanding, both of them got up and left.

"I'm going to the restroom."

"I'm full."

The mighty air to Anthony and Co rentin was instantly reduced by half.

They barely ate, so how could they be full? Clearly, their appetite was affected by their moods, and everything was caused by the other man at the table.

Their vicious and darkened gaze met again, and they resented each other even more.

Of course, Anne and Ashlynn were not going to the restroom. Instead, they went to the public open balcony and stood by the railing to take in the night view.

Both Anthony and Corentin came to the public balcony at the same time and walked to their own woman.

Ashlynn said, "Nothing much."

"Are you angry?" Corentin wrapped his arm around her shoulder. "I've done as you wished. The king crab has been taken away. The main thing is that I've forgotten the fact that Anne can't have seafood."

Ashlynn shot him a glance with dissatisfaction. 'What do you mean you've done as I wished? Also, even if you have forgotten, you can take it away on the spot too. Why must you fight with Anthony over this kind of thing?'

Anthony ignored the two people beside them. Just as he grabbed Anne and wanted to leave, his phone started to vibrate.

He took out his phone, glanced at the incoming call, and then answered it. The voice on the other end of the call belonged to Kathryn.

It was unclear what she told Anthony, but his black eyebrows knitted slightly. "Died?"

Anne was confused as he looked at Anthony's deep and indifferent expression. She thought, 'Who died?' it." Anthony hung up the
