Chapter 1521

There was no conflict of opinions anymore throughout dinner after that.

Both the men did not dare anymore. After all, any actions that would leave their wives hungry were still not allowed.

Even if the culprit was themselves.

Anthony and Anne originally planned to return after investigating the situation here. However, the person has committed suicide, so Anthony decided to spend a few more days in Athetin.

Corentin and Ashlynn invited the couple to stay at their mansion. They had so many rooms, so there was certainly going to be room for them.

However, before Anne said anything, Anthony rejected them.

He simply said that they could converse over the phone if there was anything.

After that, they got into their luxurious car and went to the Presidential Suite at the hotel.

Anne asked when they were in the car, "Do you have any suspicions?"

"Why do you ask?"

Anne glanced at him. "Just a feeling."

"Karl Calderon was infected by the virus a month ago. He has gone to a few major hospitals for treatments but nothing worked. Later, he gave up because he didn't have money anymore. He probably committed suicide because he was in pain." Ivan saw that Mr.

Marwood did not say anything, so he asked, "Mr. Marwood, are you suspecting that Karl was killed by someone?"

"I'll give you two more days. Don't forgo any clues at all."

"Yes."

Anthony did not have the evidence. The man committed suicide right before they came to Athetin, so Anthony was thinking if it was because he could no longer endure it or if it was purely a coincidence.

Ivan, on the other hand, felt that since Mr. Marwood was suspicious, then something was certainly wrong with it.

Mr. Marwood could become King of Luton because his strategies and judgment have always been accurate.

Ashlynn wanted to call Anne and ask her when they would be coming for lunch, but she was stopped by Corentin. "Anne already called. They are not coming for lunch but they are coming for dinner."

"Oh." Ashlynn thought it made sense as well. They certainly would want their own space over here.

In fact, it was because Anne could not wake up. She slept until noon before she woke up.

As soon as Anne and Anthony arrived in Luton in the afternoon, Anne received a call from Lucia. "Anne, can you come and visit me? You won't get infected if you wear protective clothing. I'm feeling very uneasy..."

"I'll visit you later," said Anne.

After she hung up the call, Anthony's black eyebrows were slightly furrowed, and he was a little unhappy. "You're going to the hospital?"

"She's scared and she doesn't have friends here. I'll just go see her. It's no big deal," said Anne.

Anthony did not say anything but he did not look too happy. His expression was tense, cold, and harsh.

Of course, he did not want to care about Lucia's life and death. That was because if Anne had been infected by the virus, he could be responsible for the treatments from all aspects.

As for the others, there was no need for him to get involved.

However, it was clear that Anne could not be indifferent.

"Alright. I'll wait for you." Lucia pleaded with a pitiful gaze.

Anne looked away as if she was avoiding her a little, and then she left the ward together with Anthony.

After the door was closed, just as she wanted to say something, Anthony, who had seen through it all, beat her to the punch and said, "Tell the doctor to say that she can't be discharged from the hospital."

Anne was slightly stunned, but she understood immediately after.

She knew Anthony must have heard the conversation in the ward. Otherwise, he would not have appeared at such a right moment.

She knew that was a very good solution, but she still felt bad to leave Lucia alone here and not caring about her.

"Her virus will infect the children," Anthony added.

Anne was frightened.

It was fine for her to be infected, but she could not let the children have any risk of being infected.

Therefore, she could only come to the hospital often after that to keep Lucia accompanied.

When they were on the way to the school, Anne gave Lucia a call. " I've asked the doctor, and she said it's best for you to not leave the hospital because they need to monitor the changes of your virus every day to study the cure. How about this? I 'll go to the hospital every day to accompany you, alright?"

Anne nodded.

"Is Mr. Marwood here?" asked Lucia.

At that moment, however, she did not wish for Anthony to appear.

Only then could the person behind the scene take action.

She should just endure it for the time being!

"He's here," said Anne.

How could she not know what Lucia was thinking? She was just pretending not to know.

After this matter was resolved, she and Lucia would never be seeing each other again.

Lucia did not show any emotions.

"Mm-hmm. It'll be safer if Mr. Marwood is keeping you accompanied," she said.

Anthony did not enter the ward but he was not far away from the door of the ward. It was as if he could tell all the tiny movements inside.

Ashlynn looked surprised when she heard it. This was far more complicated than she had ever imagined.

Therefore, it was very normal for Corentin to not be able to help.

Which was why she did not say anything anymore.

She believed Anthony could resolve this problem.

It was just that the process would probably be very complicated...

"I have another tea to spill." Corentin seemed like he had learned some interesting secret that he wanted to share with her.

"What?"

"That woman in the hospital is Anthony's lover."

"What?" Ashlynn was shocked. "Isn't she Anne's friend?"

"With a net worth like Anthony's, the King of Luton, so what if she's her best friend? When Anne wasn't around in the past two years, he had been keeping her!"

Ashlynn was furious. She did not expect that such a shameless matter would exist.

"Does Anne know?"

"She knows."

Then, Anne thought of something and asked, "Did your brothers get in trouble at school?"

Chole let out a soft gasp and denied in hurry. "I didn't tell!"

Which meant that something truly happened.

"What's the matter?" asked Anne.

"It's just...that there's a boy in class who often bullies another timid boy, and he even pushed the boy to Charlie's side, which the boy then bumped into Charle's desk. Charlie got angry, so he kicked the boy hard a few times..."

When Chloe was telling her on this end, Charlie and Chris, on the other end, were called to the office to face their greatly dignified Papa.

They were standing in a respectful manner and obediently recounting what had happened in school.

"Is that everything?" Anthony asked in a deep voice as he glanced at both his sons with absolute pressure.

"There's no need for us to hide anything. You'll find out as soon as you look into it," said Chris.

Anthony sneered. "You guys are quite clever."

Anthony pinched her chin, lifted it up, and forced her to keep her face lifted, exposing it under those pair of sharp black eyes. "Do you think I'll punish them? You're wrong. I only want to punish you."

"Wha-...mmm!" Anne's words were blocked by Anthony's domineering kiss as soon as they were about to leave her mouth.

His position, which was facing down from above her, was domineering and mighty from all aspects, which left nowhere for Anne to escape.

The rapid breathing and alluring heartbeats made the temperature in the entire room shoot straight up.

It was after she was kissed from the inside out that he let her go while wanting more.

Anne almost fainted due to lack of oxygen, so she breathed deeply to inhale large amounts of oxygen.

"Let's take a shower together." Before she fully came to her senses, her body suddenly felt lighter, and she was carried into the bathroom in Anthony's arms.

A child's body was absolutely like a small burner. Ashlynn was woken up at night due to the heat.

It only occurred to her when she tried to grab her phone on the nightstand that her phone was in the other room that was arranged for her and Corentin.

Chapter 1529

It was nine in the morning when Anne got out of bed.
There was no sign of Anthony next to her anymore.
Anne felt extremely embarrassed when she remembered that they had guests over.
It was all Anthony's fault. Why could he not control himself at all?
It was forever one last round with him...
She lifted the covers and got out of bed. As soon as her toes touched the carpet, a figure entered the bedroom.
Anthony, who has a tall figure, came in carrying a tray of food. " You're awake? Just in time."
It was as if he was bringing her food right on time as he knew the precise duration of her sleep like the back of his hand.
Anne looked at him as he put the food one by one on the small dining table and then placed it on the bed. "There's no need for you to get out of bed. You can just have them in bed."

"Where are Ashlynn and Corentin?" Asked Anne.

"They're still here. They would probably be leaving after lunch.

You can go look for them after you finish this." Anthony sat down at the edge of the bed.

If she were to stay there, she could give him a hand.

Anne left the Royal Mansion in a car.

However, as soon as she left the radius of The Curve, she was marked.

"Mrs. Marwood, someone is following us," said the driver after he found out.

Anne looked at the car behind them from the rearview mirror, and there was indeed a car tailing them.

It was unknown if the person had noticed that they had spotted the car, but the car tailing behind them suddenly sped up.

Anne's driver sped up as well.

Every single car at the Royal Mansion was luxurious cars with excellent performance. Once the driver sped up, he shook off the car behind them very soon, and the car was no longer in sight anymore.

Just when he thought he had shaken the person off, a woman appeared right in the middle of the road in front of them. She just stood there and faced the speeding car head-on without caring about her life at all.

Anne remembered that woman. She was an assassin from Tianya.

The driver did not intend to slow down at all until he saw that woman whipping out her gun.

"Watch out!" Anne shouted in a hurry.
