

Powerful 1591

Chapter 1591

Other than the triplets, nobody would dare to knock on the door like that.

Anthony's expressions darkened, but he could not be helped.

In the past, Anthony would not bother locking his door at all because nobody would dare to enter anyway.

After the three children moved in, he had to lock the door every night.

Otherwise, there was no telling when the triplets would climb into bed with them.

They were almost turning five, but they still could not be parted from their mother.

That made Anthony, who was incredibly possessive, very unhappy.

Because he opened the door so suddenly, the triplets fell on their faces and stacked on top of each other.

"How dare you wake your mother up?" Anthony had an imposing air to him even without getting angry, and he looked frustrated as his desires were not met.

Unfortunately, the triplets would not have thought of that.

Charlie asked, "Is Mama still sleeping?"

Chris said, "No way! She told us last night she's going to take us to school today."

big and beautiful eyes. "Do we to go by themselves. Also, they had a driver, so why did they insist on letting their mother take them to school? It was about to say that, he heard Anne's eager voice coming from the bedroom. "I just need to wash up, and I'll be right

completely ignored how upset their father against the bathroom door. "Are sullen expression, Anne knew they had interrupted to laugh, but she could only hold it in. Otherwise, she would make Anthony angry, and nothing good would come out of tell that she was holding in her laughter. He then wrapped his arms domineeringly around her slender waist. It was just had to hold his kissed her soft lips with great might, invading

the bathroom, her face was flushed, and ran out of there,
had been a second slower, she would never be Anthony took the
of some business at his
to do during the day anyway, so she followed him
they saw and Mrs. Marwood."
Anthony, they had been addressing her kept feeling it
she entered the elevator, Anthony pulled her into his arms and kissed her before she you doing? There's a surveillance camera in the elevator." "Who would dare to watch?" Anthony looked up, and his dark gaze seemed to penetrate the surveillance

Chapter 1592

The toxin had long been inside her body, but it just suddenly appeared.

That was because Anthony had taken a shower with her last night. He was such a shrewd man, and his gaze had scanned every inch of her body, so it was impossible for him not to see such obvious black marks.

A layer of skin on the surface of the ulcer was still intact, which meant she had not infected others.

Once her skin tore, the fluid on top would easily infect the other parts of her body. It would simply be unpreventable.

Anne was frightened. It was fortunate that it was noticed in time. Otherwise, she would have infected Anthony and the triplets.

That was absolutely unacceptable!

Also, she would not be able to hide such a matter from Anthony.

If she did not let Anthony touch her, he certainly would suspect something. By then, the situation would only be worse.

However, how exactly did she get infected?

Anne turned on her heel and headed toward Anthony's office. She even forgot to knock because she was in such a hurry.

the

on..." She was just about

Anthony called out to her. He handed the documents in his hands to door was closed behind him, Anne turned around and saw that Anthony was walking closer and closer toward her. She could not help but retreat and stop him. "Just stand there. Don't come tracks. His brows were slightly been infected/ Anne told him

be any clearer. Anthony already you guys anymore. I'll stay at my own mansion. It's safer to be

"Take off your clothes."

After Anne figured out what he was talking about, she said, "I saw two spots on my arm, but the other parts of my body are clear. The skin is still intact, so it's not

she finished her sentence, Anthony grabbed her body stiffened.

very strong, so Anne could thrown on

let go of me! This is very dangerous!"

It was indeed dangerous!

would break at

Chapter 1593

Anne went to the hospital for a checkup and confirmed that the black spots were the onset symptoms of being infected.

Also, within 24 hours, the fluid would start oozing out of the ulcers.

Therefore, the clothes that she wore and the things that she used from then on had to be disinfected and destroyed.

Otherwise, if another were to use them, he or she would be infected.

It would not be fatal, but the person would be in great pain.

Of course, if the person were being treated like Lucia did, the symptoms would be relieved, but the virus would still be there.

When this spot got better, the ulcer would appear at another spot. They could only treat the symptoms but not cure the condition.

Anne lowered her gaze and stared at the floor without making a sound.

Someone then held her hand that was placed on her lap. She subconsciously wanted to break free, but when she looked up, her eyes met Anthony's deep, black eyes.

"Don't be afraid. I'm here."

"I want to stay alone," Anne requested.

"No."

will stay apart from the

"But you..."

you even think of leaving my line of sight," simply would not listen to anything she said, which made her anxious with you. Even if he in shock. Was that something a doctor should Kathryn smiled politely.

She was simply voicing out what Anthony had long been hopelessly in love with could he stay away when such a thing had happened to Anne? If he had to trade his life for hers, he absolutely would not hesitate at the infected person

I didn't even meet the other person in the past, either. The only person who came in contact with him was Lucia. But this toxin can only lie dormant to mind?" Anthony stared at the day Beth and Marshall passed about

at that time. Then, I received a call from Corentin saying that something had happened. I went over immediately. When I got to the place, I saw that Beth and Marshall had them into the car. I don't think there's anything else..." Anne carefully recalled the details of what

Jeremy had signs of being infected,

Chapter 1594

Jeremy found her question strange, so he made a guess. 'Could it be that you have it?'

"Yes, that's why I'm asking you." Anne did not hide.

"If you have it and I don't, then you didn't get it from that day. Could it be... Corentin's mansion?"
Jeremy was serious.

"It can't be."

"How could you be sure?" Jeremy found it suspicious. 'I don't have it, but you do, and you've stayed at Corentin's mansion the whole time!'

Jeremy got more and more worked up.

Anne knew he was worried about Ashlynn.

If she were infected at Corentin's home, then Ashlynn could be infected. Ashlynn was pregnant. Everybody knew very well how serious the outcome would be if she were infected without a cure.

Anne knew Corentin would not harm Ashlynn. This, she could be certain.

She had long noticed it if something was wrong at the mansion. I got this from being in contact with others in Athetin. Don't worry. People who live together wouldn't get infected unless they touched the fluid from the ulcer. I'm not at that convinced Jeremy that she had hung out his phone, and called Ivan. He told him the situation and asked him to conduct a room to prepare the medication

Anne and knelt before her. "Where do you have countless properties under his name, so it all just depends on where she would like to stay at to stay. However, she thought that since she was going to be staying together with Anthony, the

It was just that...

alone? We can meet each other domineeringly. 'Let me decide on where we would could not help but bite her lips. This man was simply deaf to some medication from Kathryn stayed at the luxury apartment that night. It was next door was the one Anne's father bought for her.

dazed when she returned to this

the sufferings she had experienced

Chapter 1595

At that moment, Anne was not worried about getting intimate with Anthony. Instead, it was the rotten parts of her body.

The surface of the skin was still intact at that moment, but what if they were not careful, and she tore her skin? Without a doubt, she would certainly get Anthony infected.

She pressed both her hands on Anthony's chest and tried to stop him.

The man truly was not worried that he would be infected at all, but...

"Anthony, I'm scared..." The uneasiness in Anne's eyes was very obvious.

Anthony grabbed one of her hands, placed it against his nose, and then kissed it. "It's fine. There's medication to treat it. It's not a big problem. Hmm?"

Anne said nothing else.

She took the initiative to slide her arms up Anthony's broad shoulders, wrap them around his neck, and kiss his lips.

Anthony's body shook a little, and his blood boiled even harder. He kissed her back even more passionately and conquered every inch of her.

Anne was very cooperative from the beginning to the end.

all, she had been through hellish training at the deserted island, so she

it breath was rough and short. His sexy Adam's apple moved up at her from

night was fatal to him hunger for more. Both to the extent that he could not restrain himself at all. He desperately wanted to just keep sinking deeper, never restrained himself every time in the past, this time was more and he felt a little like he person next

his quiet. There were no movements at

out. His voice

nobody responded to physical strength than he did? How could she get out of main point was that he did not even know when Anne got out darkened as he thought of something, and he a hurry that he did not even put on his pajamas straight out of the

Chapter 1596

At that moment, Anne had already boarded a cruise ship leaving Luton.

She only had to avoid Anthony's bodyguards and the surveillance cameras if she wanted to walk out of the apartment. That was a piece of cake for her. She did not let others notice the specific time she left to avoid being pursued.

Why was she so passionate last night? Of course, it was to lower Anthony's vigilance.

As she had wished, Anthony was still sound asleep when she left.

Anthony would probably be very angry when he woke up. She could imagine that.

However, she had no choice. She could not be so selfish.

What if both she and Anthony were infected? The children could not lose their mother and their father.

Anne stood by the railing and let the sea breeze blow her hair. She was staring into the distance in the direction of Luton, but she looked away and lowered her head. She rolled up her sleeve and saw that fluid had started to ooze from the ulcers.

It was a little itchy, but it was not serious because she had already taken the medication.

The medication they had so far could only reduce the pain of the infected person and let the toxins spread slower. Therefore, if she wanted to resolve it once and for all, she had to find the cure.

Why did Anne not take a flight? It was not because he was afraid Anthony would find out about her whereabouts. Instead, it was because she wanted to let Tommy find out her whereabouts.

She searched for a hideout by thinking like Tommy, who did not want to be discovered by Anthony. The cruise ship was probably one of the places.

When Anne walked toward her room, she noticed something unusual behind her. That slightly lifted her sullen spirits.

She walked forward calmly while wondering about the identity of the person behind her. He would probably be Tommy's man, would he not?

It seemed like she had bet on the right track.

She held back her impulse to attack.

She was waiting to be attacked.

Someone covered her nose and mouth from behind. Anne's body reacted very quickly to the pungent smell. Her body went limp, and then everything turned to darkness.

"She's so pretty. She caught my eye at first glance."

going to wake up soon? I'm not interested in clear. Then, she saw two men

she immediately struggled to sit

The two men in front of her looked went from feeling hopeful to feeling men, but it was let you go. After all, this is a long journey, and it would feel empty without a pissed

and scared, but she even

by a rope, she could take care of these small fries easily, let alone only

it would be pointless for her to be bound, would it well stir up a big commotion. Perhaps some miracle

then rolled off the bed. While running,

Help!!" Anne disengaged the deadbolt on the door, opened the door, and would only be on the deck

the two men let chased her

The price is still

would pay

would some men think a woman would sleep with them as long as they

That was absurd!

stopped but poked Alexander after realizing he had no intention of

"That's it."

"Oh," Alexander responded.

"Oh?!"

clearly dissatisfied with

Alexander immediately laughed when he

I say? You have your idea, you've prepared everything, and you have strong support and reinforcements. Besides praising my wife for being so capable, what else can I hint of sarcasm behind your words? I told you I didn't mean to hide it

an exception when it

nothing to hide when

He nodded

was wrong, she looked at

to say? Why does your reaction feel so as if he was hiding something from support,

Chapter 1597

Anne shouted while running toward the deck, so there were more and more people along the way. All of them looked at her in shock. She was running while the two men were chasing her from behind. The other people had no idea what was happening, so they did not know how to react.

"Help! Save me! They want to kill me!" Anne grabbed a woman's hand and asked for help.

Before the woman reacted, Anne turned around and saw the man running toward her, so she turned and ran off.

"I'll see where you can run!"

Anne was caught by the men before Anne got to the deck. "Ah! Let me go!"

When the men saw other people closing in, one of them said with a smile, "We're playing a play. Just playing a game. Carry on!" Then, they pulled Anne away.

No matter how much Anne told the others she was being abducted, nobody believed her.

Perhaps they believed her, but they chose to turn a blind eye.

Anne was thrown into the room again.

"F*ck! She's so good at running. I'm exhausted!"

bed. Don't faint after we've they looked at Anne's beautiful face and gorgeous figure with a perverted gaze became sharp when she saw their hands getting closer and closer to the cruise ship she had created.

herself as well. Since it did not work, then she should them, there was a
had raised her leg, but she put it
the matter? We're busy!" the man shouted, unhappy
I would like to check that out."
wife and the door and let me have outside into the ocean. He walked over to open The man outside, who was wearing an attendant's uniform, raised his nose. The man fell to the floor, covering his nose. Blood was spraying out man immediately stepped forward to fight, but he
the two men who were on the floor and in Anne could tell this man combat would
are you?"

Chapter 1598

Many people were coming and going, which meant it was very easy to stay hidden. Therefore, it would also be easier to miss them if someone tried to investigate.

Anne was taken onto the cruise ship. It was not as big as the one before, but she had already noticed that she might have already reached the destination.

"Didn't you say that Anthony wanted to see me? Where is he?" Anne turned to ask the bodyguard.

He just glanced at her stiffly before immediately walking away.

With a click, the door was locked.

Anne had expected it, yet she still could not help but feel a little nervous.

The assassin group created another version of her, and to some extent, it produced some side effects on her psychological state. That resulted from being oppressed for a long time on the deserted island.

"It's really hard to meet you, my dear Anne."

Anne looked back. Tommy walked over and looked at her with slightly raised eyebrows.

He looked comfortable and happy. He was completely unlike a criminal who was on the run and being pursued.

Perhaps he was in a good mood because he had caught the person he wanted to catch.

"It's you?"

Isn't this what you wanted?" Tommy seemed to have seen through what you're toes would touch if he were to get any closer. "I thought you wanted to meet

Anne's expression was cold.

as well not hide it anymore. "Do

I do. It's

it the time Beth and Marshall obsessed." I've not seen you in a long time. I've missed you too much. This is the only way I could meet you. Don't blame step back to break herself free from his

you give me

his hand down and said, "As long as you're obedient, I will, of course, give

to be said two words,

seemed so infected now. I certainly won't leave her under his control, and then only he would devise a and sat on the couch at the side. She thought that since she was already there,

Then, he suddenly wrapped his arm around

Chapter 1599

He tried to call the number, but it did not exist. Therefore, even if he looked into it, he would not be able to find the address and the owner of the number.

Tommy was provoking him!

'Tommy, if you dare to touch her, I'll smash you to smithereens!'

"You seemed to be very angry." Tommy put away his phone and stared at her face. "Anne, say my name."

"Tommy, you can come at me, but why did you harm the Hilton family?" Anne could not keep calm when she thought of that.

Beth and Marshall were innocent, yet they died such a horrible death! Why must he go to such lengths?

"How am I the one who harmed the Hilton family? You're wrong about me.' Tommy expressed that he was innocent.

"Tell me how I'm wrong about you then, or are you saying that Beth's and Marshall's death were caused by someone else?'

Tommy knew she was trying to trick him into telling her. He put on a smug smile, stood up, and poured himself a drink in front of the wine cabinet.

"I can only say that Beth and Marshall were unlucky."

Anne glared at Tommy's back. She truly wanted to make a hole in his back by stabbing him.

had not reached her goals, and there were still plenty of questions unanswered. Tommy still could not die two glasses of wine. He glanced at her, then he walked over and handed a glass to said, "How to take a sip of water from

Anne would not do that. She did not reached out and grabbed Tommy's

confused

and rubbing her wrist against the back of his hand with all stained with fluid that that, Anne turned her wrist over. Her skin

immediately knew

me by your side is just

"Have you forgotten who I am? I am the creator of this virus. I have the cure that all of you

"Give me the cure."

obedient or not."

great restraint for Anne not to cut

need to do for you to give me

mission I've given

instantly thought of what mission it

Chapter 1600

Anne did not even bother responding to him. She just got up and walked out of there.

She came to the deck, stood by the railings, and looked into the distance.

Their position had long changed since she boarded the cruise ship. They were further and further away from the dock.

She had no clue where they were going. They would probably be sailing back and forth to avoid becoming Anthony's search target.

Anthony must be infuriated to know she had left. What would he think when he saw the intimate photo of her and Tommy? He must be desperately wishing to murder somebody.

After all, Anthony was indeed very terrifying when he was mad.

However, she had no choice. She had to do something to make progress, and her decision was right.

At least Tommy had made an appearance.

As long as Anthony found her, then that was it.

a way to leave

not have dinner at night. She simply starving yourself? Don't worry. I eat when I'm

was outside, fell

the sound of the door opening could be heard, and immediately stood up, looking upset. "This is wherever I want. You have no privacy in my territory," said his actions. "You're not going to sleep

in a very good mood that she had figured

"Dream on!"

you that you can only do as I say now that you're

"Or else?"

walked over, grabbed Anne's wrist, and looked at her with a grin." Of course." He paused before continuing, "There's nothing I can do go!" Anne wanted to shake his hand off with all her might. However, she learned

"Can't use your strength?"

Tommy, who was grinning at her. "You've...drugged me? I didn't eat anything-'

eat anything, but she drank