Chapter 236

"What?" Anne did not understand what he said, and she did not want to. "Let me out of the car."

She did not want to spend another minute with this man.

"Are you resisting me?" Anthony's eyes were indifferent.

"What's wrong with keeping my distance? Don't forget. You gave me freedom. Of course, I won't find other men. After all, you don't want to see me doing that. So, I will be good. If you insist on forcing me to contact you, I might think that I am more important than Bianca to you."

Anthony's aura suddenly cooled down. "You think too much."

Anne got out of the car and watched the Rolls Royce disappear before her, and her tense nerves relaxed.

When facing Anthony, she was terrified she might trigger him.

As soon as she arrived at the door of the ward, she heard Sarah clamoring to get back inside.

The doctor was trying to persuade her.

It did not stop until Anne entered.

Sarah changed her expression and immediately put on a smile. "Anne, you are here!"

"The doctor hasn't given you permission to be discharged, so just stay here. What's the problem?" Anne asked her.

"Isn't it the same for me to stay at home? It's boring in the hospital."

Anne asked the doctor, "Let's stay here for another two days. Is that okay?"
