Chapter 261

So, before she went into the office, she made coffee and brought it to the Director's office.

Xander took one look at her with surprise. "What's up?"

"What's up? Making coffee for the Director is part of my job," Anne said with a straight face.

Xander nodded, took a sip of coffee, and said, "Tastes good, thank you."

Bianca recovered fast, and as soon as she was back to work, she called Anne, asking her to go to the filming scene.

The filming scene was in the Marwood office tower.

The Marwood Group rented the place specifically for shooting.

It was convenient for Anne to go over too.

Bianca asked her to get her coffee as soon as she arrived. She also specifically said that she did not want the office coffee.

Anne could only go out to get her the coffee.

After more than half an hour, she finally handed the coffee to Bianca.

Bianca looked at her slightly pink cheeks after running back scornfully and felt disgusted by her. She lifted her coffee cup and took a selfie while casually remarking, "That innocent face must have tricked a lot of men, hasn't it? Too bad not all men buy that."

"What? Of course, every man loves the well-known pianist's beauty," Anne replied.

Bianca rolled her eyes. Was this woman oblivious, or was she really dumb?
