Chapter 401

Her eyes met his for a second, and she turned her gaze away. She stood aside and let him in. Anthony put his hand in his pocket and stepped forward with his long leg. His innate aura permeated.

Seeing Bianca's tearful face, he walked over and asked, "What's wrong?"

Bianca wiped the tears from her face, appearing as if her suffering was too much to put into words.

Nigel looked at him with a solemn expression. "Don't you think you need to make an explanation? Don't you need to be responsible to Bianca? You are engaged!"

His clothes were there, and Anthony could not deny anything.

Besides, he did not mean to deny it either.

"It did happen," Anthony said.

Bianca's heart suddenly fell to the bottom, and the tears fell even more.

Anne's whole body was tense. Was Anthony trying to make her the scapegoat?

Nigel's face turned extremely gloomy. "Anthony, what did you promise me? Are you going back on your own words? My family treated you with kindness and no ill will, right?" He said very seriously.

If it was just an ordinary person, Anthony would not even pay attention to it. He might even make that person crippled for the rest of this life.

"Mr. Faye, it's not that serious. It's not my fault," Anthony said.

Anne's hand trembled and clenched into a fist.

So, he was going to make her the scapegoat after all?

Bianca stood up. "I know, you're not that kind of person. It's Anne who seduced you. You're her brother-in-law, and only she would do such unethical things."

Anne find you instead? What did she do?"

Chapter 402

Everyone who was present knew that 'the other person' meant Anne Vallois.

Anne lowered her face and lowered her gaze.

What Anthony said was right.

He had always treated her that way.

Just like between the original spouse and the mistress, the husband would always stand by his wife's side.

The mistress was just to be toyed around in his spare time, and not someone who deserved to be respected.

"Yeah." Anne said while holding back a sneer, "Last time, it happened because of drugs, and this kind of thing will never happen again. Otherwise, it will be contempt for Bianca, an outright betrayal. It's even rude to the Faye family, for such a thing to happen over and over. For those outsiders, they might even think that I'm being favored!"

Anthony stared at her coldly. His eagle-like sharp glare pierced through Anne.

The sense of oppression was dangerous.

Bianca looked at Anthony's terrifying face, and she knew that Anne went too far.

Nigel comforted her for a long time before leaving.

Sitting in the car, he thought about it for a long time. He held his phone up and then put in down again. Eventually, Nigel did not call Sarah.

He was struggling to cope with such a situation, let alone Sarah.

After everyone left, Anne sat down on a sofa, covering her face weakly as it was still wet from the tears.

What was all this about?...

If the event that happened today could make Anthony stop forcing her, then it was worth it.

She was afraid that no one could stop him...

A knock on the door pulled her back to her senses.

Chapter 404

Maybe Bianca, who was wronged, was now crying and acting weak in front of Anthony. If Anthony felt pity toward her, then this problem would be bigger.

Everyone would suffer.

However, if she could know in advance what sinister means Bianca was plotting, she could protect herself.

It was not an act to offend Bianca and Anthony.

In the evening, Anthony did not come for dinner. He must be trying to appease his fiancée.

Anne hoped that Anthony would never appear.

After a week of taking care of the children and going to work as usual, Anthony showed no sign of appearing. As if the event of that day were having a positive effect.

Anne had always paid attention to Anthony's position. The Royal Mansion, the Archduke Group, where all the entertainment locations were located. No signs of him getting close to her.

Because the house was under renovation, Anne occasionally contacted the designer and decorator. She would not go to the condo unless it was necessary.

However, there were indeed necessary times.

“You tailed after me.” Anthony said in the depressing atmosphere, with his deep voice filling every corner of the enclosed space.

It filled, echoed, and weighed on her chest.

Anne replied, “No, the designer called me to come over as there were minor changes to the renovation.” How could she possibly tailed after him.

She had no such interest and had avoided Anthony like the plague.

There was a tracker on him, which was why she came!

Yet, she still bumped into him.

Even the tracker was bullying her?

“Were those words directed at me?” Anthony questioned in a monotone voice, with a sense of intimidation of something best left unsaid.

Anne instantly understood what he was referring to- The last time it happened because of the drug, this would never happen again. If it did, it would disrespect the Faye family, make light of Bianca, and be a blatant betrayal. It happened several times, and others who didn’t know what was happening would have assumed he liked me!

"Hey lady, you can't be happy for winning money and not paying when you lose, right?"

In a club's blackjack room, two men and a woman demanded money from Sarah.

Of course, Sarah was reluctant to give them.

It was four hundred thousand usd!

Things are different now, so four hundred thousand USD was a lot of money.

She felt embarrassed being told that.

"I suspect the three of you tricked me into letting me win and make me lose after I increase my wager!" since Sarah did not want to pay them, she did not care if she was making it up.

The three of them exchange glances upon hearing her response.

As Sarah got it right!

However, they certainly would not admit it.

"Who tricked you? You choose to increase the wager of your own volition, and nobody compelled you!" One of the men said.

“Do you have any plans later?” Sarah asked.

“Why did you ask?”

“Let’s have a meal together,” she sounded unnatural when she asked him. “Forget about it if you have something planned, since it’s not a must anyway. I thought of treating you to a meal to repay you for helping me, so don’t think too much.”

Nigel did not expect Sarah to invite her to a meal since he was the one who wronged her then, so she thought she would hate him.

“I have nothing planned for later.”

After that, they went for a meal.

Nigel could tell Sarah was not bothered by what he had done in the past.

However, it was an awkward atmosphere, unlike a meeting between buddies.

“Were you in contact with Anne lately?” Sarah asked. 1

“Yeah, I saw her last week, and I will give her a call when I have time,” Nigel replied.

“Where did the house you buy was located? That kid refused to tell me anything, and god knows why she kept it a secret from me.” Sarah was not mad but was nagging like what mothers did.

Nigel smiled. “She’s embarrassed.”

However, when they got into the car, there was something ambivalent between them.

Sarah could feel her heart pounding, and Nigel also noticed he was distracted. However, Nigel knew his place, so he would not have an intimate relationship with Sarah. It was true that he remarried Dorothy because of their child.

He had never forgotten about Sarah despite so many years passed.

Nigel later found out that Sarah had married into the Marwood family, and he sincerely wished her all the best.

While at the same time, frustrated by where fate had led them.

Just like what he had said to Anne, his choice would have been different if he had known Sarah was pregnant. 1

Where else Sarah did not think that much.

She felt the urge at that moment.

As the more she looked at Nigel, the more attractive she thought he was.

While searching for the phone after unzipping the bag, Anne paused when she came across a box inside.

She was familiar with the box because she used to consume it frequently, urgently, and for an extended period of time.

However, why did her mother have this in her bag?

Moreover, it was unsealed...

"Wait!" Sarah rushed over, snatched the box from Anne, and put it back into her bag. "It's cold medicine, so who called?"

Sarah zipped her bag and threw it aside after she pulled out her phone.

"I'll go take a call." Sarah left hurriedly and came back shortly. "It was my friend, I was invited to play blackjack!"

"Wasn't the blackjack game today agreed upon? Yet, they even have to call you specifically?" Anne began to doubt where she went today.

"I forgot about it."

"You didn't go to play blackjack today, did you? Who did you have a date with?"

"Who did I go on a date with? None!" Sarah's eyes were shifty, and she refused to admit it.

"Is the man you seeing my father?" Anne's voice appeared behind Sarah.

Sarah dropped the piece of meat she had picked up with her chopstick onto the dining table. She looked guilty when she turned around and saw Anne's inquisitive stare. "Did someone call you to tell you about it?"

"What were you thinking? Don't you know that Dad was married? What would others think of you if they found out what you have done?" Anne was mad at Sarah.
