Chapter 531

The attending doctor was Dr. Brown.

After Dr. Brown knew who he was, she expressed her thoughts in a very relaxed tone and did not say how terrible the condition was.

After all, although Anne was seriously injured, she could fully recover!

It was not easy being a parent.

Anthony took a helicopter and returned directly to the Archduke Group.

Entering the office, he took off his jacket and threw it on the sofa.

He went to the desk, saw the stack of documents, and remembered something.

He picked it up and looked at it.

Anne was no different whether she was abroad or in Luton.

As for the children in Pinnacle Academy, there was nothing special about them.

How could Anne be so tenacious and keep on coming back to haunt her?

'Can I go see Anne? I've been worrying about her for so long, and I want to see her with my own eyes.'

'Don't worry. She will be back in a few days.'

Bianca was thinking of the more serious consequences that would happen to her.

After all, she did not know that Anne had three children before!

Dorothy often told Bianca that Nigel could remarry her because of Bianca.

So, if one day Anne told Anthony the truth, would Anthony marry Anne too?

She did not just give birth to one, but to three kids!

Bianca was so frightened that she trembled all over, unable to hold a knife and fork in her hands, and her cutlery fell to the ground all of a sudden.

The waiter hurried over to help pick it up. "I'll get another one for you."

Dad wanted to get a divorce, but he could not, so it was very difficult for him.

"Mom, what do you think?" she asked.

"What do I think? Since when have my thoughts mattered? You are his daughter. Isn't it his duty to take care of you here? His love has been missing from your life for twenty years," Sarah said indifferently.

"Actually, I don't care that much. I think it's enough for me to know who my father is."

"You think this way, but not everyone thinks the same way. Dorothy knows that her husband has another daughter, Bianca, who inherited her meanness, and they hate you! They do everything they want because Anthony supports them!"

Anne was silent. 1

That was quite correct.

Her mother did not know how the accident happened. If she did, she would be pissed.

Yes, as long as they were alive, Dorothy and Bianca would try to get rid of them.

However, Anne would not let them get their wish.

"Hello, who is it?"

"Auntie, I'm Anne."

"What? Miss Vallois? Miss Vallois, is it really you?" the nanny said in shock.

Anne felt strange at the exaggerated tone in the nanny's voice.

Just as she was about to ask, she heard the excited voices of the three little kids.

"Mama!"

"Are you okay?"

"Let me listen to Mama's voice!"

The nanny turned on the speaker, and Anne's voice came. "It's Mama, miss me?"

"We did!" the three little kids said in unison.

"Well, that bad woman lied to me!" Chloe sniffed.

"That bad woman was talking nonsense!" Chris said.

"Next time, I will use my sword to hack her to death!" Chris was feeling particularly violent, and he waved his hands as he said that.

Anne burst out laughing, completely forgetting about her hurt rib, causing her to double over, holding her stomach to hold back her laughter.

The wound there was not yet healed, and it hurt when she laughed.

"Mama, when are you coming back? I miss you so much! I can't hug Mama in a video call." Chloe pouted her little mouth and stuck it to the screen.

Anne saw that her little mouth took up the entire screen, so she leaned over and kissed back.

"Mama will go back in a few days. It won't take too long," Anne said softly.

"Do we have to wait again? Can Mama stop working in the future? I can earn enough money for Mama!" Charlie said.

'Nanny didn't have the time to tell you. Bianca somehow went to the door and met the children. That explains everything,' Lucas said.

Anne was stunned, her mind was in chaos, and she felt dizzy.

'Don't worry, Bianca wouldn't dare to tell Anthony. After all, she is worried that the existence of triplets would threaten her status.' Lucas knew Anne's current mood and comforted her.

Anne took a breath and put her hand on her forehead, feeling cold sweat there.

"However, knowing Bianca, she will definitely not stay still. Will she hurt the children? I have to go back to Luton!" Anne was anxious.

'Anne, you should take care of your body first. The children are in my residence and go to school with me. Bianca will not have the chance to harm the children. Don't worry.'

Anne's heart returned. "Principal, thank you, I'm sorry... I treat you badly, and yet you still help me. I feel so guilty..."

"I know you were threatened. On the day the two families ate, you were taken away by Anthony, weren't you?" Lucas said.

It was not that she liked who better. It was just because her children were only two-year-olds, so pure and so innocent. How could she not worry about them?

What's more, the situation was crucial, and she dared not to be far away from them.

If some inevitable problems happened, she could at least be there and comfort her children.

During Anne's stay in the hospital, Bianca found out that the kids had moved to live with Lucas.

It was clear that Anne and Lucas were on the same side.

No wonder the children's privacy was well protected.

There was no way that the two of them had no other business going on.

In such a situation, she was unable to reach the kids.

"An orphanage?" Moona knew what kind of place that was, but no matter what, she still had feelings for the children.

She could not bear to throw the cute kids into an orphanage where no one was in charge and did not care if they lived or died.

When Bianca saw her hesitation, she lost her patience. "You don't want to, do you? Then I'll tell Lucas now!" she said, making a gesture to take out her mobile phone to make a call.

"Yes! I am willing to!" Moona was so frightened that she nodded her head repeatedly.

A triumphant smile appeared on Bianca's face as she stood up. "Then I'll wait for your good news."

The door closed with a thump. Moona fell into a deep state of struggle.

Her mobile phone rang, startling her.

Seeing that the caller was Anne, she was even more reluctant to answer it.

"Strange, why isn't the nanny answering my call.... " Anne mumbled.

Anthony has so many bodyguards. How much trouble could Sarah cause? However, the situation was very different from what she knew.

Was it a reward for surviving this time?

Quite likely.

In the evening, when Sarah was away, Anne called Anthony.

The call was accepted.

Anne said, i'll go back tomorrow."

"You want me to go pick you up in person?"

"That's not what I meant. Is my mother's mansion good to live in? My house is small, and my mother will not let me live alone. If it is occupied by Bianca and the others, I can't rest well," Anne explained.

Sarah looked around the ward. Everything was fine, but there was only one bed.

The sofa must be uncomfortable for her to fall asleep.

She had been away from the mansion for a long time, and she really wanted to go and have a look...

'However, wasn't the mansion occupied by Dorothy and her daughter? Will they give it back to me?" Sarah was worried.

'You can go back and see if they are still there."

Sarah did not know what she meant. If they were there, was she supposed to fight with them?

However, listening to Anne's tone, it did not seem like she meant that.

Sarah returned to the mansion in the afternoon. There was no one else inside.

When she went to the room, she noticed that there were no traces of people living there.
