

Powerful 591

Chapter 591

She froze, before asking, "did you see the kids?"

Tommy simply raised his glass.

Desperately to know what had happened, she grabbed her glass and took a sip.

"How unsettling it is for you to drink the wine that's offered to you at a strange man's place..."

She scowled. "Are you going to talk or not?"

"I saw them. They were eating with Anthony. A heart-warming scene, truly." Tommy sipped on his wine, before setting the glass down. "Don't worry. They are his kids. He's going to treat them well. If I'm being honest, they are better off than relying on you, who can barely make ends meet."

"I know..." Anne did not need him to remind her of that.

"Did you talk at noon?"

"How do you know?"

out," he said calmly, "judging from the look on your face, it meat on her plate with her fork, thinking back to what you talk

for the custody of at least Chloe, and... leave the boys with Anthony. He didn't agree." She supported giving up her sons was extremely hard, but still, she needed to make the decision, or she would lose all of

Pay for alimony and drop by to see the kids refused to accept

can't win against

wealthy to be interested business deal. You need to present how eager you are and proceed by letting the other person know that they are getting something out of it. You went head first and asked for a daughter. Did you really think that he would be why he acted that way, as she thought that all men cared only for their sons. Anthony's empire needed an heir, so daughter looked exactly like her and Anne was worried that Anthony deal, you can always revisit and

him with

Chapter 592

She soon realized that she was in a bedroom and judging from the interior design, it belonged to Tommy.

Though she was reluctant to remain in Tommy's room, she had no way of getting out.

She quietly opened a small gap to the door and saw Damian walking into the living room.

"Why didn't you answer my call?" Damian questioned.

"I missed it."

Damian decided to ignore the truth to that explanation since he had something more important to discuss. "Do you know that the Archduke Group is all talking about Anthony's kids? How did he end up with kids? When? Did Bianca get pregnant? Why don't I know anything about this?"

'So, that's why he is here,' Anne thought.

"I just found out myself. He has triplets, two sons and a daughter. They are around two years old, but Bianca isn't their mother. It's Anne Vallois." Tommy sat down on the couch.

sleep with Anthony? She was supposed to be overseas two to three know about the kids before then. My head is still spinning. I can tell that Anne is definitely a monster or something!

to be underestimated? All I did was give birth to three children. That might sound like a lot, but that's that any of your business?" Tommy questioned

Anthony has always been ambitious and now that he has heirs, his ambition into the future and said, "He will soon take over did not react at all as though he

you need to have to do it because you on! In wealthy families, sons are the core of one's like Damian had the wrong idea, as Anthony was so furious that he could have strangled her to death when he found out about not young anymore, Tommy. It's time for his father and asked, "Why is it that you demand to have everything Anthony you talking about? So you won't ever get the moment." Tommy crossed his legs and showed Chapter 593

"Alright. I can't argue with you. I'll leave." Damian walked towards the door and left.

Anne walked out of the room when she heard the main door closing.

"Did you hear my dad? He said you're a monster," Tommy teased.

"Yeah, so keep a distance from me. Don't give me any chance to seduce you, too," she said impatiently.

"How far?" Tommy approached her.

Anne watched him warily and backed away at the proximity until her back was against the wall. She tensed and held out her arms to stop him, but he proceeded to grab her by the wrists.

He bent down and Anne was startled into screaming, "Tommy Marwood, don't you dare!"

few centimeters away from hers and could just kiss her home. Let go..." She escaped him and pulled her arms away a distance from

and said,

"I'll send you."

opened the door shut with a loud 'thud' and Tommy rubbed his lips, regretting that he did not kiss her to ease the urge and knew her way.

He stared at the slim figure before him in had suspected someone was inside the room and waited children for Anthony and she's still not satisfied? She is here to seduce my son!

spend the money. However, she was more reluctant to let Tommy almost felt as though he was trying to get closer and she instinctively

Chapter 594

After getting out of the car, she almost ran into others when she hurried toward the restaurant. She ignored the person she bumped into and the pain on her body as her eyes darted around.

"Ma'am, we are closed," the restaurant manager whom she bumped into said.

'Where are they? This isn't possible. He said here!' She mumbled in disbelief. "Where are the private rooms? Are there customers in the private rooms? Do you know Anthony Marwood? He's definitely here!"

"With three children?" The manager asked.

She froze, before nodding frantically. "Yeah. Three children! Where are they?"

"Mr. Marwood reserved the whole place and brought them here for barbeque, and then they left," the manager said with a smile. "It's a surprise that Mr. Marwood would be seen eating barbeque. Maybe he's here because his kids like it, which is proof of how good our grill is!"

Anne did not care about how good the food was and was instantly in despair.

Why did she have to follow Tommy and return home so late?

the restaurant, terrified and distraught, before way there, wondering why he had suddenly decided to let her see the children and whether it was because of and cruel at the time. If she thought that there was hope, she would have waited car arrived before the Royal Mansion, and the lighting of the mansion was brighter than the last time she visited, but she saw Hayden, in the study room, but-" Before Hayden could finish, Anne ran towards strength draining from her legs, not from all the running, but from fear toward Anthony's intimidating presence that herself, took a few deep breaths to Anthony's voice

her lips and pushed the

and handling paperwork of the Archduke Group; his expression darkened when he

to march forward

saw your message at you really can't survive without your children. Was too. I laid down on my bed... and I don't even know when I've fallen asleep or passed out. By the time

Chapter 595

Was Antony requesting that she exchanged her pride for the right to see her children?

'It's fine,' she thought, 'I will do anything to see my children.'

She reached a trembling hand toward him and he grabbed it, forcing her to look up and stare into his dark, brooding eyes.

"Your lips are twitching?" He hummed huskily. "Hum?"

"I'm sorry. I misunderstood..." She blushed.

Anthony did not intend to be intimate with her at all, but his blood boiled at the sight of her flushed cheeks. However, he did not want to let Anne off easily.

He let go of her arm and said, 'Upstairs.'

Anne realized what he meant and beamed at him. 'Thank you!' She got up and ran out of the study room.

Anthony stared at the opened door with a dark expression.

When the bedroom door opened, Anne found the triplets fresh out of shower and playing on the bed with the maids.

the triplets saw her, they widened their eyes in disbelief and get out of bed and Anne was startled. "Don't jump!

"Mama!"

and ran into threw her arms around their soft bodies and took in their Mama is back..." Anne mumbled look up. "Mama,

we would see you today!" Chris wouldn't abandon us! Yay!" Charlie jumped to the side and guilty as she listened to had offered up the custody of her sons in exchange for her daughter, and she didn't on the head and said, "Yeah, Mama custody of the children, it did not mean that she was giving up on fight Anthony over custody of their children, she had absolutely no chance in ending up with burying her head into Anne's chest without a word, while grabbing lifted her chin and saw that Chloe's cheeks were flushed." What's Don't go." She pouted and batted her eyes as though she was about to her up and kept another arm around Chris and Charlie with tears welling up her

Chapter 596

She rubbed Chloe's butt and said, 'Mama will help you rub the pain away.'

"Papa did that, too!" Chloe said.

"Is that so?" Anne did not feel reassured.

If Anthony truly cared for the children, he should have avoided such a thing to happen to begin with. The children were still so young and only a heartless person would raise their hand on them.

'What a vicious woman she is!' Anne thought. 'She is going to become a mother someday. Is she not afraid of karma at all?'

'Is Bianca spending the night here tonight?' Anne asked.

"No. She made me cry and left without apologizing!" Chloe pouted.

Anne held her children close to make them feel safe until they fell asleep.

was asleep, Chloe still kept her hold was lying next to her and Chris was right next to Charlie, the four of them laid side by side children's faces for a while, before still there and she stood in the distance. "Even if I only want custody for my daughter, you won't agree, will

into her said, 'I won't ever leave Luton even if you ask me to, so if I get like that if I didn't find out about the kids?" He questioned darkly. "I said you have to be reasonable! I gave birth to them.

able to give birth to them

I can't have any more children from now on..."

at her intently. "The kids will stay with me, but meant to say that he was not giving her the custody of her children, but he that meant the children could not live with her and that alone was no different today onward, you are free," Anthony

Even if she had regained her identity,

Chapter 597

Anthony narrowed his eyes dangerously at the threat.

As courageous as Anne was when she made the threat, she was equally terrified afterward.

She could do anything for the sake of her children and no one could ignore her; not Bianca, and not even Anthony could deny her as their mother. No one could bully her children.

She returned to the room and collapsed beside her children, before holding their soft bodies close to her, whispering, "Mama will protect you from all harm..."

In the middle of the night, Anthony went into the children's room and saw Anne asleep with the triplets, their little legs sprawled across her legs with their heads on her arms.

Anne, too, was deeply asleep, not aware that her top had lifted to reveal her stomach.

Anthony walked closer to pull her trousers down until he saw the scar left from the C-section.

Anne would give birth to his children. Judging from the location of the scar, it was not hard for to print the results for Anne's background check that the details

over her body, including her face. Even so, that warrant

the suffering for her stubbornness in insisting on not going to the Marwood family for sleep dazedly and reached for her children, before snapping awake when she did not find her children and realizing that she

the wrong room. This isn't the children's that she was in Anthony's room, the bathroom door opened and Anthony stepped out of the shower with nothing but a towel around his waist, his muscles tensed in eyes darted away from her as she asked, "Why am I on your bed? Did you carry me herein shock and tensed in like a hungry beast and with a hoarse voice, he said, flushed and panted. "Anthony Marwood, the courage to call me crazy, did you? What happened to being all obedient and careful last night?"

Anthony

Chapter 598

The triplets tried to open the door and she buried her face into his chest.

"Hey, they can't come in." Anthony was prepared for it and simply deepened their kiss until Anne was at the brinks of suffocating.

Hayden ran over. "Young masters. Young lady! Mr. Marwood is asleep right now. Shall we wait downstairs?"

"But... But Mama is gone!" Chloe deadpanned.

Hayden chuckled, "No. She won't go missing inside the Royal Mansion."

"We want to go in and see!" Charlie said, "Mama is inside!"

Hayden held his hand and whispered, "Your parents are talking inside. They will come out when they are done."

"Talking?" Chris noticed something odd and grabbed his siblings' hands. "Let's go!"

Hayden was stunned for a moment, but smiled at how easily convinced they were.

Down the stairs, Charlie asked, "Why did you drag US down? We were just about to go inside!"

can stay here after they talk!" Chris immediately came to nodded firmly. "Let

'talk' between their parents lasted until almost downstairs refreshed and saw the triplets in the living room. ' What are you doing talking to Mama?" Charlie her head

had too much fun talking beamed. "So can here from now on!" Chloe hugged onto Anthony's leg and to staying there. She has her own place. Besides, I told you that only Papa's wife can your wife?"

his

and halted at his words when she saw and spotted her. "You can't be worry. I don't want to marry you even if you proposed her attitude, his expression darkened as his sharp glare threatened stairs nervously, wondering what

Chapter 599

Anne wanted to take them with her, but also knew that it was not realistic for her to do so.

Anthony stood by the side wordlessly, his intimidating presence enough to explain his stance.

'It's nice here! You can live with Papa. You always ask about your Papa before, right? Isn't it nice to find him?" Anne asked.

"Mama, are you mad at US for sneaking out to see Papa?" Chloe asked.

"No, why would I be? Mama is happy for you. You are all so great to have found him!" Anne complimented them so that they would not feel burdened, since they were more mature than most of their age. Seeing how they remained silent, she added, "Stay here. I will come over if you miss me. You can always call me, right?"

"You will come here if we call?" Charlie asked.

"I will." Anne nodded.

The triplets seemed confused with the living arrangement, they could not understand why their parents could not live together, and why their father was marrying another woman whom they hated.

"It's time

at Anthony and he simply said, "Do you want that was the last thing she wanted, so she accompanied the triplets to the were overjoyed, because both their them.

but you have to come here whenever we call!" Charlie commanded so she said, "You can't call me every day. I will only call from time to time!" Chloe said

Anne chuckled, "Sure."

they stayed in the living room for a while until it was time for Anthony to at Anne, who was chatting with her children and noticed that his children had completely forgotten about him since their mother was around. He stood and said, "I'm heading to work to onto Anne's leg, while Chloe wrapped her good. I will come by again in a few days, many days?"

"Two days?" Anne suggested.

Chapter 600

As though everything Anne said was testing his patience.

Sensing the shift in his mood, Anne could not help but feel that he was becoming increasingly difficult to deal with. She swallowed hard and asked gingerly, "Why aren't you sending the kids to school? They don't have other kids to play with here. It's good for them to be with other kids."

"I will make arrangements/ he said. "No child of mine is going to Pinnacle Academy. I will just build a school specifically for them."

Anne's jaw dropped and she gaped at him.

'Seriously?' She thought to herself, 'It matches his personality, though. How rich can he be to build his own kids their own school?'

The car arrived at the area Anne stayed and left after she got out of the car.

Anthony saw Anne walking back to the building with a hand on her back and smirked.

Anne felt as though she had aged over the night and climbing the stairs felt like the most difficult task she could imagine. She went up to the floor, before remembering that she needed to buy a new phone and heading back downstairs.

use her phone ever since Sarah mentioned that someone might area outside the residential area to use her new phone whenever she was doing something that she had picked up after a while.

said. "By the way, don't tell anyone that I had dinner at your

'Why not?'"

Just keep your

or everyone

Defeated, she said, "it's all your fault. You took me to your place and I missed Anthony's message. By the time I arrived at the restaurant he told me to go, everyone was gone. I told him that I passed out and didn't see the message. If he finds out did he change his mind?" Tommy the kids were badgering him. It's been a while since they saw me, after all. They had once traveled here from overseas to see me before. You probably don't know are joking, right?" He did not respond, she

you with the

"I can't