Chapter 621

Anne had no idea where her father got such confidence to think that Bianca would take care of her when she was ill.

Perhaps in her father's eyes, Bianca was just a wilful princess and she did not harbor any ill will.

"Dad, what if I said that I like Anthony too?"

"What?" Nigel was so shocked that he almost lost control of the steering wheel

Anne said, "Otherwise, why would I have given birth to his children? Also, Dad, I'm more suitable to marry Anthony than Bianca. After all, I am the triplets' mother. Dad, it's better for you to go back and talk some sense into Bianca!"

Nigel was unable to say anything at all.

He did not expect that Anne would like Anthony.

Otherwise, he would not have said all that.

"I'm sorry. I wasn't being considerate," Nigel apologized to her, "I've always thought that you hated him... Also, he hasn't been good to you because of your mother."

"It's just some misunderstandings." Anne did not want to continue talking anymore. She felt very tired.

Nigel turned his face and saw that Anne had closed her eyes, so in the end, he held back whatever he wanted to say.

“I'm already back at my own home.” After Anne said that, there was a long silence on the other end of the call, which gave her so much pressure that she directly changed the topic. “I had just gone downstairs when I bumped into my dad. Fortunately, he didn't notice which door I came out from.”

“Are you afraid?”

“I feel sheepish,” Anne said honestly.

“What did he say to you?”

“He told me that you've gotten engaged but you've gone missing.”

“Whose fault was that?” Anthony accused her over the phone.

“Who was the one who made me come down with a fever?”

“Didn't you like it very much?”

Anne pursed her lips and her expression was very awkward. The topic got weirder the more they spoke.

“There's no need for you to send me food. I have it here. My dad prepared plenty for me. Go and keep your fiancée accompanied. She needs you to coax her very much right now.”

“Are you jealous?” Anthony's voice was slightly hoarse. It sounds like he was in quite a good mood.

Anne was sound asleep, but she felt something strange on her body. Someone was harassing her.

She let out a couple of hums, turned around, covered the covers up to her head, and did her best to curl herself up like a shrimp.

However, she was still being harassed and it did not stop no matter what, so much so that the covers over her head were lifted.

“Don’t touch me. Let me sleep... Ah..” Anne’s face was flushed and she was annoyed. Following that, she let out a scream and leaned her body back to hide.

She opened her eyes and glared listlessly at Anthony, who was sitting at the edge of the bed.

“Is this what you mean by having lunch?”

Anne searched and got her phone on the nightstand, looked at the time, and saw that it was already past noon.

She put her phone down and continued curling herself up. “I’m not hungry...”

"Then...what did he say? When are the both of you going to get your marriage certificate?" That was what Dorothy cared about.

Bianca sat on the couch without moving a muscle or saying a word.

Dorothy became even more anxious. "Say something! What did Anthony say?"

"He didn't say anything, which is why it's scary." Bianca looked straight ahead with both fury and resentment.

"What do you mean? There's no follow-up to the matter of getting your marriage certificate anymore??" Dorothy was confused. "Wasn't he the one who agreed to go get a marriage certificate with you? He's going back on his words now? Does this sound like what the person in charge of the Archduke Group would say?"

"Anthony was with Anne in the two days he went missing. Anne must have said something to him!"
Bianca was gritting her teeth when she was saying these words, and her eyes were filled with viciousness.

"This b*tch again!" Dorothy was so pissed that she paced around and was thinking of a way in her head to deal with Anne.

"Why should I talk some sense into her? Can't you tell that she likes Anthony? Never mind if you don't help her, but you even tried to deliver a blow to her. Is that what a father should do to her?"

"Can't you tell that she's very miserable? If Anthony respected her a little, would he not appear on the day they were supposed to get a marriage certificate?"

"It was because he was seduced by Anne!" Dorothy argued with him, "Just like Sarah. If she didn't seduce you, would you have initiated and slept with her? The daughter acts like that. The mother also acts like that. Have I owed them something in my past life? Now, they're even wrecking Bianca's happiness!"

Nigel looked at her coldly. "You don't owe them anything, but you owe me! I initially thought that you can be a good wife, but have you achieved that? I regretted my decision back then. If I didn't marry you again, everything would have been fine!"

"I have made a mistake back then, but I've always been making it up to you! Can't you feel my feelings for you?" Dorothy grabbed his arm.

Nigel shook her hand off mercilessly. "Don't put your attention on me. Go and talk some sense into Bianca and ask her to give up the idea of marrying Anthony!"

After that, he went out the door.

Soon after, the sound of a car leaving could be heard coming from outside.

Dorothy's eyes were filled with tears and hatred.

She had given him a few decades of her affection, but he still said such merciless words to her.

To be more precise, it was the sound of someone smacking at the door.

After a few smacks, a child-like voice could be heard saying, "Mama, open the door! Mama, are you home? The little bunnies are home!"

Anne shuddered and her entire body stiffened.

She hurriedly got up to open the door and she saw her precious children standing at her door. She was stunned on the spot for a moment!

"Mama!"

The triplets have not seen their Mama for a few days so they happily rushed to her.

"Mama, why didn't you come and look for us?"

"We've been waiting for Mama every day!"

"You didn't come and look for us, so we have no choice but to come and look for you!"

Anne felt warm and fuzzy when she looked at the triplets who were concerned for her. Any kind of sickness would be cured without any treatment. “I’ve recovered.”

“Haha.” Chloe happily stood on her Mama’s body.

Anne smiled dotingly.

In fact, if Bianca had not created trouble for her, she would be very satisfied with taking care of her children like that.

They have a father and also a mother. They would not have lost any warmth from their family.

Anne glanced at the time and asked, “Tell me, what would you like to have for dinner?”

“I like anything that Mama makes!” Charlie was the first to express his stance.

“Me too!” Chloe raised her hand.

“Anything Mama makes is the best!” Chris was so excited that his face was reddened. “It’s been a long time since we have it!”

“Alright. I’ll go make dinner!” One by one, Anne kissed them once on their little cheeks. “Go and play.”

Anne was halfway making dinner when she heard the exciting voices of the triplets coming from outside.

“Mama, Papa is here!”

Anne’s expression stiffened a little as she wondered why he had come over...

Anne, who was spacing out, heard Anthony's voice and walked over. "What?"

Anthony pulled the kite to her and let her hold the kite spool.

Anne was slightly in a daze as she looked at the kite spool in her hand. She lifted her head and the kite was flying much higher than it did at the beginning.

"Pull the string." Anthony was teaching her.

Anne pulled the strings as she was told, and she could feel that with the way Anthony was positioned, it was as if he was hugging her from behind.

"Wow, the kite is flying higher and higher!" Charlie jumped.

The triplets were all looking up at the sky and they were very excited.

“Mama, higher! Let it fly higher!” Chris’ little mouth was wide open.

Bianca truly could not stand the sight of that anymore. She turned around and walked off. She sped off the area in her car

She grabbed the steering wheel and was pissed that her face was all distorted and was driving above 100 kilometers per hour.

It would have been great if Anne was right in front of her car. She would have directly killed her by running her over!

A hint of slyness flashed across Anne's eyes. She calmly said, "No."

"Using the children to seduce Anthony, do you think I'll buy it? You even had the guts to tell dad that you like Anthony? Are you trying to make me sick?" Bianca's vicious voice could be heard coming from the other end of the call. "You might be smug now, but it won't be for long!"

"I don't need to use the children. You're overthinking this."

"What you mean is that even without the children, Anthony would still run to you?" Bianca sneered. "Who the hell do you think you are?"

Anne could just hang up the call, but she did not do so.

She patiently listened to Bianca's arrogant words.

"I know what you're thinking. You want to replace me to become the Mrs. Marwood that everyone envies. As long as I'm still here, you can dream on! Just like your mother, you can only be a mistress in this life!"

"You're wrong. I purely like Anthony for who he is. I don't need a name or a status," Anne said.

"Even so, I won't tolerate you either!" Bianca said in an angry and vicious tone, "You still have your children now, so use them wisely. If not, if they were to accidentally die, your losses will be tragic!"

Anne's gaze turned cold. "Bianca, you'll be a mother in the future too. You should watch your words!"

"Anthony's and my child will be the world's most precious child. How could your triplets be any match? They will surely have a short life!"

No. Anne only casually browsed and noticed that it was all the luxury brands that she would never dream of.

This was the difference between letting the children live with Papa and living with Mama.

There was a world of difference between the two.

Anne turned around and noticed Charlie closing a cupboard and standing there with a cautious expression.

Needless to say, Chloe was surely hiding in the cupboard.

"Let me have a look. Is it here..." Anne could not let Chloe hide for too long as she was afraid that Chloe would not be able to stop herself from popping up. Anne then opened the cupboard doors.

"Ah! Mama found me!" Chloe's face was blushing excitedly.

Anne kneeled in front of her and poked her on her plump cheeks. "I found you, little bunny."

"Mama, no, don't eat me," Chloe said while acting cute.
