"We'll talk about it later. Now sleep." Anthony stroked Chloe's face.

Her face was so small under his palm.

Refusing to answer positively was the right thing to do now.

Anthony's reluctance was reasonable as she felt weird too.

With the five of them sleeping together every night, it was as if they were really like a loving family. If it was just once or twice, it is possible to compromise for the sake of the children.

"No, I don't wanna sleep! Papa, can you please tell us some stories." Chloe pouted.

Anne found it amusing how Anthony was completely clueless while trying to 'tell a story'.

Even he also had a problem that he could not solve!

Seeing that he did a great job today, Anne decided to give him a hand. "Turn off the lights."

Anthony reached out to turn them off.

The room was suddenly pitch black.

Just as he entered the kitchen, the milk was ready.

Hayden smiled and said, "It's almost time for the kids to wake up, so I've just got it ready."

Charlie was holding the little bottle, biting the baby bottle in his mouth and sucking it with his little mouth. That was so cute of him.

Anthony took the remaining two baby bottles and went back upstairs.

When he entered the room, Chris was also awake, and the bottle was given to him.

Chloe, who had found the most comfortable position in her Mama's arms, was sleeping soundly.

"Let me do it." Charlie, who had finished his milk, took the bottle and struggled to get off Papa and climb into bed.

Anthony was curious about how he was going to do it, so he watched as Charlie gently placed the baby bottle to Chloe's little mouth, which opened subconsciously and drank without her waking.

She finished the milk and continued sleeping.

Then, Charlie passed the bottle to Papa. "Finish," he said.

Anne felt pain in her arm due to Bianca's grip. "Let go..."
"Ah!" Bianca fell back violently and tumbled down the stairs. "Ahhh!"
Anne looked in horror at Bianca, who was falling. She tried to catch her but failed.
She then saw a black shadow running their way. It was Anthony!
Bianca rolled to the corner of the stairs before stopping. Anthony rushed over and embraced her.
"Bianca?"
Bianca was bleeding from her head, breathless. With all her strength, she pointed her finger at Anne.
"She... pushed... me..." After saying that, she fainted.
Anthony looked toward Anne, who was upstairs. His black hawk-like eyes were sharp and cold.
Anne crept out. Shaking her head and backing away with a weak body, she mumbled, " No... It's not

Anthony carried Bianca, who had completely lost consciousness, to the hospital, ignoring Anne's explanation.

“Mr. Marwood is not available right now,” The bodyguard said.

Anne asked, “Is Bianca awake yet?”

“I don’t know.”

Anne wanted to beg the bodyguard to let her in, but the bodyguard would only follow Anthony’s orders.

If Anthony would not let anyone in, then that included her.

If she barged in and disturbed Bianca, who was injured, this would only intensify Anthony’s punishment for her.

Anne had to hold back for now and go to Dr. Brown’s office.

She asked about Bianca’s condition.

“Is it serious?”

“The concussion is quite serious, but don’t worry, it’s not life–threatening,” Dr. Brown said. Anne did not know if this was considered a comfort, but anyway, she was rather unlucky. She could not see Anthony, so she helplessly explained to Dr. Brown. “She was the one who grabbed my arm, and I was just trying to release myself from her grip. I really did not push her, and she fell on her own. Bianca is setting me up!”

Dr. Brown was just a doctor who treated patients. She did not expect there to be such a conflict.

Anne trembled with fear. Her face turned white, and tears stubbornly welled up in her eyes.

Fear, resignation, and disappointment were what she felt at the moment.

“Did I allow you to have thoughts you shouldn’t have?” Anthony’s eyes were cold, and his tone was chilly.

"I'm not planning on anything. I just want to be with my children. What's wrong with it? Last night Bianca called me with all kinds of threats, and today she came over and deliberately stood at the stairway to guide me into her trap!" Anne said coldly.

Anthony squatted down and grabbed her jaw. "Do you think I wouldn't notice that you've got a new phone, huh?"

Anne's body could not stop trembling. Did he know about this?

"You know that the phone is bugged, right?" Anthony's eyes were ruthless. "Did she really mean to say those words, or did you lure and trick her?"

Anne looked terrified. "No, I didn't. You must believe me..."

However, it did not affect her good mood at the moment.

"After listening to the recording, you could see how cold his face was," Bianca said.

"Sarah and her daughter are always in our way! The biggest wish in my life is to let Sarah disappear."

"Fortunately, you helped me. Otherwise, Anthony wouldn't necessarily believe that Anne caused my injury," Bianca said.

“I had to do something when I knew she stopped you from obtaining the marriage certificate. Fortunately, Sarah has no brains, so we just need to provoke her.” Dorothy was proud of herself.

Bianca did not tell her that her fall from the stairs was an act to thwart Anne’s plans.

She could not trust anyone to keep it a secret.

“Sit down. I will get you something to eat.” Sarah turned around and went to the refrigerator. There were all kinds of food in the refrigerator.

She did not know that Nigel had bought them, so she took some out and cooked for her.

She felt guilty too. She did not expect Dorothy to record her words.

Now her daughter was paying the price.

At this moment, Dorothy and her daughter must be extremely proud of themselves.

When the meal was ready, Anne sat at the table and ate it.

Sarah sat across from her and watched her eat, and said, "I'm sorry, Anne, I didn't expect to be caught by them..."

"Even without you, Bianca's injury would have made me suffer. Anthony loves Bianca..." Anne had no expression on her face.

"Both the mother and daughter are really bad women!" Sarah was angry.

Anne lowered her eyes and said, "Don't bother about them anymore. We can't fight against them."

If it worked, Anne and Sarah's work would be wasted, and they would be mad at them!

When she got home, she saw Nigel, who was going out, and asked, "You are back?"

Nigel got into the car and said coldly, "I returned for some documents."

Dorothy felt a surge of anger in her heart and immediately said, "Bianca is hospitalized. You don't know that, do you?"

Nigel paused when he opened the door and looked back at her.

Dorothy accused him of ignorance. "Look how ignorant you are. You don't even know what happened to your daughter."

"What's wrong? Is it serious?" Nigel saw Bianca at home the day before yesterday. She looked fine at that time.

"She ran into Anne when she went to the Royal Mansion, and the two of them talked, but Bianca was pushed down the stairs and had a concussion. She almost couldn't wake up. Even if Bianca provoked Anne, she shouldn't have pushed her! Was she trying to kill Bianca?" Dorothy looked indignant.

"Impossible! Anne wouldn't do that!" Nigel could not believe it.

"Even Anthony believes it. Why don't you believe it? She entered the Marwood family when she was twelve years old. Do you think you know her better than Anthony does?" Dorothy mocked.

“What’s wrong? You don’t want to go?” Nigel was stunned.

“Dad, leave me alone. It’s useless.”

“Don’t say that! At least you can see the children!”

Anne shook her head. “I’m not in a hurry. If I really feel like seeing them one day, I’ll give you a call.”

Nigel sighed heavily.

The two daughters were messing with each other because of a man, and he, as the father, could not find any solutions.

He felt a deep sense of powerlessness.

“Dad, just go back. I’m fine.”

“You are going to accept it, just like that?”

“I deserve it. I gave birth to the children, so I should face the consequences...” Anne was depressed.

"Really?" Bianca asked. She did not hear Anne's reply and continued, "Anthony and I are going to get our marriage certificate in two days. Are you sure you're not going to do it?" Anne felt threatened.

Was Anthony really going to get a marriage certificate with Bianca?

"Be submissive toward me, and perhaps I'll treat you and your kids better."

"I am very surprised. We were fathered by the same man. Why are you so evil? If you treat my kids well, they will treat you well too," Anne said,

"What do you mean? Do you mean that I won't be able to have kids in the future?" Bianca said harshly.

"That's not what I meant. Whether it's getting married or having a child, I will bless you. In the future, you will mind your own business, and me mine. Is that okay with you?"
