

Powerful 671

Chapter 671

Nigel watched as the Rolls Royce left the hospital.

He wondered, 'Was it really not related to Anthony?'

Then where could they be?

They could not just suddenly be uncontactable, could they?

Nigel always felt insecure these two days, as though something would happen.

Plus, he was feeling guilty about Anne being forced to apologize.

He tried to call, but the phone was unreachable.

Then only he felt alarmed.

If this were not related to Anthony, they would not have gotten into any incident, would they?

No, they would not. After all, he could not reach Sarah either.

Anthony's long legs strode out of the lift. Oliver came by and said, "Mr. Marwood."

as not dare to show up if he had not found anything. He followed Anthony closely, his expression cautious.

looked at Oliver sternly. "Who allowed her to go out of the flight two days ago. They flew to Glasbel Isle but did not book a hostile aura again. Did she go out of the country? She had to get his permission even just to get out of Luton. He "Could she have left because of would not be brave enough to!" Anthony's eyes were as dark as a hawk's. "Her kids are here. She keeping Bianca accompanied in the hospital. When he was about to leave, the phone and

him and snuck out secretly to follow

was very disappointing and could have done him. She heard Nigel asking, "Did up, and Dorothy quickly while, Nigel came back in. "Bianca, I will make a move back that on the

at her.

the matter? Is it

“No.”

it is about Anne, isn't it?”

say anything but

Chapter 672

She could move carefreely. The suffocating feeling that she always felt in Luton was no longer there.

She lay on the beach, smelled the sea, and looked ahead at the clear blue sky. She felt as though her heart was washed clean.

Sarah, who was lying next to her, indulged in watching the sky too. “This is too mesmerizing! Such a picturesque place, but I had never been here. I think I did not benefit from Ron Marwood enough when I married him.”

Anne laughed. “Right.”

“I'm really glad that I gave birth to a daughter. Look how sweet she is. You said it's better to give birth to a son. Can a son accompany you on trips and shopping like this?” Sarah said proudly.

“Sons are good in their own ways, and daughters are good in their own ways too.” Anne thought about her triplets.

Her sons were good to her.

Sarah flipped over and asked, “Do you feel much better now?”

“Yes, it was a good idea to get out of Luton,” Anne agreed.

Staying in Luton was like staying in a bird's nest. She could not breathe freely there.

Now she was enjoying the scenic nature, basking in the sun, not having to think about anything at all. What a wonderful life that was.

pay for your own remaining expenses.” Anne was frank with her. Otherwise, declined my money on the usual days.

was indeed living in a condition where she only had one meal each in discovered the kids, she feeling, as though she our

After

to think about anything at all, that is just so awesome,” Sarah said.

jumped and asked,

Apply your sunblock. Otherwise, we skin. She was so fair that she was almost glowing. She had was as fair as hers too. In will take me ages to recover! Quick, help me with it!” Sarah stood up to retrieve her sunblock from her bag but to help her to apply

could not reach with her own

it layer by

Sarah as she did it

already in her forties, but she still had a good

Chapter 673

When Kathryn came to change her bandage, she asked, “I can be discharged now, can’t I? I can already walk around.”

Kathryn looked at her wound that had already closed. “Okay, you may be discharged today. Just remember to change the bandage on time.”

Dorothy said, “It’s better to rest and recover at home. As good as the hospital can be, it is never better than your own home.”

Kathryn smiled and said, “That is true. I will handle the discharge procedure for you.” Then, she left.

Bianca picked up her phone and called Anthony, “Anthony, Dr. Brown said I will be discharged today. Will you come to fetch me?”

“I will get someone to fetch you,” Anthony said.

If she was looking for someone to drive her home, she had a driver herself too. In fact, Bianca only wanted Anthony to fetch her back.

However, he would not be coming.

“Are you... busy with work?” Bianca tried her best to suppress it.

“Yes, and the kids are here at the office too. I can’t leave,” Anthony said.

my own driver to

Bianca was fetch you home?" Dorothy heard it and was displeased. "What is up with him? He only took one look at you the last time he was here and then never came by anymore. He did not even call. It has always been her it. Not everyone can become the wife of the most powerful man in Luton. Since the throne of Mrs. Marwood is fated to be mine, why should we get pissed at this kind of trivial that things will get complicated later on!

was

out of the country

stand her anymore. "Did he even need to make such an easily busted lie? Anthony is not here." Dorothy took out her phone and was about to make a course, Nigel

father is the man that pretty interesting, wondering if she said suggesting that Nigel was a Anthony was not here. It was obvious who she was directing this me go and see if the discharge procedure is completed."

not be able to change her personality had just arrived at Kathryn's office door when "I was just about to send this to you. It is all here. Please go through it. If there is no problem, you may

Chapter 674

After entering the room, Dorothy asked, "Why did it take so long? Is it done?"

Nigel stared at Dorothy wordlessly, his eyes cold and piercing as though he was trying to stare through her soul.

"What's wrong?" Feeling uncomfortable, Dorothy asked.

Nigel turned to look at Bianca, who had changed back into her clothes and was sitting by the bed at the moment.

He tried his best to search for any resemblance between Bianca and him but became increasingly confused. The daughter he had spent years caring for felt more like a stranger. When Bianca met his eyes, Nigel suppressed the doubt in his heart and said, "All done?" "Yeah." Bianca got up.

Dorothy immediately went over to help her up. "Careful. Take it slow."

grab the bags before following them could not be eradicated, and eventually, hair in her room, and with those in hand, Nigel went to a private hospital to perform a waited in the test, he had performed when he felt anything but the joy he felt when he first discovered that Anne was his daughter. In contrast, the test he was performing at the moment might prove that Bianca was not his

the whole previous night thinking about this and married? He was still a poor lad with nothing but ambition, so he did not suspect a thing. If Dorothy had cheated on him so early on in their marriage, she had are the results." The doctor brought the and accidentally pushed the glass of water over next to him. The glass fell onto the ground hands and stared at the words in the bottom right corner, unable to doctor, but also the daughter he had loved for years be

Chapter 675

Bianca went to bed early that night while Dorothy stared at the television in her room, dazedly watching random shows that were playing.

Soon, it was ten at night.

Though Nigel had always been busy with work, he would always go home at night.

That fact alone was Dorothy's only consolation; though their marriage was merely a shell, at least she was still the wife of a wealthy man who was envied by many. She did not care what the marriage was truly like.

Shortly after, she heard the noises of a car engine from downstairs.

She leaped in joy and walked over to the window before spotting Nigel's car. She turned around to Nigel's room and prepared his towel before running a hot bath for him.

As soon as the bath was ready, she heard footsteps outside the room and walked out with a smile.

"Welcome back. Why did you come home so late tonight? I've been waiting for you. The bath is ready. You will feel better after taking a bath."

Nigel glared at her coldly.

Had he not gone to perform the paternity test and discovered the truth, he would have never learned how vicious Dorothy truly was. Even as he stood before her, he still could not picture how she could do something so shameless.

She cheated on him and gave birth to a child that was not his. There was not anything that was beneath her.

her spine at his icy glare.
extremely gentle, without a trace of how ruthless nothing but disgust and grabbed the paternity test results floor. She instantly snapped out of the initial shock and asked, "W-What panicked at his sudden outburst and went to collect the paper on the ground. Her heart skipped a beat when she saw the words 'paternity test', especially when she saw the names Nigel and Bianca along with the results written great liar you were! I've been fooled by you for friends and got drunk. Someone grabbed me and raped me when I was leaving alone. I didn't dare to mention it because I don't want you to leave me. I got pregnant after that, and I and used her to force me I didn't want this to happen." She walked up divorce paperwork. Sign it, and we are going to part ways stopped him from leaving. "No! You can't do this to me! Nigel, we are the perfect family. You have loved Bianca for over twenty years. Even if she wasn't yours by blood, you still care for her, right? She's called you her dad for years. Please don't tear me if you still have honor didn't mean to lie to another look at her, he grabbed her by the shoulder the wall but could not be bothered by the the stairs and stood before him. "I know that you are angry. I won't bother you. It's fine if to me at all! If onto him. "No. I won't divorce you! Over my dead body! Are you divorcing me because of Sarah?"

Chapter 676

She had not expected her secret to be exposed after all these years. After over twenty years without her secret being discovered, she thought she was safe.

She had been too careless, but she would never agree to a divorce.

Prior to this, Nigel would willingly give up all his wealth out of guilt, but that was not going to happen after his recent discovery.

Dorothy would not allow this to affect Bianca's engagement with Anthony.

Hayden walked down the stairs and saw Nigel walking into the hall. He walked over in surprise. "Mr.
Faye, why are you here so late at night? Is something wrong?"

"No. I'm just here to see the children. I didn't have time before this. Are they asleep?" Nigel asked.

Hayden smiled. "Yes, they are all asleep."

"It's fine. I just want to see them," Nigel said.

"Sure, let me show you the way." Hayden led the way. Though Nigel already knew his way around the Royal Mansion, Hayden had to do so as the head butler. "You care about the children so much, Mr. Faye. If the kids know that their grandfather came all the way here at night to see them, they would be overjoyed!"

"Is Anthony home?"

is in

stopping Anne from seeing the Marwood has been in a bad mood lately. Only the children dare because Anne went overseas? Or perhaps explanation Anne gave on the phone, saying that she had not hurt Bianca and that should never have agreed to let Anne at the door,

her brothers slept on both of her sides, almost and glanced at Charlie and Chris, who looked exactly like Anthony. As for Chloe, she was Chloe and tried to imagine Anne when she was smaller. He could not help but reach out to pat to Chloe was the

moved and opened her eyes.

suppressed his sorrow before woke up because I can sense you here," she said with Nigel's heart melted.

Chloe raised her for the stars for her and went to pick her up before placing her on his lap and tapping her gently on the back. "Let Grandpa put you back to her eyes at

Chapter 677

Nigel set Chloe down between her two brothers and placed a blanket over her, silently hoping that her dreams would come true.

After stepping out of the room, Nigel asked, "Are you really going to keep the kids from their mother? If you truly care for them, you shouldn't do such a thing. It's not good for them."

"If you were the one who discovered the kids, would you say the same thing to Anne?"

Nigel turned and glanced down the stairs. "I can't promise anything about things that haven't happened."

"You won't," Anthony said with certainty.

Nigel sighed, all his sorrow and despair gathering like a storm within his eyes. "That's my life. I took one wrong step, and everything went south from there. I destroyed my life and others along with it. Anthony, I've treated you with kindness, and I only have one wish: that you don't hurt Anne. I'm begging you."

Anthony frowned. What Nigel said seemed overly gloomy for a night like this. "What happened?" Anthony asked.

at him. "Let me ask you this. What do you and remained hatred, why would

Just let her be with her children and live like a normal family. Is that so

She's the one who didn't come to visit the children. You know that she's out of the country needs a change of scenery. So I assume that you will let her see the children once she comes back?"

not that

Nigel nodded and turned fences and watched herself, and Anthony considered himself merciful to let her see for a week before leaving for greenery and rivers, forming and bid my farewell to the clouds... Are those the words?

down to the exact

Chapter 678

'Lucas!' Sarah chirped.

Anne stiffened at the way her mother addressed Lucas.

Lucas walked over with joy filling his eyes. "Anne, Ma'am Vallois. I thought I was mistaken. It's really you. Are you here as tourists?"

Anne smiled sheepishly. "I'm taking my mom out for a trip."

"That's nice," Lucas said.

'Why are you here, Lucas? Do you own this school as well?'

"I'm here for certain research. My friend is a professor here, so I decided to drop by," Lucas said.

'Wow, how impressive to be a professor in Cambrick at such a young age! As expected of someone who would be your friend,' Sarah said.

are too kind, Ma'am

a look, and before Anne had time to figure out what it meant, Sarah proceeded and said, "oh my, I'm exhausted from all this walking. Lucas, why don't you take Anne for a walk? I will go over there to ran off lightning fast before Anne could stop her and did not appear exhausted. Feeling uncomfortable to be left alone with Lucas, she said, "I'm sorry about that. I'm sure done with the day and was going to walk around anyway he had said so, there was no reason for Anne to and was impressed by what a

Lucas could be my son-in-law...'

a long stroll in silence until

'You...'

"I..."

tried to speak at the same and took the initiative. "How kids are with Anthony, and it's not that easy to see them. I you have to worry about not being words in her heart as he summed since you are here, I assume things

Chapter 679

Lucas studied her face gently and thought to himself, 'But will I be a part of your future?'

He knew better than to voice it out as it would only pressure Anne.

Sarah sat down in the cafe and stared outside the window as she sipped on her coffee.

She spotted Anne walking over, but Lucas was nowhere to be seen. Before Anne could even take her seat, Sarah asked hastily, "So? What did you two talk about?"

"Why are you so nosy?" Anne propped her chin in her palm.

"Did he come all the way here because he knew you were here?"

"What are you thinking about?" Amazed by her mother's wild imagination. ' He already said that he's here for work."

"How long will he be staying?"

"Another two days."

going back anytime soon. Call really necessary, is it?" Anne did not want the children and allowed them to receive early rendered speechless as she had not done so since she in mind? Mom, let me tell you this: I rejected Lucas right from the beginning because of Anthony.

Anthony would never let me live my life, so what's the point did not want to be the horrible woman who slept with the picture, you two can be together. You can get married and give ifs," so annoyed by this." Sarah sipped on her coffee to suppress her be. I'm used to it by marry Anthony!"

isn't a multiple-choice

Anthony is rich and powerful, and he has your kids. Are you looking for true love? Listen to me. That crap window and said with determination, like I did

had shoved her and slapped her on the face for Bianca's sake, and all that he had done had only driven her

Chapter 680

It was Lucas trying to check in for his room.

"Lucas!" Sarah shouted in excitement.

Lucas turned around and was stunned for a moment before smiling at them. "You are staying here as well?"

'Yeah! What a coincidence! We are just going to head out for dinner. Have you eaten?" Sarah said with a grin.

"Not yet." Lucas smiled. "I'm just done with work."

"Let's go together, then! We found a pretty nice local cuisine here. Well?" Sarah suggested.

Lucas glanced at Anne hesitantly.

Seeing that Lucas did not intend to refuse, Anne extended the invitation as well, "Do you have the time?"

'Help me

sir." The staff

Lucas headed out

convenient for him to travel, so he drove while the other slightly awkward as it almost felt her heart fluttered when their eyes met a conversation. "Lucas, what's your mom doing at home lately? It's been so me off, Ma'am Vallois. You really should ring her up for a few games. I'm that! I agree with your mom. You have to marry at

'It's not that simple."

be too stubborn, and everything can last forever. As soon as you get too caught up in one thing, it will never end seemed to be an advice that could apply to alone. Anne, on the other end, was too stubborn and found herself in a worse situation. Both could only comfort themselves by brushing it off by calling it for dinner and took a stroll in the night market. They all had fun and returned to the parked the car at the entrance and let the valet parking three entered the lobby, they sensed