Chapter 1121

Alyssa turned her head and asked Karl, "Your friend?"

After she came out, the young man didn't talk to Karl anymore. She didn't know what the two said before she came out.

However, the atmosphere between Karl and that man was harmonious.

Karl walked behind her to push her in wheelchair, and said while pushing, "Jamie Hanson, the third child of the Hanson family."

"The warrior you mentioned before?" Before coming to Westberg, Karl had mentioned the top famous warriors in Westberg with her.

"Yeah." Karl thought of something and said again: "If you meet him in the future, stay away from him."

Alyssa was surprised: "Why?"

Karl didn't seem to be afraid of him, how could he deliberately order her to stay away from that Hanson.

"His wife ran away. He has recently gone mad to make the city full of wind and rain, making the warrior family uneasy." Karl's tone was as usual, but after listening carefully, she could hear a little bit of schadenfreude in his tone.

"Sounds like a ruthless character." Alyssa snorted after speaking, "Other people's wife ran away, why are you in trouble?"

Karl didn't speak, until he was about to return to the restaurant, Karl said leisurely: "The mouth is too poisonous, this is his retribution."

Alyssa twitched the corners of her mouth: "It sounds like your mouth is not poisonous."

"My mouth is poisonous?" Karl leaned over, leaning his head towards Alyssa: "My mouth is not poisonous, don't you believe it?"

Alyssa stretched out her hand out of anger and patted his head: "Be serious."

Karl kissed her on the cheek before pushing her into the dining room.

â€¦

After breakfast, Alyssa thought Karl was going out.

But after returning to the room, he looked for a movie with interest: "Want to watch a movie?"

"Didn't you come out to do errands?" What is it to be with her in the hotel?

"You have been on the plane for so long yesterday. Now you need to take a good rest." Karl pulled her into his arms and planned to watch a movie with her.

Alyssa pushed him: "I had enough rest last night, now I can go out."

Yesterday's flight was indeed a bit tiring, but one night's rest was enough, and she was not made of mud.

Karl's expression was weak: "Come here."

It is a tone that cannot be rejected.

Alyssa knew that he was worried about her and didn't want to quarrel with him because of such trivial matters.

But she didn't want to delay his business.

She obediently snuggled into Karl's arms, trying to reason with him: "Karl, listen to me!"

"I don't talk while watching the movie." Karl stretched out his hand and gently covered her mouth, motioning her not to talk.

In the end, Alyssa still hadn't stunned Karl, and watched a whole movie in his arms.

Midway through, Smith never came to Karl. Only then did Alyssa know that this was Karl's idea.

After waking up from a nap in the afternoon, Alyssa went to the bathroom to wash her face. Halfway through the wash, she felt someone watching her.

Turning her head, she found that Karl was leaning against the door and looking at her.

Karl walked over and wiped her hair wet with water on her ears: "Come with me somewhere tonight."

Alyssa's eyes lit up: "Okay, where to go?"

Finally going out to do business.

Seeing her excited look, Karl also smiled: "Go to Real Supreme, there will be a banquet in the evening."

Alyssa frowned quickly: "No dress."

"Don't worry, I have arranged everything." Karl reached out and tapped twice between her eyebrows.

Chapter 1122

Alyssa knew that Karl said that the arrangements had been made, and it must have been all arranged.

In the evening, Karl even ordered a meal especially.

"Eat first, there is not enough food at the banquet." Karl pulled her to the table and sat down.

Alyssa knew that there was indeed not enough food at this kind of banquet. After sitting down, she asked Karl while eating, "What kind of banquet?"

"It's a nonsense banquet, but there will be many people you know." Karl's eyes flashed coldly.

Alyssa raised her head and glanced at him, but she didn't ask too much.

People she knows!

Wilfred, Clifford” She also knew them.

After eating, the stylist came in to get her ready.

When it was her turn to wear earrings, the stylist asked her: “Which pair of earrings do you want to wear?”

The stylist said that she would help Alyssa to remove the earrings from her ears.

Alyssa quickly reached out and stopped: “Don’t take it, just wear this.”

“Alright, these star earrings are very unique.” The stylist smiled and put down her hands.

Alyssa glanced in the direction of the living room and smiled: “My husband gave it to me.”

It was given to her by Karl before coming to Westberg.

The star-shaped earrings are studded with small diamonds. They are delicate and beautiful, and she likes them very much.

She still remembers when she asked Karl why he suddenly gave her earrings. Karl’s answer at the time was:

”I thought it would look good on you, so I bought it.

It was eight o’clock in the evening when they arrived at Real Supreme.

When she and Karl arrived, the banquet was already full of clothes, and it was very lively.

Alyssa was pushed by Karl in a wheelchair, walking beside them was Smith.

As soon as they entered, other people’s eyes gradually focused on them, and many others were whispering.

“I haven’t heard of any contacts between the Hanson Family and the Adams’ family. Karl actually came to the banquet hosted by the Hanson Family?”

“Who knows.”

“The business world is like a battlefield, where are there eternal enemies”

“That’s right”

Alyssa looked ahead without squinting, but her ears were erected, listening to other people’s comments.

It turned out to be the banquet of the warriors.

At this moment, a voice sounded from the crowd: “Alyssa, we meet again.”

This familiar voice made Alyssa frown, and as soon as she raised her eyes she saw Alvin walking towards this side.

Almost immediately, she felt a bitter breath coming from Karl behind her.

“Karl.” She turned back and called his name nervously.

Although she didn’t want to see Alvin, she was afraid that Karl would fight with Alvin.

She knew that if Karl was angry, he would do everything.

Karl’s complexion was slightly calm, and asked her gently, “What would you like to drink?”

“Watermelon juice.” Alyssa also wanted to divert Karl’s attention.

But Alvin made up his mind to come and provoke them, even if Alyssa and Karl ignored him, he still walked over here.

It’s just that he raised his foot and was blocked by a man.

He looked up and called out, “Jamie Hanson?”

Alvin used to love to play and run around the world. He participated in a lot of high-end banquet clubs. He also heard that there was an arrogant and ruthless Three Sir in the Hanson Family.

He didn’t have a deep contact with Jamie, but he didn’t like this Jamie very much, because he always felt that Jamie and Karl were of the same kind.

He hated Karl, and even the Third of the Battle Family, was a little disgusted.

Chapter 1123

Jamie stared at Alvin for a moment, as if finally remembering his name, he slowly called out his name: “Alvin Mann?”

Alvin curled his lips and smiled reluctantly.

Jamie is also an easy character.

Jamie looked at him with interest, and then seemed to be disappointed again, but didn’t say anything more, just turned and left.

Alvin frowned, feeling that Jamie was simply sick.

Alyssa, who was sitting not far away from drinking watermelon juice, saw this brief exchange between Alvin and Jamie in his eyes.

She has been in contact with Alvin for a long time, and she has a certain understanding of Alvin, so she also sees Alvin’s fear of fighting Jamie clearly.

She turned her head to Karl and said, “Alvin seems to be very afraid of fighting Jamie.”

After speaking, she realized that Karl looked at Alvin not far away with an unkind expression.

His eyes were full of murderous aura.

Alyssa felt that Karl might be wondering how to kill Alvin.

She thought that Karl didn't hear her, so she stretched out her hand to pull Karl's arm.

But Karl said at this moment: "Who sees a madman and doesn't make a detour?"

Alyssa paused: "You said Jamie?"

"Talking about me?" A low male voice sounded from the side.

Alyssa turned her head and saw Jamie sitting on the sofa behind them.

Jamie stood up, walked around where Alyssa and Karl were sitting, sat down beside Karl, and said slowly, "Go."

Karl glanced at him, then turned to Alyssa and said, "I'm going to do something, you're waiting for me here."

Alyssa looked at Karl and Jamie again, and asked Karl in a low voice, "But he is not here?"

Karl said, "You don't have to worry about him."

He finished speaking, and when he got up to leave, he said something to Jamie.

The sound was too low, Alyssa could not hear it.

She understood that Karl left her to Jamie to take care of.

Alyssa looked at Jamie with some surprise, and Karl was relieved to hand her over to Jamie to take care of her. It seemed that he has an excellent relationship with Jamie.

After all, Karl is not a person who trusts others easily.

Jamie suddenly turned his head, and said in a very serious tone: "Do you think I am more handsome than Karl?"

Are Karl's friends just as inconsistent as him?

Alyssa was taken aback for a moment, and then said, "I don't think so."

Jamie gave a "tsk", as if feeling boring.

Alyssa continued to reach out for the watermelon juice and glanced casually, only to realize that all the people who were sitting near her had disappeared.

As if she had a plague god here.

She is a woman sitting in a wheelchair, of course it cannot be that plague.

So, what these people avoided was Jamie next to her.

She felt Jamie looking at her, turned her head and found that his eyes were slightly shifted, not looking at her face.

Alyssa reached out and touched her star earrings: "Are you looking at this?"

When he met at the hotel yesterday, he had been looking at her earrings.

Jamie didn't speak, it was a tacit understanding.

Alyssa also felt that her earrings were very beautiful. It would be normal if a woman kept staring at her earrings.

Jamie looked straight, and she didn't look like a big lady in women's clothing. He could not be interested in women's accessories, so

What did Alyssa think of and asked him: "Do you like stars?"

This time, Jamie opened his lips: "Yeah."

Alyssa laughed: "Is the star your wife's name?"

Jamie's original indifferent expression instantly turned bitter, and his sharp eyes were frighteningly cold.

But Alyssa was not afraid at all, but deepened her smile.

He is the same type of person as Karl.

It looks fierce and fierce on the surface, but in fact, it is a soft-hearted person.

Chapter 1124

Jamie just stared at Alyssa for a moment, then coldly moved his eyes away.

Alyssa lowered her eyes slightly, just as bad-tempered as Karl.

However, she now understood why Karl was so relieved to let Jamie take care of her.

Deterrence is too strong, no one dares to approach.

It's also quiet.

But there will still be exceptions.

"Alyssa."

Alyssa raised her head when she heard the sound, she saw Clifford had walked up to her.

Karl said before that she might meet many people she knows, and Alyssa was mentally prepared.

"It's a coincidence." Clifford smiled, standing in front of Alyssa.

The expression on Alyssa's face was full, and she looked at him coldly.

The banquet seemed peaceful on the surface, but Alvin and Clifford both came, but in fact it was undercurrents.

Before Alyssa could say anything, Jamie on the side looked over here and sneered: "What a coincidence, if Karl doesn't come, will you come?"

Alyssa paused when she heard the words.

Jamie knew everything, and dared to say anything.

Clifford looked at Jamie with a sullen face: "Mr. Hanson, this is my business and Karl's."

"Really? What are you doing staring at his wife? It's impossible to follow you." Jamie leaned back on the sofa lazily, not paying attention to Clifford at all.

Clifford was more calm than Alvin. Although his expression was ugly, he did not show any obvious emotions.

He said in a deep voice: "Jamie may have some misunderstandings with me."

"This is regarded as a misunderstanding, then I have a deep misunderstanding of you, why, do you still want to discuss with me?" Jamie curled his lips, showing a mocking smile.

Clifford straightened the corners of his lips and didn't speak again.

He glanced at Alyssa, then turned and left.

Alyssa suddenly felt that she had misunderstood Karl.

Karl said that Jamie's mouth was poisonous, it was true.

After leaving Clifford, Jamie looked a little impatient, as if he was too lazy to deal with people like Clifford, but because of Karl's entrustment he helped Alyssa drive them away.

Alyssa turned her head and said to him: "Thank you."

"No thanks, when you have to pay it back." Jamie was not lazy, his tone was lax.

After that, the two did not speak again.

â€¦

After a while, Karl came back.

Smith followed behind him.

Both of them looked very calm, and Alyssa couldn't guess what they were doing.

"Tired?" Karl sat down as Alyssa stretched out, and stretched out her hand to trim the small hair that was in her ear.

"It's okay." Alyssa stared at him for a moment and asked, "What did you do with Smith?"

When she spoke, she couldn't help lowering her voice because she knew that what Karl was doing was definitely not something that could be said aloud.

Karl didn't say anything vague, he lowered his eyes: "Go back to the hotel and talk to you."

Alyssa nodded, and thought of Jamie who was here before. When she tilted her head to see, there was Jamie's figure, long gone.

Karl knew that she was watching Jamie, and said, "Don't worry about him."

Alyssa thought about what Jamie did before, and smiled: "I think you are right, his mouth is indeed quite poisonous."

"Leave it, let's go back to the hotel." Karl didn't mean to continue chatting with her over Jamie.

But Alyssa was a little curious about Jamie's wife: "What kind of person is his wife?"

Karl's eyes changed when he saw her: "What do you want to do?"

"Let's go, go back to the hotel." Where would she dare to ask again?

Chapter 1125

After returning to the hotel, Alyssa went to take a bath first.

When she came out, she was still worried about Karl's words before he went back to the hotel and told her what he had done before.

Karl was leaning against the bed with his mobile phone, staring at it blankly.

Alyssa walked over curiously, turned her head to look at his phone, and heard Grace's joyous voice from the phone: "Mom!"

"Are you videoing with Grace?" Alyssa said in surprise.

When she came out just now, seeing him staring at the phone blankly, she thought something was wrong.

Karl knew that Alyssa couldn't stand for too long now, so he stretched out his hand and pulled her to sit down, and put the phone in her hand: "I'm going to take a bath."

"Yeah." Alyssa had forgotten what she had asked before.

Watching Karl enter the bathroom, Alyssa asked Grace in the video, "Why don't you on the video with your dad?"

Grace held her chin, sighed, and said helplessly: "I have nothing to say with him."

Alyssa was amused, Grace was like a heart-warming little padded jacket in front of her, but in front of Karl, she was twisted.

Karl was awkward as a father, and Grace was also awkward as a daughter.

Alyssa and Grace finished talking for a long time, halfway through, after taking a shower, he came out and went out. After returning, he took a book and lay on the bed.

Alyssa moved the phone to Karl's side, so that Karl was also in the camera.

Grace wrinkled her nose when she saw Karl appearing on the screen, and Alyssa gave a silent look of disapproval.

Grace called out: "Dad."

"Yeah." Karl looked up at her, his voice calm and formulaic.

Grace pouted dissatisfiedly.

Alyssa kicked Karl in the quilt.

Karl turned to look at her, his expression a bit complicated.

The next moment, Karl snatched the mobile phone in her hand, and said to Grace in a serious tone: "The kid should go to bed early, good night."

He hung up the video without giving Grace a chance to speak.

Afterwards, he threw the phone away and turned it over.

Alyssa was surprised: "What are you doing!"

Karl said quietly above her: "You just kicked me."

Alyssa reacted, he said that she just kicked him.

She twitched the corners of her mouth, a little speechless: "I asked you to say a few words to Grace, don't be so indifferent, just let me down!"

Karl said, "No more."

A serious tone.

Alyssa blushed and held back for a long time: "I am a patient."

"Yeah." Karl nodded in agreement, and then said again: "So I will take care of you, you don't have to move."

Alyssa: "???" This is not the answer she imagined.

Karl had already leaned down and kissed her, Alyssa turned her head to hide, and his kiss fell on her face.

After that, the tiny kiss spreads little by little

The next day.

Alyssa woke up and met Karl's deep eyes.

He sat on the edge of the bed, watching her closely.

Seeing her waking up, there was a hint of concern in her tone: "Are you okay?"

Alyssa picked up the pillow and hit him angrily, and said angrily.

"Beast!"

Karl caught the pillow and poked his head from behind the pillow, with a smile in his voice: "You're in good spirits."

Alyssa snorted: "You go out, I need to get dressed."

"I can help you!"

"roll!"

"Oh."

Chapter 1126

Karl honestly "rolled" out of the bedroom.

If he keeps teasing, he might be sleeping on the sofa tonight.

Alyssa has had nothing to do with him, and she will succeed in such things in the end.

When Alyssa came out, she saw Karl sitting at the dining table proudly, looking very happy.

She came out in a wheelchair. When Karl saw her coming out, he walked over to help her push the wheelchair.

The breakfast has been delivered, very rich.

Before Alyssa took two bites, Karl's cell phone rang.

She turned her head and glanced at Karl. She saw Karl answer the phone without saying anything, so she got up and walked towards the door.

After Karl went out, Alyssa didn't know what he was doing, and didn't ask much.

Karl has been very busy recently, she may not be able to help him much, but she can't cause him trouble either.

After a while, Karl returned.

Alyssa heard the footsteps, looked back, and saw Peter standing behind him.

Peter smiled and called her: "Alyssa."

"Peter!" Alyssa said with joy: "Why are you here?"

Having been with Karl for these years, and because of the desolate relationship, the friendship between her and Peter has become better and better.

She is naturally very happy to see friends.

"I came here to participate in an event. As soon as I arrived, I opened a room opposite you." Peter said and sat down opposite them, still in the same dignified manner.

Alyssa asked him: "Have you not had breakfast yet?"

"No! But before eating!" Peter took out his mobile phone and moved towards Alyssa, "Let's take a picture and send it to Moments."

Peter usually posts Moments with pictures, but he rarely posts group photos.

Although Alyssa felt that Peter's behavior of suddenly taking photos and posting to Moments was a little hypocritical, she still cooperated to pull Karl.

Karl showed disapproval, with an expression of rejection on his face.

"It's okay, we can just shoot." Peter waved his hand indifferently.

"Oh." Alyssa felt weird.

After taking the photo, Peter sat back contentedly and sent it to Moments.

Karl's mobile phone was placed on the dining table. Alyssa took his mobile phone and opened Moments, and saw a Moments that Peter had just posted.

There is only one photo in this circle of friends. He and Alyssa are pictured together, and Karl's arm is in the frame.

She looked up at Peter who was opposite.

Peter posted to Moments and threw the phone aside. He picked up his chopsticks while eating while staring at the phone, as if waiting for a call.

Alyssa understood. Peter, the drunkard, didn't want to drink. He deliberately posted a photo with Alyssa and asked Tina to come to him.

naive!

Speaking of Tina, Alyssa blamed herself in her heart.

Tina must be very worried about her. She has not contacted Tina yet.

After she came back, although Karl bought her a new mobile phone, she hadn't used it much, and she hadn't even downloaded WeChat.

She directly looked for Tina in Karl's address book.

Everyone has added WeChat before.

When she found Tina's WeChat, she directly sent a message: "Tina, are you in Westberg?"

Tina answered almost in seconds: "Alyssa???"

Alyssa didn't reply yet, and Tina sent another message: "Peter, the dog man, deliberately posted to Moments and wanted me to call him! I don't need to call him now! Where are you, Alyssa? I'm coming to you!"

Chapter 1127

Alyssa silently sent the hotel name and room number to Tina.

When she put down the phone and looked up, she saw Peter staring at the phone, eager to see through.

Alyssa thought for a while, but still did not tell Peter that she had already contacted Tina.

This pair of enemies fight back and forth, of course, he is still a little bit eccentric.

Peter didn't succeed in his strategy, and Tina should be very happy.

Karl glanced at her suddenly, and she immediately lowered her head with a guilty conscience.

"Eat more." Karl gave her a cake with a clear expression.

Peter on the other side was still wondering, and whispered: "Why don't you come to me?"

Alyssa didn't hear her six pretends, and concentrated on eating breakfast.

When breakfast was almost finished, Tina came.

When Alyssa heard the door opening, she stood up with a "swipe", but was quickly pressed back by Karl: "I'll go."

As soon as the door opened, Tina saw that it was Karl who opened the door, subconsciously clasping both hands and one hand in front of him: "That's!"

Although she knew that Karl had a good attitude towards her because of Alyssa, she couldn't help but feel a little afraid.

"She's waiting for you inside." Karl interrupted her, then stepped back aside after speaking, beckoning her to go in.

He knows Peter and Alyssa.

Therefore, whether it was Peter's purpose for taking a group photo or what Alyssa did with the mobile phone, he knew very well.

Tina was a little cautious: "Thank you."

After speaking, she quickly slipped in like a thief.

Alyssa had already walked out of the restaurant when she heard the movement by the door, so as soon as Tina came in, she saw Alyssa standing in the hall.

"Ah!" Tina screamed with excitement, "Hello, Alyssa!!"

She ran over and hugged Alyssa with joy.

Karl, who followed behind, frowned, reaching out to push Tina away.

But Alyssa gave him a warning look.

Karl stared at her solemnly, but didn't make any more moves.

Alyssa let go of Tina, and said with a smile: "It's better, but I can't stand for a long time, nor can I walk."

When Tina heard this, she held her nervously: "Then sit down quickly."

Alyssa asked her again: "Have you had breakfast?"

Tina shook her head: "No, I flew over from work in the middle of the night, not long after I lay down!"

"Eat something." Alyssa pulled her towards the restaurant.

Karl hugged his arms and watched the breakfast that originally belonged to two people turned into a meal for four people.

That's it, Alyssa took Tina and sat down, ignoring him at all.

Alyssa felt Karl's dissatisfied gaze, and then looked back at him and smiled to please: "Come and sit down."

She patted the chair next to her.

Karl's complexion eased, and he walked over and sat down.

Peter waited for a long time before Tina looked for him. Instead, he found her directly, and said with a beast, "Oh, Tina, what a coincidence."

"It's a coincidence, CEO Grant." Tina said the next two words one by one, choking him on purpose.

Peter gritted his teeth: "No way, the fate is too deep."

Tina sneered: "You don't have a deep bond with Cathy."

Peter also sneered: "Where is the bond between you and Brian Adkins better than that!"

Alyssa is used to choking when the two meet, but

She turned her head and asked Tina, "Who is Brian Adkins?"

Chapter 1128

Tina explained it very simply: "A male star who has worked with"

As soon as the voice fell, and Alyssa didn't say anything, Peter said strangely: "A male celebrity you have worked with? Come on! Do you wear a couple outfit with every male celebrity you have worked with?"

Tina glared at him: "That's for promotion!"

"You're pretty good at making excuses, your fans are starting to knock on your real CP, just pretend it!" Peter forced the fruit in front of him, his eyes fierce as if to eat people.

"You and Cathy have both opened rooms, and your fans have figured out the names of your children. What the hell are you pretending?" Tina picked up the fork and threw it at Peter.

Peter stretched out his hand to block the fork, and then defended herself: "What are you talking nonsense, when did I open a room with Cathy? Am I the kind of person in your eyes?"

"Otherwise, who do you say you are?" Tina sneered, looking disdainful.

"We have known each other for so many years, don't you know who I am?" Peter was so angry that he even took a few deep breaths: "Do you even trust me?"

Karl, who had been watching coldly, suddenly said: "Get out if you make any more noise."

Tina: "

Peter: "

The two people who had been quarreling hard at first turned their faces apart, their heads drooped, silent, and ignored each other.

After eating breakfast, Tina brought snacks.

“Pay attention to body management is the basic quality of actors.” Peter stared at the pile of snacks in front of Tina, and said quietly.

“I’m an actor, don’t I know? I want you to talk more!” Tina wanted to smash Peter again.

Turning her head to look at Karl who was opening nuts for Alyssa, Tina put the things in her hands back in angrily.

Alyssa nestled on the sofa and searched for “Cathy” and “Brian” on the Internet with her mobile phone.

Cathy looks very face-to-face, but there is a web drama recently released, so there is still a certain degree of discussion.

And Brian seemed to be familiar, Alyssa remembered that she had watched his play, but she didn’t remember what it was.

When Peter and Tina had quarreled before, he thought that Tina and Brian had an affair, but the Internet was clean, and there was no affair between Tina and Brian.

But there are some scandals about Cathy and Peter, and a lot of manuscripts have been posted.

Alyssa couldn’t help but look up at Peter.

Karl was sitting next to her. He was much taller than her. He could see her mobile phone as soon as he lowered his head, so he knew exactly what she had searched just now.

He said lightly: “Peter handled it.”

Needless to say too clearly, Alyssa can also reflect on what he said.

What he meant was that the scandal of Tina had been dealt with by Peter.

Alyssa couldn’t help but want to laugh.

Peter is fierce on the surface, but every time something happens in the cold, he still guards very tightly.

Usually it doesn’t look serious, but when you encounter a cold thing, you will be extra careful.

In the matter between them, there is no need for others to intervene at all, and there is no room for others to intervene at all.

Alyssa was about to put down her cell phone and chat with Tina, but suddenly a piece of news came in from her cell phone.

“The famous philanthropist Wilfred is caught in a scandal!”

Only the first half sentence can be seen in the title.

Wilfred’s scandal?

Alyssa suddenly remembered that Karl left midway at the banquet last night.

Chapter 1129

When Alyssa was about to start the news, her mobile phone was taken away by Karl: "You don't always use mobile phones."

Alyssa watched him take the phone and put it aside, and asked him curiously: "What did you do?"

Karl: "Guess."

"â€¦"

Alyssa glared at him, too lazy to pay attention to him, and turned to talk to Tina.

Karl went to the study with Peter.

Only then did Alyssa finally have the opportunity to ask Tina, "Have you and Peter always been in this state now? Noisy when you meet?"

"I don't want to quarrel with him, because he himself will provoke me every other time." Tina said that Peter was angry, and anger appeared on her face.

Alyssa groaned for a moment, lowered her voice, and asked her softly, "Tina, what can't you say clearly between the two?"

If she hadn't said this to Tina before, she had thought it was a matter between Tina and Peter.

They have known each other since they were young, not to mention whether they are in love with each other, even if they grow up together, the relationship between them is extremely deep.

But after experiencing so many things, Alyssa feels that life is too fragile, and when you can be together, don't waste time.

Only through experience can we know how precious it is to be together.

"Can you really say everything clearly?" Tina shook her head: "The longer the time passes, the more I find it difficult to speak."

"Otherwise, you can try to talk to me?" Alyssa held her cold hand, her gentle expression revealing firmness.

Tina bit her lip and lowered her head: "That was what happened before I knew himâ€¦"

Alyssa could feel Tina's tension and anxiety. Although she was talking, there was a trace of resistance in her expression.

Alyssa held Tina's hand: "Tina, if you are not ready, don't say it yet."

She had never seen such a fragile and restless depression.

From the time she knew Tina, Tina was the girl who stood out most prominently in the crowd. When she grew up, she became the shining person on the screen.

Tina should be radiant.

She held Alyssa's hand and slowly said, "I want to say."

â€¦

When Karl and Peter came out, only Alyssa was left in the living room.

Alyssa leaned on the sofa with a pillow in her arms, slightly lost in her mind, and she couldn't see what she was thinking.

"Where is Tina?" Peter walked over to ask Alyssa without seeing Tina after looking around.

Alyssa raised her head, fixedly looking at Peter, looking at him very seriously.

"Why are you looking at me like this? It feels like you've never seen meâ€¦" Peter touched his nose, feeling that Alyssa's eyes looked strange at him.

After a long while, Alyssa moved her lips, and finally sighed again, turning her head aside.

Forget it, she stops the words.

She was afraid that when she spoke, she couldn't help but want to scold Peter.

After all, he is a good friend of Karl, forget it.

Peter couldn't figure it out and turned to look at Karl.

Karl glanced at Alyssa again before saying, "You go back and rest first."

"Yeah." Peter didn't ask anymore, turned and left.

After he left, Karl sat next to Alyssa and said casually, "What did Tina say to you?"

Alyssa thought for a while and asked him: "I tell you, would you keep it secret and not tell Peter?"

Karl: "I don't know."

Alyssa snorted: "Then I won't tell you."

Chapter 1130

Karl replied slowly, "Oh."

"Are you not curious? Are you not going to ask anymore?" Alyssa leaned towards him again, staring at him curiously.

Does Karl really have no curiosity?

He said seriously: "I really can't guarantee you that I won't tell Peter."

"Aren't you afraid of me being angry when you do that?" Alyssa was a little bit dumbfounded.

Karl paused, with a worried tone: "Peter, this fool, no one can help him. He may not marry Tina in his life."

Alyssa pursed her lips and said, "Does Peter know you say he is a fool?"

Karl: "I think he should be very clear about his position."

Alyssa: "â€!"

She decided not to talk about it with Karl, but she couldn't tell him.

So she changed the subject: "Are you going out today?"

Although their purpose of coming to Westberg was related to Karl's mother, he did not seem to be in a hurry.

Alyssa couldn't guess what he was thinking.

Karl replied: "Out."

After lunch, Karl took Alyssa out.

Alyssa didn't ask Karl what he was going to do, so she just followed.

She didn't find that Karl took her to the hospital until the car stopped.

She looked out of the window, then retracted her gaze to look at Karl: "What are we doing in the hospital?"

"I made an appointment with an expert to check the body." Karl explained to her as he got out of the car.

After she came back, she was able to stand and walk, and her body recovered well.

But the two of them were very tacitly aware of not going to the hospital for an examination. Alyssa was actually very resistant to going to the hospital for a physical examination.

She is afraid that the test result is not what she wants.

She was also afraid that she thought her body would gradually get better, which was just an illusion.

Karl had already walked around her car door, opened the car door and stretched out his hand to her: "Come."

Alyssa sat in the car without moving.

"Let's check it another day. I will do your business first. I am in good health." Her fingers on the sofa slowly tightened, and then released.

The tone was calm, but the momentary tension in her expression still did not escape Karl's eyes.

Karl still didn't withdraw his hand. He fixedly looked at her, and slowly said, "I will be with you."

There is a reassuring power in his voice.

Alyssa bit her lip and stretched out her hand towards Karl, who hugged her and got out of the car.

Smith had taken the wheelchair out of the car early, and Karl hugged Alyssa and put her into the wheelchair.

Smith came early, and everything was arranged, Alyssa checked in directly as soon as she entered the hospital.

There are many items to check and it is very cumbersome.

Alyssa was inconvenient to move, and Karl accompanied her throughout.

In the end, she felt tired.

While waiting for the result in the lounge, Smith suddenly hurried in.

But he didn't say anything, but slowly walked to Karl's side.

Karl raised his eyes to look at him: "Talk."

Smith directly said: "Wilfred, there is news from over there, he wants to see you."

Karl sneered when he heard the words, "I can't sit still so soon."

Smith calmly analyzed: "You hollowed out his company, and now there is a scandal. Wilfred feels that he has been threatened so much that he can't sit still."

After Alyssa heard this, she remembered that when she was first captured by Wilfred, Wilfred deliberately asked the servant to show her news of Karl's cooperation with him.
