

Predestined 1131

Chapter 1131

Karl curled the corners of his lips, and said casually, "See me when he wants to, is there such a good thing in this world?"

Smith nodded slightly: "Understood."

The meaning is that I will not see Wilfred for the time being, and let him dry.

After Karl expressed his opinion, Smith went out to continue dealing with the matter.

As soon as Smith left, Alyssa asked the doubts in her heart: "You were working with Wilfred before, you moved your hands and feet, didn't you?"

"Yeah." Karl patted his head complimenting, "Smart."

Alyssa shook her head, shook her hand, and continued to ask, "Then when do you plan to see Wilfred?"

"This is not a problem we have to consider, this is a problem he has to consider. What should he do to make me willing to see him." Karl took Alyssa's hand into his hand and said calmly. Frowned: "Why are your hands so cold?"

Alyssa ignored his question and continued to ask: "You mean, unless he comes to the door by himself, otherwise you won't see him?"

And Karl's attention was still on her hands, and he said to her: "When you go out, I say that, you should wear one more."

Alyssa was a little helpless, he didn't listen to her at all.

â€¦

After a while, the doctor entered the lounge with the results of the examination.

"Your wife's situation has improved compared with the diagnosis results I have seen before. This situation is very complicated. We need to have a consultation and then work out a treatment plan."

The doctor spoke in detail and sounded very professional.

Alyssa understood, and to sum up, her physical condition has improved compared to before, but the specific treatment methods need to be studied.

Even if a treatment plan is developed, it may not be useful, because her physical condition is too variable.

Alyssa heard what the doctor meant, and Karl naturally heard it too.

Karl's expression was particularly ugly when he heard the later.

Afraid that he would lose his temper, Alyssa said to the doctor quickly: "Thank you doctor, we know."

The doctor also noticed that Karl's complexion had changed, and he turned around and went out consciously.

Alyssa watched the doctor go, and then looked back at Karl.

She stretched out a finger and nodded on Karl's face: "Look at your face, it's as black as charcoal."

Karl shook her hand that was shaking: "No need to do this, I won't lose my temper."

"Really?" Alyssa tilted her head and didn't believe Karl's words at all.

She still didn't understand Karl, and said that he didn't lose his temper. Maybe he didn't lose his temper in front of her.

Karl was seen through his mind and turned away from his uncomfortable expression.

Alyssa held her face and smiled and said, "You don't lose your temper all the time, be happy, or you will get old quickly."

Karl, didn't know what he was thinking, nodded, "Well, let's go."

Alyssa asked him: "Back to the hotel?"

"Go back and do something happy." Karl said, pushing her wheelchair.

Alyssa's face was startled: "I didn't mean that!"

What fun things do you do when you return to the hotel during the day?

"Oh? What do you mean? What do you think I mean?" Karl leaned to her ear, with a low smile in his voice.

Alyssa's face turned red: "I don't mean anything! Go away!"

Can't wait for Karl to push her, she turned her wheelchair and walked out by herself.

Karl speeded up his steps and pushed her wheelchair again.

Chapter 1132

He tilted his head to talk to Alyssa while pushing the wheelchair.

But Alyssa ignored him.

He didn't get angry either, and he talked to her without a word.

Coming out of the elevator, Alyssa glanced up inadvertently, and a tall and thin boy was walking out in front of them.

The more she looks back, the more familiar it becomes.

Alyssa murmured: "Luther!"

Karl behind her also heard her voice, stopped abruptly, raised his head and followed Alyssa's gaze.

At this moment, the boy walking in front took out his cell phone to answer the call, said a few words to the phone, and then looked back into the hospital.

Alyssa also saw his face clearly.

Although the back is similar, the front is a completely unfamiliar face.

Alyssa lowered her eyes and stared at the ground in a dream.

If it hadn't been for a familiar figure from back suddenly, she could hardly remember Luther.

Her memory is too bad now, if it weren't for the people who often appeared around her, it would be hard for her to remember them for a while.

Alyssa and Karl were in a tacit understanding and neither spoke.

Out of the hospital, Smith stayed by the car waiting for them.

Karl came to hug Alyssa and get on the car. Alyssa just waved her hand and stood up: "I can get in the car by myself."

Karl did not force her, he held her with one hand and opened the door with the other.

Smith came over to collect the wheelchair and put it in the trunk. After Alyssa and Karl both got in the car, he drove around the front.

The car is very quiet.

Smith also noticed that the atmosphere was a bit strange. He glanced back in the rearview mirror and found that Alyssa and Karl both looked thoughtful.

What happened again?

Smith retracted his eyes and didn't ask much.

Before she was sent to Wilfred by Luther, Alyssa had a chat with Luther, but he was in a bad state at the time, and later she didn't know if he had talked with Karl.

She turned her head and glanced at Karl.

He pursed his lips slightly, his complexion tensed and she couldn't see his emotions.

Perceiving Alyssa's gaze, Karl turned his head and silently held her hand with his eyes down.

Alyssa wanted to ask him about Luther, but she didn't know how to speak.

Until returning to the hotel, Alyssa could not ask him about Luther.

Back to the room, Karl went to pour Alyssa a glass of water.

Alyssa took it over: "Thank you."

Karl didn't say a word, and reached out and patted her head: "Let's rest for a while, and soon someone will bring dinner."

Alyssa didn't return to the room, and planned to rest on the sofa for a while.

Dinner was delivered soon after.

Halfway through Alyssa's meal, the phone vibrated.

Someone sent her a WeChat message, and when she picked it up, she found it was Tina.

"I saw Luther just now, but he was very strange, I called him, and he ignored me."

Alyssa read the message Tina sent her, she was startled, and she couldn't help but straighten up.

Alyssa put down her chopsticks and replied earnestly: "Are you sure it was Luther? How does he look?"

Tina replied: "He's quite cold, I feel that his personality has changed a bit, but nothing else."

Tina didn't know that Alyssa would fall into Wilfred's hands this time because Luther sold her to Wilfred.

After receiving Tina's answer, Alyssa warmed and felt a little relieved.

Although don't know if Karl and Luther have talked about it, according to the current situation, Karl should not embarrass Luther.

Chapter 1133

Alyssa replied to Tina: "Well, I see."

Tina noticed something abnormal and asked her, "What's wrong? Something happened to him?"

This is a long story, Alyssa told her to talk about it later when she had time, and after chatting with her a few more words, Alyssa continued to eat.

After looking back, she found that her bowl was piled up like a hill.

Helpless, Alyssa took half of the food and returned it to Karl: "I can't eat so much."

Karl asked unintentionally, "Who do you talk to?"

Alyssa didn't even want to hide, and said directly, "Tina."

Unexpectedly, Karl asked again: "What are you talking about?"

"When did you get interested in the topics of women?" Alyssa raised her eyes and smiled at Karl.

Karl curled his lips, but did not continue to question.

After eating, he asked the waiter to collect the tableware. Before the waiter came, his mobile phone rang.

Alyssa walked slowly into the living room near the sofa, turned around and saw him answer the phone. She didn't know what the person on the other end said. Anyway, he hung up the phone quickly without saying a word from beginning to end.

He hung up and came to help Alyssa.

Alyssa patted his hand: "I can do it myself."

Karl didn't force her, but walked slowly with her.

The doctor said it's good to practice walking when it's okay.

Soon, the waiter came in to collect the cutlery, and the three people came in, all looking down and unable to see their faces.

Alyssa only glanced and continued to walk, but Karl suddenly grabbed her hand.

Alyssa looked up unidentified, and saw a group of bodyguards rushing in from the door, surrounding the three waiters.

"What's the matter?" Alyssa asked Karl in a low voice.

After Karl helped her to sit on the sofa, he said, "Sit down first."

Alyssa sat down obediently, and there was a man's laughter from the other end.

This laughter is very familiar.

Alyssa looked up and saw one of the suits straightened up and looked over here.

Alyssa was watching him, and he was also watching Alyssa.

He smiled at Alyssa: "Mrs. Adams, it's been a long time since I saw you, you seem to be recovering well."

His eyes were very strange, and there was a hint of enthusiasm.

It's Wilfred!

Alyssa tightened her lips, her hand on her side clenched involuntarily.

The look in Wilfred's eyes was very familiar to her.

She was captured by Wilfred before, and every time Wilfred talked to her about his experiments, he always had such enthusiastic eyes.

"You don't seem to be very happy to meet me." Wilfred's smile narrowed slightly, and he made a sad look.

At this time, Karl solemnly ordered: "Throw him out."

As soon as the voice fell, the bodyguard stepped forward to grab Wilfred and throw him out.

"Karl!" Wilfred's expression suddenly changed: "You treat me like this, don't you want to see your mother again?"

Karl said nothing but stared at Wilfred blankly.

Karl did not give an order, and the bodyguard threw Wilfred out.

This hotel is tightly regulated and it is difficult to get in. Wilfred brings two of his subordinates into it. It's not easy to get in. There are all Karl's people, and no one can help him.

Wilfred was thrown out of the door in this way, and he looked at Karl in the room with a green expression: "As expected, Karl, I have always admired you, even now, I have not changed my opinion."

Chapter 1134

Although Wilfred looked ugly, it was not difficult to hear that his tone was still very arrogant.

Although the chips in his hand are not enough to allow Karl to let him easily, but he thinks he still has the chance to win, so he is still calm now.

Karl sneered when he heard the words, but he said to the bodyguard: "You take this person away, he is not a guest of the hotel."

Wilfred looked at Karl in disbelief, he said so much, let alone whether Karl listened to him, Karl completely ignored him, as if he did not exist.

Alyssa didn't have the energy to care about Wilfred's expression. She noticed Karl's words just now and asked him in a low voice, "They are not yours?"

Her eyes swept over the bodyguards.

Karl only said indifferently, "People from Jamie."

Alyssa recalled: "The hotel also belongs to him?"

"Yeah." Karl nodded.

After hearing Karl's words, the bodyguard walked over and grabbed Wilfred and his party and went outside.

"Do you know who I am? Let go of me!" Wilfred said sharply.

Alyssa had actually seen both sides of Jamie, but Jamie had a deep impression on her, and he was a man who was totally lawless.

Naturally, his subordinates are not fuel-efficient lamps. No matter what Wilfred said, they just grabbed him and left.

Seeing that he was being dragged away by the bodyguard, Wilfred called out anxiously, "Karl!"

"Karl, I came to you because I have something to discuss with you. Regarding what happened before, I think we can sit down and have a good talk." This time, Wilfred Mann's tone was no longer arrogant, but sincere.

He said so many things that he was directly ignored by Karl, and he was sent away. This is what Karl was forcing him to lower his head, forcing him to lower his posture, and admit that he was a loser.

Wilfred also knew Karl's thoughts, but he would not easily admit defeat, but Karl looked as stable as Mount Everest, he really didn't dare to stand still anymore.

His company was hollowed out by Karl, and the charity under him also broke down in scandals. With so many, his accumulated wealth and reputation will soon be ruined. Naturally, he can no longer be as calm as before.

In the end, he lowered his head to Karl.

Karl curled the corner of his lips and waved his hand to signal them to bring in Wilfred.

The bodyguard acted rudely and threw Wilfred directly onto the floor of the room.

He is still wearing the uniform of a hotel attendant. The events that have happened in the past few days have made him feel a lot of haggards, and he looks disgraced.

Alyssa thought of Wilfred's spirited appearance some time ago, and she sighed in her heart, she retracted her gaze and stopped looking at him.

But Wilfred is Wilfred after all.

He quickly stood up from the ground, restored his usual calmness, and negotiated terms with Karl: "As long as you promise me one condition, I will let you see your mother."

"What qualifications do you have to negotiate terms with me now?" Karl looked at Wilfred without expression, with a tone of disdain.

Wilfred laughed slowly: "I have been following you for so many years. I can't understand what kind of person you are. You actually value love and righteousness. You can't ignore your mother."

Karl's complexion did not fluctuate in the slightest: "Mom passed away ten years ago."

Wilfred said eagerly: "She is still alive!"

This was his last bargaining chip, and Karl had to believe him.

Chapter 1135

Karl said casually: "If you say she is alive, I believe you?"

"Don't you want to see her?" Wilfred fixedly stared at him: "I am like this now, do I still need to lie? I really come to you sincerely this time and want to cooperate with you."

"But I didn't see your sincerity." Karl held his head with one hand, his tone already a little impatient.

Wilfred seemed to have made up his mind: "I can arrange for you to meet."

Karl said indifferently, "Let's talk about it."

"Youâ€¦!" Wilfred, who was full of confidence, began to feel unsure.

This is different from what he thought.

Karl looked like he was incapable of making money.

When he threatened Karl with Alyssa, it was not like that.

At that time, as long as he made the offer, Karl agreed without hesitation.

Does 5 have to threaten him with Alyssa in order to work?

Wilfred moved his gaze to Alyssa, his eyes full of calculations.

Karl looked terrified, raised his hand slightly, and the bodyguard consciously took Wilfred out.

This time, Wilfred did not struggle too much.

What Wilfred had to say had been told to Karl. Although Karl seemed indifferent, he felt that Karl didn't necessarily think that way in his heart.

It is possible that Karl has other plans.

If Alyssa had to be used to threaten Karl, then when he had to use Alyssa, he could only think of a solution for Alyssa.

The bodyguards all stepped out, leaving only Alyssa and Karl in the room.

Alyssa watched them leave, retracted her gaze and fell on Karl's body.

But she found that Karl was staring at a certain place, and he could see God.

"What are you thinking about?" Alyssa moved to him and asked him softly.

Karl returned to his senses and fished her into his arms in silence.

Alyssa wanted to look up at him, but he stretched out his hand to hold her head, not letting her look up at him.

Alyssa moved in protest, and heard Karl whisper: "Don't move, let me hug you."

"You just said that to Wilfred on purpose?" Alyssa stayed in his arms and asked him in a low voice.

Karl spoke slowly: "In the beginning, the news came from Clifford. At that time, he didn't need to lie, so I took someone to investigate and find her. Although she was not found, I still checked. There were some clues that proved Clifford did not lie."

Alyssa was startled, and then said: "So you just thanked Wilfred on purpose."

She was happy in her heart, happy that Karl would tell her these things.

If he hadn't told her these things before, he would take care of it and handle it by himself.

This is a very good thing, he is willing to share these things with her.

"Well, it was my over-eager performance at the beginning, which made him think that he had the chance to win, so he always wanted to threaten me without fear, but I won't give him this chance again."

Karl's tone was very gentle, and the arms around her were tight.

Alyssa nodded.

Suddenly, she thought of something, and suddenly raised her head to look at Karl: "Do you already have a plan?"

"Yeah." Karl laughed, "You can guess that, my wife is so smart, I need to reward her."

After speaking, he kissed her gently on the forehead.

Chapter 1136

Alyssa laughed and asked him: "Then what is your plan, let's listen to it?"

Karl also smiled: "Secret plan."

It means he doesn't plan to tell her anymore.

Alyssa pretended to be angry and hit him.

Karl held her hand: "Okay, take a break."

Alyssa said generously: "Okay."

Since he didn't plan to tell her, she just didn't ask, he has improved a lot now.

The two returned to the bedroom together, and Karl lay down with her.

Alyssa has the habit of taking a nap. She talked to Karl without a word while lying on the bed, and she started to feel sleepy after a while.

"So sleepy, I'm going to sleep." Alyssa yawned and drilled into Karl's arms.

"Yeah." Karl patted her back comfortably.

It didn't take long for the person in his arms to breathe smoothly.

Karl stared at Alyssa for a moment, tried to move, but when he moved, Alyssa frowned.

He has been paying attention to her, so he can immediately notice any changes in her expression.

She frowned as soon as he moved, which showed that she was not sleeping well enough.

After a while, when Alyssa fell asleep completely, he carefully lifted the quilt and got out of the bed, and walked out lightly.

Smith was already waiting outside.

Seeing Karl coming out, he called out, "Sir."

Karl looked solemn and asked, "Are they here?"

Smith said earnestly: "Jamie sent additional manpower on the way here."

"Hmm." Karl didn't have any expressions on his face, just faintly responded.

At this time, there was a knock on the door outside.

Smith gave Karl a glance and went to open the door.

"Karl!" As soon as Peter entered the door, he walked towards him with a look of excitement.

"Keep it down." After Karl finished speaking, he turned his head and glanced at the bedroom behind him.

Peter raised his eyebrows, walked over and looked at him, "Alyssa is sleeping?"

Karl said: "I'm leaving and I'll be back soon."

"You are telling me what you are going to do." Peter said.

Karl just informed him suddenly that he would ask him to come over and take care of Alyssa, and he didn't say where he had anything to go, which was very worrying.

He even felt that Alyssa might not know where he was going or what to do.

"It's okay, you can just stay here." After Karl finished speaking, he raised his foot and walked out.

At this moment, another person walked in outside the door that had not yet been closed.

"Peter? Why are you here?" Tina's expression changed when she saw Peter here.

Karl said in due course, "I called him."

Originally turned around to leave Tina, he retracted his feet again after hearing this: "Oh."

Then walked slowly into the room.

Tina glared at Peter and asked Karl: "Where is she?"

Karl called her suddenly, saying that Alyssa missed her, and asked her to come and accompany her.

She wanted to go out when she saw Peter just now, had it not been because Karl called her to come over, she would have left.

"Sleeping, please help me take care of her." Karl's expression remained unchanged, but his tone was extremely sincere.

Tina was taken aback and nodded.

Then she thought of something and asked: "What about you?"

Karl looked after Alyssa like something, how could he easily leave her to take care of others.

Chapter 1137

"I'll take care of something." Karl only confessed, and left with Smith.

Tina and Peter looked at each other, then snorted again, occupying each side of the sofa, and each took out their mobile phones to play.

The two did not communicate at all.

Tina's heart was already full of doubts, and the more she thought about it after a while, the more things went wrong.

She picked up a pillow and threw it towards Peter.

She lost it suddenly. Peter didn't escape the pillow, and was smashed into the pillow abruptly. He asked with unswerving expression, "Why?"

“What the hell is your good brother going to do? It makes it so mysterious.” Tina knew that Alyssa was sleeping inside the room lowered her voice.

Peter shook his head: “I don’t know.”

He actually had some doubts in his heart, what exactly Karl was going to do, and called both him and Tina over to help him take care of Alyssa.

“You really don’t know?” Tina looked at Peter with suspicion.

These men like to do things secretly without telling others. In addition, Peter and Karl are good brothers, and it is very possible for Peter to lie about Karl.

Peter snorted: “You don’t believe me, forget it.”

Tina was thinking about what he still didn’t know, but he watched her grow up.

After he finished speaking, he lowered his head to play on the phone again, lying lazily on the sofa, as if there was no such person.

The disadvantage of two people being too familiar is that they can always easily feel each other’s emotional changes.

Therefore, she could clearly feel the impatience emanating from Peter at this moment.

He was too lazy to talk to her.

Tina stared at the phone in a dream.

As early as when she was eighteen, she should have understood that she and Peter were inappropriate.

Some feelings may be destined from the beginning.

Feeling the strange silence on Tina’s side, Peter couldn’t help but glance at her side.

From his perspective, only the cool profile face can be seen.

She held a pillow in one hand, and a mobile phone in the other, with her head hanging down slightly, revealing a thin white neck.

Silent but touching.

Peter was stunned and turned his head silently.

There was no thought to play with mobile phones anymore, and the two sat quietly in their own thoughts.

â€¦

As soon as Karl and Smith got out of the hotel, a person got off the car parked in front of them.

“I waited for twenty minutes.” Jamie raised his hand to read the watch on his wrist, and raised his eyes to Karl: “Sure enough, you’re getting older and moving slowly.”

Karl said indifferently, “Yes, after all, I have to coax my wife.”

Jamie twitched the corner of his mouth, turned around and sat in the car again, slamming the door to the sky.

The man whose wife ran away had nothing to say.

Karl walked over and opened the car door to look at Jamie: "What are you doing?"

Jamie said lazily: "Lonely family go and see the excitement."

Karl ignored him and sat short in the car.

Smith walked to the front and drove for them.

The car drove towards the suburbs. There were three big men in the car, none of them talkative. They were very quiet along the way.

As if thinking of something, Jamie asked Karl, "Does your wife know what you are going to do?"

After a while, Karl replied, "I don't know."

Jamie turned his head to look at him with interest: "Then I will call her and tell her what will happen to her?"

Karl curled his lips: "What can I do? If I go back with a little injury, she will feel sorry for me and it will be too late, so where can I not get angry?"

Chapter 1138

After Karl finished speaking, he found that Jamie on the side had closed his eyes, as if he was going to sleep.

Karl asked him, "You don't tell me any more?"

"I don't want to talk to you." Jamie snorted and turned his head to the other side. He didn't even want to see Karl now.

â€

When Alyssa woke up, she found that it was empty beside her, without Karl's figure.

The room was also very quiet, it didn't seem like someone else was in the room.

She sat up and looked around, but she didn't see Karl in the room.

Where did he go?

In the past two days, Karl has been almost inseparable from her. When she takes a nap, he will accompany her to sleep for a while. Even if he wakes up first to deal with things, he will wait in the bedroom for her to wake up.

It's the first time to wake up like today and see no one.

Alyssa got up and put on her coat, and walked out slowly.

If she doesn't go out now, she can basically avoid using a wheelchair.

Opening the bedroom door, she heard a small movement outside, but she couldn't tell what it was.

After a few steps out, she heard the sound of the TV.

The doubts in her heart are even worse, Karl doesn't usually watch TV.

Alyssa's gaze turned and fell on the sofa, only to see Tina and Peter sitting on the sofa.

The two are grabbing the remote control to switch channels.

The two took it seriously, and coupled with the sound of the TV, they did not notice that Alyssa came out.

Alyssa walked over and called out, "Tina."

Tina turned her head when she saw Alyssa and smiled: "Alyssa, are you awake?"

Noting that Alyssa was standing, she hurriedly got up and walked over to help her: "Come and sit down."

"Alyssa." Peter coughed a little embarrassingly, then sat up and asked her with concern, "Is she thirsty? Drink water?"

Tina whitened Peter with a glance: "Pour the water upside down."

Peter didn't say much, turned around, and poured two glasses of water over.

He put one of the cups in front of Tina with a "boom", and then handed the other cup to Alyssa: "Drink water."

"Thank you." Alyssa took a sip and asked, "Where is Karl?"

Peter said calmly, "Karl went out for a while, and may be back later."

This was the excuse that Peter and Tina had agreed with just now, saying that they were waiting for Alyssa to ask Karl when she woke up.

Alyssa paused and asked, "What's the matter?"

Although Peter's expression didn't look strange, Alyssa still felt a little weird.

As for the blame, she couldn't tell.

"It seems to be!" Peter hesitated, turning his head to look at Tina, and motioned Tina to explain with his eyes.

He really couldn't make up any reason for a while.

Tina understood, sitting next to Alyssa, with a hint of complaint: "I don't know what's wrong, Alyssa, you don't know the temper of your family. How could he explain so much to others, if not He was reluctant to wake you up because you were sleeping, so he must take you with him."

Alyssa showed a helpless smile, and couldn't help but speak for Karl: "His temper is much better than before."

Tina smiled teasingly: "He belongs to your family, of course you are speaking for him."

Alyssa no longer suspicious, but asked Tina, "Would you like to eat? Karl bought a lot of food, and I will get it for you."

"Okay." Tina said, winking at Peter.

Peter gave her a thumbs up blankly.

Chapter 1139

Although don't want to admit it, it is still women who understand women's minds better.

Peter couldn't come up with a suitable reason for a while, but Tina solved the matter easily in one sentence.

Alyssa took Tina to grab the food, and Peter took the time to call Karl.

As soon as the call was made, Peter thought of something again, hung up the phone and chose to send him a message: "Alyssa woke up and asked, but we successfully fooled her over."

After waiting for a while, before Karl's reply immediately, Peter put the phone aside.

On the other side, Tina followed Alyssa to get snacks.

Opening the snack cabinet, Tina couldn't help being surprised when she saw a cabinet full of snacks: "So many? There was not so much last time."

The last time she came, she also visited Alyssa's snack cabinet, this time it was a lot more than last time.

"He thought it was pretty good, so he bought some," Alyssa mentioned Karl and couldn't help but smile again.

Karl was mainly afraid that she would be bored and bought more snacks for her than for Grace.

In fact, she can't eat much, but Karl has to buy it and keep it at home, saying that if one day she wants to eat it, she will have it anytime.

Tina smiled without saying a word, but when she saw Alyssa taking things out, she stopped her with a loud voice: "Too many."

"It's okay, put it back if you can't finish it." Alyssa continued to take it out.

Alyssa took out a bunch of snacks from the cabinet, and Tina helped her take them to the living room.

Peter didn't wait for Karl's reply. From time to time, he took out his mobile phone and took a look. When Tina and the others came over, he put the mobile phone back in his pocket calmly.

"Can you finish eating so much?" He got up and helped Tina get snacks together.

"I have to finish it?" Tina glanced at him: "Are you a pig?"

Peter twitched his mouth: "Tina, you are a pig."

Tina kicked him directly.

Peter hugged his feet and jumped behind Alyssa: "Alyssa, she hit me."

Alyssa remembered what Tina had said to her that day, with a light smile on her face: "You don't mess with her."

"I didn't mess with her." Peter said with an innocent look.

"Okay, sit down." Alyssa didn't say much.

As soon as she sat down, the cell phone placed aside rang.

Alyssa thought it was Karl who called her, she was overjoyed, and eagerly reached out for her mobile phone.

But after she took the phone, she realized that it wasn't the call from Karl.

Although it was not from Karl, the call was a familiar number.

Alyssa was silent for a while before answering the phone.

"Sister Alyssa." Luther's voice came over the phone.

Hearing Luther's voice again, Alyssa felt mixed in her heart, and only replied, "Yes."

"I heard that you and" Luther said halfway through, and suddenly changed his words and said, "You are in Westberg."

Alyssa replied, "Yes."

Karl came to Westberg not to hide his whereabouts on purpose. Besides, he attended a banquet in Westberg. Many people knew that they had come to Westberg.

It is not surprising that Luther knew about it.

Luther on the other end of the phone was silent for a long time before speaking again: "If it is convenient, I want to come and see you."

Alyssa felt sour in her heart. She and Luther had lived under the same roof for so long, and they were once the closest people.

But now, it's not so easy to even meet.

Chapter 1140

Luther asked carefully, Alyssa could feel that he really just wanted to come and see her.

Although he had given her to Wilfred before, she was actually not angry with him, let alone blame him.

She and Luther lived under one roof for so long, watching him grow from a child to a big boy, knowing that he is a person and that he is not bad.

She just felt that Luther shouldn't betray Karl.

In that huge Adams' family, only Luther was different from Karl.

In Alyssa's heart was full of thoughts for a while, and finally, she slowly responded, "Okay."

It just so happened that Karl was away right now, and she also wanted to know how Luther was doing now, he was still just a child in her heart.

Luther replied: "Yeah."

There are no extra words, but one can hear the joy that cannot be concealed.

"I'll wait for you to come." After Alyssa said, she hung up the phone.

When she answered the phone just now, Tina had been looking at her silently. Tina was so familiar with her, she could easily hear the strangeness in Alyssa's tone.

So she leaned over and asked Alyssa: "Who is it?"

Alyssa didn't mean to conceal it, and said directly, "Luther."

Tina froze for a moment, and asked: "What is he doing?"

Peter on the other side glanced here from time to time, but did not hear clearly, and then asked, "Who?"

Alyssa said Luther's name, then turned around and said to Tina, "He said he wanted to see me."

"That brat?" Peter snorted coldly.

Watching Peter's reaction shows that he has some understanding of what Luther did before, otherwise it would not be this reaction.

Afterwards, Peter said with a look of resentment: "No, not seeing him."

After being glared at by Tina, he had to turn his head silently, pretending to say nothing.

Alyssa stood up and said, "I'll call the front desk and tell them that I have guests."

The system of this hotel is very strict, and foreign personnel must be checked.

After Alyssa called the front desk, she checked the time and found that it was almost four o'clock.

"What the hell is Karl going to do?" It was not too early. Not only did Karl not come back at this moment, but it also seemed strange that he didn't even call her.

Peter just received Karl's reply text message at this time. He was about to speak when he heard Alyssa's cell phone ring.

Alyssa saw the caller's number and found that it was Karl.

She answered the phone and went out and asked him: "When will you be back?"

"The matter here has not been processed yet. Let Peter and Tina accompany you for a while, and I will try my best to come back before dinner." Karl was very quiet over there, his voice was not serious or not, when he said it with a hint of echo.

It should be in a large empty room.

Alyssa didn't think too much: "Well, then you come back soon."

She hesitated for a moment, but still did not tell him that she wanted to see Luther.

Intuitively, she felt that Karl would not want her to see Luther.

Peter on the side saw her hung up, and asked her, "Karl called?"

Alyssa smiled: "Yeah."

After getting Alyssa's affirmative answer, Peter also breathed a sigh of relief, and heard her say to him again: "I didn't tell him that I want to see Luther. I will tell him later."

"â€"

Peter just took out his mobile phone and was about to send a text message to Karl.