

Predestined 1141

Chapter 1141

Peter had to put the phone back silently and smiled, "Okay."

When Karl came back, if he knew about this, he might have to settle accounts with him again.

But he agreed to Alyssa again.

As a human being, the most basic integrity is required.

He is too difficult.

â€¦

Luther was brought by the hotel manager.

When the knock on the door rang, Peter ran to open the door immediately.

"Hello, I am the manager of this hotel. I heard that there are guests from Mrs. Adams, so I helped bring them." The manager said, and looked inside, obviously wanting to see where Alyssa is.

Alyssa went over in a wheelchair: "I'm sorry to trouble you."

But there are still some doubts in his heart, although she and Karl are indeed their distinguished guests, but he personally brought Luther up to see her, it was too much face.

Most likely to see Alyssa's doubts, the manager explained: "The boss has ordered, let me be more concerned about your business."

boss?

Alyssa remembered the day Wilfred came to the door in disguise. Before Wilfred arrived, Karl answered the phone. Then he was not surprised to see Wilfred, as if he had learned the news in advance.

And he also said that he was a group of bodyguards outside the door from Jamie.

Alyssa asked aloud: "Your boss is Mr.?"

Before she said Jamie's name, she was interrupted by the manager. His tone was very natural: "Yes."

Alyssa understood that although this hotel belonged to Jamie, it could not be known by others.

Alyssa didn't ask too much anymore.

Don't know the extent of the friendship between Karl and Jamie, but she thinks the feeling between men is quite strange.

The manager stepped aside, allowing Luther, who was standing behind him, to appear in Alyssa's vision.

Alyssa yelled in dismay, "Luther."

Seeing Luther who was a lot thinner than before, Alyssa felt very complicated.

Still a little sad.

“Sister Alyssa.” Luther’s face was thin, and he barely pulled out a smile, but he still looked very haggard.

Although Luther was in trouble when he was a teenager, the first time they met, Luther ran back from abroad alone and ran into her house by mistake.

But after all, he was born into a wealthy family. He hadn’t suffered at all when he was a child.

Alyssa didn’t know how he had been doing recently, but seeing him like this, she felt very distressed.

Alyssa stepped back aside and said, “Come in and talk.”

Who knows, Luther just shook his head.

Alyssa thought he was afraid of seeing Karl, and quickly said, “Your cousin has gone out.”

She felt sorry for Luther, she hadn’t seen him for so long, and her voice was very gentle.

Luther still shook his head, but his eyes were red at a speed visible to the naked eye.

He turned away his face abruptly, wiped his face rudely with his hands, and then turned his head back, Alyssa smiled: “I won’t come in, I just want to come and see you, you take care and get better soon, Grace needs you, and cousin needs you too.”

Alyssa knew in her heart that after Luther had gone through so many things, it was impossible for him to be as simple as before, and it was understandable to become more sensible.

What is strange is that she actually heard a sense of absolute determination in Luther’s tone.

Alyssa narrowed her expression: “Luther, what’s the matter? Is something wrong? You can tell me what’s the matter.”

Chapter 1142

Peter and Tina stood by Alyssa side by side, and they looked at each other in a tacit understanding, and saw the same doubts in each other’s eyes.

But they only looked at each other for a second, and then each looked away.

“I’m fine, I have to go back to school to go to class.” Luther looked at her with the same smile.

But Alyssa felt even more worried: “Luther”

But Luther leaned over and gave her a light hug.

This hug is heavy and sad.

Soon, he straightened up and said in a relaxed tone: “I’m leaving now.”

After a pause, he said, “Goodbye.”

Alyssa moved her lower lip slightly. Before she could speak, Luther turned and left.

“Luther!” Alyssa called to him from behind.

Luther didn't look back, and while walking forward, he waved his hand, leaving her with a cool back.

Tina leaned over to Alyssa and said, "Let's go into the room."

"Tina, I am a little worried about him." Alyssa's gaze still stopped in the direction where Luther had left, although Luther had long since disappeared.

She always felt that he had something to hide from her.

Tina still tried her best to comfort her, saying, "He said it himself, he has to go back to school, so don't think too much about it."

Alyssa slowly said, "In fact, human intuition is the most accurate thing, especially when it comes to bad things, intuition is more accurate."

"Don't scare yourself." Tina listened to her, feeling a little hairy.

She actually wanted to talk to Luther a little earlier, and she actually liked him, a kid who was good-looking and interesting.

But just now Luther ignored the others, as if he was really just visiting Alyssa.

Back in the room, Alyssa thought about it and still felt uneasy.

Because she always felt that Luther's coming here was not like coming to see her specially, but like coming to bid farewell.

That's right, farewell!

Alyssa was shocked and quickly took out her mobile phone to call Karl.

In her current situation, there is really a limit to what she can do. It would be best if she didn't cause trouble to Karl.

But she really couldn't stop worrying about Luther, so she decided to call Karl.

Karl still had feelings for Luther, if something really happened to him, Karl might not feel better in his heart.

The phone rang several times, but no one answered it.

Karl has always been very active in answering her calls. She felt that Karl might not answer her phone. She turned to Peter and said, "You can call the manager's office for me and let him send someone to follow Luther."

Since Karl had a friendship with Jamie, and Jamie also ordered the people under his hands to take care of her and send someone to help her follow Luther, it shouldn't be embarrassing for them.

She had also seen such a big battle with bodyguards sent by Jamie before.

She hopes that Luther has not gone far.

"Yeah." Peter had been told repeatedly by Karl before, and for Alyssa he would try his best to help her with anything, and directly pick up the phone to help contact the manager.

After Alyssa and Peter finished speaking, the phone she dialed to Karl also happened to hang up automatically because no one answered.

What exactly is Karl up to? He doesn't even answer her phone.

It may be because of Luther's influence, Alyssa now feels whether Karl didn't answer her call because of something.

She turned her head and asked Tina, "Do you know where Karl has gone? I want to find him."

Chapter 1143

Tina shook her head and said blankly: "I don't know, where will he tell us the schedule."

She speaks with confidence and makes no trace of disguise.

Alyssa frowned slightly, and a strange feeling rose in her heart.

When Peter called, he listened to their conversation with one heart and two. After the call, he said to Alyssa, "The matter has been arranged."

Alyssa nodded: "Thank you."

"Thank you, it's not me who does the work." Peter said with a smile.

Alyssa asked Peter again: "Don't you know where Karl has gone?"

"I said before, don't know. Why do our men say these things like mother-in-law? He is too lazy to say it, and I am too lazy to ask." Peter's expression is as natural as Tina's expression, no flaws can be found.

Alyssa was silent for a moment: "Yes."

After a while, Alyssa said quietly: "Although your words seem very credible, I still feel that you are lying to me."

Peter: "â€¦"

Tina: "â€¦"

The two of them were stunned. They worked so hard, still can't hide it?

Alyssa looked at the frozen expressions of the two of them, confirming the thoughts in her heart even more.

Karl said he was going out to do errands, and it was not that simple.

There is no need for Peter and Tina to lie to her like this, that is to say, Karl called them to come and lie to her.

"How could itâ€¦!" The calm tone gradually became guilty.

Alyssa just looked at them with a smile.

Tina stretched out her hand to help her forehead, a little discouraged, as expected, she couldn't talk flustered in front of the familiar.

Tina sighed: "I found that you have been following Karl for a long time, and you have become smarter and more cautious. You are as careful as your heart. It's really hard to hide something from you."

By saying this, she gave up treatment completely.

Continuing to make up excuses and lies will not help, Alyssa will not believe it.

"I just know Karl too much." She didn't blame Peter and Tina. After all, Karl asked them to do this, so how could they refuse Karl.

Tina gave in, and Peter didn't hold on any more: "It is true that Karl came to us, but we really don't know where he went and did what."

Alyssa smiled helplessly: "I probably know what he is doing."

Wilfred pretended to enter the hotel before, but afterwards Karl said that he had already planned, but when she asked, he didn't tell her.

It turned out that this was his plan.

He went to deal with it alone again.

Karl was changing, but he didn't change either.

Alyssa had nothing to do with him, and it was not the time to be angry, she couldn't help Karl in this way.

Karl would make such a plan, also for her safety.

butâ€¦!â€¦!

I can't just leave it like that.

Alyssa pursed her lips and sent a text message to Karl with a little anger: "I will find you after you come back!!!"

The three exclamation marks at the back express her dissatisfaction with his concealed behavior.

Peter asked cautiously: "Then you still go to him?"

It doesn't matter if the matter is exposed, the key is to complete the task that Karl gave him, and not let Alyssa leave the hotel.

"Do you think I'm a stubborn brain, do I want to run out to make trouble at this juncture?" Alyssa looked at Peter blankly.

Peter quickly denied: "No, no."

Chapter 1144

Alyssa has been waiting for Karl at home.

She didn't wait for the news of Karl's return, but first, wait until the people sent by Peter had lost the news of Luther.

“Why did you lose it?” When Alyssa heard the news, she felt a little nervous.

“Don’t worry too much, I’m sending someone out now, the problem shouldn’t be big.” Although Peter was comforting Alyssa, he realized in his heart that Luther might really have something to hide.

At this time, a voice came from the TV: “Now we are interrupting a piece of news, a big fire broke out in a villa in the suburbs!”

Alyssa raised her head and glanced at the TV. This kind of news happened every day. She didn’t pay much attention to it, but picked up the remote control and lowered the sound.

She called Karl and Luther again, but no one answered them.

“I want to go out to find Luther.” She was not so worried about Karl. She believed that Karl could take care of himself. He has such an ability. In contrast, she was more worried about Luther.

Luther was young and has matured a bit over the past two years, but his ability to handle things was definitely not as good as Karl’s.

Besides, it’s still at this juncture!

“You are crazy! How are you going to look for him!” Tina said in disapproval.

Alyssa looked down at her legs, and said discouragedly: “If my legs were good now, it would be great.”

Peter suggested: “Are you hungry? Why not eat something first.”

Alyssa shook her head, now she has no intention of eating.

Time passed by, and the closer it was to dinner time, the more restless she became.

But after thinking about it, she felt that it would be bad for Tina and Peter to be anxious with her, so she said, “Then let’s go to the restaurant to eat something.”

“Okay!” Peter was bored in the room all afternoon and was a little tired. Anyway, he didn’t leave the hotel, just went to the restaurant.

Tina knew Alyssa’s thoughts and had no objection, but she still couldn’t help but glanced at Peter, and said, “I know how to eat!”

Peter retorted: “Food is the heaven for the people!”

Tina didn’t bother to talk to him.

Alyssa went to the restaurant with them.

After sitting down, Peter and Tina gathered to order food, but Alyssa’s cell phone rang at this moment.

Alyssa was overjoyed, thinking it was Karl or Luther who had called.

But she took out her mobile phone and found it was a strange number.

“Alyssa.” A hoarse and weird voice came from the phone, and it was obvious that the caller was using a voice changer.

“Who are you?”

Alyssa’s voice was full of vigilance, which attracted the attention of Peter on the side.

Peter stopped ordering, raised his head and patted Alyssa’s arm, motioning her to turn on the handsfree.

There were only three of them in the box, and Alyssa turned on the hands-free without hesitation.

“If you want Luther to survive, just do what I say.” The person on the phone hung up after speaking.

Hearing Luther’s name, Alyssa’s expression changed: “Hello? What’s wrong with Luther?”

But the person on the other end of the phone has hung up and did not give her any answer.

Putting down the phone, Alyssa murmured: “I knew something would happen.”

“Alyssa, don’t do stupid things.” Tina felt bad, she knew that Alyssa had a good relationship with Luther.

Alyssa shook her head and smiled reluctantly: “I won’t do stupid things.”

Tina didn’t believe her, and gave Peter a wink. Peter understood her meaning very tacitly. He reached out and snatched Alyssa’s mobile phone: “Leave this to us.”

Chapter 1145

Alyssa did not expect that they would snatch her phone directly.

She froze for a moment, then said helplessly: “I really can’t do stupid things! Give me the phone.”

Tina smiled at her, then shook her head.

“Just as I am now, I can’t do anything stupid.” Alyssa looked down at her legs.

“You can stand up and walk now, who knows if you will sneak out while we are not paying attention.”

Tina pointed to her own eyes: “My eyes have seen you through, don’t think about lying to me.”

Buzzing–

Alyssa’s phone vibrated.

“There is new notification, take a look!” Alyssa was anxious and wanted to get her mobile phone when she got up.

Of course Tina didn’t give her a chance to get her mobile phone, and pushed Alyssa back on the chair:

“Sit down, don’t move.”

Tina clicked on a new message, but found that it was a photo.

The picture of Luther knelt on the ground with a numb expression. He was still wearing the clothes that Alyssa had seen before. There was no blood on his body, but this did not prove that he was not injured.

Alyssa's heart suddenly mentioned, and after a brief panic in her mind, she said firmly, "It must be Wilfred!"

Peter and Tina turned to look at her respectively.

Alyssa slowly clenched her hands, and said coldly: "Wilfred has been running into a wall here, and he used Luther who was close to Karl as a breakthrough point. He can use Luther once or use his first time. Twice."

However, this time Wilfred was threatening Luther with no way of knowing.

The atmosphere on the dining table dropped to freezing point.

At this moment, the box door was pushed open from outside, and Peter was the first to see the people coming in.

He stood up, his tone of excitement couldn't be concealed: "Karl!"

Karl looked cold, and walked straight to Alyssa.

When talking to Alyssa, his expression eased a little: "You called me several times, and you also sent a message saying that you want to settle accounts. I'm back. You can settle accounts now."

"You are injured!" Alyssa noticed the gauze tied on his forehead.

"Small injury." Karl's complexion was calm.

He thought that Alyssa would follow up on his injury, but Alyssa's expression changed and she grabbed his arm and said, "Luther has something wrong, he came to me, and I asked someone to follow him, but"

Peter handed the mobile phone to Karl.

Karl took the phone and saw the photo on it, and his expression changed.

"I'll go with you." Alyssa knew that Karl would not ignore Luther's affairs, and pulled him tighter for fear that he would leave her alone.

Karl put down the phone and stroked the top of his hair twice to soothe his emotions.

"You take me with you, I won't cause you trouble, I'll just stay obedient." She didn't want to wait in the hotel for news by herself, every minute of it was torture.

"Okay." Karl lowered his eyes and said in a very calm tone: "You can eat something before leaving."

"I'm not hungry!" Alyssa is worried about Luther now, and has no intention of eating at all.

Karl just stared at her with a calm expression, but with a trace of unwillingness to refuse, Alyssa fell silent and said nothing.

He was able to take her with him, he had already made a step backward, even if he went to find Luther, he still wanted her to fill up her stomach first.

Chapter 1146

When Alyssa was eating, Karl called and ordered her to find someone.

While eating, she turned her head from time to time to look at Karl.

After receiving Karl's warning eyes, she silently retracted her gaze, eating seriously and stopped looking at him.

After making a few calls, Karl said to Peter and Tina, "You can go now."

"When it's useless, start chasing people." Peter said with a cold snort.

Karl glanced at him faintly: "Can you go?"

Peter: "I go."

No way, who would let him do nothing but Karl?

Tina on the side stood up at this moment: "Alyssa, I'm leaving now, and I'm going to make a call."

Karl had already returned. With him, Alyssa didn't need her here. As for Luther's whereabouts, no one should be able to find him faster than Karl.

Tina left after speaking. Peter complained about Karl again, and followed her straight up.

After they left, Alyssa took the time to ask Karl: "Where is Wilfred?"

"Gone where he should go."

Karl was not surprised at all, Alyssa would guess what he did, without a trace of surprise in his tone.

Alyssa frowned. What's the difference between saying this and not saying?

"Eat, don't think about it." Karl took the chopsticks and gave Alyssa some food.

After that, while Alyssa was eating, Karl's cell phone rang several times.

She was worried about Luther's safety and ate very fast, so she just wanted to find Luther quickly.

Although Karl was dissatisfied that she was eating in such a hurry, he could understand her mood, but he didn't say much.

After a quick meal, Alyssa followed Karl out.

Karl drove and stopped in front of an apartment in the city center.

"Sir, young lady." As soon as the car stopped, Smith came over.

He led people to search for Luther's whereabouts, and took care of everything before Karl came.

Seeing Alyssa coming with him, he was still a little surprised.

“Where are people?” Karl got out of the car and asked Smith while helping Alyssa get her wheelchair.

Smith said: “In the room, I sent someone to watch.”

Karl always feels relieved when Smith does things.

He gave a cold “um”.

Alyssa heard this and asked Smith: “Can you be sure that Luther is safe now?”

“The situation inside is not clear for the time being, but it is certain that he is inside.” Smith said.

Alyssa didn’t ask anymore, quietly letting Karl push her in.

They took the elevator upstairs, and when they came out, they saw people standing in the hallway looking like bodyguards, but there was no sound.

Karl raised his hand and signaled that they could break into the door.

The next moment, a bodyguard broke in.

Karl and Alyssa went in behind.

The apartment was empty except for a comatose woman strapped to a chair in the middle of the room.

“Why is it a woman?” Alyssa asked aloud first: “Where is Luther?”

Smith didn’t expect this to happen, so he explained with a serious expression: “I saw him coming in from the monitor pole.”

Karl looked gloomy: “Monitoring can be fake.”

His complexion changed slightly from time to time.

He thought that Luther was here, but in the end it was nothing.

At this moment, Karl suddenly walked towards the person tied to the chair.

Alyssa felt that Karl’s reaction was a little strange, and she turned the wheel of the wheelchair and slid over.

Chapter 1147

Alyssa followed and was stopped by Karl.

Afterwards, he said to his men: “Fetch a basin of water.”

Smith hurriedly said to the man standing next: “Go.”

Soon, someone hit the water, and Karl looked at the woman who was still in a coma and said, “Wake her up.”

The woman is in a coma, so she has been hanging her head feebly.

The pot of water splashed down, but did not wake up immediately, Karl said coldly: “Pour it again.”

Alyssa looked up at Karl, and said, "I think her figure looks familiar."

"It's her." Karl was still staring at the woman.

is her?

"Who is it?" Alyssa's current memory is still not very good. She is not a person who often appears in front of her, it is difficult for her to remember who it is.

Another pot poured down.

At this time, the unconscious woman finally woke up quietly.

She slowly raised her head, revealing a weak and blank face.

After seeing the person in front of her clearly, she was at a loss for a moment, and then showed a horrified expression: "Karl!"

"Why are you here? You caught me. What happened to Luther?" Then the woman went into madness, yelling out of control.

Luther!

Alyssa recognized her and murmured her name: "Lina."

Luther's mother, Lina.

She is also Gerald's mother.

Everyone said that Karl was ruthless and cruel, but when he faced the two culprits who killed his mother, he still didn't kill them.

His father, Trevor, was paralyzed in a wheelchair, and Lina was sent to a mental sanatorium.

This is the biggest concession Karl can make.

"Where is Luther? Where is Luther? You return Luther to me!" Lina continued to yell.

After she finished roaring, she murmured again: "And my Gerald, Karl, and Gerald have the best relationship, do you know where Gerald is? I haven't seen him in a long time!"

Lina spoke upside down, just a few words over and over again.

Either talk about Gerald or talk about Luther.

In this way, it is really crazy.

Karl looked at Lina with cold eyes, his expression was as cold as frost.

Even so, he is still giving orders to his subordinates: "All the houses upstairs and downstairs should be searched, and Luther must be found by digging three feet."

Hearing Luther's name, Lina looked towards Karl and asked with bright eyes, "Luther."

Alyssa held Karl's hand and gently called his name: "Karl."

After all, Lina was also the perpetrator who harmed his mother. Seeing Lina again would definitely make him feel uncomfortable.

Karl held Alyssa's hand back, "Take it away."

When he turned to look at Alyssa, his expression had already eased a lot: "Let's go."

Alyssa nodded.

The follow-up here is left to Smith.

Karl pushed Alyssa out and walked out of the apartment. Only after she asked Karl, "Will Luther be okay?"

Karl said coldly: "Without my permission, if he dares to have an accident, I will break his leg."

Alyssa was stunned for a moment, and then laughed in a low voice: "Well, he listens to you the most, there will be no accidents."

It turned out that Karl had already forgiven Luther.

He grew up watching Luther, and his life experience is similar to him. Karl still has kindness in his heart, he has empathy, and his feelings for Luther are deep and complicated.

Chapter 1148

Whether an event will have a good result is actually a premonition.

Alyssa sat in front of the window, a little lost.

At this moment, someone opened the door of the hotel and walked in from outside.

She turned her head to see that Smith was the one who came in.

"Sir." Smith walked to Karl.

Smith's complexion was not so good, Alyssa could almost guess what he was going to say next.

Karl had brought her back first, and Smith stayed behind to find Luther with his men, and brought Lina back by the way.

Smith paused, and continued: "Not found."

Karl seemed to have already guessed that this would be the result, with a gloomy face without speaking.

"Bring her in." Karl turned his head and looked at Smith: "Continue to send people to look for them."

Smith responded: "Understood."

Then Lina came in.

Lina cowered, her pale face was full of anxiety, and her vigilant eyes swept back and forth on Karl and Alyssa.

“Where is Luther?” Lina looked around in a panic, and suddenly grasped Smith tightly again: “Didn’t you say you brought me to see Luther?”

Smith frowned, didn’t even look at Lina, and only explained to Karl aloud: “She didn’t want to come with us before.”

Lina’s mind was no longer normal, but still remembered her son, Smith could only use this reason to lie to her.

Alyssa also knew about Karl sending Lina to the mental hospital, but she had never seen Lina going crazy before.

Looking at Lina like this, she had mixed feelings.

After a moment of silence, Alyssa took a step towards Lina.

She walked very slowly, and when she reached Lina, she asked aloud: “Who brought you out of the mental hospital?”

Lina just stared at Alyssa blankly without speaking.

Alyssa didn’t expect to be able to ask anything from Lina. She walked over to Karl and sat down, calmly analyzing: “When Luther came to see me in the afternoon, there was something wrong, as if saying goodbye to me. Yes, and his mother is here now. I suspect that someone might threaten him with his mother.”

“Wilfred is desperate now. He threatened Luther once, and he can threaten him a second time. But when Luther came to see me, he didn’t say anything. He should be ready to bear everything himself!”

After Alyssa came back from the apartment, she thought about it, still thinking that it was Wilfred’s ghost.

Karl raised his eyes to look at her and shook his head: “It’s not Wilfred.”

“Why?” Except for Wilfred, she couldn’t think of anyone else.

Karl explained: “All afternoon, Wilfred was within my sight.”

“Did you negotiate with Wilfred?” After Karl came back, she had not had the opportunity to ask about Wilfred.

“Where is he qualified to negotiate with me.” Karl curled the corners of his lips without any warmth and stood up.

He walked to Alyssa’s body and naturally held her hand, letting her use her strength to lean on him, so that she would stand more relaxed.

Then, he raised his eyes to look at Lina: “Have you seen Trevor?”

Lina still had the dull expression, but the panic that flashed in her eyes still did not escape Karl’s eyes.

Karl’s hand hanging beside him tightened unconsciously, “I see.”

Alyssa suddenly understood what he asked about Trevor.

She turned her head to look at Karl: "You mean?"

"Yes, it's him." Karl's expression became gloomy.

Chapter 1149

Alyssa continued to ask: "How could it be him? Isn't he inconvenient? How could he run out, take Lina away, and threaten Luther?"

Karl looked down at her, and asked her calmly, "What if someone helps him?"

Alyssa was stunned and asked him: "Who?"

"Then what is his purpose? Is it to?" Alyssa noticed Karl's expression before whispering to say the next few words: "Get revenge on you?"

Karl reached out and touched her head: "It's late, let's rest. I'll take care of the rest."

"I'll be with you." Alyssa hurriedly held his hand.

Karl said quietly: "Watch."

He said so, Alyssa had to turn around and return to the bedroom.

She walked to the bedroom door, and when she looked back, she saw Karl sitting opposite Lina. The two sat facing each other in silence, standing by the side was Smith.

Alyssa hesitated by the door, and pushed the door into the bedroom.

After washing and lying on the bed, Alyssa was still a little uneasy, so she opened the door and looked out, but the hall was empty.

In the study.

Lina sat on the chair, curled her neck, and buried her head low, as if she was very afraid of Karl.

Karl sat opposite her, tapping with his long fingers on the armrest.

Suddenly, he stopped tapping his fingers on the armrest, and slowly opened his lips: "Luther is not his son. Do you help him like this because you think he will treat your son well?"

Lina was obviously stiff while sitting in the chair, but she still lowered her head and said nothing.

The corner of Karl's lips made a cold arc: "Then you will stay in the mental hospital. This time, stay for the rest of your life without coming out."

At this moment, Lina suddenly said, "hypocritical!"

Karl did not speak, but looked at her calmly, waiting for her to continue speaking.

Lina said bitterly, "You and Alyssa are hypocritical! If you really care about Luther's life and death, when Alyssa received a text message before, he should go to the place stated in the text message without saying a word."

"What about after she went there?" Karl stared at Lina with a cold expression: "Trevor will catch her and use her to threaten me, or let her encounter what Mom has encountered to achieve this. You retaliate for my purpose."

"Youâ€¦!" Lina trembled at Karl's eyes.

She hadn't seen Karl for a long time, nor had she spoken to him again, Karl had not changed at all, he was still as ruthless as before.

Karl said with a sigh, "After so many years, you really haven't made any progress at all."

But his eyes looked bitterly cold and chilling.

Lina trembled and said, "You killed Gerald."

"I didn't, he deserves to die!" Karl roared.

"Iâ€¦!" Lina burst into tears, and was too scared to speak.

After a while, she cried and said, "Gerald was my child."

"Where is Mom?" Karl suddenly curled his lips and smiled, with a sullen expression: "When Mom was alive, and, you were the best, you should miss her very much, I will take you Go and see her."

"What are you going to do? Are you crazy too? Sandra died a long time ago!" Lina shuddered and shook her head, "She is already dead!"

With that said, she was about to run out straight, but was stopped by Smith.

Chapter 1150

When Lina was stopped by Smith, he frantically struggled: "Let go of me! I don't want to die! I don't want to see Sandra."

Sandra is the name of Karl's mother.

Sandra was already dead, but Karl said that he was going to take her to see Sandra. He definitely wanted to kill her. She didn't want to die.

Karl showed impatience: "Let her be quiet."

Smith cut Lina's hands back together, covered her mouth, and pushed her back on the chair.

Lina shook her head and struggled hard, but her body was weak, and she didn't have much strength, and it was impossible to escape from Smith's hands.

Karl said coldly, "You are afraid to see her."

Lina couldn't make a sound, but kept running water.

Karl stared at her, feeling she was extremely strange.

This woman is his aunt. When he was a child, she was very gentle to him, and he also treated her as a relative.

She is cowardly and stupid, and she has done harm to others.

â€

When Alyssa woke up, the sky was just getting bright.

She habitually stretched out her hand towards the position next to her, but when she stretched out her hand, she realized that there was no one beside her, which made Alyssa, who had not completely returned to the cage, wake up suddenly.

The place next to her was not only empty, but also cold, indicating that the person who should have been sleeping here got up early or never came back to sleep.

Alyssa was shocked, and quickly sat up from the bed and checked the time. It was only after six o'clock.

She got out of bed and walked out the door, preparing to find Karl.

The curtains in the hall were not closed. Even though the lights were not turned on in the living room, things could still be seen clearly, but it was darker than during the day.

Alyssa looked at the study directly. She guessed that Karl might have been in the study, but when she was about to lift her foot, she saw a person sitting on the sofa after a glance.

It was Karl.

He sat motionless on the sofa, with no movement and no sound, so Alyssa did not find him the first time.

Alyssa called out tentatively, "Karl?"

Her voice was very small, but the hall was also very quiet, and her voice was enough for Karl to hear.

After a few seconds, Karl slowly turned back to look at her.

Only then did Alyssa see his face and the scarlet eyes on his face.

"What's the matter?" Alyssa hurriedly walked towards him.

She stood in front of him, touched the new stubble on his chin, and asked him, "Did you not sleep at night?"

He raised his eyes and looked around. When she went back to the room last night, Smith and Lina were still there, and she didn't know where they were now.

Feeling her hand tightened, Alyssa recovered, it was Karl who held her hand.

"What's the matter?" Alyssa held his hand instead and looked down at him.

Karl looked particularly bad.

Alyssa frowned, "You are very worrying like this."

"Wilfred has confessed everything. I know where she is, but I dare not meet her." Karl's voice was extremely hoarse, trembling slightly, revealing undisguised fragility.

Alyssa's heart was shocked: "You said she is your mother?"

Karl nodded silently.

Alyssa had never seen Karl like this, so fragile that he was about to collapse in the next second.

In other words, he has begun to collapse.

Looking at him like this, Alyssa couldn't help but flushed her eyes, feeling like a knife.

She calmed down, squatted down in front of him, and said carefully and gently: "I'll accompany you."
