Chapter 1261

Annie was also the one who went through the incident. She knew that Tina's reaction was to show that she did not accept her apology.

When she first took over Tina, she felt that Tina had good conditions in all aspects, she was beautiful and had acting skills, and Peter, a backer, would sooner or later become popular. She must be very arrogant and might not be easy to get along with.

But what surprised her was that Tina not only had a good personality, but she also trusted her extraordinarily. It was she who had failed Tina's trust in her.

"Although I won't be your agent in the future, if you need me for anything, I will still be obliged to help you." Annie knew that no amount of apology was enough, it would be better to be practical.

Tina was startled and looked up at her.

Annie sighed slightly: "Mr. Grant said that in the future your affairs will be fully managed by him."

A sarcasm flashed through Tina's eyes: "He moves very fast."

She could guess that Peter would personally take over all her affairs in the future, but she didn't expect Annie to be taken down so soon.

"Tina"

Tina interrupted Annie: "I'm not angry with you, I know you have your ideas, I have to leave beforehand."

Annie looked at Tina's leaving back, with a dejected expression.

Tina first went back to her residence and changed her clothes, then drove out and went to the jewelry store to buy a birthday present for Grant's mother.

Yesterday, she took care of Mom's circle of friends and bought a new coat. Tina picked her a pair of earrings to match the coat.

The Weber family and Grant family are family friends and neighbors.

After Tina drove back, she didn't go back to her home, but went straight to Grant's house.

Before entering the door of Grant's house, she heard the noise inside.

Whether it's Peter's parents or Tina's parents, they will call many friends for their birthdays every year. Most of them like to have fun when they are older.

In addition to birthdays, every year, whether it is a traditional domestic holiday or a Western holiday, they also find friends to gather together.

All of them are not as good as old people.

Someone saw her as soon as Tina entered.

“That girl from the Weber family is here.”

“I haven’t seen her for a long time, so beautiful!”

The friendship between the Grant family and the Weber family for decades, the two social circles overlapped greatly, and most of the Grant family’s guests also knew Tina.

Tina called “Uncle, Auntie, Uncle, and Auntie” all the way, and finally passed through the courtyard to the entrance of the hall.

She breathed a long sigh of relief. Aunt Tami came out with her wine, and she was happy when she saw Tina, “Tina.”

Aunt Tami worked as a servant in Grant’s family when she was very young, and she had a good relationship with Grant’s family, and she naturally knew Tina.

Tina greeted her with a smile, and called out, “Auntie.”

The smile on Aunt Tami’s face deepened, and she said kindly: “You go in quickly, Madam and your mother are talking inside.”

“OK.”

Tina raised her foot and walked inside. As expected, she saw Melba and Jodi sitting together talking.

“Mom, Auntie.” Tina walked directly towards them.

When Melba saw Tina, she stood up and said, “How come?”

“I went to buy a gift for Grant’s mother.” Tina said, holding the gift box and walked to Peter’s mother Jodi.

Jodi was looking at Tina just now, and Tina approached, Jodi said with a distressed expression, “Tina looks thin.”

“No, I eat a lot.” Although she has lost weight because of her busy work this month, she refuses to admit it, and she feels even more distressed when she admits to her mother.

Chapter 1262

Jodi wanted to say something more, but Tina took the lead.

She handed the box to Jodi: “Auntie, I brought you a birthday gift. Open it and take a look.”

Jodi couldn’t help smiling. She had forgotten what she was about to say, and took the box, pretending to be angry and said, “You kid, you’ll be back when you come back, why are you still shopping?”

Melba also came over: “Hurry up and take a look.”

Although Jodi said that she was cold, she was not happy when she received the gift.

She opened the outer packaging, saw the logo on the earring box inside, frowned slightly: "Buy such an expensive thing again."

"Not expensive."

Compared with the jewelry Jodi usually buys, these earrings bought by Tina are indeed not expensive, but Jodi loves her very much. She always feels that it is very hard to be an actress. She lives outside by herself, knowing that she didn't ask questions very early. The family is asking for money, and she is always worried that her life will be bad.

Jodi didn't say any more, and opened the box.

After seeing the earrings inside, her eyes lit up: "It's so beautiful, it should look good with my outfit."

The clothes Jodi wore today were the ones Tina had seen before in her circle of friends.

"I'll put it on for you." Tina said inquisitively at Jodi.

Jodi said with a smile, "Okay."

After wearing it, she looked left and right in the mirror, very satisfied: "It looks so good, thank you Tina."

Tina nodded: "I also think it looks good."

"Mom." Peter didn't know when he came back.

Tina paused, and soon looked back at Peter with a natural expression: "You are back."

The eyes of the two mothers are very precise, and she has to behave more naturally so that they won't find anomalies.

"Yeah." Peter only stopped for two seconds on Tina's face, then turned to Melba: "Auntie."

His expression is more natural than the somber expression.

"Mom, the earrings are beautiful." Peter tilted his head and looked at the earrings on Jodi's ears.

Jodi smiled: "Tina bought it for me."

"Oh, Tina is quite willing." Peter glanced at Tina with a smile.

Tina curled her lips, and smiled at him without a smile, then quickly retracted her gaze: "Mom, I'm going to the bathroom."

She was afraid of staying any longer and could not help but violently beat Peter.

Tina always behaved very naturally, and the two mothers found no abnormalities. As soon as she left, Jodi turned her head to look behind Peter.

"What are you looking at?" Peter also glanced behind him.

"You came back alone?" Jodi's smile faded, frowning and looking at him.

Peter spread his hands: "Otherwise?"

Jodi said angrily: "You are in your 30s, and you can't even find a wife. Why are you coming back?"

Peter: "â€¦!"

Every time he came back, he had to face questions from the soul of his mother.

But what can he do, he can only listen.

Melba couldn't help but laugh: "Jodi, don't talk about Peter like that. He is not too old. Don't worry about this kind of thing. Our Tina will soon be 30 too, so he is not in a hurry."

"How can this stinky boy in our family be the same as Tina? Tina is an actor. She is now in a rising career. It is normal to get married late. What career does this stinky boy in my family have?"

"Peter has such a big entertainment company under his hands, why doesn't he have a career, he is also very hard."

"Boys should have worked harder."

"â€¦!"

Peter turned around to sneak away while the two wives were chatting in full swing.

Unexpectedly, he was stopped by the sharp-eyed Jodi: "Stop!"

"mom?"

"I'm going out to entertain guests. You wait for Tina here."

"OK." Peter couldn't ask for this errand.

Chapter 1263

When Tina came out of the bathroom, she saw Peter guarding the door.

He was leaning against the wall with one leg slightly bent, and his hands were copied into the pockets of his suit pants. He looked very loose, but he was not impatient.

Tina couldn't help but remember that when she was in school, Peter would wait for her every time after school. He was not a good student and would often wait for her at the door of her classroom in advance.

Every time she came out of school, she could see him at the door of the classroom.

At that time, she was just like this sloppy and patient.

Peter is a lively person. At that time, he called his friends to go out in groups during the holidays.

He is two years older than Tina, and he is a group of boys. Sometimes he would go to places where only adults can enter. Naturally, he can't take Tina with him. At this time, he would send her home first.

For them at that time, it was just a trivial matter in their daily lives.

But now that things have passed, they think about it again, and they know how precious that time is.

Peter knew that Tina would settle accounts with him, but when she came out, she stared at him in a daze, and didn't know what she was thinking, so he couldn't help frowning.

"What's in a daze?"

The anger in Tina's heart was soothed by memories.

She was actually stingy, but the memories were too gentle, she really couldn't get angry with Mr. Grant.

"Tell me the Twitter password." Tina said in a calm tone: "Should it be more than the Twitter password? There are other social account passwords also tell me all."

Peter is a man with a lot of ghosts and eyes. In addition to Twitter, she can also make official announcements on other social platforms. He must have changed the password of other social accounts.

Peter's brow furrowed deeper, and his tone was too calm based on his understanding of Tina.

He is ready to accept the cold anger.

Tina urged him: "Hurry up."

Tina is so beautiful, the most beautiful are those eyes, which are like a swath of lake water. At first glance, they feel like tenderness and calm, but there is a bitterness hidden in the bottom of the lake.

Such a pair of eyes, when staring at people with a trace of anger, also gives people a feeling of affection.

Whether he was a child or now, he always has no resistance to her eyes.

Peter couldn't help but curl his lips, a soft touch flashed under his eyes, and there were cautiousness and temptation hidden in his smiling voice: "I tell you the password, so you won't be angry?"

Tina smiled: "Yes."

That's it!

She looked a little angry at Peter's guilty conscience.

Peter breathed a sigh of relief: "I knew that our miss Weber is the best."

As he spoke, he put his hand on Tina's shoulder shamelessly.

Tina handed the phone to him without saying a word.

â€¦

After Jodi greeted the guests in a circle, she turned around and saw Peter taking a small cake and putting it on the plate in front of Tina. Tina took a bite and put it on Peter's plate. It probably didn't suit her appetite. Peter just picked it up. Put it into his own mouth.

Jodi looked at it and couldn't help but smile.

She stretched out her hand and pulled Melba to the side: "Melba, do you think that this stinky guy in my family is standing with Tina, he is quite right?"

Melba looked at it carefully for a moment, then nodded: "Peter, this child is a good one."

After a pause, Melba was a little puzzled and said to Jodi: "Jodi, you said that Peter and our Tina are childhood sweethearts, right? Why can't there be any sparks?"

Chapter 1264

Melba actually likes Peter, but Peter has had a lot of scandals before. If you look at Peter from the perspective of her son-in-law, she feels unqualified about him, but Peter has become more stable in recent years.

In addition, Peter and Tina grew up together, it would be nice if the two could be together.

Although Peter had too many scandals a few years ago, Melba was a little prejudiced against him, but Peter was the child she grew up watching. She knew that his nature was not bad. He was very good to Tina when he was a child. If they are together, Tina must be happy.

"Who said no." Jodi also sighed.

Immediately, she approached Melba with a mysterious look: "Melba, Peter hasn't been in a relationship in recent years, and blind dates are gone. I heard that there are many boys and boys in the entertainment industry. You said that my Peter is not the same, right?"

Melba was stunned for a moment before realizing what Jodi meant: "What are you thinking about? Peter has been stable in the past few years, there is no affair, and his career is booming. Young people have young people's ideas. Don't think about it."

"But I always think that Peter might really like me!" Jodi thought of this possibility and felt extremely complicated.

Tina was going to come over to toast Jodi, but she accidentally heard the conversation between the two.

She stood there thinking for three seconds, but still couldn't decide. If they questioned her about Peter's love life, how would she answer?

Can't you say that Peter has been pursuing her for the past few years?

At the same time, Tina also strengthened the thoughts in her heart, and must think of a perfect way to make Peter give up on her.

Tina thought about something in her heart, and when she turned around, she almost ran into Peter who was standing behind her.

She was taken aback: "What are you doing!"

With a glass of champagne in his hand, Peter smiled at the corner of his eyes, and said slowly, "Look at you eavesdropping on Mom and Auntie."

"I just heard it accidentally." Tina walked around them and planned to find something to eat. She had just eaten something, but now she still feels a little hungry, and she has to find something to eat.

At this moment, Jodi came over.

“Peter, Tina.”

Tina turned around.

Jodi took her hand and said with a smile: “Tonight, our second half is a dance party. Later I want you to have the first dance with Peter, okay?”

Tina didn’t say anything, and directly agreed: “Okay.”

Jodi treats her very well, and today is Jodi’s birthday. She must agree to this small request.

“Then you guys get ready.” Jodi was very happy, humming, and walked away.

â€¦

The ball in the second half was held indoors, and Tina went back and changed her clothes.

When she came over, she saw Peter waiting for her at the door of the villa.

Peter saw her coming and silently stretched out her hand.

Tina paused, thinking that she was just going to dance, so she stretched out her hand.

However, before she put her hand on Peter’s, she was interrupted by the whistle of the car.

Beep–

A car stopped sharply in front of the two of them.

The next moment, the car door opened.

Cathy got out of the car, her hair was a bit messy, her forehead was wounded, and some blood oozes from her white coat. Although embarrassed, she looked weak and pitiful.

When she saw Tina, a flash of surprise flashed on her face.

“Mr. Grant, I brought you the phone.” Cathy took her gaze away from Tina and handed the phone to Peter.

Chapter 1265

Peter didn’t answer the phone, and asked with a calm face, “Where is Rubin?”

Rubin is Peter’s assistant. He had forgotten to bring his mobile phone back from the company before. This is not the first time he had forgotten to bring his mobile phone. Rubin would send it to him.

Today is his mother’s birthday, and Rubin also knows that he will naturally send his mobile phone to his home.

But the person who came to give the phone was not Rubin, but Cathy.

Cathy’s expression was slightly stunned: “Assistant Rubin’s wife is pregnant, I just met him, so I helped him run over.”

Peter’s expression turned slightly awkward when she said that.

Rubin handled things properly and never made mistakes in such trivial matters. It was understandable that Cathy had to send him a mobile phone in a hurry to do such an unreliable thing.

“What’s the matter with your head?” Peter raised his chin slightly and pointed at Cathy’s forehead which was still soaked in blood.

“I encountered a car rear-ending on the road and accidentally ran into it,” Cathy said and smiled, as if she didn’t care.

Peter frowned. Although he had used Cathy to stimulate his cool thoughts before, he paid more attention to Cathy, but in his heart, she was only Cathy, and she was totally incomparable to Tina.

But after all, it was an artist from his own company, who brought him a mobile phone to catch up. He should take care of it in every sense and reason. But now Jodi asked him to dance with Tina.

Peter turned to look at Tina, but Jodi found him at this moment.

Jodi hurriedly took a look here and walked over, without noticing that there was Cathy.

“Peter, Tina, it’s time for you to dance, are you still here? I said you’re here, is this?”

After approaching, Jodi saw Cathy.

Jodi looked at Peter with a look of doubt.

“Auntie, let’s go in first.” The silent Tina took Jodi’s arm and said with a smile: “I haven’t seen Auntie dance for a long time. It’s good for you and uncle to dance together!”

Jodi could also see that Cathy had something to do with Peter, so she didn’t ask anymore, and smiled and said to Tina, “Let’s go.”

Cathy looked at the backs of Jodi and Tina leaving, and a glint flashed in her eyes: “Mr. Grant, was that lady your mother just now?”

“Yeah.” Peter glanced at her, his face impatient: “You come with me.”

He was going to dance with Tina. Cathy directly made him unable to dance, but she was also injured in order to give him a mobile phone. He would not be angry at her if he was impatient.

Cathy could feel Peter’s impatience, and followed him with low eyebrows, without asking any more questions.

She had only heard people say before that Peter also had money in his family, and she just saw that Jodi was so well maintained and so temperamental, it seemed that she couldn’t be wrong.

If you can marry Peter, you will be married to a wealthy family. Where can you still use it in the entertainment circle to get rid of people?

Peter took her into the house and asked the servant to help her with medicine. He looked at the phone and was too lazy to take a look at her.

As soon as he arrived in the house, Jodi asked Tina, "Who was that little girl just now?"

Tina replied: "The artist in the company."

"Then how does she know the address of our home? Come to find Peter?" Jodi already had a trace of anger on her face.

Tina knew that Jodi probably thought Peter was messing around in the company.

This is also to blame for Peter's previous bad reviews.

Although if, Tina explained for Peter: "She seems to have brought him the mobile phone. His assistant's wife is about to give birth, so he requested this girl to help bring it over."

Chapter 1266

"It turned out to be like this." Jodi's complexion looked better now.

Tina raised her head and glanced not far away: "Uncle Grant is waiting for you, let's go first."

"It was for you and Peter to dance the first dance." Jodi's tone was rather regretful.

She discussed this with Melba. Originally, she wanted to bring Tina and Peter together, but Cathy broke the plan. This is probably not fate.

â€¦

The banquet hall is very lively, dancing and chatting.

Today is Peter's mother's birthday, and it is also the home of his parents.

Tina sat in the corner drinking wine, looking at the entrance of the banquet hall from time to time.

Does the last medicine take so long?

How long has this been since?

The longer the time, the more anxious Tina felt, drinking unconsciously.

Don't know how long it took, she drank dizzy and wanted to get up and go to the bathroom.

As a result, the body staggered, and the whole person leaned back.

The expected pain did not come, and she fell into a broad chest.

The next moment, the familiar breath that made her depend on lingered on the tip of her nose.

"How much did you drink?" Peter's voice was low, with a hint of displeasure.

Tina was dizzy and weak, and her voice was soft and without a trace of deterrence: "It's up to me to drink as much as I want."

A man's low laughter came to the ear: "You are still so fierce after drinking it like this, Tina, I tell you, I'm the only one who doesn't despise you."

Tina drank too much, her reaction was a little slow, and she slowly digested her words, just about to speak, Jodi came over.

“Why did Tina drink so much? Peter, please send her to the room to rest!”

Tina resisted and struggled: “Auntie, I can still drink!”

Melba did not know when she was here, and knocked on the cold head: “You can be honest with me.”

Tina pouted, snorted dissatisfiedly, and stopped making noise.

“Melba, Tina has drunk like this, let her rest in our house!”

“Good job.”

It was bright outside the window.

Standing by the window, Tina stretched out her hand and pressed her temple. The last memory of last night was the conversation between Melba and Jodi.

She used to play at Grant’s house when she was young, and sometimes she didn’t want to go home when it was dark, so Jodi simply prepared a bedroom for her.

She sometimes wondered if she was born with her, she was so old, and Melba casually let her spend the night in other people’s homes.

There was a knock on the door outside.

“Tina, are you awake?” Jodi’s voice softened in the room was very gentle.

Tina immediately replied: “I woke up.”

She said as she walked to the door and opened it.

“Come downstairs for breakfast.” Jodi smiled as soon as she saw her, and pointed to the opposite room: “I’ll call Peter.”

That’s right, the bedroom Jodi arranged for her is opposite Peter’s bedroom.

“OK.” Tina smiled and nodded.

At this moment, the door on the opposite side suddenly opened.

“Peter!” Jodi was about to call Peter by name, but found that the person who opened the door was not Peter at all.

The cold expression suddenly changed in an instant: “Cathy!”

Jodi’s expression also changed suddenly.

Adults understand what it means for a woman to come out of a man’s room early in the morning.

Cathy just lowered her head, as if ashamed, and whispered, “Mrs. Grant.”

Jodi's complexion is not very good, but she is very well-educated and will not show a little girl's face. She called the servant and ordered: "Take this lady to the guest room to change clothes."

Chapter 1267

After the servant came over, Cathy followed the servant to the guest room to change clothes with low eyebrows, without explaining or saying a word to Jodi, which made her complexion look weird.

"Tina?" Jodi turned her head and saw Tina's face pale, and couldn't help calling her.

Tina curled her lips and barely smiled: "Auntie, I'm going back now."

Jodi said lovingly, "Well, remember to visit Mommy when you have time, and Mommy will make good food for you."

When something like this happened, she couldn't stay at Tina for breakfast. Tina was so busy, she didn't know when she would meet next time.

"Okay, auntie." Tina smiled and nodded.

When she turned around, the smile on her face faded, almost fleeing.

She thought she was ready, she thought she could accept that one day Peter would spend a lifetime with other women.

But when the reality came before her eyes, she realized that she couldn't accept it at all.

As long as she thinks of what Peter and Cathy did last night, her heart hurts as if it was plucked out.

The pain is so numb and unconscious.

â€¦

"Tina?"

Melba looked surprised when Tina came back: "Have you had breakfast?"

Tina lives in Grant's house, and Jodi would keep her for breakfast, but Tina came back so early, no matter how she looked like she didn't eat breakfast.

"I'll leave now." Tina went straight upstairs after speaking.

Melba frowned slightly as she watched her back disappear at the corner of the stairs, turned around, and hurried to the restaurant.

"George, there is something wrong with your daughter."

"What's wrong?" George Weber raised his head and glanced at her, then took a sip of milk.

"Have your breakfast!" Melba glared at him: "I think Tina's complexion is different, weird."

George helplessly said: "Mostly because you drank too much wine last night, you just want to think about it. When she leaves later, bring her the hangover soup."

Melba felt that what he said was reasonable, but she still had some doubts in her heart.

â€

When Tina came down from the stairs, she saw Melba and George sitting in the living room, obviously waiting for her.

“Dad, Mom.” Tina walked towards them.

“Your mother’s getting sober soup for you, take it on way road.” George handed her a thermos.

Tina took it, with a shallow smile on her face, and her expression seemed flawless: “Well, I shouldn’t be able to come home on New Year’s Eve this year. There will be activities.”

Tina looked as usual, and she was too busy to spend New Year’s Eve at home in recent years, George and Melba were not suspicious.

There was a flash of frustration on George’s face, and he told her: “No matter how busy you are, you must pay attention to your body.”

“I know.”

After Tina bid farewell to her parents, she drove away.

As soon as the car drove away, Peter ran over anxiously: “Auntie, where is Tina?”

“Went away.” Melba looked at him with a puzzled look: “What’s wrong?”

Peter: “It’s okay.”

“How come these two children are more strange than the other.” Melba turned her head and George whispered.

George also frowned: “The child is old and she doesn’t want to tell us, she should be able to handle it herself.”

Not long after Tina drove out, the phone rang.

Glancing at the screen, Peter called.

She reached out and hung up.

But as soon as she hung up, the phone rang again in the next second.

Tina was impatient and turned off the phone directly.

She didn’t even want to see the name Peter now.

Chapter 1268

“Don’t drink too much, Tina.”

Alyssa stretched out her hand to grab the wine bottle in Tina’s hand, and said warmly and concerned: “What happened?”

Tina suddenly called her and said she wanted to come out for a drink.

From Tina's voice, she noticed that Tina's emotions were not right, and did not ask much. She directly agreed, thinking about meeting and asking again.

As a result, when she arrived at the place agreed by the two, Tina had already drunk a lot, and several wine bottles were already empty next to her.

Tina didn't speak, but just kept drinking.

She looked at her empty hand, smiled swiftly, and raised her hand to Alyssa: "Look at it, it's empty, there is nothing."

Whether it was before or now.

Her hands are empty.

She can't catch anything.

Tina's words were endless, and Alyssa was even more confused.

Alyssa held Tina's hand and asked tentatively, "It has something to do with Peter?"

Tina was born well and looked beautiful. When she was in school, she was like a star holding the moon. When she first entered the entertainment industry, she was squeezed out and criticized. She also sat on a cold bench and suffered. Laugh it off.

Although she has a good background, she is also able to endure hardships.

Normal things shouldn't let her lose control like this.

Except Peter.

Tina's complexion was stagnant, the whole person became quiet, and her eyes gradually became sober.

After a long while, she whispered: "He and Cathy got together."

"Is there any misunderstanding in the middle?" Alyssa didn't know what happened this morning, and thought it was Tina who had misunderstood Peter.

Peter had treated Cathy differently before, and it was just for the sake of irritation.

"No misunderstanding." Tina laughed, with a sad smile: "This morning, I saw Cathy come out of Peter's room with my own eyes."

She looked at Alyssa and repeated: "I saw it with my own eyes!"

Alyssa was so shocked that she couldn't speak.

After two seconds, she said, "Cathy is a very ambitious person. Is there any misunderstanding?"

Peter is abstinent, so how could he easily let Cathy succeed.

Alyssa could see through Cathy's little tricks, how could Peter not see through?

“Misunderstanding?” Tina almost burst into tears: “Do you think ordinary women can enter Peter’s room?”

How could she not know that Peter could see through Cathy’s tricks at a glance.

Just because Peter can see through and let Cathy succeed, isn’t this more proof that these two people are your wish?

“Have you heard Peter explain it?” Alyssa still felt that this matter was strange.

“Is there anything to explain? The facts are right in front of my eyes. What else needs to be explained? Explain how Cathy entered his room and how they got together!”

“Tina!” Alyssa couldn’t listen anymore.

She felt very distressed.

Put the wine bottle back into Tina’s hand: “Drink.”

She can understand the feeling of coldness.

Once, Karl deliberately stayed with Miana in order to push her away, and the feeling of heart-cutting was still vivid.

The pain is deep, all comfort is pale and weak.

Alyssa also opened a bottle of wine to accompany Tina to drink.

Tina was already drunk, but she stretched out her hand to stop her: “You are drinking outside. Grace’s father cannot clean you up when he comes home?”

Alyssa paused, Karl had told her not to drink.

but

“Regardless of him, I will drink with you.”

Ding—

Alyssa and Tina touched the bottle, raised their heads to drink.

Chapter 1269

Before Alyssa took a few sips, the box door was opened from outside.

Tina squinted her eyes and looked at the door carefully, and found that the person entering was Karl.

She turned her head, she smiled badly: “Oh, Karl is here, you are done.”

Alyssa froze, and found that she was still holding a wine bottle in her hand, and quickly put it aside, looking at Karl nervously: “I just took a sip.”

She went back after drinking, beheaded first and then beaten up. Even if Karl was angry, she would be subdued, but he couldn’t help her.

But now she was caught by Karl, and her nature was different.

Karl looked at her very natural, she seemed to have just started drinking, and his expression was slightly better.

But Alyssa counted thousands of things, and missed Tina, the pig teammate.

She had already drunk a lot, and she was already drunk now, and her mind was not quite clear. She stretched out a finger and shook it, revealing Alyssa's bottom: "Alyssa is more than just a sip. Look, there are no more small bottles!"

Tina said, and pointed at the half bottle of wine Alyssa had just put down.

Sure enough, Karl's expression of improvement suddenly sank again.

Alyssa: "!"

Karl strode towards Alyssa, Tina did not forget to watch the play, but soon she couldn't laugh.

Because, Karl was followed by Peter behind him.

The light at the door was a little dark, cool and drunk. She didn't see Peter just now. After Karl took a step, Peter who was standing behind him appeared.

The cold drunkenness went away at this time, she slowly put down the wine glass in her hand, and stared at Peter intently with cold eyes.

Her cold eyes pierced Peter's body like needles.

Peter walked towards her, stopped half a metre away from her, licked the corners of some dry lips, and had a hoarse voice: "Why drink so much alcohol."

Tina curled her lips and sneered: "Does Mr. Grant like to interfere with artists' private time so much? Can you control whether I drink or not?"

"I'll take you home." Peter was not irritated by her words, and his tone was very gentle.

As if she was making trouble unreasonably.

Alyssa frowned, wanted to walk over, but was pulled by Karl.

"What are you doing!" Alyssa lowered her voice and turned to look at Karl.

Karl just shook his head slightly, meaning to tell her not to interfere.

Then, when Alyssa was not paying attention, he pulled her out.

Tina and Peter confronted each other, and didn't have the mind to pay attention to what Alyssa and Karl were doing.

"Who are you? Why are you sending me home?"

Tina's single white hand rested on her chin, and said slowly: "It turns out that CEO Grant not only likes to stay at home with female artists, but also likes to send female artists home."

She was saying “Mr. Grant” one by one, stabbing every sentence.

Peter didn't want to listen anymore, and took a step forward, reaching out to pull her.

Tina was already awake for most of the time, and the reaction was much faster. As soon as he stretched his hand over, she backed away.

She looked at Peter coldly: “You don't touch me with your dirty hands!”

Peter's hand was lost and stopped in mid-air just like that.

He raised his eyes, fixedly looking at Tina, his eyes were full of silence, like night when the lights were exhausted, boundlessly lonely.

Tina was guilty of being seen by him, and the hand hanging beside her was curled up in bewilderment, but she still bluffed and looked at him.

Chapter 1270

After a while, Peter's hoarse voice sounded in the box: “What did you say?”

He stood in front of her with the light behind his back, his expression dimmed and shockingly dark.

Tina moved her lips, didn't look away from him.

“Look at me.” Peter's voice was low and without emotion, but there was a sense of indisputability in his ears.

She had felt this feeling in Karl.

This is called, not to be angry.

In front of Peter, Tina always wanted to do what she wanted to do. She always asked Peter to do whatever she wanted.

This was the first time that she realized that in addition to Karl, Peter was also called “CEO Grant” by others.

He is not a dude, he graduated from a prestigious school, and he founded AdamPic Media with Karl. AdamPic Media occupies the largest entertainment industry in the world. Today, he is in full swing, and Peter's contribution is indispensable.

He is actually a person with a temper and a wrist.

It's just that because she grew up with him and he has always been very good to her, she ignored this.

He had nothing to apologize to her.

A touch of determination flashed in her cold eyes, turned her head, looked at Peter's eyes, and said, “I said, your hands are dirty!”

For a moment, she saw a storm surge in Peter's eyes, as if to swallow everything.

But soon, he controlled his emotions and sneered: “Very good.”

He said three times “very good” in a row.

Tina is no longer a little girl who doesn’t know the world. She knows that once something is said, it will be hard to get over.

She knows Peter too well, knowing what kind of words are the most lethal.

“That’s how you see me?” Peter laughed at himself, his expression bleak.

Tina didn’t answer his phone. He wanted to explain to her, so he looked for her for a day.

But Tina knew him too well and deliberately avoided him.

Therefore, at night, Karl informed him that Alyssa was called out by Tina before he found her.

But what if he found her?

Why not find her!

He thought that if no one believed him, Tina would believe him.

Tina said with disdain: “Yes, that’s how I think of you!”

“You are always messing around with flowers and weeds outside. I’m tired of you for a long time, but our family is a family, and Mom loves me again. I can only deal with you reluctantly. Now, I don’t have to force myself. Don’t bother me anymore, I feel sick when I see your face.”

Once you say something against your heart, it doesn’t seem to be that difficult later.

When Tina quarreled with him, he never spoke so smoothly.

Peter looked at her with a gloomy expression, his eyes sharp as if he was about to pierce her: “Why didn’t you think I was sick when you climbed onto my bed?”

Tina’s face turned pale, and the hands hanging on her side unconsciously clenched, clenching her teeth firmly to control her emotions, not to let herself collapse.

Tina said calmly: “Who didn’t do stupid things when I was young? I regretted it a long time ago, otherwise you think I haven’t been with you again for so many years? Wouldn’t you think I really like you?”

“Shut up!” Peter didn’t want to hear more hurtful words from her, so he sternly stopped her.

“I don’t want to listen?” Tina’s red lips were slightly bent, in an indifferent tone: “Well, I won’t say anything, I will go home to sleep.”

She stayed longer, she was afraid she would not be able to hold it.

“Tina Weber! Stop!” Peter reached out and grabbed her.
