Chapter 1291

"Mr. Grant!" Mr. Josh shook his head, there are already some flowers in front of him.

Peter interrupted him directly: "What are you doing, I will pour for you CEO Josh, I finally have the opportunity to drink with you."

CEO Josh couldn't get rid of it, so he could only continue drinking with Peter.

No matter how dull the people at the dinner table, they also vaguely realized that Peter was really upset, and he had to drink CEO Josh down.

Peter is the Great Lord, and these people dare not offend him easily.

CEO Josh thought about drinking with Tina because Tina is really beautiful, and Peter didn't express his attitude at first, so he didn't take Tina seriously, and he regarded her as a companion.

Unexpectedly, Mr. Grant got angry now.

CEO Josh had no choice but to eat this boring loss himself.

But CEO Josh's subordinates couldn't help but say: "Mr. Josh always has stomach problems, and he really can't drink anymore."

"Who are you? Your CEO Josh can't speak, it is your turn?" Peter glanced at the man contemptuously, and curled her lips toward CEO Josh: "Continue."

CEO Josh took another drink, and suddenly coughed violently.

"CEO Josh coughed up bleeding, hit 120!"

Tina was sitting close to CEO Josh, and everyone was shocked when they saw CEO Josh coughing up blood.

"It's just a stomach bleeding, he can't die." Peter shook the wine glass in his hand, his eyes terribly cold.

Tina frowned and looked up at Peter.

Except for Karl, Peter didn't seem to have convinced anyone, and there were few people in his eyes, but he was sleek, and he didn't stop there.

This was the first time Tina saw him so cruel.

Peter's brutal force just now clearly wanted to kill CEO Josh here.

After a while of chaos in the box, all the people on Mr. Josh's side left, only Tina, Peter and Stephanie were left.

Peter was still sitting in his original position, with a faint expression, indifferent to everything happening around him, and even thinking about eating food.

Feeling Tina looking at him, he glanced at her and slowly said, "If you don't eat, don't pester me here, disturb me eating."

When the voice fell, Peter heard the sound of the chair being dragged on the ground.

He lowered his eyes and laughed at himself, and he couldn't expect this woman to have any conscience, and let her go and really left.

Peter didn't raise his head until he heard the door closing.

Staring straight at the closed door for a moment, he suddenly threw the chopsticks in his hand angrily and leaned his head up against the back of the chair angrily.

Haven't you seen him drink so much alcohol?

She left him just like that.

At least he is still her boss now!

Does any employee dare to treat the boss like this?

Never seen such a horizontal employee!

Peter got more and more angry, raised his leg and kicked the table, but he was shocked to fall off the chair.

He tried to get up, but his head was so dizzy and weak that he couldn't get up at all.

Anyway, there was no one, so he just lay on the ground.

Don't know how long it took, Peter dumbly heard the door opening.

He thought it was a waiter who came in, and roared drunkenly: "Get out, no one cares about me."

The waiter not only did not go out, but also walked towards him.

"I said, out!" Peter had no strength to get up, and his mood was bad, and his tone became even more fierce.

"Peter, do you think you are still a young man? You are in your thirties, drunk and lying on the ground and drunk crazy. You are not ashamed. As your artist, I am ashamed."

Chapter 1292

Hearing this familiar female voice, Peter froze.

After a few seconds, Peter slowly turned his head, looking at the direction of the sound.

Tina went and returned, standing next to him, holding a cup of tea in her hand, looking at him condescendingly.

Peter was overjoyed at first, and then thought that it was too ugly to lie on the ground now, so he struggled to get up.

But he tried his best to no avail.

Tina sighed helplessly, put the hangover tea in her hand aside, and squatted down to help Peter.

Who knows, Peter shook off her hand: "Do you look down on me? I can get up by myself!"

Tina: "â€¦!"

Tina watched as Peter got up and fell down again. After a few times, she couldn't stand it anymore and directly dragged Peter to the sofa aside.

Peter didn't have the strength to break away from her, so he could only yell and yell: "I'm your boss. Wouldn't your conscience hurting yourself if you treat me like this?"

Tina ignored him. After throwing him on the sofa, she turned back and poured the sober tea over to Peter.

"Ahemâ€¦!"

Peter was choked twice, but still drank it.

Tina took a tissue and stuffed it into his hand, letting him wipe the tea stain on the corner of his mouth.

Peter was paralyzed, and Tina picked up a tissue and wiped it for him.

As soon as she stretched out her hand, Peter grabbed her.

Drunk, his eyes were full of moisture, fixedly looking at Tina, his eyes were childish like a child.

Tina avoided Peter's gaze in embarrassment, but Peter didn't let her go, tilting his head and looking at her.

"You didn't say thank you to me." The drunk person was a little slow, and his speaking speed was much slower than usual, and he looked a little silly.

It also makes people feel cute.

Speaking of this incident, Tina was also a little angry, and said angrily: "I didn't let you go and drink with CEO Josh without death."

She knows that Peter's opponent's artists are still defending. If other artists are present today, Peter might just say a few words.

But the problem is that it is impossible for ordinary artists to have the opportunity to participate in the same dinner as Peter.

Peter drank like this, indeed because of her.

Tina was very convinced of this.

They have known each other for a long time, and they know each other well enough. The tacit understanding is carved in their bones.

Others can't see or understand, only they can feel each other.

“You and that Mr. Josh is very happy? What’s so good about that old man?” Peter stretched out his hand and pulled off his tie, and pulled off his shirt to reveal the solid chest inside: “Is he as handsome as me? He has a good figure as me?”

He tugged quickly, before Tina had time to stop him, his shirt buttons were torn apart and spilled on the ground.

Tina was dumbfounded. Peter was very good when he was drunk before. She has never seen him so unrestrained.

“You say! Answer me! I’m handsome or that old man is handsome.” Peter yelled reluctantly.

Tina couldn’t laugh or cry: “You are handsome.”

“Oh.” Peter was satisfied.

Tina hesitated for a moment, stretched out her hand to close his opened shirt, and turned around to get his jacket to put on him.

But Peter didn’t cooperate with wearing clothes, so Tina had to coax him: “You put on your clothes and go home, OK?”

Peter also reached out for the face and asked her to dress him.

The button of his shirt had collapsed, and Tina could only button him his coat tightly.

Chapter 1293

Tina buttoned him up, and just about to get up, she heard Peter muttering from above her head.

“You said I’m handsome, then why don’t you like me?”

He frowned, his expression a little troubled.

He seemed to have changed back to Peter, who was obedient after drinking, and looked upset and aggrieved. He was also incredibly obedient.

Tina couldn’t help but relax a lot in her voice when talking to him.

“I like you, but can we get along like friends? Just like before I was eighteen.”

“Oh.” Peter replied, widened his eyes, and shook his head very seriously: “No, I don’t want to be Tina’s Peter brother, I want to be Tina’s man, I want Tina to sleep with me, I want Tina to give birth for me!”

Although she knew that Peter was drunk, he said these words too seriously and so straightforwardly.

Tina told herself that she was someone who had seen big scenes, and that was nothing.

But her accelerated heartbeat reminded her that she was not so calm at all.

When is a man most charming?

That’s when he showed his sincere sincerity to you.

For a moment, Tina wanted to nod directly and agree.

“boom!”

The box door was pushed open from the outside.

As soon as Rubin came in, he looked around: “Mr. Grant?”

When looking at Tina and Peter, who were very close by the sofa, Rubin was taken aback for a moment: “Ms. Weber is also here.”

“Are you here to pick him up?” Tina calmed down, stood up and looked at Rubin.

“CEO Grant said before, let me pick him up when the dinner is about to come.” Rubin scratched his head, and the heavens were fighting in his heart. Had he known that the two were alone together, so he would not come?

Although in the eyes of outsiders, it was Peter who snatched Tina’s resources and gave them to his so-called girlfriend, but Rubin, as his special assistant, knew the situation best.

Cathy is not Peter’s girlfriend at all, and the relationship between Tina and him is not as simple as it seems.

“Then you take him back, I will leave first.”

“Miss Weber!”

Rubin still wanted to stop Tina, but Tina had already left.

Stephanie sat in the car and waited for Tina.

After Tina came out before, she was asked to wait in the car, and she didn’t know what to do again.

Stephanie looked outside through the car window, and when she saw her coming, she hurriedly got out of the car to help her open the car door.

“Ms. Tina, I have been waiting for you for a long time, what have you been doing?”

Tina got in the car and asked instead, “Stephanie, let’s just say it, what is your relationship with Peter.”

“what?”

Stephanie did not expect that Tina would suddenly ask such violent questions: “Ms. Tina, how can you ask such serious questions in such a calm tone, I am afraid.”

Tina fastened her seat belt, so she looked at her in time: “Say.”

“I’m actually Peter’s cousin. I and you, we met when we were young, but you may not remember!”

Stephanie knew that there was no point in hiding it. Tina had already guessed that she was related to Peter, and sooner or later she would know her identity.

Rather than let Tina investigate it, let her confess it herself.

Tina chuckled, "No wonder you dare to choke with Peter in person, but I really don't remember when I saw you. After all, Peter has too many cousins."

There are so many relatives in the Grant family. Peter's various cousins are too many to count on her hands or feet. She has seen many, but remembered a few.

Chapter 1294

Stephanie leaned over and said to Tina with a flat face: "Ms. Tina, you think I'm so confessed, can you stop being angry?"

Tina turned her head and looked at her without a smile: "It depends on your performance."

"I will do well!" Stephanie clenched her fists with both hands, as if sworn in.

After she finished speaking, she leaned over again: "Ms. Tina, can you keep it secret for me?"

"What's the secret?" Tina teased her: "Is being Peter's cousin so shameful?"

"It's not!" Stephanie seemed a bit hard to tell: "I actually escaped from marriage secretly. After begging my cousin for several days, he gave me such a job!"

Tina couldn't help turning her head to look at Stephanie carefully, her eyes serious as if she knew her every time.

Stephanie closed her own hair and said embarrassedly: "Our family just likes arranged marriages. Of course I disagree. I am a woman of the new era. I have my own ideas."

Tina smiled and said nothing.

She saw youth and courage from Stephanie.

It seems that the older a person is, the more courage is consumed.

When you are young, you are always braver.

Regardless of the consequences, not afraid of failure.

Tina retracted her mind and asked, "Apart from working for me, does Peter have other conditions?"

"No," Stephanie answered very simply, simply to make life suspicious.

Tina just raised her eyebrows, and Stephanie recruited: "He asked me to report your whereabouts to him!"

"But Ms. Tina, you believe me. How can I agree to my cousin's perverted, intrusive, and private demands?"

Stephanie's expression must be as upright as it is.

But Tina didn't believe her.

If it is as Stephanie said, why did Peter show up at her event?

There is really just what kind of cousin there is.

“Let’s go, go back.” Tina didn’t expose her, and slightly closed her eyes and took a nap.

Today’s activity was cold and tiring. Peter has been tossing for so long. She is now physically and mentally exhausted and just wants to rest.

â€¦

Within a few days, it will be the annual meeting of AdamPic Media.

Peter is a boss who is willing to spend money, so the annual meeting is naturally held in AdamPic.

After Tina went home that day, she caught a cold for two more days. On the day of the annual meeting, she still had a slight cough.

She took medicine again before going out, and when she arrived at the annual meeting, she felt a little sleepy.

The annual meeting is when the artist in the company rarely meets Peter throughout the year, so everyone rushes to register for the annual meeting program.

Tina was not interested in this, and now she would have a cup of hot water, curled up in the corner to watch the show.

Coincidentally, she was able to see Peter sitting in the front direction from her position.

The venue was very large, although Peter could be seen, the distance was a little far away. She could see Peter because of his prominent position. Peter might have difficulty seeing her in the crowd when she turned her head.

Tina sniffed, feeling a little coughing again.

Stephanie on the side saw her wrinkling her nose, and thoughtfully handed a piece of paper over: “I say I would take you to the hospital.”

“It’s okay, it’s just a small cold, it’ll be fine in two days.” Tina rubbed her itchy nose, her voice was urn sound.

“Ms. Tina, I think your voice is pretty good now, it sounds very cute.” Stephanie tilted her head to look at her with a smile.

Chapter 1295

Tina turned her head, deliberately leaning forward to Stephanie, “Should I give this cuteness to you?”

Tina has caught a cold these few days and her complexion has become thinner. Even with makeup, she looks more energetic, but her eyes are always tired. Even so, she can’t stop her being bright and beautiful.

Stephanie pursed her lips, her complexion stagnated: “Ms. Tina, do you have no idea about your looks? It’s so beautiful that I’m suffocated when I get close.”

“I feel you are attacking me.” Tina sat up straight, looking at her blankly.

"I mean you are good-looking." Stephanie's tone was serious: "When I first saw you when I was a child, I thought you were super beautiful. How could there be such a beautiful young lady in the world? You look better now!"

"Okay, shut up." Tina was tired of these words.

Since Stephanie confessed her identity with Tina, she has been blowing rainbow F@rts in front of Tina every day.

She is cautious and completely different from when she started as her agent.

She has caught a cold these days, and Stephanie has also been asking her every day. If she was not a woman, Tina would suspect that Stephanie had a crush on her.

But she also felt that she was sincere to her, and the relationship between the two was closer than before.

Perhaps, the reason she felt close to her was more than this.

But she didn't bother to delve into it.

"Next, is our finale tonight!"

The host's excited voice came from the station.

The attention of Tina and Stephanie was also attracted, and Stephanie also whispered: "I haven't heard of any special programs tonight?"

At this time, the host on the stage has already revealed the answer.

"We have invited Mr. Grant and Miss Cathy to come on stage!"

Tina originally looked good at the show. Hearing the names of these two people, her complexion changed slightly. She lowered her eyes, holding the cup to drink water in a daze.

Peter and Cathy were on the trending search before, and the relationship between the two had been spread across the Internet. After the host read the names of the two people, there was a roar in the audience.

Stephanie didn't notice Tina's loss, and she whispered, "I really don't know how my cousin would like Cathy. She looks like that. She doesn't look as good as you, really!"

Stephanie only knew that Peter and Tina had grown up together since they were young, and didn't know that the entanglement between the two was just a complaint.

Tina didn't speak, she put her cheek in one hand, facing the other side, preventing Stephanie from seeing her expression.

Originally, Peter was still talking and laughing with the people next to him, seriously evaluating the previous show, but after hearing the host's words, he frowned slightly and turned to look at Rubin.

Rubin also wiped a cold sweat, whispered to Peter's ear, and said, "This may be a temporary arrangement by them. No one has told me before."

On the annual meeting day, Peter is more tolerant. Maybe they also thought that Peter and Cathy were really together, so they secretly arranged this link.

By this time, Cathy was already on stage, looking at Peter with affection.

The people underneath are booing.

Peter hung slightly, a gloomy flash on his face, and when he raised his head again, there was a smile on his lips, and he got up and walked onto the stage.

Today is the annual meeting, and he can't scan the temper of the employees like this.

Originally it was just a blockage, but he didn't expect that they would eventually lift a rock and hit him in the foot.

Chapter 1296

"Chorus "Sweet Honey"!"

As soon as Peter came onto the stage, the noise underneath became louder.

The host smiled and handed Peter a microphone.

Peter picked up the microphone: "I always thought you were young people just like me. I didn't expect it to be wrong. You still listened to the song of the last century like "Sweet Honey". I saw you wrong."

Everyone could hear that this was a joke, but Peter also deliberately used the most serious tone.

As soon as his voice fell, there was a burst of laughter from below.

Cathy turned her head to look at Peter, with pride and greed flashing in her eyes. A man like Peter, with such a temperament, would not be able to find another one even if she was wearing a lantern.

Therefore, no matter what method is used, Peter must be retained.

Even if Peter said that it was just to help her hype, there are many stars in the entertainment circle who bundled up the hype, and the hype, in the end, has come true.

What's more, she believed that her abilities would surely be able to hold Peter.

He looked around and quickly found Tina's location accurately.

She didn't seem to be in good spirits, he didn't know what she was looking at with her chin.

As soon as Cathy turned her head, she found that Peter was staring at a certain place under the stage. She followed the line of sight and saw Tina.

He was looking at that woman again!

The woman's recent announcements are gone, and everyone has almost forgotten her. The dejected look really relieved her.

But this is not enough.

Last time Peter was cold, but he slapped her severely, and the swelling disappeared after several days.

She keeps this account!

The bottom of Cathy's heart was full of sinister tactics, even her eyes became sullen, but the people on the stage were interacting with the host, and Peter on the side was watching Tina again, so no one noticed her expression at all.

Soon, the music of "Sweet Honey" started playing backstage.

This is a very old and tacky, but always classic male and female duet singing an old love song.

Cathy reached out to take Peter's arm and reminded him in a low voice, "It's started."

Peter retracted his gaze, and calmly pulled out the hand held by her, and shouted to the audience: "This song is for you."

Peter's smile was somewhat frivolous and casual, the wind and flow were endless, but it made people willing to be let down by his love.

"What!!!"

There was a scream from below.

"CEO Grant, we love you!"

"Peter, I love you!!!"

"Ahh!!!"

An annual meeting to add to the show, made it like the scene of a fan meeting.

The female employees and female artists below are all screaming.

Cathy's face turned blue with anger, but she still tried her best to keep calm.

The host asked her and Peter to come up. They originally asked them to sing a love song as a couple, but Peter unexpectedly said that this song was for everyone.

Where to put his girlfriend?

These women are too cheap, and they still have the face to shout love to Peter in front of her.

Shameless.

Even if she feels angry, she still has to remain calm and finish singing this song, otherwise it will be her who will not be able to get off the stage.

Several times in the middle, Cathy thought about holding Peter's hand, but it was cleverly avoided.

Stephanie looked at it for a while, and saw that something was wrong. She turned to Tina and said, "Ms. Tina, did you think my cousin quarreled with this Cathy? He doesn't seem to want to care about her."

Chapter 1297

Peter's performance is not obvious, and the interaction with the audience is also very natural. Most people really can't see that there is something wrong between him and Cathy.

After all, Stephanie is Peter's cousin, who knows better about what kind of person he is, so that she can see what's wrong.

Tina couldn't help but curled her lips: "I don't know, this is between him and Cathy, and I am not the roundworm in his stomach. How do I know what he is thinking?"

Besides, you know the contradictions that have happened recently."

Peter snatched her resources to Cathy, which is a well-known thing.

Stephanie looked at Tina with a weird expression: "Ms. Tina, do you know what your expression looked like just now?"

Tina is unclear so: "What is it like?"

"Like an old mother who indulges her children to make mistakes, her face is helpless." Stephanie said, "tsk": "In other words, you and my cousin grew up together, and your relationship is good, I don't know why should brother treat you this way?"

Stephanie is not stupid. Although she knows nothing about the entanglement between Tina and Peter, she also feels the difference between Tina and Peter based on a woman's intuition.

Peter is not such a lackluster man, but he is so stingy with Tina, otherwise, she wouldn't have choked up with Peter in the meeting that day.

She also felt that Peter was too much.

"Have you eaten too many walnuts recently?" Tina looked at Stephanie expressionlessly, with a light tone.

Stephanie scratched her head: "How do you know that I have eaten a lot of walnuts recently?"

Tina sneered: "Brain supplements the excess."

What did Stephanie mean when she didn't react for a while, after a while, after she reacted, she grunted aggrievedly: "Ms. Tina, you scold me!"

"I didn't." Tina pushed the plate of nuts in front of her towards Stephanie: "Young people think about it all day long. The brain is exhausted, so take more supplements."

Stephanie: "!"

The song "Sweet Honey" was sung by Peter like a fan meeting.

At the end of the song, except for Cathy's ugly face, everyone present was very happy.

Peter used to play, and naturally he was the most entertaining.

After the show, it's just eating and drinking.

Many artists who usually don't see Peter have the courage to go up to him to toast, and there are many female artists who want to learn from Cathy.

Cathy naturally understood the thoughts of these female artists. She had already made up her mind to hold Peter tightly, and naturally would not give others a chance.

She took the initiative to walk to Peter's side to help him keep off the alcohol.

Peter didn't want to deal with so many people. Since Cathy wanted to do what she could, then let her go.

Cathy is gaining momentum recently. In the company, she looks like a lifeless person and fears that she can't offend others. Originally, those female artists who came to toast were not used to Cathy. If Cathy stopped the wine, they hated Cathy even more. This can be regarded as taking it down.

But Cathy didn't care, she enjoyed the convenience and vanity that Peter's girlfriend status brought her.

Peter dealt with a few people who came to toast again, and then slipped to Tina's side.

"Ms. Weber will hide and clean, she has a huge array, so she doesn't take the initiative to come over to toast." Peter directly sat down beside Tina.

"I don't know how to drink." Tina turned her head to the other side not to look at Peter.

Chapter 1298

Peter sneered: "The ability to tell nonsense with your eyes open has increased."

Don't know how to drink?

Who is the woman who ran into alcohol some time ago?

Tina was very beautiful when she was a child. The adults in the compound liked her, especially during the New Year holidays. Those uncles, aunties and grandpas would coax her to drink, that is, pour a little amount with a small spoon.

But over time, her drink volume really increased.

In middle school, during lunch in the class, the boys in the class were drunk by her, and no one was her opponent.

Tina turned her head to look at him, and sneered after learning his tone, "I used to drink, but now I can't drink it, can't it?"

"Okay, why not!" Peter held a glass of red wine in his hand and took a sip to his lips.

Stephanie felt that the gunpowder that the two people chatted with was really strong, and was afraid of being affected by the blow, so she sat quietly beside as a quail.

"Then what are you talking nonsense?" Tina stared at Peter expressionlessly, and said what he said was not polite.

"Isn't that because you are willing to listen to me talking nonsense?" Peter's tone sounded unwavering, making it difficult to judge whether he was angry.

Tina: "â€!"

I felt nothing to say for a while.

Although Cathy was caught by other toasting people, she was always paying attention to Peter's situation.

Seeing Peter running to Tina's side, she gritted her teeth with anger, but still had a decent smile on her face.

"I have something to do with Peter. I lost my position first."

Cathy shook off the toasting person, and walked towards Peter and Tina.

"Miss Weber, why didn't you come over and drink together?" Cathy glanced at the glass of water in front of Tina, "How can I drink water on such a day? It's about drinking."

After she finished speaking, she called a waiter and pointed to Tina, "Give Miss Weber a glass of wine."

When the waiter was about to reach for it, Stephanie stretched out her hand and held the cold water glass first: "Ms. Tina is not feeling well. Did you see that she had a cold? What wine would you drink after a cold?"

Cathy was originally here to pick things up, but Tina didn't say anything, but her agent did it first.

However, there is not much difference.

"Really? Miss Weber has a cold?" Cathy said with a look of concern: "Then drink less."

After speaking, she motioned to the waiter behind her to bring a glass of less wine to Tina.

After the waiter put down the wine glass, Cathy smiled and looked at Tina, "Miss Weber, give me some face."

When Cathy came over, she attracted the attention of several female stars next to her. They all listened to the movement with their ears erected, and listened to their conversations.

People who mix in the entertainment industry can't go far without IQ and EQ. The short words of Tina and Cathy make people hear the meaning of competition.

No one in the company knew about Peter giving Tina's resources to Cathy, but now Cathy even dared to find her for a drink.

More and more people watched the excitement, all curious as to how Tina would answer.

Tina has good resources in recent years. She is beautiful, arrogant, and temperamental, but she is inexplicably popular and has a convincing aura. Everyone is waiting to see how she responds.

"What do you mean, I said that Ms. Tina is a!" The more Stephanie looked at this Cathy, the more annoyed she became, why she couldn't understand human words.

"Stephanie." Tina glanced at Stephanie, motioning her to stop talking.

Chapter 1299

Stephanie stopped speaking, her tone a little dissatisfied: "Ms. Tina."

Tina can naturally understand Stephanie's mood at this time, Stephanie probably thought she wanted to swallow this glass of wine.

So many people were watching, Cathy looked at Tina's reaction, and thought Tina was about to drink this glass of wine.

But the next moment, she said leisurely: "You let me give you face? For whom? Is it for you? Who are you?"

As soon as these words came out, the celebrities who were still talking quietly next to them suddenly became quiet, and the atmosphere did not dare to pay attention to the situation here.

Cathy's complexion also changed again and again. She didn't expect that Tina would not only deny her face, but also prevent her from coming to the stage.

Cathy has been very hot in the entertainment industry recently. There are many people who hate her, and there are also many people who flatter her. This has caused her to become more and more arrogant and less and less see Tina in her eyes.

Thinking that Tina was now in a state of despair, she was just a little artist who could handle it at will.

But she forgot that Tina is a famous gang in the entertainment circle, not the kind of person who can swallow her breath.

Stephanie watched with enthusiasm from the side and her eyes shining brightly. She is indeed her idol.

Under the gaze of so many people, Cathy felt like a man on her back. These people must be laughing at her secretly, even if it was Peter's girlfriend, any female star in the company would dare not give her face.

Peter sat next to Tina and didn't mean to help Cathy at all.

Cathy gritted her teeth and barely smiled: "What are you talking about, Miss Weber, I just want to have a drink with you."

"Why do you want to drink with me, do you want to thank me for giving you all the resources in my hand?" Tina sneered, "Then you are mistaken. I am willing to give up the resources in my hand. That is up to Mr. Grant and his face."

Tina said, pushing the wine glass in front of Peter, looking at Cathy and saying, "This glass of wine, you should present it to CEO Grant."

The people around couldn't help taking a breath.

Tina deserved to come out of the entertainment circle step by step steadily. Her speech skills were first-rate, and the surface was invisible, but it made people understand the meaning of her words at once.

The meaning in her words is straightforward and clear: I don't like Cathy.

This is more lethal than the questioning just now.

The people following gossip next to her are a bit scared, Tina dares to say anything.

The expression on Cathy's face can no longer hang up: "Isn't it just a glass of wine? If you don't want to drink with me, Miss Weber, you may as well, I just drink it myself."

In this situation, if she doesn't look down the stairs herself, she will only be raised up high later, making people look at jokes, and it is she herself who is ashamed.

At this moment, Peter didn't say anything, suddenly said, "You give me face so much, so I should have a drink with you?"

Tina tilted her head slightly and met Peter's indistinct emotions.

As Peter said, he pushed back the glass of wine that Tina had pushed past.

Tina's eyes fell on the glass of wine, and some did not understand what Peter meant.

She looked up inadvertently and saw a flash of light in Cathy's eyes, looking at Peter with joy.

Peter's is helping Cathy get ahead?

Tina's originally calm expression turned cold quickly: "Mr. Grant really wants me to drink this glass of wine?"

Chapter 1300

Tina knew that what she said to Peter before was a bit too cruel.

So she can understand Peter's anger, and know that one of the reasons Peter asked her to give up resources to Cathy was that he wanted to retaliate against her to vent his anger.

She agreed without hesitation at that time, just to let Peter relieve his anger.

She just didn't want to get involved with him anymore, what she said hurt him, so she tried to make up for him, but it didn't mean that she wanted to wrong herself, to the point of swallowing her breath.

She is not eighteen years old anymore.

The eighteen-year-old Tina can be desperate.

She is not Stephanie's age in her early twenties, who is full of fantasy and longing.

After two years, she will be thirty years old.

A woman at this age already knows how to protect her self-esteem, even if she falls, she must be the most calm and beautiful appearance.

"Then it's up to you to give me this face." Peter's voice was calm, and his eyes looked deep at Tina.

Tina had an answer in her temporary thinking.

She calmly pushed the glass to Stephanie, "Stephanie, you also know that I have a cold, please help me drink it."

The meaning of these words is that they don't intend to give Peter this face.

After Tina finished speaking, she sneezed very well.

When Stephanie looked at the glass of wine in front of her, her brows were frowning. This was probably the worst wine she had ever encountered in her life.

“If you don’t want to drink it straight, why push it to others?” Peter’s tone increased a bit, sounding a little angry.

“Didn’t I say it? I have said it several times, and I said I have a cold and I don’t drink!” The calm tone was also cold, with obvious anger in tone.

She was really angry too.

Peter is making trouble unreasonably.

She originally thought that after she gave up, she could get along with Peter.

She was wrong.

Alyssa said before that Peter was mature enough and she was able to take responsibility, so she tried to confess everything to Peter.

But at this time she realized that Peter hadn’t made much progress over the years.

Peter looked at Tina’s brows and eyes that were smeared with anger, and was startled for a moment, subconsciously trying to appease her: “I am not, I mean”

Tina interrupted him coldly: “Mr. Grant, I am not feeling well and want to go back to rest.”

Before Peter could speak, Tina got up and walked outside.

Everyone looked at each other, not knowing why it became like this.

Tina was also really arrogant. She didn’t even give Peter’s face when she didn’t drink with Cathy, and now she just left.

Throughout the entire entertainment industry, there is really no female artist who is so courageous.

“Peter, don’t be angry with Miss Weber” Cathy walked to Peter’s side, comforted softly, and reached out to pat him on the shoulder.

Peter avoided her hand, did not say a word, took the wine glass in front of him and drank it all in one breath.

When he stood up again, his complexion had returned to normal: “Tina has been in the company for so many years. You also know her temper. Don’t worry about it. Don’t let her distract you. Come on, everyone. Keep playing.”

After Peter spoke, the episode just now was quickly turned over.
