

Predestined 1311

Chapter 1311

Before Tina went to bed, she posted a message in Moments: "Happy New Year."

Peter took the call from Karl and walked back. After opening the circle of friends, she saw the circle of Tina.

He snorted and gave her a compliment.

She is free and easy and happy.

â€¦

New Year's Day.

Many relatives in the Weber family are coming.

Most of the seven aunts and eight aunts in the world are similar. Even if Tina is a popular female star, she still can't escape being besieged by them and asked about emotional marriage.

Before they came, Tina drove back to her house in the city under the pretext of something.

Open the door, the room is deserted and empty.

Tina closed the door, changed her shoes, and went to the kitchen.

She doesn't know how to cook, and there are drinks and various skincare products and perfumes in the refrigerator.

If you have to live by yourself in the future, it doesn't seem to be a good idea not to cook.

Anyway, there is still a while before the launch of "Lost City", and she has no other activities during this time, so she should just learn to cook.

Walking to the door, she picked up the car key and put it down.

Let's walk, anyway, she is very free now.

Tina changed her clothes and went out wearing a mask.

She walked for a while, always feeling as if someone was following him.

But she looked back and found that there was no one behind her, not even a car.

She was uneasy, and the environment at the gate of the community was quiet and there were no people, so she quickened her pace.

Her home was only a ten-minute walk away from the supermarket, and she quickly walked to a crowded place.

But the feeling of someone following behind is still there.

Before Tina arrived at the supermarket, she turned in at a middle intersection.

She stood against the wall, pressing 110 on her phone, and she could dial out immediately if the situation was not right.

Before long, a black car stopped at the intersection, seeming to hesitate in which direction to go.

Tina looked intently, this car was a bit familiar, and the license plate number was even more familiar.

She raised her eyebrows and walked over.

The people in the car knew that he had been found when Tina came over. Before Tina approached, he opened the door and walked out of the car. The old god was standing in front of the car, hugging his arms. Waiting for Tina to approach.

“Dignified CEO Grant, what’s wrong with New Year’s Day, doing such a sneaky thing?” Tina didn’t expect Peter to follow her.

Peter was wearing a long coat and looked handsome and upright.

He stared at her and looked at her with a smile: “It’s not easy to see Miss Weber, otherwise I can do it? I’m not a quirky person.”

Tina was speechless for a while.

She sent Peter the contract termination. In terms of official business, he was not kind, and she knew it, so she deliberately avoided Peter.

“Can’t speak?” Peter snorted coldly, carefully distinguishing, but found that there was no anger in his tone.

“How can I be speechless? I’m rushing to buy groceries now, and I’ll talk later when I have something.” Although Tina is somewhat fragile, her momentum is not at all vain, and her tone is very natural.

How familiar is Peter with Tina?

With a look in her eyes, he knew what she was thinking.

Peter “tsk”: “Buying food? You want to make up an excuse and make up a decent one.”

“I am really buying groceries!” Tina felt that he would be talking nonsense more, turning around and heading to the supermarket.

Peter actually followed her into the supermarket.

When she was picking vegetables, Peter walked beside her and talked about the contract.

Chapter 1312

“Send a contract to cancel the contract, just want to run away? Tina, you are twenty-eight years old, not an eight-year-old child, can you be more mature? Huh?”

“Is such a big person mature?”

Peter drove home in a hurry last night, but Tina was not at home at all.

But this morning, he asked his mother to call the Weber family to find out her breath. Only then did he know that Tina had returned to the city early in the morning, and he followed.

He stayed in the hidden place at the gate of the community for a long time, thinking about how to find Tina, but she came out. He didn't think about how to start, so he followed directly.

It's also a little funny. People who used to say nothing but now want to talk to her, they have to think carefully.

Tina picked food for himself, and smiled without emotion: "You are mature, you are the most mature in the world."

Peter squinted slightly, and said faintly, "Tina, in your eyes, am I just the kind of stubborn person?"

His tone was a little strange, and Tina couldn't help but raise her eyes to look at him: "What are you talking about?"

Peter corrected his expression: "You want to cancel the contract, don't you just want to see me again?"

Hearing this, Tina's complexion was slightly stagnant, and eyes fell silent.

Peter acquiesced to her and continued: "In these years, you have rejected me, avoided me, and said a lot of unfeeling and cruel words. I also have self-respect. You have said so clearly, and I will pester you again. Do I have thick walls?"

He noticed that Tina's drooping eyelashes trembled slightly.

This is a manifestation of mood swings.

"You don't worry, I won't bother you in the future. After all, everyone has known each other for so many years. Our two families are like family members. We have many intersections. We can't be together. We still want to be ordinary friends. As for business!"

Peter gave a slight pause: "You also understand that in this circle, AdamPic Media has the best resources."

Seeing Tina not speaking, Peter's tone softened unconsciously: "What do you think?"

Tina looked at Peter, slightly in a daze. Only then came back to her senses, but she didn't dare to look at him directly. She just glanced at Peter, then looked away and concealedly chose the radish next to her.

She deliberately made herself look casual: "I think you make sense."

In terms of abandoning personal feelings, Peter is right.

"Do you still cancel the contract?" Peter asked her.

Tina took a radish and put it in the cart: "After filming "Lost City", it is estimated that the contract will expire."

Peter hooked his lips: "This is what an adult should have."

Tina means that the contract will not be canceled now.

“Okay, don’t bother me buying vegetables.” Tina pushed Peter away.

Peter followed up again: “Tsk, so rude, I am too kind, even if I know your true face, I still want to be friends with you, not moved?”

This hanging tone gave Tina the illusion of returning to the past.

It seemed that Peter had really let go.

That’s why she can calmly analyze the pros and cons of terminating the contract with him, and she will be as poor as before.

She should be happy.

But she felt like she was empty in her heart.

After talking about the contract, Peter pointed to the vegetables in the cart and asked her: “Why are you buying so many vegetables?”

Tina turned her head and curled her lips with no emotion: “Go home and put it on the shelf to watch. After all, it is such an environmentally friendly, nutritious and healthy thing.”

Chapter 1313

Peter looked incredulous: “Tina, haven’t you been too idle lately, have you gone crazy?”

“You’re crazy!” Tina gave him a blank look, pushing the shopping cart to check out.

“The previous thing was that I was wrong. I will go back today, personally arrange activities and resources for you, and plan for you. I will definitely give you better resources than before, okay?”

Peter looked at Tina with a worried look, worried that she was really crazy.

Tina pursed her lips, feeling angry and funny: “How did your mind manage AdamPic Media to this day? Of course, I buy food to cook. Do you think I really take it as a decoration?”

“Cooking?” Peter’s eyes were even more shocked, and he reached out to probe Tina’s forehead.

He probed Tina’s forehead and then went to probe himself, and muttered to himself: “It’s normal.”

Tina sneered, “I am normal.”

“You want to go home to cook, are you still normal?” No one knows the cool cooking skills better than Peter. Burning the kitchen is considered good.

“When I get older, I always have to learn more life skills.” Tina pushed the cart forward: “You don’t understand it after you say it.”

“Why don’t I understand? I’m older than you, and I also have to learn some life skills.” Peter finished speaking seriously, then turned away.

Tina looked back and found that Peter was walking in the direction of putting the shopping cart.

â€¦

Ten minutes later.

Peter pushed a cart out with exactly the same dishes that Tina had selected, and shouted Tina who was walking in the front: "Tina, slow down, wait for me, I'll take you by the way."

Tina turned her head, glanced at the contents of her cart, tugged at the corner of her mouth, did not wait for him.

Anyway, Peter's house and her residence are completely in two directions.

Fortunately, she felt that after Peter let go, she was mature.

As a result, he turned around and bought the same food as her childishly, which was boring.

Tina was walking down the road carrying two large bags, and Peter drove up quickly.

He lowered the window: "Tina, I will drive you, no money, really."

Tina glanced forward and found that Peter was really driving to the community where she lived.

"where are you going?"

"I'm going home."

"Your home is in the same community as me?" Tina stopped and said mockingly.

"Yes." Peter curled his lips and smiled: "So I said to drop in."

Tina was taken aback: "When did you buy it?"

Peter is a young man who is proficient in eating, drinking and playing. The house outside is also a villa, and Tina lives on a flat floor, so Tina was surprised.

Peter thought about it seriously: "I don't remember, anyway, it didn't take long after the renovation, it was Rubin who helped me take care of it."

He actually bought a house in her community!

"Just you? Are you used to living?"

"It's okay. Although it's a bit small, I found it is quite close to AdamPic."

Peter seems to be totally acceptable to live in this community.

Buying a house is Peter's freedom, and when he was in the supermarket just now, Peter had made it clear that he had put her down and could be ordinary friends with her.

Therefore, even if Peter lives in a community with her, this is also Peter's business.

"Then I wish you a happy stay."

Tina quickened her pace and walked to the front carrying the vegetables.

Chapter 1314

In the past, Tina didn't touch the sun and water, and couldn't cook at all.

When cooking lunch, she put the recipe aside and did it in order, but it didn't turn out like that.

She had to make a video call to Alyssa, who is skilled in cooking.

Alyssa had little contact with the Adams', and Karl had no feelings with the Adams anymore. On the first day of the new year, they declined all gatherings and a family of three stayed at home.

When Tina came over on the video call, Alyssa was playing with Grace.

"Tina, Happy New Year!"

As soon as the video was connected, Alyssa's smile appeared, and Grace's little head tilted into the screen.

"Happy New Year Auntie."

"Happy New Year, my dear. Auntie will come to see you tomorrow and give you a big red envelope, but now Auntie is in a hurry to find your mother."

After Grace made an "OK" gesture very steadily, she did not appear in the camera again.

"What's the urgent matter?" Alyssa was a little curious, what could Tina look for in an urgent matter for this New Year.

"I want to make this braised chicken, this Candy, how do you put it, how much do you put it, and this spice, what's the right amount?"

Tina opened her mouth and asked a lot.

Alyssa stared at the phone screen carefully and found that the background of Tina's end was in the kitchen.

So she was cold: "What are you doing? You don't want to learn to cook, right?"

"Yes." Tina nodded seriously.

Alyssa paused, and said very tactfully: "You have rarely worked recently, right?"

"Why do you say the same thing as Peter? I really really want to learn to cook." To show her determination, Tina used three "really" in a row.

Alyssa was still a little worried: "Did something happen?"

Ever since she met Tina, Tina has been a young lady who has nothing to do with the sun and water.

Tina is the kind of person who is born radiant, Alyssa can't connect her to cooking.

She could not imagine the scene of Tina wearing an apron orderly cutting vegetables and boiling soup in the kitchen.

"Alyssa, if you do this again, I won't be the best in the world with you." Tina snorted with a proud face.

Alyssa warmed up with goosebumps: “Well, I will teach you, but you just learned how to cook, don’t learn so hard as soon as you come up, learn a basic dish.”

“What kind of dish?”

“Scrambled eggs with tomato.”

“This dish is not difficult at all, and it doesn’t fit Sister Weber’s temperament.”

“â€¦”

Upstairs in the study.

Karl was going downstairs to play with Grace for a while, and then he was ready to eat.

As soon as he got up, the phone rang.

It is the sound of a video call.

Karl was not surprised to see that the person making the video call was Peter.

Only Peter is so boring.

Karl took the video, looked at Peter’s head from the perspective of death on the screen, and asked without expression, “What’s the matter?”

“Great event.” Peter looked serious.

Karl frowned: “What happened to AdamPic?”

Peter shook his head deeply and adjusted the camera to the rear: “Did you see it?”

Karl took a serious look. There was a dark mass inside, and it took a long time to distinguish: “Are you cooking coal in a pot?”

Peter roared with anger: “Broiled chicken wings!”

“Oh.” Karl replied faintly, and said, “Don’t you like braised chicken in the brown sauce the most? What kind of chicken wings.”

Peter: “Tina likes chicken wings!”

Karl: “You haven’t given up yet?”

Chapter 1315

Peter turned the camera back and snorted coldly: “Give up? It doesn’t exist! I just told her on the surface that I had let her down, and asked her to lower her guard against me, and then quietly when she let go of her guard. Attacking the city and sweeping the pond, when she reacts, she would have become a turtle in the urn!”

He had never thought about giving up on Tina.

He also never thought about who he would like again except Tina.

In the past one-third of his life, he has seen and experienced, there is nothing that can't be passed, and nothing can't be let go.

Except for Tina.

Karl was noncommittal, and just asked him: "Aren't you afraid of self-defeating?"

"I'm calling the curve to save the country, understand?" Peter looked confident, as if he had prepared a perfect countermeasure.

Karl held his forehead and slowly said, "It is also possible that it is a curve suicide."

"Can you expect me to order?" Peter looked at Karl blankly, as if Karl would be able to crawl over from the phone and hit him if he didn't say anything nice.

Karl leaned back and looked at Peter lazily, "Oh."

"Where is Alyssa? Ask her to come and guide me." Peter looked left and right, and found that Karl was in the study: "Go find Alyssa, hurry up."

He hasn't forgotten his business.

Isn't it just learning to cook?

He can learn quickly, and he can learn fast.

Learn faster than Tina, and then run to her to show off.

Karl still sat in the chair and said, "She is downstairs."

"Then you go find her." Peter was almost anxious: "Karl, I beg you!"

Karl gave a chuckle, got up and walked out with the phone.

When he reached the top of the stairs, Karl saw Alyssa sitting on the sofa with her mobile phone and talking, apparently also answering a video call.

He stopped at the top of the stairs and listened for a while. From the voice, he heard that the person who was on the video call with Alyssa was Tina.

Alyssa was focusing on guiding Tina to cook, so she did not find Karl at the top of the stairs.

He stepped back two steps and took out his phone: "She is playing a video with Tina."

Peter smiled after hearing this: "Tina moves very fast."

"Hang up." Karl gestured to hang up the video call.

"Wait!" Peter said quickly.

Karl asked, "Why, you want to be together?"

"No, I can just make a video call with Alyssa directly. What I want to say is that we will get together for a new year, and it will be lively and fun."

Peter has always been a lively person and always likes to organize games.

Karl pondered for a moment: "My house is quite lively."

Peter wanted to go back, but after another thought, he felt that what Karl had said was okay.

People who have wives and daughters are of course lively.

"Relentless!" Peter hung up the video call after speaking.

When Karl received his phone and went down, he found that Alyssa had hung up the video call with Tina, and she was getting up from the sofa.

Seeing Karl, she had a smile and said: "I was coming up to tell you to come down for the meal."

"You just made a video call with Tina?" Karl asked her.

"Yes." Alyssa said with some puzzlement: "I don't know what Tina thinks, so she suddenly decided to cook. She used to hate going into the kitchen the most."

Karl said meaningfully, "So it is."

Chapter 1316

Alyssa heard that Karl's tone had no deep meaning, and asked him curiously: "Listening to your tone, it seems that you know something?"

Karl curled his lips: "No."

He felt strange, how could Peter suddenly want to learn to cook.

Since Peter wants to save the country by curve, it is better not to say anything. It can be regarded as a friend to Peter.

On the surface, Peter told Tina that he had already let go. It was because Tina was one of the parties involved, so she was paralyzed, and that she believed Peter so easily.

His wife is also smart, and Peter will come to ask her about cooking later. She thinks about it and guesses some of Peter's ideas, and she might ask him again.

"Okay, then come to eat." Alyssa did not ask anymore.

As soon as they sat down at the table, Alyssa's cell phone rang again.

"Peter on a video call?" Alyssa glanced at the phone screen, turned her head to look at Karl with some doubts.

Karl's expression was faint, and he said solemnly: "Maybe there is something important."

"Yeah." Alyssa felt that Karl's words made sense.

When he is fine, Peter doesn't even chat with her on WeChat. At most, he likes her posts from the circle of friends. Now it is important to make a video call with her.

After receiving the video, Alyssa remembered, what important thing is Peter, why didn't he find Karl to find her?

And Peter on the other end of the phone has already said: "Alyssa! Happy new year."

"Happy new year." Alyssa replied with a smile.

"Cough" Peter cleared his throat and said, "Alyssa, I have something to do with you"

Alyssa discovered that the background behind Peter was also the kitchen. The counters behind him were also full of things, all kinds of dinner plates and kitchen utensils, shovel drain basins, and various dishes

An inspiration flashed in Alyssa's mind: "Peter, aren't you also learning to cook?"

"Yeah, how do you know?" Peter was a little embarrassed at first, but when asked by Alyssa, his heart was relieved.

After he finished speaking, he reacted again. He turned his head and glanced at the messy table behind him, and smiled embarrassingly: "Hey, I just made a dish, it's a bit messy"

"It's okay" Alyssa felt strange in her heart, and every one of them had to learn how to cook.

"Then what, I just want to ask you, I always follow the recipe, why do I make it paste every time?" Peter is really desperate, he has already cooked twice.

Alyssa asked him: "What did you do?"

"Chicken wings, let me show you." Peter turned the camera to the rear as before, and showed her the chicken wings he made.

At this time, Grace also came over and saw the footage in the video: "Wow, Uncle Grant, are you cooking charcoal in the pot?"

Peter: "You are really your father's good daughter."

As expected of the biological father and daughter, they had the same reaction when they saw the chicken wings he cooked.

Speaking of which, if he marries and reconciles Tina in the future, is it better for the husband and the son?

"Do you eat this at noon?" Grace looked at Peter sympathetically, took a piece of tender and delicious chicken wings made by the chef at home and shook in front of the camera: "You come to our house for dinner."

Peter: "

For a while, he didn't know if he should sympathize with himself first, or if he should feel that he didn't feel in vain.

Chapter 1317

Alyssa looked at Peter's helpless expression and patted Grace on the head: "Grace, go eat."

"Okay." Grace obediently retracted and sat down, and then rejoined as if thinking of something again: "Uncle Grant, Happy New Year, come on."

Peter smiled, even his voice softened: "Grace also has a happy New Year, and your uncle will give you a big red envelope."

It really didn't hurt her for anything.

After Grace had a meal, Alyssa put her mobile phone away: "Are you sure you just learned how to cook, are you going to make such a difficult dish?"

"Of course, I am dignified, Mr. Grant, even if I learn to cook, I must learn to cook hard dishes!" Peter swept off his hair with great momentum.

This is almost the same as what Tina said before.

"Then you follow the steps I said, and I will watch you do it." Peter rarely asks her for help, let alone such trivial matters. Of course, she is willing to help him.

Karl, who had been silent all the time, suddenly caught Alyssa with chopsticks.

Peter had a meal: "Did I bother you while eating?"

Almost as soon as the voice fell, Karl said: "If you know, you still ask?"

"It's okay, leave him alone, I can speak while eating." Alyssa turned her head and glanced at Karl, motioning him not to make trouble.

Karl pretended not to receive the message from her eyes and continued to pick her up.

â€¦

Tina finally cooked a pot of braised chicken in accordance with Alyssa's instructions with great effort.

But because there were too many pumps in the middle, it was dark, it looked like it was poisoned.

Tina grabbed a fork in her hand, plucked up full courage, forked a piece of braised chicken and brought it to her mouth.

She closed her eyes and turned her heart, and put the black braised chicken into her mouth.

It is the taste of meat.

It just doesn't taste much, the spice smells a bit big.

She remembered that she didn't put salt just now.

Anyway, the combination isâ€¦ unpalatable.

Tina chewed twice in her mouth before vomiting directly into the trash can.

Although only one dish was made, the kitchen was in a mess. She was so tired that she just wanted to rest for a while and wanted to clean up later.

Back in the living room, she checked the time and found that it was almost three o'clock in the afternoon.

She just cooked a dish, and more than four hours passed.

No wonder she feels a little hungry.

Cooking is really difficult.

When Tina was thinking about whether to go out to eat or order a takeaway to make do, the alarm sounded outside.

She walked to the door, and when she opened the door, the neighbor on the other side also opened the door.

The neighbor asked Tina, "What happened?"

"I don't know, I just opened the door and came out." Tina was also a little confused.

At this time, there was movement on the stairs, and Tina walked over and found that the residents upstairs were running down the stairs.

There are basically many celebrities living in this community. One of them saw Tina with surprise on his face: "Tina, do you live here too?"

"Yeah, what happened?" Although she couldn't recognize who this person was, Tina smiled at him friendly.

"Don't you know it's on fire? Run quickly!"

"okay!"

It's so good how suddenly it caught fire.

When Tina ran down with them, the property ran up with people.

When they got downstairs, the fire brigade also came.

Tina and a group of residents were standing outside the community, listening to their chattering discussions, but she didn't even know where the fire was now.

Chapter 1318

Tina looked up into the community.

After watching for a while, it suddenly occurred to her that Peter also lived here.

When she came back from the supermarket in the morning, she ignored Peter, so she didn't know which building Peter lived in.

Shouldn't he happen to live in the same building as her?

Even if he lives in the same building, he shouldn't be so stupid that he won't run away if it catches fire?

Tina was a little ugly to sit and stand, and turned around to look for Peter in the crowd.

She searched all the people gathered at the gate of the community, but did not see Peter.

Maybe it's not in her house.

However, it is also possible that he slept too deep, or something else did not notice that it was on fire.

This person has never been very careful.

She felt more upset the more she thought about it, and took out her cell phone to call him.

When calling, she still said to herself in her heart that they had already talked about each other, and Peter had said so clearly before, for public and private. At this time, she should make this call.

Thinking about it this way, she was half-hearted and felt that her call was justified.

But after the call was connected, no one answered.

Tina's heart became more anxious, and she didn't even notice that she was biting his fingers subconsciously.

The phone rang until it was automatically hung up and no one answered it.

Tina thought for a moment, and found Rubin's WeChat on the phone.

Rubin is Peter's assistant. He doesn't have many intersections with Tina, but he helped Peter pass information to Tina before, so she has WeChat.

Tina quickly found Rubin's WeChat and made a WeChat call.

Rubin picked up quickly.

"Miss Weber?" Rubin should be at home. It sounded a bit noisy on his side, but gradually it became less noisy.

He should have gone outside to answer the phone.

"Sorry, I want to disturb you today. I have something to ask you, did you buy a house for Peter in the community where I live?"

Rubin is also a very cautious person. Hearing Tina's words, he cautiously said: "Miss Weber, things are not what you imagined. Mr. Grant just asked me to look at the house for him, and he gave me full authority to buy a house. Dealing with it, I saw many houses and saw the neighborhood you live in. It's really not because you live there, it's just a coincidence."

"Okay, I see. Our community is on fire. I can't see Peter. You can just tell which room he lives in." Tina didn't even bother to listen to Rubin's explanation.

When Rubin heard it, he knew that the matter was serious, and directly uttered Peter's house number.

After listening to Tina, he murmured: "Really in the same building as me?"

"Miss Weber, listen to me."

Rubin wanted to explain again, and Tina interrupted him directly: "I see, it's a coincidence that you have to say that, I will go to Peter first, and I will talk about it later!"

Tina finished speaking, hung up the phone, and walked into the community.

But the security guards refused to let her in: "Miss Weber, there is no notification in there to say you can go in, the trouble is just waiting there!"

"No, I have friends still inside!" Tina tried to explain to the security guard.

The security said: "You don't worry, the firefighters will rescue your friend."

Tina still felt uneasy, mainly because she could not make calls to Peter.

"I have a dog at home, my room is locked, I must go back to rescue him, I just came out to take out the garbage! My dog is important to me, I can't do without him, please!"

Chapter 1319

Tina was willing to speak, and squeezed out two more tears. The security guard also knew Tina. Although she was a big star, she didn't have much air. She was very polite when he entered and exited the community, and she was beautiful!

The security was relaxed: "Wait for me to ask the situation first!"

After speaking, the security took out his cell phone to make a call.

Tina watched the security take out his mobile phone to make a call. After she didn't have time to control her, she glanced in front and wondered whether to rush over.

Just as she rolled up her sleeves and was about to run inside, she heard the security ask the person on the other side of the phone: "The fire has been extinguished? Are you sure? Then I let the owner go back to the room!"

When Tina heard the security guard's words, she let out an expression of relief.

It should be fine once the fire is extinguished.

Peter should be fine.

The security guard hung up the phone and uttered a voice to relieve Tina, "Miss Weber, it's all right now, you can go back to see your dog."

"Okay thank you."

Tina smiled and thanked him, the security guard blushed and scratched his head: "I'm going to patrol. I'll go first. Goodbye, Miss Weber."

"Goodbye."

After watching the security guard leave, Tina took out her mobile phone and called Peter.

Still, no one answered.

Tina decided to go directly to him.

Rubin had already told her the house number of Peter just now.

When Tina walked in, other owners were also walking in.

They talked as they walked: "I don't know who it is, I encountered this kind of thing on the first day of the new year!"

Tina walked quietly aside, and did not participate in the discussion. She was thinking about Peter in her mind, and she was a little worried.

Soon they reached the elevator entrance.

The elevator came downstairs, and from inside came out a man in a firefighter's uniform, wearing a helmet and a mask, with a face tightly covered.

Tina glanced casually, then paused slightly.

The figure of this man looks familiar.

The others had already entered the elevator. When the person in uniform passed by her, Tina smelled smoke, the familiar smell of men's perfume!

Tina's eyes fell on the man in uniform, the elevator door closed, and she had no time to take care of it.

Her gaze followed the man out of the hall until the man was about to walk outside the door, Tina said quietly, "Stop."

Her tone was not hurried, and it was a little bit of inquisitiveness.

The man in uniform continued to walk outside as if he hadn't heard her.

Hey, he played stupid, thinking she didn't recognize him.

Tina curled the corners of her lips in disdain, her tone increased: "Peter, I asked you stop!"

The man who was about to walk outside the hall became stiff and stopped in place. The whole person looked stiff and tangled, as if he wanted to go outside but didn't dare.

Tina walked straight over and stood blankly in front of Peter: "Why don't you pick my call?"

Peter was wearing a safety helmet and a mask, and his head was lowered. Tina couldn't see his face. She only heard him say dully, "The phone is in the room!"

"So scared of death? Didn't get the phone while running?"

As soon as Tina finished speaking, she felt that something was wrong.

"Wait, where did your clothes come from, and the smell of smoke on your body."

Peter: "Of course it was given to me by the fireman!"

"It's your house that caught fire, right?" Tina opened her eyes wide and looked at Peter, and asked tentatively, "You cooked and burned your house?"

Chapter 1320

Peter shook his head like a rattle: "I don't have one, don't talk nonsense, don't slander me."

The more he denies it, the more it shows that he is guilty.

The more it explained, she guessed it.

Tina didn't know whether to laugh at him or to care about him first.

Her gaze paused on his tightly bound face, and asked: "You wrapped your face so tightly, wouldn't it be disfigured?"

Peter couldn't laugh or cry: "Tina, you have also filmed scenes that were burned. If my face is burned, can I stand in front of you and talk to you like this? What is your IQ?"

Tina was originally concerned about him, but instead of thinking about it, she was stunned. "Then what do you do to wrap yourself up so tightly? You are afraid that people will know that you are cooking and burning the house. The owner was frozen in the community for so long and then was beaten?"

Although Peter didn't think so, it wasn't much different.

After all, he is also a celebrity. If someone knows that he learned to cook and burned his house, wouldn't it make people laugh?

But it is absolutely impossible to admit it.

"How is it possible, it was the firefighter's uncle who insisted on giving it to me!" Peter pulled his uniform on his body, speaking with a righteous expression on his face.

"Humph." Tina snorted without smiling, and ignored him.

Peter turned his head and watched her fast entering the elevator. Thinking of something, he shouted: "Were you worried about me?"

Tina turned around and smiled brightly: "It's not dark yet, Mr. Grant."

Peter was stunned for a moment before he recollected that Tina was saying that he was daydreaming.

At this time, the previous security guard patrolled this building and saw Tina, and greeted warmly: "Miss Weber."

"Hello." Tina remembered him. Although she didn't know his name, she still smiled at him.

When the security guard passed by Peter, thinking he was a firefighter, he respectfully said: "Thanks."

Peter: "Do work hard, serve the people."

Tina raised her eyebrows, this man was really shameless.

After the security had spoken with Peter, he asked Tina again: "Miss Weber, how is your dog?"

Tina didn't expect to make up the reason just now, this security guard still remembers.

Faced with a concerned question from the security guard, Tina could only bite the bullet and nod her head: "It's pretty good."

When she said this, if there was something like nothing, she glanced at Peter.

The security guard believed it: "That's pretty good."

Tina: "Thank you for your concern."

Peter knows whether she has a dog or not, so when the security guard mentioned the dog, she felt Peter's suspicious look.

Tina no longer stayed too much, and went straight into the elevator.

After returning to the room, Tina breathed a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, the dog man Peter just pretended to be a firefighter and said nothing.

As soon as she sat down and poured herself a glass of water, Alyssa called.

"Tina, I just watched the news and heard that your community is on fire. Are you okay?"

Tina sighed, now the speed of these reporters is really fast.

"It's okay, the fire has been extinguished."

"That's good, have you succeeded in making braised chicken?"

"No, next time you come to the home and teach me how to do it!"

Tina rarely used a coquettish tone, and Alyssa let out a "pouch" laugh: "Miss Weber, your own person, don't be like this."

"What about me!"

"Sister must look like Sister, don't pretend to be a little sheep."

"!"